Those whose birthday it is may heed the inclination to use tact, discretion and finesse in meeting difficult and disruptive situations in which there is some hope of timely aid from those sympathetic and friendly disposed. It would be easy to alienate even this by reckless, turbulent and ungoverned emotions and impulses, with disastrous reactions on major propositions, finances, and also personal prestige and popularity. Self-restraint and rationalizing in critical situations might be effective.

A child born on this day has proclivities for rash and ungoverned impulses and emotions, turbulent and tempestuous. Friendly intervention may be forfeited unless discipline and calm reason be instilled in youth.

United Counties Consider $400,000 Expansion Plan At Home For The Aged

COBOURG, Nov. 25—(ENS).—Expansion by additions and alterations to the Counties Home for the Aged which would increase the capacity of that institution to 136 beds for a total cost of about $400,000, was outlined by a firm of architects at Wednesday's session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council. In the morning, slides showing the various phases of the plans were exhibited to the council and in the afternoon there was general discussion.

The master plan calls for units which could be built from year to year over a considerable period to meet the increasing demands on the institution, but it was felt by the council that construction of a staff and staff and superintendent's wing would meet the situation at present in that it would enable about 17 more beds being installed in the main building. Cost of this wing would be about $69,500 and the present boiler plant would be able to heat the entire building and addition.

Members of the council decided to wait until today's session before making a decision. It was proposed that council could ask for tenders for the staff and superintendent's wing, specifying that tenders be in by the January session. This may be confirmed before the close of the present session.

Ask Increased Aid

The Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare, was present at the afternoon session and told the council that there was no indication so far that the government would increase its 25 per cent grant to municipalities building new county homes or additoins. Council, however, took the attitude that there was no harm asking and accordingly passed a resolution requesting the government to increase the size of the grant to county homes undergoing construction.

Touching on old age pensions, the Hon. Mr. Goodfellow said that his Dept. had estimated that there would be 80,000 people on old age pensions by April 1 of next year, but the increase had been so large that 80,000 would already be on pension by Dec. 1st and approximately 85,000 by April 1.

"You fellows out in the rural parts are good sound thinkers and I want you to listen to the resolution which we received recently from an organization that is supposed to be a responsible one. The resolution asked that everyone receive a pension of $50 a month at 65 if a male and 60 if a female, and without the means test. If we did what they asked it would cost $286,747,400 a year, and our total budget is only $160,000,000, so it would take almost twice as much as we get. We are spending $31,000,000 a year on pensions of which $21,000,000 are from the Federal government and $10,000,000 from the Provincial government," Mr. Goodfellow said.

Need Accommodation

The $10 bonus was doing all right but there were some cases in Toronto which could not get along on $75 a month because of the high cost of obtaining accommodation. He mentioned a veteran who was living in a hall bedroom where there was only room for a cot and no chair. The most pressing need was that of proper accommodation for elderly people. Municipalities were becoming more welfare conscious.

In the old days people that were aged required little charity because their next door neighbors saw to it that they were not in need of anything. However it had grown to municipal scope, then provincial and then to federal. It could best be carried on by that form of government closest to the people and through the county homes for the aged, he said.

There was a growing need for accommodations for old people, he continued, as the trend of the times was making it increasingly difficult to lay enough aside for old age. The government wanted to encourage county councils in meeting the problem and there is a feeling that the government should make a larger grant. It would be taken into consideration, Mr. Goodfellow said. He added that in designing future accommodation for old people it was recognized that some provision should be made to ensure old married couples remaining together during their stay in such institutions and this was being planned in designing special unts for that purpose. There should be segregation of various types of inmates, he said.

Overcrowded Now

In presenting their plan for the present and future needs of the counties home, the architects pointed out that the building was designed to accommodate 60 inmates whereas now there were 100 quartered and the superintendent said that there were 12 on the waiting list. The addition of 44 more bed spaces would cover only immediate requirements. The rooms lack sufficient natural daylight and mechanical ventilation, and they are overcrowded. Space never intended for bedrooms is now being devoted to that purpose with two beds in the women's sitting room, one bed in the men's coat room and so on. Old married couples, with only the chance of a few more years of life together, are obliged to live separately bcause the institution was not designed for that condition. There are no separated quarters for the domestic staff or the superintendent and the superintendent's rooms are divided into a public corridor and bathroom facilities are on another floor.

Under the proposed master plan there would be provision for extra bed accommodation, a room where the inmates could busy themselves with hobbies, a barber shop, trunk room, locker rooms, superintendent's apartment, kitchen, laundry, etc. The staff and superintendent's quarters would be a 3-storey (counting the basement) wing running west from the present main building and a one storey wing for the men running north and south on the west side; a dining room of one storey above the ground running east and west along the south side of the main building and a women's wing, further east. There would be room to add future wings as the need arose.

Give Estimates

An estimated cost would be $22,000 for remodelling the present building; $42,192 for a new women's wing; $31,481 for a new dining room; $60,568 for staff and superintendent's quarters; $128,119 for a new men's wing on the west; $41,492 for a future east wing extension for the women; $18,393 for future male staff quarters; $25,640 for boiler room and laundry, less equipment; $4,000 for one cottage unit for elderly people. In addition laundry equipment would cost $8,000; boiler room central heating, $15,000 and kitchen equipment, $10,185 for an additional total of $33,185.

Some members of the council whistled in surprise at what it would cost to do all this, but Warden Stephen assured them that this was only a master plan to cover construction as desired over a considerable period of years. It was designed in units which could be added as time went on.

The counties clerk volunteered the information that by 1949 all the debentures would be paid off and this would reduce the rate by about one mill. Reeve John Wstington of Cobourg sugegsted that only the immediate needs be considered. Reeve W. G. Bowles of Cartwright said that if the staff house only were built at a cost of some $60,000 it would permit accommodation for about 17 beds.

Reeve Wartman said that the counties certainly could not afford doing the whole job and Deputy-Reeve Fred Denyes of Brighton Township pointed out that the building was constructed in 1932 and he saw no need for a lot of remodelling. The staff wing should provide enough for present needs, he said. The architect informed the council that the superintendent and staff quarters wing would be about 50 by 37 feet. The Department would make the usual grant of 25 per cent. Reeve Leonard Gordon of Colborne asked if $22,000 would still have to be spent on remodelling the old building and the architect replied that at least some changes would have to be made.

"I think it might be a good idea to call for tenders and have them in for January session. It would save a lot of time," suggested the Warden.

After more discussion it was decided to deal with it on Thursday.

Hold Baby Clinic

HASTINGS, Nov. 25—(ENS)—Miss L. Dorkindoroff, public health nurse for Northumberland County, was in charge of the health conference and baby clinic in the town hall council chambers on Wednesday. Miss Dockindoroff reported a good turnout of mothers and babies. The next conference will be Dec. 15.

Had Big Repair Job

NORWOOD, Nov. 25.—(ENS).—H. N. Pettersen ahs returned home from Smooth Rock Falls, where he was in charge of the repair work on the two 45,000 h.p. generators and turbines. They had been in continuous service, except for the one day shutdowns for cleaning, for more than 30 years. The starters of the generators were re-wound with new coils having the latest type of insulator, and other electrical and mechanical parts were thoroughly overhauled. One generator was taken out July 6 and both machines were back in service by the latter part of September.

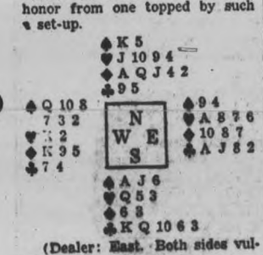
READING OF LEADS BAD

THERE IS NO department of the average player's game which is weaker, in comparison with that of the stars, than the reading of leads. One item in which that shows pronouncedly is the opening lead against a No Trump game contract. When neither defender had bid, the opener has two principal kinds of desirable leads. One is the fourth-best from a long suit not topped by an "honor combination" and the other, still better if possible, an honor from one topped by such a set-up.



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦
Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 NT

A veteran kibitzer had sat most of the evening behind the player who held the South cards of this rubber deal. Several times he had victimized his opponents with the old gag of bidding at first a suit in which he held nothing of value and then snapping into a No Trump game a bit later. The chap in the West seat was particularly laying in ambush for him to do it again.

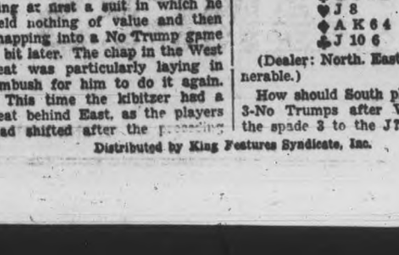
This time the kibitzer had a seat behind East, as the players had shifted after the previous rubber. So, when West led the club 7, he knew the latter suspected South had bid clubs merely to head off the lead because he held nothing in the suit.

That lead tickled East, who read it as a fourth-best, which could place South with only a useless doubleton. Having his own good holding, East came in with the A and sent back the 2. South then went to town. He won with the 10, finessed diamonds, led to the spade A, scored three more clubs, took a second diamond finesse, dropped the diamond A with the K, ran two more diamonds, scored the spade K, then gave up the last trick to the heart A, having won eleven.

How could East read the club 7 as a fourth-best? If it were, West would have the K-Q-10 at the top of his suit, in which case the K would be the lead. Had East read that way, he would not have returned a club, but a heart, and his side would have taken two tricks in the suit before the declarer got his run of minor suits started.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

How should South play for his 3-No Trumps after West leads the spade 3 to the J?

PAGING BROCK CHISHOLM

Santa Claus is one of the few features of modern civilization which can be considered an antidote for this world's general attitude of cynicism. But even Old Saint Nick comes in for some cruel blows. The cruelest ones come from those to whom he should be able to look for his warmest welcome—the kids. Some of them in Peterborough demonstrated their unwillingness to enter into the greetings of the season for the jolly old boy as he travelled triumphantly down George St. in his sleigh. From two downtown buildings, a number of boys pelted stones at the benign old whiskers. Another came equipped for the kill with a deadly catapult. Anyway, if they find coal in their stockings on Christmas morning, they have no one to blame but themselves. —RB.

Ice Trouble

EDMONTON (CP)—The first slush ice of the season gave city official plenty of trouble. The soft ice, floating down the North Saskatchewan River, was drawn into the power plant and water pumping intakes and had to be flushed out again.

HON. T. C. DAVIS, Canadian ambassador to China, with members of the faculties of the West China Union University, all of whom studied in Canada at various times. The university is largely staffed and manned by Canadians and through it a large number of Chinese have trained in our own universities. The name of Canada stands high all through the upper regions of the Yantze, largely due to the university's operations and the activities of the many Canadians who have been associated with it over the years.

US Citizens Take Time Out To Celebrate Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—(AP)—Americans, their country prosperous and at peace, give thanks today for the bounty which they are sharing with their neighbors around the world.

The 1948 United States Thanksgiving Day brought a new breadth to the traditions established 327 years ago, when the Pilgrims shared their harvest with their Indian neighbors.

Today, instead of merely bringing their baked corn and new-plucked vegetables to a community feast table, the people were sharing their goods internationally through the Marshall Plan.

But the tradition of the food-heaped table remained a big part of the elebration for Americans, who today were gathering throughout the land for family reunions and to eat turkey-and-trimmings.

Railroads and airlines scheduled extra facilities to handle the stream of home-bound travellers. Highways were jammed.

There were banquets, entertainments, football games, and in many places, special prayers.

Most places of business and public building were closed, but inns and movie houses were crowded.

In Washington, President Truman planned to spend most of the day working at his desk, except for time out for a turkey dinner at Blair House across the street from the White House.

In New York and Philadelphia, department stores stage their big Thanksgiving parades featuring Santa Claus and toyland wonders, and attracting thousands of spectators along the avenues.

On New York's Bowery, the Down-and-Outer Association planned its annual turkey dinner —with the meal on the house.

Flags Numerous On Main Streets

Flags, pennants and coats of arms will direct the Governor-General, Viscount and Viscountess Alexander of Tunis to their points of call today. The array of flags gives the main street an abundance of color. Union Jacks from tiny five-inch ones to huge 15-footers fly from windows, signs and doorways.

Almost every store between Hunter and Charlotte on George has a flag to welcome the Governor-General. At intervals along the streets Union Jacks are standing. Chinese, Australian and Scottish flags are waving side by side with the Union Jack.

In only three stores is there any sign of any attempt to decorate show-windows.

Banks have flags draped in their windows and hanging above their doors. At the Bank of Commerce a coat of arms is hanging. That is the only one displayed downtown.

Two members of the fire department were busy this morning straightening the flags and pennants which had become wrapped around their cords. They were doing this by means of a pike-pole.

The most prominent number of flags is at the McGillis Hotel where there is no less than 40 Union Jacks. At the corner of McDonnel and Monaghan Road there is a string of small flags from the house to the post at the corner.

There is a noticeable absence of decorations on Brock and Water streets.

On Wednesday two members of the fire department were loaned to the Utilities department to assist in putting up the flags.

Against Super-Highway

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 25—(CP)—Elgin county council Wednesday voted 11-10 against the proposed new super-highway in Western Ontario, and will recommend that the Ontario Department of Highways remedy the traffic conditions by improving present highways in this part of the province. County Clerk J. D Thomson said he understood the proposed highway would cut through Dunwich, Alborough and Southwold townships.

Duties Of Laity Told Anglicans

A large assembly of clergy and laymen of the Anglican Deanery of Peterborough on Wednesday night heard the Very Rev. C. E. Riley, Dean of Toronto and Rector of St. James Cathedral at All Saints parish hall spoke on the duties of the laity.

Dean Riley said that Christ's command to spread the gospel was not the concern of the clergy alone but that of every layman as well. Christ's words were addressed to the Disciples, and a disciple was a learner.

He went on to say that peace would not come through a feeling of good-will. 'True peace was based on the great Christian principles of justice and love. These were to be carried into all phases of life by the members of the church.

Dean Riley was introduced by Dr. G. S. Cameron and thanked by Rev. E. C. Moore, rector of St. George's Church.

Form Great Chapter

The other guest speaker was D. C. Mackintosh, secretary-treasurer of the Diocese. He outlined the work of the governing body of the diocese, the synod, and appealed to the men of the church to assume their obligations in the financing of the work. He was introduced by the Rev. Walter Gilling, rector of St. Luke's Church and a motion of thanks was moved by H. G. Carleton.

Under the guidance of the chairman, the Rev. W. J. Lennox, rector of Campbellford and Rural Dean of Peterborough, a Great Chapter was formed. Dr. G. S. Cameron was elected lay-chairman, and Charles Lacheur, All Saints' Church, secretary-treasurer.

Other executive members appointed were: W. P. Plant of Hastings, J. W. Todd of Lakefield, and the Revs. W. E. Kibblewhite and W. Gilling of Peterborough.

George Murray of Keene, chairman of the Home Missions Committee.

Harrison was the builder in charge and he will present the keys at this service.

THESE EARLY-RISING HOURS that are supposed to keep people healthy, wealthy and wise may be fine for those accustomed to waking up with the roosters. But to thousands of Ontario office and factory workers it's something new and not so easy. With the imposition of electric power blackouts, many businesses have shifted their working hours too that their staffs are called upon to be at work an hour or two earlier in the morning. This young lady had the right idea on the subject—three alarm clocks and a slogan.

Defeat Polish Resolution To Forbid Economic Pressure Over Policies

US Official Says Proposal An Attempt To Discredit Marshall Plan; Denies Trying To Dictate On Export Policies

PARIS, Nov. 26—(AP).—The United Nations Assembly today defeated a Polish resolution to forbid economic pressure by one country against another as a means of influencing domestic or foreign policy. Poland's Dr. Oscar Lange carried the ball in the defeat for the Slav bloc of states, bitterly attacking the European recovery plan as an American "economic cold war against the eastern European countries."

Lange contended the use of "economic power to influence the policies of another country is inadmissible."

The vote on the resolution was 33 to 6, with Russia and the eastern bloc alone supporting it.

Willard L. Thorp, an assistant United States Secretary of State, opposed the proposal as an attempt to discredit the ERP by countries envious of the American assistance to European recovery.

Lange charged that some countries cannot sell materials to some other countries for reasons of military security, demanding:

"Is the refusal to sell gramophone records and such a part of military security?"

No Dictation

Thorp denied there has been any American attempt to dictate other countries' export policies.

In political committee No. 2, Yugoslavia challenged the right of the assembly to recommend that the Security Council drop the big-five veto power, or even to vote on an Argentine resolution aiming at the elimination of the veto on membership applications.

Yugoslav delegate Leo Mattes asked a vote on whether the assembly had the power to take such a vote. He was supported by France and Poland. Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia said it was the first time the right of the assembly to vote on a resolution had been challenged.

10 Penalties In Leaf Game Set NHL Record

MONTREAL, Nov. 26—(CP).—The 10 major penalties handed out by Referee King Clancy in Thursday night's Toronto Leafs-Montreal Canadiens battle of the brawl set a National Hockey League record.

When the league's publicity man, Ken McKenzie, emerged today from a pile of musty, dusty files it was found that the previous high was eight majors, back in 1932.

Curiously enough, those eight came in a game between Montreal and Toronto teams—the old Maroons and Leafs, in Toronto, on Feb. 13, 1932.

And one of the battlers who earned himself a major for his fistic display was none other than the same King Clancy, then playing on the Leaf defence.

Another coincidence finds that eight of the majors [illegible] and the eight in 1932 all came in the second period, so last night's shenanigans tied the old mark for most penalties in any one period.

For a time during last night's wild second period the penalty box overflowed with 10 culprits. Ken Reardon of Canadiens sat out his term on the Forum's cement steps beside the cash customers.

No comparable figures could be found but it was believed the simultaneous occupancy of the box by 10 players was at least a modern record. Nowadays the rules say no team can be shorthanded more than two players at one time.

Tribe Rejects Chief's New Wife

SEROWE, Bechuanaland, South Africa, Nov. 26—(AP). — The chief of the Bamangwato tribesmen has been told by neighbor chieftains that his people still want him as their ruler—but not with his white wife at his side.

Seretse Khama, the 27-year-old chief who was to take over the reins of his tribe next year, had left the issue up to the people. His bride, Ruth Williams, 24, is waiting in London to hear the result.

The chief's uncle, Chief Tshekedi, now is ruling over his 100,000 people as regent. Seretse went to London earlier this year to study law before taking over his duties as chief. There he met Miss Williams, fell in love with her and married her.

Never before had a Bamangwato tribesman married a white woman. The problem was a big one, and three old chiefs from outside the tribe were called in to argue with the young ruler.

Greek Pirates, Turks Fight Naval Battle

IZMIR, Turkey, Nov. 26 — (Reuters). — Greek pirates and the crew of the Turkish motor schooner Toros fought a half-hour "naval battle" in the narrows separating the Island of Samos and the west Turkish coast of South Izmir, it was learned to-day.

The skipper of the Toros said he was intercepted after dark by guerrillas in a schooner and ordered his crew to return their fire.

The guerrillas, he added, tried to drive the Toros towards the Samos coast, but by superior speed the Toros was able to escape the guerrilla schooner.

Hits 58 Below Zero

EDMONTON, Nov. 26 (CP) — The Dominion Weather Bureau here announced a record low temperature for North America this fall was set today when the mercury slipped to 58 below zero at Snag, YT. Snag, a weather station and airbase some 1,600 miles northwest of Edmonton, was the scene in February, 1947, of the all-time officially recorded low temperature for North America. The offiical low is listed as 81 below but it was calculated the temperature went to 83 below.

Rescue Hunters By Using Loud Speaker

BLIND RIVER, Nov. 26—(CP).—Two lost hunters, Ray Musson and Alphonse Desjardins, were guided out of the wilds of Algoma bushland near here by means of a high-powered public address system six miles away.

Words of encouragement and directions for finding their way out of the bush were "broadcast" by the PA system from the top of a hill north of Blind River. The hunters, who picked up the messages "quite clearly," walked to safety 16 hours later.

A ground party, searching for the lost hunters, could find no trace of them. The area in which they disappeared is heavily-wooded.

From the hilltop Tom Nash, owner of the public address system, beamed messages to the pair, calling them by name and asking them to fire a shot if they were within range of his voice. The shot reply came and Nash directed the men to light a large fire.

[illegible] tree-tops he transmitted directions for finding their way to safety.

Plan To Publish Secret Talks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—(AP) —The United States, Britain and France are planning to publish new facts about Spain and Russia's secret negotiations with Nazi Germany, it was disclosed today.

Details of the pre-war Hitler-Stalin deal to divide Poland will be bared for the first time in two separate 1,000-page volumes now under preparation.

Evidence of German, Italian and Russian intervention in the Spanish civil war will feature a third volume dealing with Franco's relations with Hitler from 1936 to 1939.

Diplomatic officials told a reporter that the United States state department, in co-operation with the British and French foreign offices, plans to start publishing these three documents early next year. They will be printed in English, French and German.

They will be but three of the 25 volumes now being prepared by historians of the three countries from German records captured by the United States army in the closing days of the war. The researchers had to burrow through 450 tons of documents to sift out the essential material.

Milk Price Dispute Still Deadlocked

TORONTO, Nov. 26—(CP). — The price dispute between milk distributors and producers, still deadlocked, will probably "go to arbitration next week," Premier Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, said Thursday.

The Premier said producers had conferred with him Thursday and said they had been unable to reach an agreement. He added that he hoped a settlement could be reached "without increasing the price to the consumer."

Ready To Begin Subway

TORONTO, Nov. 26 —(CP)— Construction of the $30,000,000 Yonge Street rapid transit subway may begin next summer, H. E. Pettett, assistant secretary of the Ontario Transportation Company, said today. Tenders will be called in March. Engineers and draftsmen have been directed to have all plans and specifications for the subway ready before March.

Nine Cut Way Out of Jail Guards Foil Escape, 1 Dead

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (AP)—One prisoner was killed and eight others surrendered after the nine criminals sawed their way out of the Cook County Jail Thursday night and were trapped in the jail yard.

Two guards thwarted the daring attempt of the nine prisoners to climb over the 22-foot wall after escaping from their first-floor cells.

Warden Frank G. Sain said they sawed through four-metal panels that are part of the cell walls. They reached a galley and then broke an unbarred window and fled to the yard.

Sheriff Elmer Walsh today suspended three guards at the jail for "failure to count heads throughout the day, which would have ascertained that three men were missing." He said three prisoners were "completing the job" of sawing through steel walls.

He said Nicholas Ferri, 24, a guard stationed in the yard, spotted the nine men immediately. When they ignored his command to halt he fired one shot over their heads. The shot attracted the attention of William Riley, 41, a second guard in the yard.

The warden said one of the prisoners had started to climb to the top of the wall and when Riley approached he dropped to the ground and nine prisoners, one of them was carrying a rope fashioned from two torn bed sheets, advanced toward the guards.

Riley fired one shotgun charge which hit and killed the column leader. He was identified as Andrew Evans, 28.

ERP Exports Improve Dollar Crisis

Bulk Of Commodities Normal Output But Paid For By US

By C. R. BLACKBURN

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 — (CP)— Canadian exports to Europe and China have been financed to the extent of $571,000,000 by the United States under purchase authorizations of the Economic Co-operation Administration (the Marshall Plan) from its beginning last April until Nov. 23.

Officials making these figures public would offer no estimate of the extent to which Canada's dollar position has been improved as a result of the aid plan.

The bulk of the commodities involved are those which ordinarily would have been sent abroad in any event, under some form of re-payment, such as food for the United Kingdom, largest single recipient of the authorizations for Canadian purchases.

Normal Exports

The United Kingdom is the recipient of about $350,000,000 of the total with wheat the predominating item, along with flour, bacon, cheese, lumber and sawmill products, aluminum, wood pulp and newsprint and a number of base metals.

Virtually all the exports financed by the EAC are normal Canadian exports. The value of the operation to Canada is that those handled through ECA, bring American dollars which this country needs to maintain her economic balance.

France is the next highest recipient to the United Kingdom, [illegible] Denmark, Italy, Norway, Austria, Ireland, Bizone Germany, Belgium, Greece, China, the French zone in Germany, French North Africa and the French Overseas Territories.

The figures for canadian authorizations do not include the cost for ocean freight charges.

See Master Plan Against Reds

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Western diplomats said today the principal anti-Communist powers with important interests in the Pacific may soon begin work on a master plan to try to stem the spread of Communism through the far east.

Britain, the United States, France and the Netherlands all have vital strategic or colonial interests in that area.

The informants said it is unlikely that any publicly announced conference will be held between the United States and European countries for the purpose of co-ordinating policies and mapping anti-Communist strategy. However, these sources declared, the policy-makers of all concerned realize that unless they act together a major crisis may develop throughout Asia.

An American diplomat cited insurrections in Burma, Malaya and Indonesia as evidence that a Communist "Revolution" in the Far East already is under way.

A Far-Eastern counterpart of the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) has set up headquarters in Siam and holds periodic international conferences.

Conservative Party Keeps Glasgow Seat

GLASGOW, Nov. 26—(CP) — The Conservative Party retained its seat in Glasgow's Hillhead division in Thursday's by-election, results showed today.

The Conservatives slightly increased their lead over that attained in the 1945 general election.

Conservative T. Galbraith defeated his Labor opponent, T. MacNair, 16,060 to 7,419. Only two candidates ran.

Today's margin was 8,641, compared with 6,363 in the 1945 election.

A CRAFTSMAN'S TOUCH was displayed by His Excellency, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, at the laying of the corner-stone of the new Peterborough Civic Hospital Thursday afternoon. Instead of laying the last of the mortar with the symbolic silver trowel, he applied several pounds of it with a regulation trowel supplied by masons Arthur Knott, back to camera, and Albert Cuff. The workmen agreed wholeheartedly with His Excellency when he announced the corner-stone "well and truly laid."

US Won't Permit Israel Lose Negev Desert

United States today opposed in the United Nations a British proposal that might take Southern Palestine's Negev desert from Israel.

American delegate Philip C. Jessup submitted to the political committee number of amendments to Britain's latest proposal for the solution of the Arab-Jewish Palestine dispute.

The amendments would soften Britain's reference to the report of the late Count Folke Bernadotte as a basis for a Palestine settlement and give more weight to the U.N. partition plan of Nov. 29, 1947.

Jessup said the British proposal, "without our amendments, is more restrictive than necessary."

Under the Bernadotte plan, Negev would be taken from the Jews and they would receive Western Galilee in its stead. The original U.N. partition plan gives Negev to the Jews and Western Galilee to the Arabs.

As the political committee debated Palestine's political issues, Security Council's committee on Palestine scheduled a meeting for 3.30 p.m. (9.30 a.m. EST). A U.N. source said the Council committee would discuss with Ralph J. Bunche, acting Palestine mediator, progress made to date in carrying out the Council's Nov. 4 resolution.

Japanese Executions Take Place Next Week

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—(Reuters).—Execution of wartime Premier Hideki Tojo and six other major Japanese war criminals which was expected tonight, now is unlikely to take place before next week, informed sources at the Sugamo prison said today.

Some of the prisoners had not been notified of the decision of Gen. MacArthur, Supreme Allied Commander in the Pacific confirming the death sentences, these sources said. Nor had they been given the customary 24 hours' notice of the execution.

Unofficial indications earlier today that the hanging would take place between midnight and dawn (Tokyo time) were based partly on the fact that the Buddhist priest who will administer the last rites to Tojo was called to the prison this morning.

Kenji Doihara, commander of the Japanese Seventh Army at Singapore in 1944-45, and a leading figure in the Japanese aggression in Manchuria and North China is sentenced to die also.

Communist Forces Shift Closer To Nanking Capital

NANKING, Nov. 26—(AP).—Communist forces shifted a step closer to the Yangtze River today in the fighting around Suhsien and Lingpi. Reds deployed on the eastern flank of Suchow, 180 miles northwest of Nanking, suddenly pulled [illegible] southward. They regrouped east of the Pukow-Tientsin railroad 40 miles north of Pengpu.

The new development in the battle for Suchow, gateway to the capital, came as national forces in the Peiping-Tientsin area got ready for a major battle for that area of North China.

Government dispatches from Suchow said a decisive battle was expected shortly. Control of the northern Yangtze region hinged on developments.

On the political front, rotund Dr. Sun Fo, legislative Yuan President since 1932 and son of the founder of the Chinese Republic, was approved as Premier to-day by the law-making body.

The legislative Yuan acted under a constitutional requirement that it must uphold the President's nomination. President Chiang Kai-Shek had nominated Sun to replace Wong Wen-Hao, who resigned.

Sun prepared to select a new Cabinet.

The new Premier's political powers were largely inherited from his late father, Dr. Sun Yat-Sen. He is a bitter enemy of Russia and has the close support of Rightist members of the Yuan and such Kuomintang leaders as Secretary-General Wu Te Chen and Chen Li-Fu.

Coalition Cabinet

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26—(AP)— Paul-Henri Spaak said tonight he has formed a new coalition cabinet to replace the one which resigned with him a week ago. It has eight Catholic and seven Socialist ministers. Spaak holds the portfolios of premier and foreign affairs.

Settle Pacific Shipping Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—(AP).—Terms for settling waterfront strikes on east and west coasts of the United States today cleared the decks for early resumption of normal American shipping.

Negotiators in the 86-day CIO Longshoremen's strike on the Pacific coast announced settlement terms last night. Earlier in the day negotiators agreed on peace in the 17-day strike of AFL Longshoremen on the Atlantic coast.

Both tentative agreements must be ratified by union memberships before some 515 strike-bound ships put to sea.

On the Pacific coast four other unions are involved in the strike, but the Longshoremen's terms are considered the key to peace. The four other unions scheduled meetings with management today.

Final settlement would return 92,000 to Maritime jobs and many thousands more to work in other industries halted or curtailed by the strike.

Hold January Election

TEL AVIV, Israel Nov. 26—(AP)—Israel will hold her first general elections Jan. 25, 1949 the provisional government decided Thursday. The parliament to be elected will consist of 120 members.

Calgary Fans Thunder In Leave Toronto Goggle-Eyed

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP) — The football-mad west thundered into Toronto's Union station today. The clangor drowned out the trains.

With a ki-yi-yippe, 200 fans who will egg on Calgary Stampeders in tomorrow's Dominion football final against Ottawa Rough Riders piled off their 17-car special. At the drop of a 10-gallon hat they pulled off a square dance in the station's cavernous rotunda.

Staid Toronto hadn't seen anything like it for years.

All the fans, who had come 2,000 miles just to see Stamps play, were dressed in full cowboy regalia, chaps, clanking spurs and all.

The cowgirls were partial to snow-white 10-gallon head-pieces and red silk skirts. All the fans wore kerchiefs with "Stampeders" emblazoned on them and Calgary's red and white colors.

One visitor of the west carried a lasso with which he roped goggle-eyed Toronto girls.

An accordion ground out music as the Calgarians sang their city's anthem "Calgary— where the sun shines all day."

A reporter asked one westerner timidly: "I suppose it's ridiculous to ask who's going to win tomorrow."

There was a cowboy yell and a hand like a side of western steer crashing down on the reporter's back. "It certainly is, son, it certainly is."

Say Quarrel Started Over Woman

Goes Home For Gun Then Peppers Brother In Farmhouse

UXBRIDGE, Nov. 26—(CP)—Earl Hopkins, 27, was charged today with the attempted murder of his brother as a result of a farmhouse shooting last night which police say began over a woman.

Martin Hopkins, Earl's brother is in Toronto hospital, riddled with shot gun pellets from his chest to his knees. Hospital officials who earlier described his condition as "grave" said shortly before noon he had improved.

Police said the brothers attended an impromptu party last night at the farmhouse of George Matthews near Uxbridge, 20 miles northeast of Oshawa. Guests at the party told police Earl was the only man at the party who did not have a woman companion.

An argument started over one of the women and Earl left the house and drove off in a truck. He returned with a 16-gauge shotgun and fired through the window at his brother who was seated on a couch with one of the women, police said.

Earl's mother told police he had come home last night and seized his shotgun. She had tried to prevent him from leaving the house again but he hurried out "in a rage".

Not Satisfied With Inquiry

KITCHENER, Nov. 26 (CP)— E. M. Holtzhauer, father of Mrs. Emma Pohl, Sunnyside housewife whose body was found in a thicket near Plattsville said today he is not satisfied with the investigation into the murder mystery.

Interviewed at his Galt home he said he is seriously considering contacting the attorney-general's department and demanding more intensive action and investigation into the mysterious strangulation of his daughter.

"We want to see Emma's murderer brought to justice," the aging Mr. Holtzhauer said. "Both my wife and I want to feel that no stone was left unturned in tracking down who ever did that awful deed."

Fire Destroys Hastings Hotel

HASTINGS, Nov. 26 (ENS). — The Queen's Hotel, one of the oldest buildings in Hastings, was destroyed by fire this morning. Vacant for some time, the 15-room hotel was reported on fire shortly before one o'clock this morning. The alarm was turned in by Patrick Dodd, who lives near it. Two crews of the village Fire Department, under Fire Chief Iden Bonds, fought the flames for more than six hours but were unable to save the hotel.

Shortly after the firemen began the fight, two heavy explosions came from the inside of the old building, which is on the main street of the village. There were no injuries. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Thirty-five years ago, villagers recalled, another hotel owned by Phil Elmhurst was burned to the ground, a short distance from the Queen's.

Police said they suspect arsonists started the $5,000 blaze.

Russian Hercules Dies

MOSCOW, Nov. 26—(Reuters) —Ivan Zaikin, Russia's 224-pound "modern Hercules" has died in his home town of Kishinev. He was 66.

Zaikin, who dined on raw meat, was reputed to have been the strongest man in the world. So well known was he throughout Eastern Europe that his name became synonymous with strength.

The most popular of his many feats was the one in which he would lie down and allow a truck to pass over his body.

Senior Officers Hold Conference

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 — (CP). — The Navy's senior officers will meet here from Nov. 30 to Dec. 3, it was announced today, to round off a series of conferences the headquarters of all three services have had with their regional chiefs in the last few months.

In all cases the Defence Department depicted the meeting as annual conferences used to bring the commanding officers in various parts of the country entirely up to date and to keep headquarters posted on problems as they appear from the other angle.

Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of the General Staff, conferred with the chiefs of the five Army commands some weeks ago. Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, RCAF chief, has just completed similar talks.

Winchester Stages Revolt Refuses To Cut Off Power

WINCHESTER, Nov. 26—(CP). — An open revolt against Ontario Hydro Commission power cuts has started in this little Eastern Ontario town 30 miles southeast of Ottawa. The revolt started three weeks ago, says Reeve John Fader, last night. Although as manager of the town's Hydro Commission he has been called three times to institute evening cuts, Reeve Fader has bluntly refused.

The town is running over its power quota at the rate of about 600 kilowatt hours a day. On Monday, Reeve Fader was called on by the Ontario Hydro Commission to cut power for 30 minutes in the evening. Winchester's lights stayed on.

Tuesday he was requested to cut lights for 90 minutes. But the lights were not extinguished. Wednesday a call came through to cut power for two hours. Reeve Fader declined.

He was called again Thursday night from the Ontario Hydro's branch at Cornwall, but he says he's not going to cut power until the Ontario Commission at Toronto quits meddling in Winchester's blackout schedule.

Began 3 Weeks Ago

Reeve Fader says it all began three weeks ago when Winchester, like the rest of the province, began a series of power cuts. These ran from 8 to 9 o'clock in the morning, from 3 to 4 in the afternoon and from 7.30 to 9 in the evening.

But a creamery in the town which runs 24 hours a day protested to Ontario Hydro head office in Toronto. It protested again when it was cut from 3.30 to 5 in the afternoon.

Each time Reeve Fader was ordered to turn the power on for the creamery.

Well, says Mr. Fader, if the creamery can have electricity, so can the rest of the town.

Western Oils Splurge Ahead On Exchange

TORONTO, Nov. 26—(CP)—Western oils ballooned ahead in heavy trading on Toronto exchange today. Golds and industrials moved into firmer ground in select action and base metals fluctuated in spotty trading.

The Western oil group stampeded in the first hour, climbing to the best levels in 11 years, but sagged slightly as the session progressed. Action was strong and the bulk of trading spread over the group. Seven issues climbed to new highs with Home Oil, Calgary and Edmonton, Anglo-Canadian and Okalta showing the best advances.

Industrials opened quietly and edged ahead as the session progressed. Consolidated Paper was ahead ⅝ at 19⅝ following announcement of an extra 75-cent dividend. Refining oils were also strong reflecting the western oil advace.

Smelters rose ½ at 126½ in a mixed base metals list. Pend Oreille and Falconbridge were down. Eureka was at a new low at 90 cents and International Nickel eased a fraction. Noranda rose a point.

Eldona highlighted the golds with some very heavy trading on a six-cent decline. Magnet, Malartic, Campbell and Cochenour brightened.

An URGENT MESSAGE to all parents

A survey recently made by the Department of National Health and Welfare revealed the startling fact that 27 out of every 100 of our school children are definitely undernourished. An additional 23 of every 100 children revealed signs of probable malnutrition.

These are alarming conditions!

As the cost of food continues to soar, will these figures increase? The situation calls for serious thinking and action—now!

Hearty meals of abundant, bulky foods are no assurance of a well-nourished body. Proper nutrition calls for the right foods in the right amounts—daily.

If the strain on your table budget forces you to cut down on valuable protein food like meat, make sure that the food values they would have contributed are obtained by some other means. The daily need for PROTEIN, for example, can be supplied—at lower cost—by combining reduced quantities of expensive protein foods with milk.

For a very few pennies, you build up the protein in a meal by including milk-made dishes. At the same time, you provide other food essentials which milk supplies at relatively low cost.

Here's something worth remembering—the words of one of the foremost nutrition experts of our time: "I suggest that you begin your budget-making by setting aside money for a constant milk supply of a quart a day for every child in the family and at least a pint for every adult. And the less money you have to spend, the more, proportionately, you should spend for milk."

Remember this, too! Even if you are not forced to cut down on your buying of expensive foods, your children normally require 4 to 5 glasses daily. If you ARE forced to cut down their servings of certain other foods, keep them drinking milk. It's the cheapest food you can buy—comparative prices reveal the fact that milk has increased less than any other food group!

Peterborough Warmly Welcomes Governor-General

VISCOUNT ALEXANDER, Governor-General of Canada, visited Peterborough Thursday specifically to lay the cornerstone of the new Civic Hospital. He was accompanied by his beautiful wife, Viscountess Alexander. In the afternoon they visited the Civic Arena on Park St., to address hundreds of school children in the south end of the city; they are shown entering the Arena in the left photo. In the centre pictures His Worship, Mayor W. G. Ovens presents the Governor-General with an illuminated address of welcome at the new Hospital ceremony. At the right, the official car party drove to the summit of Armour Hill to view the city below; it impressed Viscount Alexander, a keen amateur skier, with the possibilities of good winter sports.

The Marshall Plan A Greek Gift?

The Marshall Plan has not been without its opponents in western Europe. There are Communists or Communist sympathizers who see it merely as an implement of American imperialism against Soviet Russia and working people. There are Socialists who fear it is chiefly an instrument of American capitalism. There are nationalists like De Gaulle who suspect that their country will be laid low by a fifth column of American dollars, their national virtues sullied by Uncle Sam.

• • •

Opposition to accepting the dollars and economic ties of the Marshall Plan has increased in recent weeks, chiefly in France, to a lesser extent in Britain. It is one result of the new "peace offensive" by Soviet Russia, which has portrayed Uncle Sam as a grasping tyrannical old man and Uncle Joe as a democrat with a religious desire for peace, co-operation and plenty for all men everywhere in the world. It is also a result of the tide of American dollars which is now in full head. There is an ancient Latin proverb derived from Vergil: "Beware the Greeks bearing gifts". (Vergil: "Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes"). Old saws have modern instances, and it is easy to cast the Americans in the role of militant, prosperous ancient Greeks. There is, however, another saying of American flavour which is applicable—the one about not looking a gift horse in the mouth.

• • •

The Marshall aid plan, despite the strings attached to it, is the most generous and far-sighted aid one nation has ever offered to others. A Communist would be right in rejecting it. A Socialist need not fear it. A liberal should accept it with gratitude.

Continuing Post Mortem

The post mortem examination of the U.S. election continues apace, and shows no sign of being exhausted yet. We are impressed by the frank confession of the New York World Telegram, which says:

> We believe politicians, political writers and radio commentators—yes, and newspaper editors—ought to quit blaming their bum pre-election guesses on the polls. That alibi has been badly overworked. Speaking only for this newspaper, it was our job to find out by independent effort how the political tide was running. We fell down on that job, and the fact that we had a lot of company doesn't excuse us.

Many a powerful newspaper might say "Amen" to that.

One Congressman, Sid Simpson of Illinois, wants to bar all newspapers which print polls on elections from the U.S. mails; he says that they "exert a certain bandwagon psychology that is not in the country's best interest". If this is so, we wonder what happened to the bandwagon psychology when the American people went to the polls? The polls, it seems to us, are so discredited that no one will ever pay any attention to them again. We feel that Mr. Simpson's alarm is excessive.

Mr. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and an important Republican, says that his party "digressed too far from the people—we offered them too many Brahmins, too many plutocrats". This may be so, though we venture to suggest that plutocrats and Brahmins have no difficulty in getting political power—if they have the necessary ability. But has any party ever admitted that it lost an election through lack of ability?

What about Mr. Wallace? He says that he will continue to build up his party and hopes for better luck another time. As he secured little more than a million votes, and as 500,000 of these were in New York State alone, he has a mighty task before him. But it is characteristic of Leftist parties that they tire quickly of any line of endeavour which has been discredited, and we shall not be surprised if Mr. Wallace's followers are pursuing some other will-o'-the-wisp before another campaign, and if Mr. Wallace himself has not retired to his farm.

Canada's Voice On Palestine

Canada has see-sawed as much as the United States in its dealings with the Palestine problems, but less violently, less importantly and more cautiously. For instance, unlike the U.S.A., it has not officially recognized the existence of a State of Israel. It has also made no major official statement of policy regarding Palestine since it cast a reluctant vote for partition a year ago at the U.N. Assembly. Last Monday, however, it made another statement. Then the Minister of External Affairs told the political committee of the U.N. Assembly that Israel should be admitted to membership in U.N.

Mr. Pearson's proposal comes strangely because he is asking U.N., of which Canada is a member-nation, to recognize and receive a nation which Canada itself does not admit exists. It is no more diplomatically odd than the way Palestine has bounced around in the lap of U.N. collectively and various nations singly during the last year. It is international politics in practice. Mr. Pearson's recommendations seem sound: recognition by the Assembly that the Jewish state exists; the creation of a small commission to assist Jews and Arabs in working out geographical and political relations; a reaffirmation that Jerusalem should be put under international control. They may provide a basis for peace in Palestine if U.N. has any authority left in international politics.

Hydro Weather

We note with satisfaction—as Hydro officials must be noting with deep gratitude — the kind of weather southern Ontario has been blessed with this late autumn. Whether Mr. Drew and the Hydro, or nature and too many power users using too much, are most responsible for the power shortage, neither Hydro nor man can take credit for the weather, unless it has been an answer to prayer. There could not have been a more favourable October or November for Hydro. There has been a good quantity of rainfall, with no impeding frosts to stop the flow of water into the rivers. It will be interesting to know how many inches of rainfall we have had all told this autumn. We suspect that Hydro will have no just grievance on that score....We mention the weather so that Hydro will not forget to count its blessings, and give credit where credit it due.

A Great Day For Peterborough

Yesterday gave us all reason to be pleased. The Governor-General and his Lady were friendly, sincere and charmed all. The sun shone for more hours than it has any other day this month. The bunting and flags made a brave show. The Chamber of Commerce's appeal to people living on the routes along which the Governor-General would pass had good results. People co-operated splendidly, put out flags, took in their garbage and ash cans (the collections were much earlier than usual, thanks to the men responsible). The streets were cleaned, some of them at the eleventh hour. Even the railway locomotive which pulled the vice-regal private carriage from Toronto at the end of the usual noon train, was spick and span, its wheels gleaming, its brass polished.

There was no spilt milk to cry over, few hitches in time-tables or table arrangements at dinners and receptions. A happy, pleasant day for all. Even Lord and Lady Alexander—inured as they are to such civic events—seemed pleased, in excellent humour, and responsive to the friendly mood of the day. There was no frost, either physical or social. A grand visit, a grand day, and a grand vice-regal pair to take to our hearts!

NOTES AND COMMENT

King Farouk of Egypt says that it is God's will that he should divorce his wife. We wonder what our Senate Committee on divorce would make of such grounds as that?

A large darning needle was recently removed from the stomach of a 93-years-old Sudbury woman. This seems to be a new form of archeological research.

Montreal schoolteachers are threatening through the Alliance of Catholic Teachers to strike for higher salaries. Premier Duplessis says they have no right to strike. On the principle that since they have no right to strike pupils they have no right to strike themselves?

Says the Philadelphia Bulletin: "The real reason for all the excitement is that a nice young couple have had a nice baby". Not precisely, friend; from this side of the 49th parallel it looks as though the descent in direct line of the Royal House had been assured, and our feeling about it is more than simple folksiness.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

WHO was the first Governor-General to visit Peterborough?

ANSWER: I believe that Sir Edmund W. Head, successor to Lord Elgin was the first Governor-General to come to Peterborough. That was in 1860. He was a member of the Prince of Wales' party when the Prince of Wales (later King Edward VII) came to town. The first Governor of Upper Canada to visit the community was Sir Peregrine Maitland, in the winter of 1826, a year and a half after the Irish immigrants were brought to the district. Sir Peregrine married the daughter of the Duke of Richmond who became Governor-General of British North America in 1818 at the same time as Sir Peregrine was named Governor of Upper Canada. This Duke of Richmond was the man who three years earlier on the eve of the Battle of Waterloo gave the famous ball in Brussels, about which Byron has written. ("There was a sound of revelry by night" et. seq.)

Sir Peregrine received an address presented on behalf of the Irish immigrants by Patrick Barragan, a school teacher. The worthy Patrick began: "We, the Irish Emigrants recently brought out by Colonel Robinson to this country, feel grateful to our gracious good King, and to His Majesty's worthy good and humane government, for all they have, and we hope yet intend to do for us". It went on in good Irish flavour: "Please Your Excellency, we agree very well, and are pleased with the proceedings of the old settlers amongst us, as it is in the interest of us all to do the same. And should an enemy have the presumption ever to invade this portion of His Majesty's dominions, your Excellency will find that we, when called upon to face and expel the common foe, will to a man follow our brave commanders; not an Irish soul shall stay behind; and if we have no better weapons in our hands, mow them down with our Irish shillelahs".

QUESTION: What does "R.S.V.P." mean at the bottom of an invitation card?

ANSWER. It is either a giggle about the old-fashioned way of giving the invitation and is the initial letters of the phrase: "Rather Silly (but) Very Proper"; or a description of the party and a command to arrive promptly: "Repast Sure, (be) Very Prompt". Some people think that it stands for the French "Please Reply" (Repondez, s'il vous plait") but must be mistaken, for almost nobody knows French in Ontario and almost everybody turns up his nose at the French, who are strange people who live in Quebec.

DEAR ALPHA: We had an argument at our bridge table the other evening about the cost of goods which housewives have to buy. One of the ladies said she was sure that some things had not gone up, but couldn't say what things. Do you know of anything that is as low in price as it was before the war?

ANSWER: Matches. Before the war they were ten cents a box. They still are, though now there are no bargain prices of three boxes for a quarter. I suspected that there might be fewer matches in a box now than before the war (when there were 300) and counted a full box. It was 300. I cannot think offhand of other things which have not increased in price. Perhaps some of my readers can make suggestions....Incidentally, counting those matches—a tedious job—made me feel sorry for the little folk who have to daub the heads with whatever the heads of match sticks are daubed. A lifetime job like that would be worse than an eternity in sulphureous flames.

QUESTION: Why do they say "Viceregal", since it has nothing to do with "vice",

ANSWER: Viceregal means standing in the place of royalty, in the way that a Vice-President is the deputy of the President. The "vice" comes from the Latin ablative of 'vicis'—'changing, interchanging, alternating',—a cognate of the Greek 'eiko' ('I yield, I draw back'). It has long been in the language, being related to Old English 'wican' ('I give way') and to our words 'week' and 'weak' (from 'wicissim'—'I turn'). It has nothing to do with the 'vice' in words like 'vicious' which is from the Latin 'vitium'—a fault or blemish.

SIR: We hear a lot about kilowatts and horse-power these days of Hydro power shortage. What is a kilowatt? What relation has it to horse-power?

ANSWER: 'Kilo' is a Greek prefix denoting 1,000. A kilowatt is a unit of power equal to 1,000 watts and approximately equal to 1.34 horse-power. A watt, named after James Watt (1736-1819) the inventor of steam-engines, is a unit of electrical power equal to a rate of working of 10 ergs or 1 joule per second, if that means anything to you. It is easier for me to think of what a 60-watt bulb does, or to imagine 1.34 horses divided by 1,000. A watt-hour is the work done by 1 watt acting for 1 hour. Horse-power is a hang-over from the days when horses not steam pulled boats and turned wheels. It is the engineering unit of power equal to a rate of working 33,000 foot pounds per minute. The kind of horse in horse-power is not specified. Perhaps it is a Clydesdale since Watt was a Scott. It is not the pony one hears about in pony engines.

FOR THE RECORD: The County of Peterborough has an area of 1,430 square miles, one city of 33,796 people, no towns, only three villages, and 12 townships. There are now 35½ people per square mile, an increase of 1½ since 1945. The population apart from the city of Peterborough amounts to 17,860; including the city it is 51,796.

The Republic Of Ireland

What the relations of the new Irish Republic will be with Britain and with the rest of us remains to be seen. Hard it is to believe that they will be other than friendly; so many memories, so many associations, so many faded battle flags, so many things in common, demand friendship. Those there will be, of course—it is but human—who will resent that expressed last week by Mr. Churchill. Eire's going; but perhaps the better mood was "When", said Churchill, "I feel inclined to be bitter against Irishmen, I see the outstretched hands of Paddy Finucane and think of the Irish valour of seven VC's on our side."—Ottawa Journal.

Letters To The Editor

BONUS FOR MINISTERS

Sir: Many employees received wage increases or cost-of-living bonuses ranging from $3 to $6 per week last summer because of the steep rise in living costs. Large increases were given voluntarily so that the Canadian standard of living might be maintained, and many white collar workers were so favored, but I think one group was omitted—the ministers of the gospel.

Wages generally lag behind a rising cost of living and minister's salaries seem to be lagging several laps. Certainly few of them received increases in recent years equal to industrial workers, the other professions or the self-employed.

Should not the ministers of our churches also be compensated for this year's unprecedented cost of living rise? Rising prices are just as distressing to his family as they are to the rest of us.

Unfortunately some church members are burdened with higher costs and no change in income. Consideration for these is probably the reason for the minister's plight. It should be possible to find a solution that is fair to both. Supposing all contributors continued doing their part towards meeting the present budgets and a special offering were taken to increase the minister's remuneration. This would give each member the opportunity to deal with the matter in the manner most satisfactory to him or her self.

I'd like to suggest the first or second Sunday in December for us to make amends, and that the contribution be put in an envelope marked "Minister's cost-of-living bonus" including the contributor's name or number as is customary. And, of course, your readers will mention it to their friends who might be inclined to do likewise.

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. GILBERT.

FREEDOM FOR GASOLINE STATIONS

Sir: Would you be so kind as to allow me space to voice my opinion along with the opinion of a great many other people in reference to this gasoline by-law, that was passed by the City Council some time ago.

For the last couple of months, I have noticed that some of our retail dealers in gasoline and oil have been before the local courts for remaining open after hours. This country of ours is supposed to be a free country. Our government advocates private enterprise. What is the use of any individual trying to get established in any kind of private enterprise? I admire the man or men that have the energy to try and better themselves. If they have capital enough and if they wish to invest it in a business such as a service station, they should be at least free enough to handle that business as they see fit on their own property.

This gasoline by-law should have had more consideration. The feeling of the general public is not in favour of this by-law. It should be brought to a vote. Why should a few service station proprietors try to put pressure on the City Council to pass such a by-law?

Are these service stations that have the dog in the manger attitude owners or a lessee? Why should they interfere in privately owned business? Why should they interfere with other people in business? These retailers that are before the local courts practically every month are ratepayers to the city of Peterborough.

Why is this law not a provincial law? Then there would be no room for arguments. It is just a by-law that has been forced on the retailer. The retailer that wants to remain open to protect his business, to protect his livelihood, to try and get back some of his hard earned earnings that he had accumulated in order that some day he would be able to invest those earnings to a good advantage if he was left alone by his fellow comrades.

I consider a business that is privately owned by an individual or individuals should be allowed to work long hours if he so wishes. Probably the service stations that are situated in the heart of the business area, are able to garner enough of business during the day to warrant their early closing. If that is the case, why do they want to interfere with stations that are not as fortunate as they are by not being in the business area. Thanking you,

I remain,
A RATEPAYER.

NO MEAN CITY

Sir: May I trespass on your valuable space to bring before the public a few facts in connection with the laying of the foundation-stone of our new hospital by Lord Alexander of Tunis, our Governor-General, yesterday. Let us remember, in the first place that we are exceptionally honoured by the consent of such a highly eminent representative of our Gracious Sovereign to be the chief actor in the ceremony. Secondly, that the Federal and Provincial Governments have jointly agreed to give sums aggregating about $450,000 towards the building of the Hospital. Thirdly, that a special meed of thanks is due to that select body of men, who have given their services freely for very many months towards bringing the Hospital into absolute being, and Fourthly, to members of the City and County Councils who have so earnestly and willingly considered the project and given it their unstinted support.

We are citizens of no mean city, and while we are mindful of the inroads on our purses that the coming of Christmas invariably brings let us not forget the duty that is imposed on us of helping the hands of those who are able and willing to supervise and labour in bringing this grand addition to our city's assets to a splendid culmination.

We have only to think of the definite need of a hospital, the foremost need in any community, to make us loosen our purse-strings for its support. All the finer qualities that Providence has implanted in our breasts demand our help, far above any other that can be mentioned.

Think of the dilapidated buildings that have for so many years supplied our needs and let us work, tooth and nail, to raise an edifice that is really worthy of our growing importance. The vote for the necessary by-law will be on Dec. 6th.

Council Suggests Reducing Staff of Health Unit

COBOURG, Nov. 26.—(ENS). Fewer doctors and sanitary inspectors in the counties health unit were suggested by members of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Council at the session Thursday. Climaxing a discussion on the counties health unit, the following resolution was passed:

"Moved by Reeve C. B. Jandrew of Murray Township, seconded by Reeve A. J. Runnalls of Hope Township—that the counties health unit board contact the Department of Health in regard to the health unit and advise them that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction with the unit and that the members feel we could do with fewer doctors and inspectors."

Cost $73,000

Members of the Council agreed that the health unit was engaged in a good work, but there were certain aspects of its administrationset-up which did not meet with their approval. Reeve A. Wartman pointed out that it had cost $73,000 last year (Government pays half). He said he recognized the fact that preventative work was very important in forestalling disease. The nurses were doing an exceptionally good job, but he felt that the medical staff could be reduced and an improvement would be the result.

Reeve G. Walton of Newcastle said that in a Cobourg restaurant that day he had noticed that the knives and forks and dishes were not clean. Under a health unit one did not expect to encounter such conditions, he said. There was a farmer in Newcastle who built some cabins, but was not using them as tourist cabins, and the sanitary inspector in Durham had treated him unfairly and seeme dto dispute his word that the cabins were not being used for tourists.

"They pay this man $2,100 a year for doing nothing. They don't know their business," declared Reeve Walton.

Reeve Jandrew commented that the road superintendent certainly had a big area to cover and he was able to do it adequately, and he said it was accordingly difficult to understand why there had to be three doctors in the health unit.

Figures From Doctors

"The urses do the work and the doctors give us a lot of figures about what is being done," commented Reeve Jandrew. "I thnk that somebody from the health unit staff should have been here today to tell us what we want to know," he added.

Warden Stephen said that the health unit operated under the regulations of the Provincial Department of Health. When there are complaints from the citizens the way to handle the complaints is to place them before the board for consideration, and this had not been done. He asserted that it was apparent, however, that something was drastically wrong.

Reeve E. Woodyard of Clarke Township stated that there had been two medical officers of health at first, and that the county had recommended a third one, and a third office was set up. He said he would not like to see the three offices centralized in one just to save a little money. Perhaps if there were more board meetings, the board members might be able to keep in better touch with things. The chief medical officer received $5,700 per year; the assistant medical officer at Bowmanville was paid $5,200, and the one at Campbellford $4,200. They also were paid travelling expenses. Sanitary inspectors, two in number, got $2,100 and car expenses. Deputy-Reeve Fred Denyes of Brighton said that in his opinion Dr. MacCharles, chief medical officer, should be at the session of Counties Council. It was costing too much for the ones at the head and the nurses were overworked, he declared.

"There is too much money going to the higher-ups and the ones that do the most work get the least," declared Reeve Denyes.

Enlarge Home

Council opened its session yesterday morning with discussion of the proposed enlarging of the counties' home. The day before they were presented with a master plan by a firm of architects, calling for additions to the counties home which would cost around $400,000. Yesterday morning, Reeve W. Bowles of Cartwright, pointed out that the debentures would all be paid off in another year. The yearly debenture payments had been $60,000 and if an administration wing were built on the counties home it would cost just about the debenture payment for one year, so there would be no increase in the mill rate.

During the course of the ensuing discussion, the warden observed that the architects' bill for doing plans to date was $4,480. Several members expressed surprise at the size of the bill and in order to verify it the clerk telephoned the office in Toronto of the architects and learned that the cost of the preliminary sketches was $4,480 based on 1-5 of 6 p.c. If the work proceeds to whatever extent is approved, the fee will be two-fifth of the remainder for final drawings and another two-fifth for supervision and the latter was optional as to who would supervise. If $60,000 were decided upon, there was still the initial fee of $4,480 and the remainder would be based not on the $400,000 but $60,000.

Action Deferred

Reeve John Westington asked who gave the architects authority to get the figure in the $400,000 classification and the Warden replied that the Department of Welfare had been sought for guidance when figures were sought. On motion council deferred it to the 1949 council.

E. F. Marsden, district highways dept. engineer, spoke briefly, expressing gratitude for the co-operation received from the counties and the township. He suggested that in setting the program for the year, care be taken that too much was not undertaken, so that it would be completed up to the proper standards. He felt that thought should be given to permanent pavement over sections bearing heavy traffic as it would be more serviceable in the long run than having to keep it up by maintenance.

Warden Stephens complimented Reeve M. Wight of Seymour for his work in connection with the development of the road between Campbellford and Hoard's Station. The Warden also said that during the year he had received good co-operation from the council and that the aid of Bill Barr, counties clerk and treasurer, had been invaluable.

Ontario Power Quotas Given Boost

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—(CP). — Ontario power quotas went up another 2½ per cent today for the second time this week.

Heavy rains swelled rivers in the Ottawa valley enough to permit Hydro engineers to take more water for idle turbines. The increase meant an additional 226,500 kilowatt hours for Toronto alone and permitted the city Hydro commission to dispense with the hour-long morning cutoff.

For at least nine days, power will be cut for only one hour each afternoon.

The increase came as one eastern Ontario town—Winchester, 30 miles southwest of Ottawa — refused for the third time to pull switches.

In Oshawa, the Public Utilites Commission was scheduled to meet today to consider using an emergency clause in the Public Utilities Commission Act. The clause would enable it to withhold power one day a week from each industry. Spokesmen said if used, it would not apply to the city's major industry—the huge General Motors Corporation plant —which would be asked to close an hour earlier each day.

Meanwhile, the Ottawa Commission to change the time of the daily blackout. The 3.30 p.m. hour-long cutoff was the worst time of the day for them, they said.

Fine 2 Motorists

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 26. —(ENS).—Gordon Harris, 19, Marmora, paid $25 and $7.80 costs on a charge of careless driving and $25 and $2.50 costs on a charge of having liquor in a public place when found guilty by Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Port Hope, on Thursday. Harris was the driver of the car that was in collision with a car driven by Arnold Thompson of RR No. 2, Hastings, last Saturday night on No. 30 highway one mile west of town.

Gordon Prendergast, of Toronto, driving Joel McArthur's car, was assessed $10 and $2.50 costs for unlawfully driving a motor vehicle. He was involved in an accident last Saturday night when the car he was driving left the highway and plunged into a tree. The charges were laid by Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings.

A charge of careless driving laid against Gordon Fleming of Hastings, arising out of a collision at the entrance to Edgewater park on Oct. 15 was dismissed because an accident on public property does not come under the Highway Traffic Act. However, the magistrate exhorted Fleming to drive carefully in the future and not to endanger the lives of others.

China Has Less Ey In World Than Any Countr lectric Power

"China, despite its enormous size, has the smallest hydro output of any country in the world," said Mr. J. K. Sexton of the Montreal Engineering Co., addressing the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada Thursday evening at the Public Library. His topic was "China Today." Mr. Sexton has recently concluded a tour of China studying future Hydro-developments there.

"There are only three major hydro plants in China having a total output of only 3,800 hp. The situation is acute because 89 per cent. of the hydro is in the coastal areas," he said.

"China has now a three-fold program consisting of the restoration of old plants, to plan and investigate new plants and lastly to investigate enormous projects on the Yangtze River."

"The Natural Resources Commission of China made an agreement with the Montreal Engineering Co. to send one engineer to China. On reaching China the party set out for Chungtu, the first hydro site. Here the main problem was met, the high flood water. In the spring the Yangtze reaches 7,500 times its minimum flow. The answer to this problem is in reservoirs. Here the problem becomes political as a vast number of inhabitants would have to be moved. From this site we moved to the Kwang Tung site. At this spot the same problems arose as at the Chungtu River. The Min River varies from 28,000 cu. ft. per sec. to 185,000 cu. ft. per sec. From the Wang River our party went to the hydro site at Hengyang. At Hengyang there were only three houses left standing by the Japanese."

He said "Chinese cities are nearly all walled. At Nanking the wall is 27 miles long, 30 feet in width, and 40 feet high. There are even farms inside the walls."

"These long-suffering but happy people are hard working, always trying to accomplish the next thing to the impossible."

Mr. Sexton illustrated his talk with a complete set of Kodachrome slides which he took while in China.

Mr. Sexton was introduced by Mr. G. C. Tollington and thanked by Mr. B. Ottewell for his interesting address on a subject which is much in the news today.

Nominations were received and a list will be sent to each member.

Leafs Finally Break Jinx Blank Montreal Canadiens

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Maple Leafs broke a jinx and Chicago's Jim Conacher set a season's record in the National Hockey League Thursday night. Leafs blanked Montreal 2-0—their first win in the Montreal Forum since last December. Conacher scored four goals—an individual high for the year—as the Black Hawks tumbled New York Rangers into the cellar, 6-4.

It was the first victory on the road this year for the Leafs and they had to fight for it. There was so much fighting, in fact, that 16 major and 14 minor penalties were handed out.

Chicago's win moved the Hawks out of last place, one point ahead of Rangers who took over Chicago's lease on the basement.

Conacher got two of his goals on brilliant solo plays and Metro Prystai and Bill Mosienko each collared one. For the Rangers it was Edgar Laprade, Don Raleigh, Alex Kaleta and Eddie Slowinski.

Chicago dropped behind in the first period, but came back with [illegible] first from Gaye Stewart and then from Gus Bodnar, to score twice.

Blows Up Twice

The Montreal game blew up twice in the second period and each time play was stopped as officials struggled to break up a mass of fights scattered all across the ice.

The first came when Toronto's Gus Mortson boarded Ken Mosdell and Maurice Richard went after Mortson. Both Mortson and Richard got majors.

The main bout came less than a minute later when there were only six men—and the two goalies—on the ice. All six collected majors.

Ken Reardon of Montreal and Joe Klukay started swinging. Within seconds Hal Laycoe and Garth Boesch, Reardon and Bill Barilko and Billy Reay and Klukay were rolling on the ice.

Turk Broda beat off repeated Montreal ganging attacks in the last period to earn his first shutout of the year. The Montreal ganging backfired for Toronto's second goal—with Bill Durnan pulled out for a sixth forward and less than 10 seconds left, Leaf Bill Ezinicki lifted the puck down the ice from behind his own blue line and the rubber coasted into the unguarded net.

Big Harry Watson had got the first one in the first minute of the final period.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketball holds the spotlight locally this week-end in sports. Girls go tonight at the YWCA and the male cagers open up tomorrow eve at the Collegiate. Lasses' numbers this p.m. are: Neill's vs. Lock Co. at 8.15, followed by CGE vs. Collis. Same clubs were listed previously for this twin bill but in the opposite order, so please note the switch. And the men's game on the morrow is at 8.15 betwixt Coach Shag Park's senior West End "Y" basketeers of Toronto, and our Marines' "A" squad. This should be a dandy to pry off the lid on the hoop season at the Collegiate gym. In fact both nights will see some fine basketball served up.

Coach Bev Goulding's good PCVS senior gridders are off to the war today. They play Upper Canada College at 2.15 p.m. on the latter's gridiron. A sudden-deather for the ORFU interscholastic senior title. It isn't for the provincial crown in the strict sense of the word as several other strong associations don't participate in provincial playoffs. Against their policy. These include the WOSSA—down London and Windsor way—and the EOSSA (Ottawa Valley centres) as well as metropolitan Toronto. And northern Ontario. But PCVS wanted another playoff and challenged UCC, winner of the "little big four" setup. And that's how come today's game.

Many Saw The Rink

Lot of folks yesterday got their first look at the new Civic Arena below the CGE, and they seemed quite impressed with the job. Of course many complained that it isn't big enough, and that's true. But it'll have to do till the Memorial Centre takes shape. And it's much better than no covered rink at all here. Ice surface approximately the same at the old Brock Arena, and a few more hundred fans can be packed into it. Some 2,300, we're told. Place is well laid out on a good roomy piece of property and the contractor made an okay job of it. The rink will be a busy spot when winter sets in.

As mentioned yesterday, the Petes play Lindsay Meteors an exhibition game at nine p.m. tomorrow on Lindsay's artificial ice. The Meteors are made up of Toronto players, using Lindsay this season for "home" ice, and they're of good senior "B" calibre. The Petes, bolstered by four or five Belleville puckists—whom they hope to keep all season—will have a stiff workout against Meteors, and that's what they want. If they can keep these Quinte players, the Petes will come up with a powerful club again. The boys of Bella Villa don't expect to have a team in senior "B" down that way, and they'd like to play for Peterborough.

Petes Shape Up Oke

Anyway, this is the tentative lineup Coach Red Creighton plans on using Saturday: Goal, Ray Harding; defence, Drake Jopling and Ron Horton; centre, Honey Tompkins; wings, Terry Gordon and Freddy Mortimer; alternates, Vern Goyer, Bill McMaster, Tom Parsons, Dave Quigley, Fred Garvey, Jerry Creighton, Leo Goyer, Tim Williams, either Day or McDonald (of Belleville), Ace Reid and mayhap one or two others. It looks like a solid defence in front of a first-class goalie, and plenty of experienced and speedy forwards. No setup at all, we'd say, once the players are used to working together and get in the pink of condition.

Prexy Dick Ouimet of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association is calling another open meeting for Monday night at 7.30 in the Civic Arena headquarters' office—where the old United Cigar Store was on George near Charlotte. Entries will close at this session, officers be elected and general plans for the season made. So far, just eight clubs have signified intention of entering, instead of the dozen or more expected, so Monday is the deadline to declare yourselves, fellows. Dick will take in the annual OMHA get-together in Toronto [illegible] the Stampeders and Riders in the Dominion grid final.

Noise In The Alleys

Meandering around the alleys at nights lately—bowling alleys, that is—one sees a lot of activity. So many loops going that there isn't much time left for open bowling. You pretty nearly have to belong to a league nowadays to get in any bowling at all. There's the men's City Bowling League and the Girls' Bowling League. Also the YM men's circuit and the YM lasses' loop. The Mercantile League and the Thursday Nite Bowling Loop. Several shop circuits, at least, and maybe we've missed mention of one or two others. Yeah, the pins take quite a pasting on several fronts here night after night as many men and girls take up the trundling game for the winter months.

UP AND DOWN SPORTS' RIALTO: Panthers wind up their rugby season next Friday with a dinner at South Beach, most of 'em leaving the "Y" at 6.30....Montreal Rocklands play the Ghosts in Cobourg tomorrow aft for the Eastern Canada intermediate grid title....Some fans here obtained ducats for the Calgary-Ottawa joust tomorrow in Varsity Stadium....Red Creighton wants Jack Mortimer and Buck Legrow to be at the bus with the other Petes' prospects for the game in Lindsay tomorrow night....Haven't heard yet who would represent Legion and the Oddfellows at the OHA annual next week-end in Toronto....Oh, yes, you can get tickets for the puck tilt in Lindsay on Saturday now at the bus terminal....Excuse us if we miss a few items today as this was written last night on account of we have to leave early today for the PCVS fray in Toronto....His vice-regal nibs shot by the office about 30 m.ph. yesterday and we never even got a gander at him....But that's okay—he probably didn't get to see us, either....Enough for the nonce.

Both Teams Air Grievances Before Big Game

TORONTO, Nov. 26—(CP)—The big football game isn't until tomorrow afternoon but that gives the front offices time for their little game in the morning in a downtown hotel room.

Officials of Calgary Stampeders and Ottawa Rough Riders kick off then before Canadian Rugby Union officials in a pre-game talk-fest designed to make sure official air is clear before the East-West classic.

Executives of both clubs have things on their chests.

The players arrive today, Stampeders coming from their training camp at nearby Oakville and the Rough Riders coming from the capital.

Manager Jim McCaffrey of Ottawa said he would raise again the question of a Calgary official working the game Kent Phillips, president of the CRU Thursday threw out Ottawa objections to the use of Les Ferguson of Calgary as judge of play.

Calgary is expected to raise the question of the number of players permitted to dress for the game. CRU rules say 24. The Stamps want 30.

Wants Air Cleared

Coach Les Lear of Stampeders told reporters this week there were two other things he wants settled at the meeting. He wanted to make sure more than one ball was available in case the field was muddy. And he wanted Ottawa substitutes to stay on the bench, not on the sidelines during the game.

Although weather officials said an accurate forecast was impossible this far ahead of the game, indications are it will be dry—but cloudy.

The ticket scramble still continued today, although "no football tickets" signs have decorated agencies all week long. One desperate individual advertised in morning papers that he would buy three tickets—and throw in three rail seats for Saturday night's National Hockey League game as a bonus.

Toronto bettors are quoting 8-5 on the Rough Riders. The price lengthened a bit in Ottawa where Defence Minister Brooke Claxton—an easterner—offered 2-1.

OLA To Keep Players At Home

TORONTO, Nov. 26—The Ontario Lacrosse Association Thursday night took steps to prevent individual players from Ontario going to United States points to [illegible]

Last year the OLA permitted entire teams to play across the border, but now Rochester and Geneva team have made overtures to individual Ontario players and the OLA frowns on this practice.

The sub-committee and the senior committee passed a motion that no individual player, referee or coach will be permitted to be active in the United States. If they do, they will be suspended and the suspension will be passed along to the Ontario Sports Federation to be maintained as long as the OLA sees fit.

Hornell, Buffalo, Geneva, Niagara Falls and Rochester are currently moving into their schedule.

Announce Hydro Loan

TORONTO, Nov 26—(CP)—Floating of a $45,000,000 loan to provide additional capital in connection with Hydro construction was announced Thursday by Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. The loan, bearing three-per-cent interest, is due Dec. 15, 1965 and callable in whole or in part after Dec. 15, 1963. The program, in power-short Ontario, involves the building of new power plants and ancillary facilities in various parts of the province.

Boudreau Most Valuable Player In American League

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP).—Lou Boudreau was the most valuable player in the American League in 1948—naturally!

Most everybody agreed on that a month ago. Now it's official on the vote of the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association.

The writers rated the athletes from one to 10, but Ed Burns of the Chicago Tribune, the retiring president, reports 22 of them named Boudreau first. The other two first place ballots went to Joe DiMaggio, the pillar of New York Yankees.

Boudreau made a good case for himself on the playing field.

1. He played the most shortstop of anybody in the league.
2. He led Cleveland to its first flag and series victory since 1920.
3. He hit .355, second only to Ted Williams, the champ.
4. He worked out the pick-off play that created such a stir in the series.

A Little Early

When the Indians lost their final game of the regular season and had to travel to Boston for a play-off game, he said, "We're just coming into Boston a little early for the series."

It was Boudreau's first-inning home run off Denny Galehouse in the play-off game that instilled confidence in the Tribe.

DiMaggio, most valuable in 1939, 1941 and 1947, was one of the most important reasons for the Yanks' third place finish. His hitting and outfield play, despite a leg injury, kept New York in the race until the day before the end. He batted in 156 runs, most in the league, on a .320 average.

Well Ahead

first, nine for second and on

On a point basis, with 14 for down to one for 10th, Boudreau received 324 to 213 for Joe DiMaggio.

Ted Williams, the batting king with an unofficial .369, was third with 171, but no first place votes. Next came Vern (Junior) Stephens, one of Williams' Boston Red Sox teammates. Stephens polled 121 points to 101 for Cleveland's 20-game winner Bob Lemon, the only pitcher in the first five.

Joe Gordon, Boudreau's partner in Cleveland's fine double play combination, tied for sixth with the Yanks' Tommy Henrich. Each had 63 points.

Gene Bearden, a pitching hero in Cleveland's series success, was eighth with 52. Then came Hal Newhouser of Detroit, most valuable in 1944 and 1945. He had 48 points to 39 for 10th place Eddie Joost, the shortstop sparkplug of Philadelphia A's.

Here And There In Sports . . .

Robert Rankine of Galt, Thursday placed fourth in the Berwick, Pa., marathon finishing the nine-mile course in 49 minutes and 51 seconds. Browning Ross of Villanova, Pa., the winner, was timed at 48.28.

The Galt team of Rankine, Ab Morton and Arthur Wilson carried off the team title. Morton finished eighth in the field of 32 and Wilson 17th.

Wealthy Canadian sportsmen should become interested in bobsledding so that courses may be built at winter resorts, President Nelson C. Hart of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada suggested Thursday at London, Ont. Commenting on the world's bobsled championship to be held at Lake Placid, N.J., Feb. 2-6, he said that while the A.A.I. is recognized as a member of the International Bobsled Federation it could not assume any financial obligations for training and equipment of Canadian entrants. However, it would look after registration and other details.

The Ontario Lacrosse Association Thursday night at Toronto took steps to prevent individual players from Ontario going to United States points to play in a winter league. Last year the O. L.A. permitted entire teams to play across the border, but now Rochester and Geneva, N.Y., teams have made overtures to individuals and the association is said to frown on the practice. Any player, referee or coach going to New oYrk circuit will be suspended.

Billy Johnson, clever left fielder with Brantford Junior Flyers in the Ontario Baseball Association last summer, has been signed to a professional contract by Omaha of the Western (Class A) League, it was learned at Brantford Thursday. Omaha is a member of the St. Louis Cardinal farm system in the National League.

The biggest radio network ever to carry a Canadian football game will broadcast the Grey Cup clash between Calgary Stampeders and Ottawa Rough Riders at Toronto Saturday. The broadcast will be carried by the Dominion network of the CBC beginning at 1.30 p.m. EST.

William A. Fry announced Thursday at Toronto that three Toronto officials will handle Saturday's unofficial Eastern Ontario intermediate championship between Montreal Rockland Dynamiters and Cobourg Galloping Ghosts at Cobourg. Referee will be Harry McBrien, umpire Jack Brunton and head linesman Arthur Hiltz.

Johnny Longden, far out in front for the second consecutive year as top winner among jockeys riding in the United States, ran his 1948 victory string up to an even 300 Thursday. The 38-year-old Longden rode a dead heat in the eighth race aboard Cargo Ship at the Tanforan track in San Bruno, Calif. Fire Away, ridden by James Nichols, was the other horse in the tie.

Conn Smythe, president of the National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs, says he will "go for television if the television people pay me the equivalent of a capacity house each time they televise." His comment was prompted by reports from the United States of the decline of attendance at sports events because of people who take in the games by television.

At San Bruno, Calif., Shannon II, the great Australian seven-year-old, came from far back Thursday to win the $25,000 added San Francisco handicap by a head. Hornets Edge Bears 2-1; Ramblers Win

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Hornets Thursday night edged Hershey Bears 2-1 to take over sole possession of second place in the western section of the American Hockey League, five points behind the leading St. Louis Flyers.

New Haven Ramblers, after spotting Washington two goals, found their scoring punch to whip the Lions 5-2.

Three times in the first period penalties paid off for both the Hornets and the Bears. The second and third sessions were scoreless.

The Hornets got their start when Pete Backor tallied while Buck Jones was in the penalty box. They followed it up with a goal by Harry Psutka, while the Bears' Arnold Kullman was serving time.

Hershey used the same strategy when Sid Smith went to the penalty box to serve the minor part of a penalty for Fleming Mackell, who was banished from the game. Herb Cain got the lone marker.

Fred Brown found the range twice for New Haven, while Jerry Claude, Sherm White and Jean Paul Denis shared the balance of the scoring.

Ken Schuttz and Harry Frost were the Washington marksmen.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

A sparkling four-goal effort by Jimmy Conacher of Chicago Thursday night boosted him into a fourth-place tie in the National League scoring race. The Black Hawk winger now has 14 points and is deadlocked with Montreal's Joe Carveth, who went scoreless Thursday night as did all other leading marksmen. Grant Warwick still shows the way with 18 points.

Strike Threat Gone

MONTREAL, Nov. 26—(CP)—Threat of a strike by members of the French-speaking Catholic Teachers' Alliance virtually disappeared Thursday night when 800 teachers decided at a meeting to re-open negotiations for higher salaries. The meeting was called to set a date for a strike vote, but instead the teachers passed a resolution empowering their executive committee to negotiate a new contract for higher wages.

A Message To The Citizens of Peterborough

Hi Folks!

Could I have a few minutes of your precious time to ask a little favor, and to tell you something about myself?

I was born in Peterborough, and I hope to live here all my life, because I love this city of mine.

I like all kinds of sports, but I like hockey the best of all. I've been playing for the last two years, but always on open air rinks.

Last year I froze my ears, nose and toes, but here's hoping it doesn't happen again. Really, folks, it doesn't have to happen this year, if you will do this little favor for me and hundreds of others like me.

The Civic Arena Committee has done a marvelous job for us kids in Peterborough, but it's still short about $3,000 to finish the thing right.

So, all you nice folks who have donated, many thanks. But you other nice folks who have not yet made a donation, maybe you haven't been asked personally—why not call Headquarters . . . Phone 20397, leave your name and address, and some authorized Civic Arena representative will call on you right away.

Will you do that for me, folks, before the campaign closes on Tuesday, November 30? Thanks a million, everybody, I know you won't let me down . . . with my hundreds of hockey pals in the city.

Gratefully yours,
A Minor Hockey Player.

Attlee Views On Eire Set Precedent

LONDON, Nov. 26—(Reuters). —Prime Minister Attlee's announcement on Eire in parliament yesterday is regarded by political quarters here as creating an unparalleled constitutional situation which presumably may continue indefinitely.

A problem would arise only in the event of a claim by some foreign country for privileges equal to those which Eire, after the passing of the bill repealing her External Relations Act, will continue to enjoy. Attlee said that, even though passing of the Act cuts Eire's official ties with the Commonwealth, Eireanns will be able to claim British citizenship.

For the moment, Eire's exact status after the passage of the bill remains a diplomatic riddle. Officials, despite the statements by Attlee and by John Costello, Eire Prime Minister, in the Eire parliament, were still reticent about its precise implications.

An authoritative source offered the opinion that the diplomatic status of Eire would probably eventually be "somewhere midway between a member of the Commonwealth and a foreign country."

Must Be Clarified

Though the rights of Eireann and British nationals will remain unaltered, the status of diplomats on both sides has still to be clarified.

At present the British representative in Dublin, Lord Rugby, uses the title of "United Kingdom representative" while John Dulanty, his opposite number in London, is "High Commissioner."

Britain's decision to continue to extend special treatment to Eire, amounting to equality with members of the Commonwealth, is based, Attlee explained, on ties of kinship and traditional social, economic and trade relations.

Clearly, all constitutional developments of this nature involve individual problems which make it impossible for any one to provide the pattern for all.

Burma, for instance, recently seceded from the Commonwealth, yet she continues to enjoy Dominion preferences in the economic field, although not retaining the old ties of nationality.

King May Lead A Quiet Life

LONDON, Nov. 26 — (AP). — The King may have to lead a quiet life for the rest of his days, the British medical publication, Lancet, says today.

[illegible] that the King is suffering from an obstruction to the arterial circulation in the legs and that the defective blood supply to the right foot causes anxiety, Lancet says:

"Its seriousness is all too evident, and is the more impressive because, in a life of service, the King has so seldom allowed himself to be deflected from any public task whether great or small.

"Yet there is good hope that, provided the acute phase yields to rest and treatment, it will be followed by a return of health and strength: though possibly, like so many of his subjects at the same age (52), the King will have to purchase continuing health at the cost of some of his more strenuous activities."

The King met the Privy Council today in the royal apartments at Buckingham Palace.

Individual Security Suspended By Junta

CARACAS, Nov. 26 (AP). — The military junta that has taken over the government of Venezuela to-day suspended various constitutional guarantees, including individual security, freedom of speech, and privacy of the home. Other guarantees affected are freedom of movement, freedom to change residence, to leave and enter the country and hold public meetings.

The decree said the security of the state requires suspension of the guarantees. The action is expected to be temporary.

The junta also has promised to make plans for national elections.

Postpone Coal Talk

LONDON, Nov. 26—(CP)—Renewed examination of the public-owned coal industry scheduled for Thursday in the House of Commons was postponed until Monday. The opportunity for discussion of the work of the National Coal Board as agent for the government during the 23 months it has supervised the nationalized industry, is to come during the second reading of the cal iondustry bill.

Postpone Presentations

LONDON, Nov. 26—(AP)—The Earl of Clarendon, Lord Chamberlain, announced Thursday night that two court presentations arranged for January have been postponed until later in the year. The parties were to have preceded departure of the King Queen for New Zealand and Australia, but the royal tour has been cancelled because of the King's ill health.

Berlin Pact Being Wrecked By West-Soviet

PARIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—High Soviet-bloc sources said Thursday that the western powers are preparing to wreck a Berlin settlement to further their military plans in Europe.

This was eastern Europe's unofficial reply to recent comments from western sources that there is little hope of success for current efforts to end the Berlin crisis.

The accusations came from informants close to the Russian delegation and its satellites in the United Nations General Assembly.

These eastern diplomatic sources asserted in interviews that Britain, the United States and France seem bent on throwing away any chance of a Berlin accord so that, under cover of heightened tension in the German capital, they can achieve these objectives.

1. Push the projected North Atlantic Defence Pact through the United States Congress.

2. Launch a program for rearming western Europe.

3. Establish United States military bases at key continental points.

One eastern European diplomat, who is in frequent contact with Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Deputy Soviet foreign minister and chief of the Russian UN delegation, said:

Blames West

"The western powers do not want a Berlin agreement. They have, in effect, repudiated the accord reached in Moscow Aug. 30. They have, in fact, rejected the plea, proposed by Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, president of the assembly, and U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie, to the big four to begin immediate negotiations."

The six "neutral" members of the Security Council now are studying four-power replies to a questionnaire on Berlin's currency problems in order to find a clue to possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Western sources have said the discord over competing east and west currency in Berlin cannot be separated from the general political situation in Berlin.

The culture convener, Velma Thexton, had the program. Marilyn Gibbs read the lesson. Mary Guthrie gave the worship poem, and Francis Handley the meditation. "The University of Science" was the topic covered by the cultural convener, this theme having also featured the worship service. Next week's meeting will be a social gathering, with the convener, Francis Handley, in charge.

U.S. And Britain Give France Voice In Steel

LONDON, Nov. 26 — (AP) — Britain and the United States have decided to give France a direct voice in allocation and management control of coal and steel in their section of occupied Germany, the foreign office reported today.

A spokesman told a press conference that the two have agreed the "French government shall be invited to become a member of the German coal control group and the steel control groups."

Up until now, that direct representation has been held up pending a proposed fusion of the French occupation zone in Germany with those of the United States and Britain.

The action marked a major step toward giving the French greater voice in big-power arrangements for Western Europe integration.

The spokesman said the move would have no direct effect upon current talks here on the future of the Rhur Valley industries, which lie in the British zone.

Russia Threat -McNaughton

PARIS, Nov. 26—(CP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, in a statement issued today, said there is convincing evidence that a consolidation of power potentially dangerous to North America is "within the thought" of Russian policy.

McNaughton, Canada's delegate on the United Nations Security Council, said such consolidation of power does not yet exist.

Only Trouble

The 29-page statement said: "It is clear that the only possible source of trouble which could threaten the safety of North America would be come combination of forces in Europe and Asia which had extended their dominance to the oceans to the west, east and to the north."

U.S. Proposes New Attempt At Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 — (CP).—The United States has proposed that a new attempt be made to write a world wheat agreement.

A spokesman said Wednesday that the government has laid the groundwork for a full-dress international conference next. Jan. 25, either in the United States or abroad.

Edward G. Cale, associated chief of the international resources division of the State Department, made the announcement to a committee of the United Nations food and agricultural organization, which is meeting here.

Charles F. Wilson of Ottawa, Canada's top wheat expert, will be a key man in the early conference planning. Cale said Wilson came to Washington this week at the request of the United States government after it became apparent that the wheat situation was ripe for new discussion.

Cale said that Wilson, after conferences with the United States official had been asked to do the job. These recommendations had been made to him:

1. He should consult the F.A.O. representatives whose countries also are preparatory committee members and determine their attitude toward the proposed Jan. 25 meeting.

2. If they were unable to commit their countries immediately, he should ask them to seek their countries' views and cable him as soon as possible.

3. The F. A. O. spokesmen should be asked to agree in any event that the consultations taking place here be considered to fulfil the understanding that the preparatory committee would meet prior to a full-dress conference.

4. If Wilson gets the impression that most governments want the Jan. 25 conference, plans for it should be made as soon as possible.

Lindsay Plants May Start Work At 6 a.m.

LINDSAY, Nov. 26—There is a possibility that plants may start operation in Lindsay at 6 a.m. next week. A canvass is being made of local factories by members of the Industrial committee of the town council to test reaction to this plan and the results will probably be known on Friday.

Of nine factories canvassed all have signified willingness to cooperate providing the others do the same. There are about 18 industries to be contacted yet. Unless the agreement is unanimous, this plan to conserve power probably would be abandoned.

It is explained b ythe committee that the hour between 6 and 7 a.m. is virtually "free" time and that a switch to that hour would be an effective way to save power. However, it is pointed out, that even this would not be enough to overcome cut-offs.

Eisenhower Book Praises Churchill Aide

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP). — Winston Churchill's No. 1 wartime military aide says the book, "Crusade in Europe," is "worthy of its great author"—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In a review published today in the Daily Telegraph, Gen. Lord Ismay says the book has "a particular lesson for us all at the present time since it show how strong, proud and independent peoples can be harmoniously united in the fight for freedom with irresistible effect."

Lord Ismay was chief of staff to the minister of defence, a post which Churchill held as well as the prime ministry.

Previous reviews in some sections of the British press complained that Eisenhower's book was "a blow at British-American friendship and understanding." One such review said it accorded "chilly praise" to Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, British Army leader, in contrast to an "extravagance of bouquets" handed to some American generals.

Lord Ismay says there are phases in the book "which may well be the subject of argument."

There may be criticism, for example, Lord Ismay writes, "that too much prominence is given to American forces and too little to the British.

"We must remember, however, that Eisenhower's story does not start in earnest tritil 1942, by which time we had already been fighting for over two years and were stretched to the limit in theatres of war which are outside the scope of his book.

Lord Ismay says, "No one who really knows the man (Eisenhower) could entertain for a single moment the idea that he had any intention of belittling the British effort."

HUGHES LAPOINTE, Canadian member of Parliament, and L. B. Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs, become involved in a rapt discussion at the United Nations at Paris where they are both members of the Canadian delegation. Mr. Pearson is chief of Canada's representatives to the international body.

Eire's Separation Won't Spoil Co-operation

DUBLIN, Nov. 26—(CP)—Debate continues on the bill which, if passed, will remove Eire's last official ties with the British Commonwealth.

The measure, known as the Republic of Ireland Bill, would repeal the External Relations Act of 1936, which affirmed a formal link with the crown for diplomatic and other purposes. If it becomes law, Eire will be a fully independent republic.

Prime Minister John Costello, in moving second reading of the bill Wednesday, stressed, however, that it would not impair relations with the Commonwealth.

Speaking in the Dail, he said the bill is the logical outcome of the last quarter of a century of peaceful evolution and removes ambiguity from Eire's constitutional position.

It would bring unity to Eire and enable her to have friendly relations with the United Kingdom and the entire Commonwealth.

Costello said the measure was "not conceived in any spirit of hostility to the people of Britain, the British Crown or to the present wearer of the crown, the news of whose illness has distressed me."

Costello said it was proposed that the Commonwealth countries should be granted citizenship rights in Eire, in return for comparable right for Irish citizens in the Commonwealth countries.

THE NATIONAL SANATORIUM ASSOCIATION recently made an X-ray survey and its finding were not too pleasant—one out of every 11 Canadian children was found to have tuberculosis. But there is a brighter side to the picture—when everyone is X-rayed regularly, the disease is detected early and will no longer spread to children like these youngsters. Such surveys cost money, and the association is to buy Christmas seals which will help to wipe out T.B. It is hoped that by publishing pictures such as these, the teen-age girl at the LEFT, and the little boy at the RIGHT who has known no home other than a hospital, other children, and they may be yours, will be spared from this dread disease. Don't let these youngsters down; and remember, that by helping others, you may be helping yourself. Names and homes of the children were not given.

Candle Prices Have Not Advanced

The rush on candles, coal oil lamps, Coleman lamps and other emergency lighting units has hit Peterborough indirectly only. There has been no strong rush, dealers report, although sales have increased "a bit" with out-of-town buyers coming here to buy goods unavailable in centres which have already been hit by power cutoffs.

"There has been quite a rush on Colemans," said one hardware dealer.

"People are coming down here from Toronto to get them. We've had no trouble filling our own orders—we get them from Toronto, then they come down from there and take 'em back with them."

Chain stores have reported here that a limited number of persons are buying candles (which have not been increased in price, as has happened in some other centres). Purchases of a dozen or so candles have been coming occasionally.

Flashlights are in good supply here, although there has been more of an increase in their sales than in any other type of lighting to meet any future power cuts. Several stores are already ported. The supply of batteries sold out of flashlights, they reseems to be fully adequate to meet demands and most stores have placed additional orders — "just in case."

Plan To Take Census Of Moose Population

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—(CP). — Ontario Lands and Forests Dept. announced Thursday as the season for moose in northwestern take a census of the moose population and number shot this year.

The information will be submitted to the Fish and Game committee of the Legislature at the next session. On it will largely depend whether a closed season for mose in northwestern areas of the province may be declared, officials said.

Out To Break CSU Leaders Charge

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—(CP).—Deep sea ship owners are "out to break" the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) and replace Canadian seamen with foreign sailors at cheaper wages, CSU leaders charged here Thursday at a hearing of the Federal Conciliation Board seeking to help operators and seamen reach an agrement.

CSU President Harry Davis said the owners "were not interested in reaching an agreement" and added that the company proposals for a new contract "would result in chaos in the industry."

Mr. Davis spoke after J. A. Mathewson, representing a group of Canadian deep-sea ship operators, who made a sharp attack on the CSU and had asked that the present system of rotary hiring of seamen be abolished.

T. G. McManus replied in support of the system and said Mr. Mathewson's proposal "would permit men who have not sailed before to replace merchant seamen veterans who sailed during the hard war years."

When Mr. Mathewson said the rotary system was "dictatorship and a closed shop," Mr. Davis presented documents to the Board puporting to show what a previous conciliation board had termed the union hiring system "a union shop and not a closed shop."

Doctors Report The King To Have Slight Limp

THIS MAP SHOWS how U.S. marine reinforcements from Guam, LOWER RIGHT, are being moved to Tsingtao (1), U.S. evacuation centre, according to a Washington announcement. The city is a U.S. naval task force base, where 3,000 marines are stationed. Safe conduct for evacuating persons is considered imperative as the desperate battle for Suchow between Chinese Reds and Chinese Nationalists goes into its final phase. Suchow (2) is the hot spot of China. Both British and U.S. ships lie off Shanghai. (3) Government leaders in China were reported ready to move the capital to Canton (4) if Suchow falls. The government later announced a smashing victory around Suchow. The 400,000 residents of Suchow were reported to be celebrating with fireworks and parades.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(CP). — The King, said to have a slight limp as a result of the circulatory ailment in his legs, is confined to the palace, but continues his regular visits to Princess Elizabeth in her second-floor rooms.

Today the princess told him the good news that she would be allowed to get up and dress for first time next Sunday—14 days after the birth of the prince. The King has taken great interest in his grandson, who sleeps in a nursery adjoining the princess' rooms.

The King was visited yesterday by Sir John Weir, the Royal family physician, and other doctors. It was a routine visit and no bulletin on the King's health was issued yesterday. It was learned unofficially, however, that there has been no change in the sovereign's condition.

Among the thousands of sympathetic messages reaching the King are many from managers, shopstewards and workers in factories he visited during the war.

Since he became indisposed, the King has not only been attending to his usual state business but has been studying government documents on industry and has been reading through the usual batch of trade magazines sent to the palace regularly.

Yesterday His Majesty carried out his daily affairs of state and attended to correspondence. No audiences had been arranged for the day and the King was able to spend it quietly.

Trade Very Dull On Market During Week

TORONTO, Nov. 26 — (CP).— Trade on the Livestock Market Monday opened slow and became progressively duller during the week. The cattle run of 5,678 head was one of the lightest this year but the quality was plain to medium with insufficient numbers of top grade beef to interest buyers.

Top for weighty steers was $24.50 for one choice lot. Light steers sold for slaughter at $19-$19, with a few good quality at $21. Heifers were $16-$18 with a few up to $20.50. Fed yearlings of medium to good quality sold at $19-$24 and a few choice quality reached $30. Butcher cows were $13-$17 with canners and cutters mostly $9-$12.50. Light bulls of plain quality sold at $14.50-$18.50 and good bulls reached $21. Stockers were fairly active at $15.50-$18.50, and good feeders and stock calves sold at $20-$22. Ordinary quality milkers and springers sold at $140-$175 each.

Some 2,470 head of calves were offered. Export demand for the good to choice vealers sent prices higher with $29-$30 taking the bulk with a few selling at $31. Plain to medium calves were lower at $16-$24. Grass calves sold for slaughter at $14-$15.50.

Prices Unchanged

Hogs totalled 2,534 head, and prices were unchanged. Grade A were $30.75 and Grade B1 were $29.35. Sows were $25 dressed.

A comparatively light run of sheep and lambs totalled 2,494 head. Good ewe and wether lambs closed 25 cents higher at $25.75 with bucks at the usual $1 discount. Cull lambs were $14-$15. Sheep were $5-$10 for locals. Light Western ewes were $10.25.

Canada Will Follow Own Israel Policy

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 — (CP). — Canada's decision on the recognition of Israel will be taken independently of what any other country, or the United Nations may do, a government spokesman said to-day.

"The matter is receiving continued consideration," he said, and he emphasized that Canada's request that the United Nations recognize the existence of Israel for purposes of negotiation had nothing to do with the government's formal diplomatic recognition of the Jewish state.

No legislation would be needed for diplomatic recognition of Israel. Such action is the prerogative of governments.

CRASH RUMOR UNFOUNDED

Reports that a plane had crashed near Crowe Lake Wednesday night have not been substantiated. Provincial Police in the area have checked and found nothing, and say that there are no missing aircraft reported. It is believed that a low-flying plane went over there about that time and that "the crash" which was heard may have been a tree falling.

PCVS Students Praised For Dramatic Presentation

The PCVS Dramatic Club presented on the Collegiate stage Thursday night "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and deservedly had a full house. This play by Rudolph Besier on Robert Browning, Elizabeth Barrett Browning and the Barrett family is a difficult and ambitious one for a group of school players to tackle. It is so well-known and has had such excellent productions on stage and screen that audiences may expect too much. It is also difficult for young amateur actors because much of the force of the play depends on individual and mature characterizations. The PCVS players triumphed valiantly over the difficulties.

Joyce Beggs played Elizabeth and had therefore the major role. She did it excellently, sustained her part and retained her stage poise through difficult moments. Walter Downes was the relentless and dominating father. His portrayal gained intensity as the play developed. His final frenzy was remarkably convincing. It is a difficult part and the youthful actor handled it with notable insight.

The gallant Robert Browning was played by Bill Bigelow, who looked handsome, spoke fervent lines and carried off Elizabeth to happiness and health and matrimony.

The two Barrett sisters were Nancy Moffat (Henrietta) and Lahring Langley (Arabel). Henrietta was truly pert, gay and tempermental, graceful even when falling piteously to the floor. The Arabel was demure, spoke well, and carried out the hysterical scene at the end of the play convincingly. Their gowns were very pleasing to look at and appropriate to the roles. Jeanne Bull as Wilson the maid was perhaps the best of the secondary players.

The four Barrett brothers (George Fanjoy as Octavius, George Bedford as Alfred, Blayne Northey as Henry and Keith Borland as George) came and went with precision and achieved some individuality despite their puppet roles. Anne Lewis was the pretty minx Bella Hedley and played the part well, gowned delightfully. Allan Bennett was her strawman (Henry Bevan). The two doctor acted like family physicians, even to the learned gestures of Ford-Waterlow. Don Bissett was Ford-Waterlow and Charles Watt was Dr. Chambers. Jim Edwards, resplendent in regimentals, was the gallant Captain Surtess Cook. The dog Flush was well-behaved and did not run off with the play.

The settings were good but rather spare. A rug on the floor and more posh decoration might have been desired. Make-up was better than it was last year.

Thursday night's performance was primarily a school show, so the audience gave the play special aspects and students gave skits and made music during intermissions. These features will be lacking on Friday, the night of the second and last performance. Much credit for the good presentation must go to the staff assistants, particularly to R. L. Hale and Miss M. White, the directors.

MISSING BOY FOUND

Missing from his home in Lindsay for 12 days, 15-year-old Charles Edward Carpenter has been located in Toronto. He had been living at 327 Church Street, Toronto, but on learning that the lady of the house had written to his parents, he left and is now living at 94 Ossington Avenue, Toronto.

Alparka Greets Gov.-General

Alparka had its moment, too, Thursday, when the man who routed and vanquished Rommell's Afrika Corps passed that way. He had dropped in for lunch at CGE, escorted into the dining hall by the works Pipe Band, and then on his way to Civic Hospital, he took the Alparka corner route.

They were saying later in the day at the coffee bar that this was the man who exactly six years ago cleared the news from North Africa of the anxiety [illegible] close to despair in the reverses and retreats of the Desert Rats. And when victory came to the corner, vicariously of course, none of the regulars ever dreamed or could have expected to see some day in their own neighborhood the man who had given British hearts and hopes their first great lift in that war.

But he passed that way yesterday with a friendly wave of arm to a group of men in the yard of CGE and some others at windows. It was a brief brightness of glory for Alparka, a restorative of faith especially in fanciful things and their eventual reality. It may indeed infuse an even warmer note into the Santa Claus spirit now approaching.

Shields Seeks Seat On Board

Stanley O. Shields, 9 Anne St. production manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, will be a candidate seeking election to the Board of Education it was announced today. Mr. Shields has been a resident of Peterborough for 24 years and has taken years a keen interest in civic affairs.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, Mr. Shields came to Canada as a boy, first taking up residence in Winnipeg and then later in Fort William. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto in electrical engineering and is a member of the Canadian Association of Professional Engineers. On graduating from university in 1924 he joined the C.G.E. test, then engineering division and finally the manufacturing, where he is now production manager.

With the announcement of Mr. Shield's candidature an election seems likely as three of the four retiring members, Dr. Ralph Honey, Walter Bannon and Frank Jobbitt have announced that they would seek re-election. Dr. R. M Matthews has also intimated he would seek election to the Board.

Police, Firemen Both Seek Wage Increases

Salary increases for the police and fire departments according to their requests respectively to the police commission and the city council are estimated to be equivalent to 1.5 mills in the 1949 tax rate.

The executive committee of the council, of which Ald. Hugh Waddell is chairman, discussed this morning with representatives of the firemen their application for a substantial increase in next year's budget to enable them to meet the increased cost of living.

These petitions have been presented prior to the end of the year that they may be early on the file of the new council as it approaches the estimated expenditures for 1949 and the striking of the tax rate.

News from today's informal meeting will come through the council, but at the city hall in the last few weeks it has been generally computed that if the requests of police and firemen were to be passed in the amounts as set out in their applications, they would entail something around 1½ mills.

Official concern is expressed because other increased expenditure is bound to show in the 1949 rate. However, it is far too soon to begin thinking of the new year's budget, although in some of the larger cities, tentative financial prospects are being surveyed.

No criticism of police and firemen has been so far expressed in regard to their claims for extra money, but neither petition has yet come to the council.

WORTHWHILE KEEPSAKE

Hotel proprietor D. McGillis put his new Cadillac at the disposal of the city on Thursday in which Viscountess Alexander, her Lady-in-waiting and Mrs. Ovens, followed the Governor-General's car throughout the city. Son Gerald McGillis was made official chauffeur for the day and he stayed with it for 12 hours. He was a surprised and pleased young man to receive a gold pocket knife with the Alexander crest on it from the Viscount for his appreciation of a job well done.

Wields Trowel Like An Expert

"He sure knows how to do it!" The 'he' was Viscount Alexander laying the corner-stone of the new Civic Hospital Thursday afternoon. The speaker was an elderly workman, a skilled mason who was eyeing the Governor-General with delight.

For Lord Alexander was really laying a stone. He had been handed a silver trowel for the ceremony, but after a quizzical look at its small size, he reached for a proper mason's trowel. He gave the mortar in the hod a professional stir, took a trowel full and stooped down under the corner-stone suspended by block and tackle. "I am an amateur at this," he said to Arthur Knott.

Nevertheless, he beckoned the men to bring the mortar trough closer and went to work with a will. Trowel after trowel-full he laid, taking counsel now and then from the workmen to assure himself that the cement was spread evenly. When he and the masons considered all in order, he patted in a final dash of mortar with the silver trowel, and the stone was lowered. He stood back and cocked an eye at its level, and seemed as satisfied as the men. Then he said with truth: "I declares this stone well and truly laid." With that he dusted off his knees and walked over to the main platform to give his address.

Emergency Fund For Britain To Be Organized Will Make Appeal for Money

A branch of the United Emergency Fund for Britain is to be started in Peterborough. Purpose of the fund is to purchase supplies and other materials for the people of Britain and to assist other organizations and individuals engaged in a similar endeavor. To date two preliminary meetings have been held and it is expected that the UEFB will be organized some time next week. A number of prominent men in the city have taken an active interest and it is believed that there will be an enthusiastic public response to the appeal.

Emphasis is placed on the need for co-ordination in the work of Canadian overseas relief societies. Prominent Canadians consulted with leaders of government, religion, education, industry, finance, social and welfare organizations in both the United Kingdom and Canada, and they found that it was enthusiastically received on both sides of the ocean.

One UEFB supporter gave the reason why he thought this Fund was necessary. "Today Britain stands in greater need of Canadian assistance than at any time since the dark days of 1940," he said. "She must import food or her people will starve—she must import raw materials or her factories will close—she must continue to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the United States and the Commonwealth nations to maintain the peace and help the recovery in Europe, if Freedom, Liberty and Democracy are to survive."

This economic battle for survival has been described as "a Second Battle of Britain." The bulk of Britain's imports and the economic help that she requires originates in the dollar countries and must be paid for in dollar currency which she has to earn.

The aaims and purposes of the Fund were designated as follows:

1. To integrate and augment the efforts of all organizations and individuals in Canada, interested in offering and providing assistance to the British people during the emergency, in such a way that their effort would have the maximum effect without loss of identity;

2. To conduct an annual national campaign for funds, in order that a single unified appeal might be made to the Canadian public;

3. To assist in establishing a unified system of purchasing which would effect economy in national buying and avert costly competitive bidding for available products between organizations endeavoring to serve the same worthy purpose;

4. To conduct a survey of British emergency needs, in order to determine, intelligently, what types of assistance or specialized projects might be undertaken by Canadian initiative;

5. To set up a national headquarters in Ottawa which would function as a public service bureau in matters of aid to Britain.

Chief Thompson Thanked By Lord Alexander

The smoothness with which the viceregal tour through the city went was not chance. Careful advance planning by city and provincial police in co-operation with officials of the Governor-General's party had a big hand in it. For two days before, Chief Constable John Thompson and Inspector James F. Reid plotted out timetables and duty schedules. About 15 members of the city force received detailed instructions—timed to the minute—of their part in traffic direction and other aspects of the tour.

Inspector Reid, Det. Sgt. John Stevenson and Det. William Clark were with the party throughout the day. They kept close to Their Excellencies, keeping a close eye for any irregularities. There were none at all, they reported.

Thursday night, at the conclusion of the tour, His Excellency chatted for a few minutes with the police. He thanked them for the "very satisfactory" arrangements which had been made, asking that his thanks be conveyed to all the men concerned.

Provincial Cpl. Lloyd McClure, who had worked with the city force on the details, was also thanked by His Excellency for the part his force had taken.

Aviatrix Gets Offer Of Job

SEATTLE, Nov. 26 (AP)—An Alaska night club and radio station owner said Thursday he had offered a job to Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait to help her finance repairs on her wrecked 'round-the-world plane.

The British aviatrix and ex-model crash landed along the highway between Anchorage and Fairbanks last Sunday. She said she would have to go to work to finance plane repairs and resumption of her flight.

Keith Capper of Anchorage, who read of her accident while in Seattle, said he had wired Mrs. Morrow-Tait an offer of a job at his night club or radio station.

He said he wired her "As one pilot to another; I've cracked up in that country myself. I know what it's like."

ROMANCE SPANS SEA, 35 YEARS—Sixty-seven-year-old George Slade of Aylmer, is on his way home with his 72-year-old bride-to-be whom he hadn't seen for 36 years, until her arrival in Montreal aboard the Empress of Canada. Mr. Slade was first engaged to his future wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Marlow, a widow from Ealing, England, when he was 22 years old. The romance broke up and he came to Canada. Both eventually married others and he did not see her again until 1917 when he was in England with the Canadian Army.

14 Nazis Hanged At Landsberg

MUNICH, Nov. 26 (AP)—Fourteen German war criminals were hanged today at Landsberg Prison.

The executions brought to 87 the number of men executed in groups of from nine to 15 on seven consecutive Fridays for the slaying of concentration camp prisoners and American prisoners-of-war.

An 11th-hour stay of execution was granted Richard Schulze, 50, assistant to S.S. Gen. Ernst Kaltenbrunner. Kaltenbrunner was hanged after the original war-crimes trial at Nuernberg.

The original list of men scheduled to be hanged after conviction by American war crimes courts contained 139 names. The cases of 48 of the 52 remaining men are being reviewed.

A United States army announcement said Sculze, former chief of German criminal police agencies, was granted the stay "on further information" warranting renewed investigation.

He was charged with issuing an order in July, 1944, that all captured Allied fliers were to be killed and "if the populace did not do it, the police should." Wuerzberg police killed a captured British flier March 18, 1945, allegedly as a result of Sculze's order.

Those hanged today included guards from Buchenwald, Mauthausen and other notorious concentration camps, and Nazis active in Hitler's "kill-the-fliers" program.

Blind of Two World Wars Get Chance

By GRAHAM TROTTER

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26 —(CP)—Would you use a straight razor to shave in the dark on a jolting train? Could you walk to work blind-folded? Could you operate the usual motor-driven appliances in a home workshop to make household knick-knacks without benefit of eyesight?

Col. E. A. Baker of Toronto has been doing this for years. Other war veteran can perform equally difficult tasks. They are the blind of two world wars who, through sheer determination, courage and concentration, have stood on their own feet to rehabilitate themselves for a life in total darkness.

Many of the accomplishments of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind find a parallel in the last 30 years of Col. Baker's life. He has been managing director of the institute for 28 years. His sight snatched from him in the First World War, he has spent most of his life bringing hope into the lives of other blinded veterans.

Mission Ends In 1950

Col. Baker's mission will be completed in 1950 when all Canadian war blind will have been trained for a new start in life. At a reunion here Thursday night of 14 blind veterans he related the result of the training for one veteran and the ingenuity it inspired in another.

A French-Canadian, having only grade seven education when he entered the Toronto training school, now is an institute field secretary for the blind in Quebec after graduating with honors from university. He closed the gap in his education in three years.

Another blind veteran, operating a canteen, solved the paper currency problem by devising a light which acted like a mine detector. When the light was played over a bill, dark spots sent buzzes through the mechanism which helped him determine numerical value of the bill.

Slaying Over Tobacco

MONTREAL, Nov 26—(CP)—A high provincial police official said Thursday that the slaying of one convict by another in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary Wednesday resulted from the theft of some tobacco. The official said John Boyko, 62, declared in a statement that Nick Tedesco, 31, robbed him of his tobacco and he then killed Tedesco with a chisel.

Austere Voyage For Q. Elizabeth

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Nov. 26—(AP)—By the Queen Elizabeth's usual standards it will be austere voyage when the world's largest ocean liner sails for New York next Sunday—11 days behind schedule.

But there will be no complaining from the passengers.

About 1,500 passengers have been stranded aboard the Elizabeth here since last Friday, awaiting the outcome of the American east-coast dock workers' strike.

When it was announced Thursday in New York that the strike had been settled, subject to a vote by the dock workers, the Cunard White Star Lines announced the Elizabeth would sail Sunday. Her sister ship, the Queen Mary, will follow Wednesday.

News of the sailing touched off mass rejoicing aboard the ship.

But high spending characteristic of the Queen's routine crossings will be out for most passengers, many of whom have gone broke during their unexpected lay-over in Southampton.

Shot On Hunting Trip Absolves His Friend

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 26 (CP)—Shot accidentally through the neck on a hunting trip, Edmund Williams, 70, of Port Arthur, absolved the man who shot him before losing consciousness.

Williamson was brought to hospital here after being wounded in the bush near Port Arthur. A companion, Michael Duchak, 24, of Port Arthur, noticed something brown moving in the bush and fired. The object was Williamson's knapsack.

Although suffering from loss of blood, Williamson took a pencil and wrote several notes, one saying that Duchak was not at fault.

98 Die In Accidents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—(CP)—At least 98 persons were killed in accidents—75 of them in traffic mishaps—as the United States observed Thanksgiving Day. This toll, from 6 p.m., Wednesday until midnight Thursday, compared with 128 killed accidentally during the 1947 Thanksgiving observance and 83 the year before.

Landslide At Plant

JORDAN RIVER, B.C., Nov. 26 —(CP)—Torrential rains caused a landslide at a power plant here Thursday, putting the southern end of Vancouver Island on short power rations for at least 48 hours. The earth blocked a water flume of the British Columbia Electric Company plant here.

Shoot Watchman

QUEBEC, Nov. 26 — (CP)—Two masked gunmen apparently in search of narcotics shot one watchman but dashed away empty-handed as the victim screamed for help Thursday at the Quebec Veterans' Hospital, police reported. The men drove off in a stolen auto later recovered by police.

Police Hold Mother For Burning Child

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP). — A 38-year-old mother was booked early to-day on a felonious assault charge, accusing her of holding her eight-year-old son's hands over a gas stove flame to punish him.

Police said the woman, Mrs Geraldine Vetter, told them she suspected the boy Philip, of taking some cigarettes and small change from her purse.

The boy was taken to hospital where he was reported suffering from deep hand burns.

Ultra Violet Rays To Kill All Germs

KITCHENER, Nov. 25 (CP).—When the new $2,000.000 Kitchener-Waterloo hospital is completed germs simply won't stand a chance.

Officials at the institution announced to-day that nowhere in the nine-storey structure will germs have a chance to survive. The reason is that the entire building will be flooded with ultra-violet rays.

These rays will be so directed that they will not shine on patients or visitors because they are capable of inflicting a nasty sunburn.

Each light will be reflected from the ceiling, which will be given a coat of oil paint. In addition each room will be flooded with rays from a portable lamp when a bed is vacated..

MILVERTON RAISED—Following a collision with the oil tanker Translake in the St. Lawrence River Sept. 24, 1947, the coal carrier Milverton drifted onto a shoal two miles west of Morrisburg, Ont. Twelve of the coal carrier's crew were killed in the accident, one of the worst in the history of navigation of the upper St. Lawrence. Since early this year salvage operations have been underway and this striking bow-on shot of the half-sunken vessel as it was partially floated this week shows the extensive damage to the ship.

Bank Employees Foil Robbery

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—(CP).—Alertness by employees of an east-end branch of the Montreal City and District Savings Bank in pressing the bank's alarm system and the action of a 26-year-old bystander Thursday brought about the capture of a man who attempted to hold up the bank with a toy gun.

A well-dressed man identified by police as Jean Crepeau, 46, was arrested as the alleged robber. Police said he entered the bank shortly before closing time and passed a cheque to teller Madeleine Beaudry. Then he whipped out a wooden imitation of a small automatic, and demanded $1,000.

As the alarm was sounded, he dashed toward the front of the bank and attempted to escape. A customer, Benoit Norman, stopped the bandit and grappled with him just outside the door. As they struggled police arrived in a radio car.

Washington Ready To Celebrate Full-Dress Truman Inaugural

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. —(CP).—There's a lifting trace of carnival spirit in the Washington air—the big, beautiful city is primping up for a special date with President Truman.

It's been eight years since the capital's last bang-up inaugural and the planners say the sky's the limit for he long-awaited event Jan. 20.

Mardi Gras Atmosphere

There'll be 40,000 grandstand seats at prices ranging from $2 to $10, a five-hour parade marshalled by the Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar N. Bradley, and movie, opera and radio stars, fireworks, flags, banners, "name" bands, a couple of inaugural dances and—maybe — a four-day holiday for Washington's teeming army of Federal Government workers.

Since federal employees are traditionally dismissed to see the president take his oath of office, the four-day break would start on the 20th.

Austerity For FDR's Last

Because of the war, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's fourth-term inaugural four years ago was nothing but a simple, swearing-in ceremony. The last full-dress inaugural was after his third election in 1940.

The actual swearing-in takes place at the capitol on a high stand supported by four pillars. The [illegible] each occasion and stored during the intervals. Most of the festivity is scheduled for inaugural day itself.

Military Display

Army and Navy cadets from West Point and Annapolis will march in the five-hour parade and a crack Navy flying squadron will zoom overhead. The airmen are the elite Blue Angel Squadron, five Jacksonville (Fla.) pilots who train exhibition flying instructors.

The commitee has one special headache—housing. The planners are working closely with Washington hotels and tourist homes, asking 10 rooms here, one room there, and hoping things will work out.

But some accommodation is going to be strictly emergency stuff. Major railroads intend to haul coaches into the switching yards and set up "sleeping-car cities." Hundreds of visitors, whether they stay a day or a week, are doomed to upper berths.

Kills 650-Pound Bear

GRAVENHURST, Nov. 26 (CP)—A 650-pound cinnamon bear, believed the largest ever killed in Central Ontario, was shot by Herbert Woods while he was hunting deer 10 miles from here. He killed it with three .38-calibre bullets.

Doctors Visit King

LONDON, Nov. 26 — (AP) — Royal physicians today visited the King, suffering from an arterial ailment affecting his legs. Authoritative sources described the visit as routine. The King carried out his usual state business and attended to correspondence.

RENFREW, Nov. 26 — (CP) — A. A. MacLean, Arnprior lawyer and former Mayor of that town, [illegible] unanimously chosen as Progressive Conservative candidate for Renfrew South constituency in the next general Federal election. The seat now is held in the Commons by Revenue Minister McCann.

Granted Adjournment

GANANOQUE, Nov. 26—(CP)—J. Arthur Jackson of Toronto, former judge and Gananoque lawyer charged with conversion of funds, Thursday was granted a week's adjournment for his preliminary hearing.

ESKIMO BECOMES NUN—Palagie Inuk fulfilled an ambition of four years when she became the first Eskimo nun. The girl, shown left with the sister superior of the hospital at Chesterfield Inlet, NWT, took her vows at the far northern outpost while Eskimos from the barren country surrounding the post looked on. The ceremony took place in August but it was only last week that the Pope confirmed he had given permission for her to enter the order of the Grey Nuns of Charity of Montreal.

74th Annual Report to Shareholders

BALANCE OF IMPORT AND EXPORT TRADE IMPROVING

1948 Year of Great Accomplishment Bank had Good Year

President and General Manager Address Meeting

The 74th Annual Meeting of Imperia Bank of Canada was held in Toronto on Wednesday, November 24th. Addressing the meeting, MR. W. G. MORE, PRESIDENT, said in part:

It will be noted from the Statement and the Address of the General Manager the business of the Bank continues to grow steadily, total assets, loans and deposits reaching an all-time high. Profits, after provision for taxes, are also somewhat greater than last year due in part to the rescinding of the Excess Profits Tax as on 1st January, 1948. This has enabled your Directors to restore the dividend for the last Quarter of the year to .30c per share which is the same rate per annum as obtained just prior to the war. Altogether the results of the year are gratifying to your Directors and will, I feel sure, be so the shareholders generally.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS

I wish to direct my own remarks to-day to the general business conditions in this country and elsewhere which determine the scope and effect of our banking operations.

International dissension and the threat of war overhangs the world. The task of repairing the destruction of the last war is made immeasurably more difficult by the failure of [illegible] country.

Any attempt to review business conditions or gain any insight into the problems which lie ahead is subject to the future of the relations between nations. No one can say what the outcome will be but the conviction has grown firmer that we and other friendly nations must be strong as well as peace loving.

Canada is again completing a year of great business activity and accomplishment. In many respects, 1948 has been a repetition or continuation of 1947. Employment has been high, even higher than that of the preceding year. The working force has been augmented through natural increase and immigration by about 100,000 workers, yet unemployment has been, if anything, less than in 1947. Investment in buildings, equipment, and stock in trade this year will overtop, by a wide margin, the unprecedented levels of last year. Prices and wages have continued their upward progress. Gross production in Canada, which was valued at $13½ billion in 1947, is likely to exceed $15 billion in 1948.

EXTERNAL TRADE

But if there are many similarities, there are also significant differences. Twelve months ago we were in the midst of a crisis in trade and exchange. To meet that crisis, and after the greater part of our foreign exchange reserves had been used up, the Canadian Government imposed drastic emergency restrictions on imports of merchandise and quotas were designed particularly to cut down our imports from the United States. Not only has this been accomplished over the past twelve months but we have also had welcome evidence of the improvement of production in the United Kingdom and other Commonwealth countries in the form of substantial increases in our imports from those areas.

Much more important in meeting the exchange crisis than these significant shifts in imports has been the great rise in our exports to the United States. In the first nine months of the year, these exports rose by more than $300 million. Non-ferrous metals, lumber and paper, cattle and miscellaneous manufactures have all contributed to this welcome increase. Much of it is the result of higher prices. Despite higher prices, however, the total of our exports to all countries has not increased greatly. What has occurred is an increase of our exports to the United States whose currency we need. Drastic measures taken by the United Kingdom and other sterling countries to restrict their purchases from us have hastened the shift. Increased prices for paper and base metals and the removal of the embargo on cattle exports have all played their parts in bringing about the change. The striking result has been that in September we achieved a moderate credit balance in our merchandise trade with the United States. Over the first nine months of the year, our adverse trade balance with the United States was reduced from $718 million to $266 million.

It is evident that these changes have assisted greatly in rebuilding our foreign exchange reserves. Purchases by the United States from Canada under ERP for the United Kingdom and Western European countries have also helped. If these trends continue it should be practicable before long to consider further substantial steps toward normal trade and the final solution of the exchange crisis.

Much of our export trade in the past has been with the United Kingdom and Western Europe but with encouraging reports of increasing production there, together with a shortage of dollars with which to pay for imports, we must expect these traditional overseas customers to purchase proportionately less of our products in future. Further they are more likely to buy food and metals than manufactured goods.

COMMONWEALTH MARKETS

Another sector of our trade is also subject to drastic change. Before the war, preferential tariffs gave us access to Commonwealth markets and many branch plants were established in Canada to take advantage of the opportunities offered. While not large in total, these markets were of great importance for some of our manufacturing industries. Whatever the future of the British preference, it is unlikely that our pre-war overseas markets for manufactured products will be maintained, without serious modification.

It is vital therefore, that we should try to enlarge our markets in the United States, as well as in other countries, not only for food and materials but for manufactured goods as well.

Efforts in that direction have already produced encouraging results. The Geneva Trade Agreement has given us better access to the United States market but the barriers are still formidable. There is every reason to press for tariff reductions, and freedom from other trade restraints which would assist and enlarge trade and therefore make possible the most efficient production.

PRICES AND COSTS

A strong combination of forces continues to drive prices and wages further upward. The rise has been, however, somewhat less relatively than in 1947. Wages, at least in manufacturing, also appear to have risen somewhat less in 1948 than last year though they have probably risen more than the cost of living. The impact of the mounting cost of living on consumers whose incomes are less responsive than the average continues to be one of the most disturbing problems of the country.

There have been some faint signs that the great rise in prices may be drawing to an end but they are by no means conclusive. Temporary surpluses have appeared in a number of consumers' lines, particularly in the United States. World crops of better than normal size have brought a few realized or prospective declines in agricultural prices. So far such surpluses have soon been dispersed and there has been no contagious price decline. Some slight easing of food prices has taken place and it may extend farther. It would be welcome relief to the consumer. It is to be hoped that the Government, in the present circumstances, will not continue longer than absolutely necessary the restrictions on imports which are limiting the supply of goods.

For the time being, however, there appear to be on the other side even more powerful influences. The steel shortage and in Ontario and Quebec the power shortage will not be overcome quickly. They will hamper and delay production, cut down total output and, by disorganization, reduce output per worker and raise unit-costs. ERP can be expected to be maintained though there may well be some slackening in North American exports to Europe. A much more powerful upward influence is likely to be exerted by expanded defence programs in North America, Western Europe and the United Kingdom. Already they have brought fresh increases in the prices of non-ferrous metals and steel. They will compete with construction and re-equipment projects for materials and men. They will reinforce the upward pressures on prices and wages. We shall still, as Mr. Waldie said last year, be trying to crowd too much into too short a time. Special care will be needed to see that the whole economy is not jeopardized by attempting to do too many things at once.

SOME ACHIEVEMENTS

Despite all these problems, much has been accomplished during recent months. For the first time in years there have been substantial discoveries of new resources. The opening of the Leduc and Redwater oilfields in Alberta will have advantages and early results in our foreign exchange position. The ultimate effects of cheaper fuel and power in the prairie region both in the expansion of industry and the stabilization of incomes is likely to be of the greatest significance. Development of iron deposits in Labrador and Quebec will call for a vast investment and will be an important factor in the business activity of the next few years.

Present scarcities have brought intensified activity in the search for new non-ferrous metal resources and some success has been achieved. It is gratifying that, despite the great difficulties confronting them, the gold producers have been able to achieve steady, if modest, increases in output since the beginning of the year. The gold mining industry has in the past made great contributions to the development of the Canadian economy and should receive every encouragement necessary to full production.

The difficulties which Central Canada is now experiencing through shortage of electric power are evidence of the great expansion which is taking, and has taken, place in power-using manufacturing industries. A large sector of our industry is of the type which uses a great deal of electric power per worker and this sector is increasing. New plants and whole new communities are being built where none existed before. They are based on local resources and in most cases expect to serve export as well as domestic markets. An example is the great new paper mill and townsite now practically completed at Terrace Bay on the North Shore of Lake Superior where an unpopulated wilderness is being converted into a productive community. Developments such as this are firm steps forward for the Canadian economy.

Particularly encouraging has been the growing ability of our manufacturers to enter the United States market and achieve a volume of production sufficient to ensure the lowest possible costs. Given adequate volume there are many lines in which Canadian costs can be lower rather than higher than those in the United States.

It is also worthy of note that immigration has again been flowing to this country in substantial volume. More than 100,000 immigrants will probably enter Canada in 1948. They are a welcome addition to our working force. If they are well chosen, and in the main they seem to be, they will add to our production and also to the richness of our culture. Their numbers are substantial but not so large as to create any difficiulties in assimilation. A steady flow of well-selected immigrants will add to the strength of the Canadian economy.

BANKING OPERATIONS

In all this activity, the chartered banks have played their part. With the rise in incomes and business activity, bank deposits have risen throughout the year. Month by month the "inactive" notice deposits, which represent genuine saving rather than spending deposits, have increased. Current loans to the public are tending to increase as are also other loans. In contrast, government borrowings from the Banks are tending to decrease. Banking resources are thus being drawn toward the financing of business and away from the financing of government. Higher prices, as well as greater volume of business, have necessitated greater working capital on the part of primary producers, manufacturers, and wholesale and retail distributors and the banking system has been able to supply it.

SOME GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

The high level of business activity should promote prudence rather than overconfidence and indiscretion. The final stages of a boom are usually marked by difficulty in financing projects which firms have already begun and in which they have invested their own capital. This is a time in which to exercise care that the financing of projects at the present day level of costs are fully assured before business firms commit themselves to them.

Since the war wholesale and retail distributors have had to struggle to get the merchandise for which they had ready sale. As production increased physical inventories have increased and as prices rose the value of inventories has risen. While there is no evidence that inventories generally are excessive there is need for close scrutiny on the part of the individual firm. Wholesale and retail sales have risen during the year but by less than the rise in prices. The inference is that the physical volume of sales is down, despite the fact that the demands for some goods are still unfilled. Any firm whose working [illegible] are required to service their sales is taking unwarranted risks at the present level of prices.

There is equal need for prudence among manufacturers whose ability to make profits depends on a volume which is a very high percentage of their capacity. The long period of capacity operations has enabled producers to carry continuously rising costs. They have now reached the point where even a moderate decline in production would bring a sharp reduction, or even elimination of profits.

We are approaching the end of a period in which it has been easy to meet rising costs by increased prices. Eventually we shall be faced with reduced volume and lower prices and there is urgent need for concentration on ways and means of reducing costs. Taking advantage of existing favorable circumstances we have created a high level of wages. However, high wages need not mean high costs if they are combined with high output per worker. If there is sufficiently high output they can maintain a high standard of living. We need to remind ourselves that a standard of living is not something such as a climate which exists in a country or which can be created by law. It is something which is earned by the joint efforts of workers and owners.

These considerations apply when we consider further improvements in the various social services which are part of our standard of living. Provision for old age pensions, adequate health services, and other social services are most desirable but they entail heavy costs and part of our resources and manpower must be devoted to them. They cannot be provided out of nothing. It is important, therefore, that they should be undertaken only if there is a general willingness to bear the cost. There is more likely to be such willingness if the measures are introduecd gradually and if there is full understanding of the issues and the probable costs.

In many respects Canadians find themselves in a very fortunate position. Great resources, an intelligent population with practical capacity, stable democratic institutions, and good relations with our neighbours afford great opportunities. Let us make the most of them never forgetting that this takes courage, tolerance and good sense.

Believing also, as we do in enlightened free enterprise which has been responsible for the greatest progress the world has ever known and the highest standard of living and happiness man has ever achieved, it behooves every individual to do his utmost to uphold that system and be prepared to fight for it if necessary if we are to keep faith with our heritage. The consequences of any other form of government under which our cherished rights of individual freedom and liberty would be replaced by a form of totalitarianism or dictatorship are too awful to contemplate.

MR. I. K. JOHNSTON
General Manager

It is my privilege to comment on the Seventy-Fourth Annual Statement of the Bank now before you and which shows total assets of $471,843,256, an all-time high.

PROFITS

The profits, before provision for taxes, were $1,836,578 compared with $1,807,826 last year, an increase of $28,752. After providing $279,466 for depreciation of Bank Premises, $588,000 for Dominion and Provincial taxes, and $735,000 for dividends, the baiance of Profit and Loss carried forward was increased by $234,112 to $1,515,778. While profits before the provisions just mentioned show a nominal increase only, it must be recalled that our expenses in staff salaries and all other items have been increasing year by year in common with most if not all classes of business, whereas the interest rate on loans and discounts has remained unchanged.

DEPOSITS

Deposits at $430,100,396, showing an increase of $52,258,758 are again at an all-time high. Of this increase $21,182,000 is in Dominion and Provincial Government deposits, $29,908,000 in non-interest bearing deposits, and $1,167,000 in interest bearing deposits. In connection with the increase in interest bearing deposits, analysis shows there was an increase in personal savings deposits of approximately $25,000,000 offset by a decrease of $23,800,000 in corporate interest bearing deposits.

LETTERS OF CREDIT

Acceptances and Letters of Credit outstanding total $10,999,824, an increase of $3,200,000, indicative of our growing foreign business.

CASH POSITION

Cash assets consisting of subsidiary coin, notes of and balances with the Bank of Canada, total $41,951,440, slightly under 10% of deposit liabilities to the public.

INVESTMENTS

Our investments, not exceeding market value, now stand at $201,242,426, an increase of $37,399,327 over a year ago. Of this increase $25,618,000 is in Dominion Government securities maturing within two years, $6,883,800 in longer term Dominions and $2,048,000 in U.S. Treasury Bills of short dating. This last is not a portfolio item but a short date investment in connection with foreign business. Of the total investments $108,000,000 mature within a period of five years.

LOANS

Loans total $183,280,487, an increase of $11,976,000, there having been an increase of $13,255,000 in Current Loans offset by a decrease of $1,400,000 in Loans to Provincial Governments and Municipalities. The increase of $13,255,000 in Current Loans is widely spread, the principal category being grain loans reflecting the earlier marketing on the prairies. This Current Loan increase is much less than the increase of $54,000,000 last year, and having in mind the prevalent inflationary influences, a lessened tempo is a healthy sign.

BANK PREMISES

Bank Premises Account which includes Furniture, Fixtures and Equipment now stands at $6,138,000 compared with $6,053,000 a year ago, an increase of $85,000 after applying the depreciation of $279,000 permitted by law.

[illegible] Cornwall, Gimli, Natal, Boyle and Vancouver and equipment in the form of safes, safety deposit boxes, furniture and mechanical equipment.

New buildings or extensions to existing buildings were either completed or in course of completion at Bleury and Mayor Sts., Montreal, Hearst, Timmins, Virginiatown, Niagara Falls, Athabasca and Assiniboia.

SHAREHOLDERS AND BRANCHES

Shareholders now number 2,995, an increase of 76. Of the total 241 are residents of the United States, a decrease of 14.

During the year 12 new branches were opened, making the total number of branches and sub-branches 199. Of this total 6 are in Quebec, 122 in Ontario, 7 in Manitoba, 23 in Saskatchewan, 24 in Alberta, 16 in British Columbia and 1 in the North West Territories.

STAFF

During the year our staff increased 176 and now numbers 2,401 of which 1,080 are young ladies. A good deal more is expected from our staff than the routine handling of the vast number of cheques, deposits, loan entries, etc. We often hear of their efficiency, courtesy and helpfulness to the customers whom they serve. For this, as well as for their work faithfully performed, I thank them heartily. I feel there has never been a time in the history of the Bank when there were better opportunities for promotion for young men joining the staff of the Bank than at present.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The past year has been a good one for Canadian business generally, good crops, early harvests, and with industrial profits well maintained. It is to be noted, however, with expenses of all kinds much higher than in former years, maintenance of sales is essential to industrial profit, since the break even point requires a greater percentage of sales. With this in mind it is significant to note that time sales are increasing and general collections show signs of slowing up. Efficient management is undoubtedly following collections closely and keeping in touch with inventories to see that units of inventory (as distinct from price) are kept in proper relationship to market requirements and potential demand.

It is satisfactory to note that our exports, especially to the U.S., have been increasing, while imports have decreased, both having a favourable effect on our exchange position vis a vis the United States.

We have great known and potential resources, including the very important additions to known oil fields of Alberta and the recent discovery of substantial iron ore in Labrador. With such developments as the Long Lac Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, Terrace Bay, and the bringing into production of the great Quemont base metal mine, (both large employers of labour to be producers of New York exchange, examples of enterprise and faith in the future;) with full employment and greatly expanded industrial production, we have all the factors for increasing prosperity.

In the foreground, however, and casting shadows over this bright picture are the uncertainties, the European and Asiatic disturbances—and the danger inherent in high prices. Those charged with management have these very much in mind.

In the matter of prices and inflationary pressures we can help by steering a safe course and practising self restraint in spending, especially for not fully warranted expansion and on borrowed money. In other words where expansion is fully warranted it should be undertaken by permanent financing or risk capital rather than by short term bank loans.

Canada is still a land of great opportunity for men and women of spirit and enterprise. Our Managers and staff are always willing and anxious to extend to our customers real co-operation to assist them to take advantage of the opportunities which this rich country affords.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA

Workers, Children, Veterans Welcome Vice-Regal Party

The children and the workers of Peterborough met the Governor-General of Canada Thursday afternoon. Both groups showed that they heartily accepted His Excellency Vicount Alexander of Tunis and Her Excellency Viscountess Alexander. In a busy afternoon, they saw thousands of the city's school children, toured a factory and spoke to other factory employees and viewed Peterborough at close range and from the vantage point of the beautiful view of the city on Armour Hill.

Informality marked the tour of the vice-regal couple and their party through the afternoon. Drawing the cheers of assembled students, chatting with plant officials and talking quietly to a group of plant workers, the Governor-General gave a wonderfully human touch to the momentous occasion.

Mounting the platform set up in the Armories, where more than 2,000 pupils from city schools had gathered, Their Excellencies received a cheering ovation which bounced from the walls of the packed building. Excited children left no doubt about their true feelings for His Majesty's representative in the Dominion and his charming wife.

Viscount Alexander's response to the greeting was warm and sincere:

"For more than two years, we have been looking forward to coming to your lovely city of Peterborough. We express our deepest appreciation for the truly magnificent and warm reception you have given us, which has made us feel most at home. We hope that some day you will ask us to come again."

His speech to the children was short and friendly:

"I know school children are always glad to see me," he quipped over the microphone, "because I always bring a holiday. I hope you will really enjoy yours tomorrow, which is to mark the wonderful occasion of the birth of Princess Elizabeth's son."

The comment about the holiday brought a wave of laughter from the children. And then a second round of applause shook the Armories. His Excellency, amused at the hearty reaction to the remark, joined in the laughter.

Cheers Generous

"I know from experience that you don't want to hear a speech from me. All you want is to give us a good looking-over," he told the students.

"Here is someone worth looking at," he added, indicating Her Excellency with his hand. She came forward beside him to receive renewed applause.

Both were smiling broadly at the children.

At one point in the Governor-General's short address, one tiny tot in the front row, carried away with the excitement, let out a loud "hurray" for no particular thing. The cheer caught, and His Excellency stepped back while the whole gathering picked up the cheer.

At the side of the Armories, before having the children presented, His Excellency reviewed a group of veterans of World Wars I and II standing at attention as his car drew to a stop. It was no cursory glance. Alexander, the soldier, of El Alamein, of Cassino and of Anzio, showed he wanted to meet the men, some of whom had served under his command. Moving slowly down the line, he stopped to talk to a number whose ribbons were recognized. Here again, the man-to-man informality of the distinguished guest was apparent.

While he was reviewing the veterans, Viscountess Alexander stood on the sidewalk on Murray St., chatted with members of the party. Mayor William Ovens introduced the couple to the children and others met during the full program.

At the armories, Their Excellencies were greeted by Lt.-Col. M. E. Clarke, Commanding Officer of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment; Capt. H. R. Hammell, Officer Commanding 149th Battery; Capt. L. D. Foster, Officer Commanding 150th Battery; and Capt. P. W. Sargent, Active Force Administration and Training Officer.

From the armories, the party whisked down the flag-bedecked streets of the city to the new Civic Arena, where another group of children crowded the new sports centre. It was a repetition of the armories scene, with a standing cheer for Their Excellencies and an easy, brief talk to his audience by the Governor-General before leaving.

Leaving the Arena, Their Excellencies were next taken to the plant of the Western Clock Company, where they were greeted by John H. Vernor, executive vice-president and general manager. Mr. Vernor escorted the party on a half-hour tour of the Westclox plant. He explained the various steps in the manufacture of the company's products. His Excellency showed a keen interest in the tour, often stopping a moment to ask questions about some machine which had caught his eye.

At the conclusion of the tour, Mr. Vernor presented Their Excellencies with special examples of Westclox products.

"I'm not sure whether you use alarm clocks, Your Excellencies, but trust these will be acceptable," he said.

The Viscount and Viscountess smiled their assurance that the gifts were most welcome.

Leaving Westclox, the official party made a swing around Armour Hill, where many citizens had parked cars along the route to get a better view of the pair. From its heights they saw the panorama of the city laid before them and commented on its beauty.

Time did not permit a tour of the Quaker Oats plant which had been planned. His Excellency, however, stepped from the car on the Hunter St. bridge entrance, where hundreds of the company's employees had gathered. He expressed his regret at being unable to make the trip through the plant.

"You know," he confided, "I'm particularly sorry that I'm not able to see through your fine plant, because for as long as I can remember I've been eating Quaker Oats." The comment brought smiles and cheers from the gathering.

He was greeted at the entrance by R. R. Faryon, president and general manager.

As they turned towards their cars again, Their Excellencies received a lusty three cheers from the crowd.

Throughout the afternoon, the schedule operated with perfection. Traffic was held under control by city police, assisted at some points by provincial officers. A provincial police car, under Cpl. Lloyd McClure, led the official party. Traffic Officer Claire McGillen was motorcycle vanguard ahead of the tour.

BEGINNER'S LUCK — Four-year-old Nicole Marois of Montreal parlayed her natural good looks with a considerable amount of luck and wound up with a $30,000 home in the country. The moppet, looking over her mother's shoulder at a picture of her prize, first took second prize in a "Beautiful Child" contest. The prize was $25 worth of raffle tickets on the stone house in Ste. Elzear, Que., and much to the surprise and delight of all concerned, Nicole held the winning ticket.

Frank Sinatra Says New Songs Are Pile Of Trash

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26 (AP). —Perhaps you are one of those people who think to-day's songs are not what they used to be. Then Frank Sinatra agrees with you.

"Nearly all of the songs I hear these days are the lousiest pile of trash I have ever listened to," says Frankie.

He should know. He has to sing four or five of them every week on the hit parade. But he hints that it's not easy work.

"The songs we get are terrible. They are written by a bunch of hillbillies who know nothing about music. They put in bars of music where there should not be any—like Red Ingle's version of 'Temptation.' Then they expect a singer to sing it."

The record ban has something to do with the poor quality of popular tunes, Frank added.

Holding Back

"The good song writers just aren't releasing their tunes, because they can't make money from songs without the aid of records. You can't blame them, because that is their livelihood.

"But that leaves the song-writing business to the amateurs. And the chances of finding a good song from an amateur are one in a million."

The lack of melodies goes deeper than the record ban, asserted Frank.

"In the last two or three years, there have not been the songs that we heard during the war — songs like 'So Nice to Come Home To,' 'Old Black Magic,' 'As Time Goes By.' Don't ask me why."

The lack of good sentimental songs has caused a change in Frankie's singing style. Seldom does he indulge in the musical slurs—sliding from one note to another—that used to evoke the deafening shrieks from his bobby-socked listeners. "The new songs aren't suited to that kind of treatment," he explained.

Independent Scotts

DUNDEE, Scotland — (CP)— Scottish Liberals at a Dundee conference unanimously adopted a resolution calling for "our own parliament in Scotland dealing with Scottish affairs."

ERP Attacked By Slav Bloc

PARIS, Nov. 26 — (AP). — The Slav bloc bitterly attacked the European Recovery Plan today in the United Nations General Assembly.

Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland told the 58-member plenary session that the United States is carrying on an "economic cold war against the Eastern European countries."

He said the use of "economic power to influence the policies of another country is inadmissable."

American delegate Willard L. Thorp, an Assistant Secretary of State, told the Assembly Poland's proposal on discrimination in international trade is an "attempt once again to discredit the ERP and the assistance the United States is giving to that program."

The Polish proposal recommends that all members "eschew the use of economic discrimination designed to apply sanctions to other countries or to influence their domestic or foreign policy." It was offered first in the Economic Committee, but was not voted on. Poland then took it to the plenary session.

Vladimir Clementis, Foreign Minister of Czechoslovakia, accused the United States of using during discriminatory trade practices "in the political field."

Walter S. Thompson Relinquishes Post

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (Special). — Walter S. Thompson, Director of Public Relations and Advertising, Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines, is relinquishing his air line activities as of December 31, it was announced to-day, following a meeting of the TCA board of directors. He will devote his full time and attention to the railway and its other ancillary services.

G. R. McGregor, president of TCA, on behalf of the board and himself, made "grateful acknowledgment of the valuable services rendered by Mr. Thompson to the Air Line since its inception in 1937. His outstanding knowledge and experience in the public relations and advertising fields have been of immeasurable advantage to the company."

In 11 years TCA has expanded from 122 miles to nearly 16,000 miles of scheduled routes across Canada, to United States centres, across the Atlantic to Great Britain, to Bermuda and to the Caribbean, and Mr. Thompson felt, in view of his other transportation responsibilities, that the time had arrived for the Air Line to establish a public relations department of its own.

CANADA FROM COAST TO COAST

The undemonstrative Canadian has never shouted to the world of the glories of his Capital City. But, in these troubled times, he is learning to look upon Ottawa as not just another city, but as the centre of his national life, hopes, aspirations. Physically, she is a city of unique charm, and with the oddly fascinating air of the cosmopolitan. From every point of view, Ottawa is dominated by the dignifiedly handsome gothic structures that stand out like permanent sentinels on the summit of Parliament Hill. The visitor is attracted by its historical associations . . . its priceless collections of national documents and pictures . . . its internationally famed peace tower. He knows that Ottawa has seen, made and acted in historically vital events. This is our capital. In a mere whisper of time, she has matured to world-wide recognition as a city of beauty, dignity and of international stature . . . pride of 12,000,000 alert, democracy-conscious citizens.

Twas the MONTH Before Christmas

And all through the store
There were oodles of bargains
And gift-buys galore.

The wise early shoppers were laughing aloud
As they made their selections ahead of the crowd.
In no time at all they had finished the chore,
And spirits still high, swept out of the door

'Twas the WEEK before Christmas
And oh what a din —
Every aisle jammed with shoppers
And tempers worn thin.

Our moral? Be early and happy and wise!
The service is better—and so are the buys!

Manning Sees Conflict Across World

By KEN KELLY

EDMONTON, Nov. 26.—(CP). — Premier Manning Thursday night said he foresaw a military conflict in a day not too far distant, unless the world's political, economic and financial ills were remedied.

He made the statement in closing the annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit League which earlier gave him a vote of confidence after ousting rebel members from its ranks.

Two diametrically opposed ideologies which are unreconcilable and impossible to isolate geographically are fighting in the political field, he said. One is godless materialism in the form of socialism, communism and collectivism, and the other is Christian democracy.

Mr. Manning aid the Marshall Plan for European recovery is artifically bolstering the economies of Canada and the United States because goods are being sent to Europe, but the money return for their production remains on this side of the Atlantic.

He said to do this was simply extending into peacetime the effects of war-time economy with the difference being that Europe is saddled with a burden she never will be able to throw off.

Production in Canada and the United States is being "sabotaged at the expense of labor, by communist infiltration into unions and by excessive taxation."

One of the financial ills is that inflation prices are eating into the savings of the general public. When these savings are gone and the "artificial bolster" of the Marshall Plan is ended, "you'll be right back in that tragic economic paradox you saw before—a surplus of gods, but a lack of buying power."

Nicked $10 And Costs For Disturbance

Roy McQuade, RR 4, Peterborough, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs in court today when he pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a George St. dance hall. Police Inspector James F. Reid said that the accused had refused to leave the hall after he had been asked, following "quite a commotion."

"Next time you're asked to leave a public meeting place like that, you'd better do so," advised Magistrate Philp.

OF THESE TWO NEW CANADIAN CITIZENS, only one seems interested in the first glimpse of their new home. Mary Theckston, 2 years, gazes with wide-eyed wonder at the new world, but brother Bobby, nine months, snoozes. Their mother, Mrs. O. Theckston, is taking them to New Westminster, where they will join their father. The family formerly lived at Barrow-in-Furness, Eng.

Driver Stands Trial For Manslaughter

FORT ERIE, Nov. 26.—(CP).—Nels Devana, 39-year-old St. Catharines driver, was committed for trial Thursday on a charge of motor manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles E. Murdoch, 31, of Fort Erie, on Sept. 3. Murdoch died in a crash while riding as a passenger in Devana's car.

T. G. Spencer, solicitor for Devana, charged at the preliminary hearing Thursday that his client had been released from hospital following the accident with a broken neck. Devana appeared in court with a cast about his head and shoulders.

Dr. H. L. Butters, coroner, testified that Devana was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Seven Pay Fines For Gambling

Following a raid by city police, court today on charges of gambling. Fines and costs totalled $137.50.

Aubrey Hancock, 189 Hunter St., west, was fined $30 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to keeping a common gaming house. He added, with his plea, to Magistrate Philp:

"I'd like to say that it was just a bit of fun—there was nothing pre-arranged about it."

Fined $15 and $2.50 costs each on their guilty pleas to being found in a common gaming house were: Elwood Seabrook, 504 Romaine St.; Clarence Bishton, 435 Park St.; Leslie Hooks, 312 Rubidge St.; Elwood Fallis, 251 George St.; Harvey Seabrook, RR 3, Peterborough; and Eldon Paquette, 199 Crescent St.

Security Council Stays In Paris During Holiday

PARIS, Nov. 26.—(AP).—The Security Council will remain in Paris during the Christmas holiday for an emergency meeting, United Nations officials said today.

The schedule calls for the Council to hold regular meetings here until Dec. 16, though the current Assembly hopes to wind up Dec. 11.

No Council meetings are scheduled between Dec. 16 and Dec. 31, but the Council probably will meet at least once in that period. By Council rules it must meet once every two weeks.

Most of the chief delegates are planning to go to New York after Dec. 16 and leave alternates here.

Fernand Van Langehove of Belgium will be chairman of the Council in December. United Nations officials said he and Faris El Khouri, Syria, both of whom will leave the Council Dec. 31, go to New York for a possible meeting at Lake Success before the New Year.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada, who will be chairman in January, will leave soon for visits in Britain and Canada. He plans to be at Lake Success Jan. 2 and will call a Council session there if necessary.

Industry Back To Normal Week

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 26. — (CP).—St. Catharines industries are being permitted to return to their normal work week, it was announced today by Ray Pfaff, manager of the Public Utilities Commission. The announcement followed advice by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission that the power quota for the city had been raised to 370,650 kilowatt hours a day, in comparison to a former ration of 348,400. Two increases were received this week.

A staggered work week, with plants taking their days off in the middle of the week, was inaugurated two weeks ago, and kept the city under its quota, without the necessity of a single blackout so far.

Plants which shifted some of their operations to the week-ends before the daily shutdown system will continue to work the same shifts, but most of the others are expeetced to return to normal working schedules.

In the other games Kansas City blanked Minneapolis Millers 3-0 and Fort Worth whipped Houston 5-3.

St. Paul's victory over Omaha marked the fifth straight time the Saints have defeated the Knights. Bend scored his first goal shortly before the end of the first period and drove in the other two in the second period.

Africa Disappoints UN General Assembly

PARIS, Nov. 26—(CP).—The United Nations General Assembly approved today a resolution expressing regret that the Union of South Africa had refused to place southwest Africa under UN trusteeship.

The vote was 43 to 1, with five absentions. South Africa voted against the resolution and Britain, France, India, Belgium and Australia abstained.

Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit, India's chief UN delegate, said the annexation of southwest Africa by the Union of South Africa "is imminent in spite of whatever name it is called."

A former German territory, southwest Africa has been administered since 1920 by the Union under a League-of-Nations mandate.

Eric H. Louw of the Union of South Africa said his country is exercising its right to administer southwest Africa under the mandate as an integral part of the Union. He denied the Union would annex the mandated country.

Lessons of The Parables Easily Learned By Children

Scripture—Isaiah 5:1-7; Matthew 13-33, 44-46; Luke 10:25-37; 15:3-32.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Parables are short stories told to emphasize a point in instruction. The special point to be accented may be a little obscure to the listeners, but the story makes it clear.

Jesus told many parables—33 of them in the New Testament—most of them found in the gospels of Matthew and Luke. Many mothers and fathers use this story method to help their children understand the right or wrong of conduct. The youngsters remember the tale more vividly than they do the moral lecture, and as most of us are "children of a larger growth," we, too, remember these stories — and we do not miss the lesson; it, too, remains with us.

Many of the people in the crowds that followed Jesus were ignorant men and women, although there were also those who heard Him who were well educated. These were the men who were always trying to trick him into some statement that they could use as an excuse to arrest Him and turn Him over to the authorities.

Such a one was the lawyer who

MEMORY VERSE

"And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness."—Matthew 9:35.

asked Jesus what he should do to inherit eternal life. Jesus' answer, however, frustrated his purpose. Jesus said, "What is written in the law?" The lawyer answered, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself". "Thou hast answered right" said Jesus. "This do, and thou shalt live."

Jesus then told the parable of the man who fell among thieves, who robbed and beat him and probably left him for dead. Two "good" churchmen passed him by without more than a glance, but a certain Samaritan (of a race the Jews hated) came by, saw the man, bound up his wounds, put him on his own donkey, and took him to the nearest inn, and had him taken care of there.

The lawyer had asked Jesus who was his neighbor, so after telling the parable, Jesus said, "Which of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor to him that fell among thieves?" Of course the lawyer said, "He that shewed mercy on him." "Go, and do thou likewise," was the answer.

Even to the most ignorant and unlettered man in the crowd that story made the lesson plain.

"Publicans and sinners" — the unlettered, poor and despised came in crowds to hear Jesus, and the Pharisees and scribes, who considered themselves superior, grumbled that He "receiveth publicans and sinners." Knowing this, Jesus spoke His parable of the shepherd who had 100 sheep but lost one. Leaving the 99, he searched for the lost one until he found it, and then he called his friends to rejoice with him.

Likewise a woman who had 10 pieces of silver, and lost one, hunted until she found the missing piece and called her neighbors to be glad with her. Jesus ended the telling of his parable with the words, "Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth."

None in the crowd was so ignorant but Jesus' meaning was clear. Not even one poor, humble wrong-doer who was sorry for his sins and reformed, was ignored by a just God, but welcomed into the kingdom of heaven, even as the Pharisee and the scribe.

The familiar story of the prodigal son who squandered his heritage on evil living, and then repented and returned to his father, planning to take a humble place among the servants of his father's household, was told next. You remember that his father went to meet him, kissed him, dressed him in fine garments and had a feast prepared to welcome him home—a repentant and humbled man.

We can never know who among those motley crowds hearing the Master was moved to live righteously thereafter. His words, like the tiny grain of mustard seed that grew into a spreading tree, undoubtedly reached many hearts and changed them.

It was like the leaven which the woman hid in three measures of meal, and which leavened the meal all through. There is some disagreement about the interpretation to be put on these two parables, but they do illusrate the fact that wise words uttered in public have infinite possibilities for good.

Young Prince of Edinburgh Will Have No Pampering

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(CP). — From now on, through babyhood, childhood and from adolescence to manhood, the young prince of Edinburgh will inevitably be a public favorite.

But there will be no pampering or spoiling. Like his parents and grandparents, the prince will have to undergo rigorous training for a life of responsibility and service. His education will be comprehensive, with special emphasis on character and deportment, and eventually he will probably follow his father and grandfather into the royal navy.

For the present, however, his life will be as careful as possible. His first Christmas will be spent in the pleasant, homely atmosphere of Sandringham where the royal family are able to live a more normal life than anywhere else.

Almost a Retreat

After Christmas Princess Elizabeth will take the baby to Windlesham Moor, her Surrey home. This pleasant rambling house is almost a retreat.

His nursery, overlooking the lawn, is already well stocked with things dear to the toddler—bricks, teddy bears, golliwogs and toy rabbits. Later he will enjoy running along the terrace, which extends the length of the house and can be reached from the games room.

Like his mother before him the infant prince will soon be setting nursery fashions for children all over the world. Designers of baby clothes and cameramen are eagerly awaiting his first public appearance, for his clothes will set the trend for 1949 nursery styles.

On returning to London he will have a bright, up-to-date nursery at Clarence House, the large cream-colored regency building, now being fitted up as a permanent London residence for the princess and the duke.

His closest companion, apart from his mother, will be his "Nannie," Miss Helen Lightboy of Edinburgh, from whom he will learn his first words and his first steps. From the age of six on he will have a governess — not yet appointed—and when he is 10 years old a tutor. In due time he will probably go to Eton.

THEY WERE BEWILDERED

Employees of the De Laval, C.G.E. and other south-end plants did a bit of detouring Thursday to try and avoid the traffic jams resulting from the Governor-General's parade. Several drove as far west as Monaghan Road and stayed away from the Charlotte St. area.

STEPS DOWN—Mayor of Ottawa since 1936, popular Stanley Lewis, 60-year-old globe-trotting chief magistrate of Canada's capital, has announced he will not seek re-election. Affectionately termed a "gad-about" by his friends, he has represented Ottawa in London, Eng., Washington, Moscow and South American capitals. A heart ailment caused his retirement.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, when you try this well known recipe. It is universally used throughout Canada because it gives such gratifying results. It's no trouble at all to mix, and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 ounce bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes four times as much cough medicine for your money. Never spoils and tastes fine.

Quickly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps to clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Many Formally Presented Others Chat Informally With Their Excellencies

More than 200 citizens were formally presented to the Governor-General and Lady Alexander at a civic reception held Thursday evening in the Empress Hotel. Each was announced by the aide, Capt. J. Chichester-Clark and the ladies made an informal curtsy to Their Excellencies. They were also welcomed by His Worship Mayor Wm. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens.

Later, the Viscount and Viscountess made their way about the room, the former accompanied by Mayor Ovens and the latter by Alderman Adam Sands. They stopped often to chat informally with people and were so delightfully at home that everyone became completely at ease and surged around them, some even brushing past them in the crowd without noticing.

Before leaving the city Their Excellencies said with sincerity that they had enjoyed the visit to Peterborough very much, and more than many similar visits. This was obvious in their reluctance to leave the reception room where they visited for more than an hour. The Governor General remembered men from this district whom he had known in the armed forces and asked about them. Lady Alexander was particularly watching for IODE member's pins since she is their honorary patron, and she also showed great interest in the Red Cross, Hospital Auxiliaries and civic organizations.

General conveners of the functions, Mrs. Ross Williamson and Mrs. Chas. Ray greeted guests in the hotel foyer. Mrs. Williamson was in a lovely dinner gown of deep plum velvet and Mrs. Ray wore royal blue crepe with matching sequin trim on the bodice, styled on pencil slim lines. Ushers on hand to assist were Miss Barbara Lawrie and Miss Catherine Graham, students of the PCVS, Miss Gloria Graham and Miss Barbara McCormick, students of St. Peter's High School, and Miss Joan Stock of the Peterborough Junior Chapter, IODE.

The profusion of flowers decorating the Kawartha Room for the occasion was arranged by the Civic Hospital Women's Auxiliary under direction of Mrs. H. A. Mitchell. Mrs. A. W. Turner regent of the Municipal Chapter, IODE, was convener of the refreshments, and serving arrangements.

Hostesses representing the seven civic group on the committee arranging the vice-regal visit, were Miss Agnes Grant, of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. A. Mason of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Mrs. F. Merrett of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. B. Morin of Elizabeth Smellie Branch of the Canadian Legion, Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell of the Red Cross Society, Mrs. A. W. Turner of the IODE and Mrs. H. A. Mitchell of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Servers were directed by Mrs. John Nornabell of the IODE. Those representing local chapters of the IODE were Mrs. R. S. Allin, Mrs. Harry Northrop, Mrs. Ken Kingston, Mrs. N. B. Hills, Mrs. C. M. Scott, Mrs M. E. Clark, Mrs. H. Willis, Mrs. L. D. Foster, Miss Mary Curry, Miss Marjorie Benson, Miss Jean Hamley, Mrs. Gordon Vallery, Mrs. A. R. McWilliams, Mrs. D. E. Bell, Mrs. W. A. Davern, Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Miss Mary Greer, Mrs. Norman Hamley, Miss Doris Burgess, Mrs. C. L. Upper, Mrs. George Barns, Miss Margaret Preston, Miss Joyce Alexander, and Mrs. Hugh Fallis. Those representing the Peterborough Branch of the Red Cross Society were Mrs. F. E. Hooper, Miss Ethelwyn Dix, Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald, Mrs. C. G Graham, Miss Helen Munro, Mrs. A. Sollitt, Miss Margaret White and Mrs. F. J. Lynch. The Civic Hospital Women's Auxiliary was represented by Mrs. E. Breckenridge, Mrs. E. Braund, Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, Mrs. R. Taylor, Mrs. A. E. Cauley, Mrs. W. Garner, Mrs Chas. Huffman and Mrs. Gordon Miller.

All attendants were becomingly gowned in dinner and evening dresses and wore white gloves. An atmosphere of intense enjoyment pervaded throughout the reception and comments on all sides were to the effect "It's been such a lovely party."

Among those invited to be formally presented:

Miss G. Langton Circle Hostess

The Jean Wagar Mission Circle of St. James United WMS held their November meeting at the home of the president, Miss Gladys Langton, Simcoe St. west.

A new member, Mrs. Grace Sampson, was welcomed and in the course of the meeting delighted the Circle with her two solos, "Go and Tell" and "Prayer," with her own guitar accompaniment.

An interesting story, "Li Chiang," introducing Christian stewardship, of which she is department secretary, was told in dramatic style by Miss Mabel Dulmage.

During the brief business session, plans were made for the Christmas meeting to be held at the home of the advisory president, Mrs. E. J. Wagar, Lock St.

Sympathy was expressed for Miss Jessie Martin, presbyterial secretary, who had recently suffered a painful accident in a bad fall. Miss Martin is a patient in St. Joseph's hospital, where she will remain several weeks.

The study period was led by Mrs. Jean Davis.

Delicious refreshments were served by Miss Langton and during the social hour a contest was conducted by Jean Davis and won by Miss Dulmage.

Her Excellency Wins Hearts With Graciousness

Her Excellency, Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, won the admiration and respect of all during her visit in Peterborough Thursday. Accompanying the Governor-General as he officiated at two ceremonies and on tours of the Canadian General Electric plant and the Western Clock Company, she was the one on whom men as well as all the women focused their glances. Her manner was composed and gracious throughout, giving the impression she was glad to be present.

Interest was not merely assumed as conversation with Her Excellency proved. Talking to Miss A. L. Thomson, superintendent of nursing at the Civic Hospital, after His Excellency had firmly laid the corner stone of the new hospital, she spoke understandingly about the difficulties of giving efficient service with present accommodations.

During the day Lady Alexander wore a dress suit in a lovely shade of rust brown that was so very becoming because of her faultlessly clear complexion. Her dress skirt was gored and flared slightly, leoming to a 15-inch length. The perfectly fitted matching jacket was hip length and slightly shorter at the front. She wore a stole of five mink skins, pearls at her throat, black shoes with straps crossed at the instep, black gloves and carried a leather handbag. Her sailor felt hat exactly matched her suit and had a ribbon band and bow of toast satin ribbon and a fine mesh veil.

A large bouquet of red roses from the Peterborough branch of the Red Cross Society was put in her car.

Her Excellency refused to take time off of her visit for rest, saying that she was enjoying herself too much to miss anything.

Alderman Presents Canoe As Symbol of the City At Civic Dinner Thursday

Their Excellencies, the Viscount and Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, honored members of the City and County Council, heads of local industry and civic organizations, members of the clergy and officers of the 50th Heavy AA Battery with their presence at dinner Thursday evening. Flower decked tables were laid in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel where the entire facilities of the main floor were available for use of the guests.

Head table guests arrived after an informal meeting at the Monaghan Road home of His Worship Mayor Wm. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, and included the Hon. H. R. Scott and Mrs. Scott, Senator Iva C. Fallis and Mr. Howard Fallis, Senator J. J. Duffus, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, His Honor S. L. Smoke and Mrs. Smoke, the Rev. Ivan Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Marshall, Most Rev. Bishop Berry, Mr. James Humphries, warden of Peterborough County, and the lady-in-waiting, Miss Anstice Gibbs, and aide-de-camp, Capt. J. Chichester-Clark.

Lady Alexander was gowned in flame red taffeta for the evening, and on her right shoulder wore a corsage of white orchids which she accepted as a gift from the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, of which she is honorary patron, presented through the Peterborough Municipal Chapter. Her gown was beautifully fitted with gracefully flaring skirt, and had a long sleeved jacket with slightly flared peplum at the waistline, and buttoned down the front. The open vee neckline revealed a four strand pearl necklace and she carried a small jewelled bag with a corsage of orchids received from the Women's Auxiliary of the Civic Hospital. Her dark hair was parted at the side and waved back from her face with the ends curling naturally, and she wore small jewelled earrings.

Mrs. Ovens was charming in a simply styled gown of cream silk jersey highlighted with a gold belt and gold sequin trim at the oval neckline. She wore a gold pendant and a corsage of Talisman roses on her left shoulder. Mrs. Harold Scott chose an evening gown of light grey taffeta in off-shoulder style with pink at the waistline and lining the folds of a cascading bustle at the neck. Senator Fallis, Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. Smoke wore black dinner gowns, Mrs. Marshall was in white lame, and Mrs. Morgan wore a slim black skirt with bodice and flaring peplum of blue with sequin trim. Miss Gibbs, Her Excellency's lady-in-waiting, was in a pencil slim gown of royal blue crepe with low square necklines and wore a single strand of pearls.

On arrival of the honored guests the Cecil Searles trio played a beautiful arrangement of the National Anthem, after which the Rev. Walter Gilling asked a blessing. Soft dinner music by the trio was continued throughout dinner.

Two groups of piano selections were contributed by Agnes Logan Green, and included "Hornpipe," "Irish Tune from County Derry" and "Shepherd's Hey" as arranged by Handel-Grainger, "Valise Caprice," "The Swan" and a Bach Chorale. Mrs. Jas. Goldie, soprano, sang in fine voice "One World" and "A Little Song of Life," with accompaniment by Gwen Craw.

Alderman Adam Sands made the formal presentation of a symbol of this city—a Peterborough canoe giving Their Excellencies a miniature model of the one sent to Rideau Hall, Ottawa, Thursday. In return he requested their autographs as souvenirs for his four-year-old daughter, and both complied graciously.

The Governor-General told the citizens of his childhood delight in a birch bark canoe from Canada, and advised that his two sons would probably be as much delighted as he and his wife with the gift. Of his visit, he said, "We have enjoyed our visit immensely. What we have seen has been most interesting and most impressive, and we are sorry we are not able to see more of your great industries." He also referred to the splendid record made by Peterborough during the war years, and said, "The tools of victory were very much forged here the tools with which we gained a victory. Your effort is one to be justly proud of also in the number of men and women you sent to join the armed forces." Concluding his informal remarks, His Excellency said, "We hope we may be permitted to spend another happy day with you."

His Worship Mayor Wm. Ovens was chairman.

Dinner guests represented the 50th Heavy AA Battery, City Council, County Council, Hospital Board, Hospital Auxiliary, YWCA, YMCA, Medical Association, Municipal Chapter (IODE), Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, president of each service club, Public Library, Business Men's Association, Law Association, Board of Education, Separate School Board, Art Association, Local Council of Women, Catholic Women's League, St. Joseph's Hospital Board, Civic Hospital (supt.), Victorian Order of Nurses, Canadian Legion, Elizabeth Smellie Branch, Women's Auxiliary, Legion, Utilities Commission, City Trust, Labor Council, Humane Society and the Jewish Community.

DIRECTOIRE IN VELVET—The directoire line is more than holding its own. In fact, it is one of the trends that is crystalizing for late winter and early spring clothes in all categories, with designers both here and abroad. To show you the beautiful clothes now being created by English designers for the American market, here is an exquisite evening frock. This evening dress is in black velvet with a corsage of blue, brown and gray striped satin. The two materials are repeated in the stole. Here the Directoire line is very well defined.

DOROTHY DIX

Picking Mate Matter of Taste Rather than One of Judgment

DEAR MISS DIX Do you believe it possible for a happy marriage to be made if the wife is 15 years her husband's senior? At what age period would such a marriage be most likely to be successful? Would it be when the husband is 25 and the wife 40, or when the husband is 30 and the wife 45? What are the qualities to make such a marriage a success?

I. J.

ANSWER: Practically anything can happen in marriage, for, as an old friend of mine user to say, "You can't tell where your love falls." All of us have known marriages that seemed earmarked for the divorce court that were glorious successes, and we have seen other marriages that we would have sworn were made in Heaven turn out to have been made in hell. So there we are, matrimonially speaking, and it is folly to prophesy how any wedding is going to turn out. For to every rule laid down for picking out a husband or wife there are a hundred exceptions. And, after all, getting the right husband or wife is more a matter of taste than judgment.

Of course, we are all traditionally sold to the theory that the mating time is youth, and we talk a lot of drivel about boys and girls marrying and growing up together and developing the same taste and habits, but is it just luck when the young couple develop along the same lines, as is proven by the number of youthful marriages that go on the rocks.

Middle Age Mating Ideal

On the other hand, the middle-age marriages are generally successful because men and women marry for companionship. They know how to adjust themselves to their mates, and you seldom hear of them getting divorces.

Now to answer your questions: Whether the disparity in age between a husband and wife is a fatal barrier to marriage depends, I think, mainly upon sex. When a young girl marries an old man, it is almost invariably because of his money and the luxuries he can give her, but when a young man marries an elderly woman it is almost always because he is her age spiritually, if not chronologically. They think along the same lines. They have the same tastes and interests, and they are more congenial than the man would be with a debutante. Such a man has the mother complex and he never tries to break Mother's apron strings.

But why put a 15-year limit on a woman desirability as a wife? There are women who are has-beens in their teens, and others who are still debutantes in their seventies. It depends altogether on the woman's personality, and if she has the come-hither look in her eye, she will still be a charmer whether she is 14 or 40.

And as for the qualities that makes a marriage a success, they are always eternally the same. Keep sugar in your hand and your husband will keep eating it, no matter what the difference in your ages.

DEAR MISS DIX· I am a man of 39 who desires to gain from my wife freedom of time and mind to provide for my family the necessities and a few of the luxuries of life. Due to the high cost of living my present job does not give the extra money we need, but I could make something on the side if my wife would not prevent my doing so. I am in demand as a musician and an insurance representative and could make good money at both, but these activities call for late hours and are the cause of many unhappy scenes between my wife and me.

I am at my wits' end, as it is and to gain any peace of mind What shall I do?

DEVOTED HUSBAND

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Evidently your wife want the money, but she doesn't want you to get from under her thumb long enough to earn it. There are plenty of wives like that, who want their husbands to be money-makers, yet always [illegible] and call. You can't reason with these [illegible] creatures. So the thing for you to do is to show a little spunk and independence and take the good jobs that are offered you. She won't turn up her nose at the money you bring in.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man of 20 in love with a girl several months older than I am. She refuses to marry me for these three reasons: (1) Her age. (2) We are of different religions. (3) We are not of the same nationality. She believes that a person should marry someone of his or her own race and religion. Should these stop a happy marriage?

GEORGE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: They are very apt to. We are all creatures of habit, and you will stand a far better chance of being happy though married if you stick to your own religion and cooking and marry a girl younger than you are.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, November 27

According to a hold-over of adverse planetary aspects, it might be as well to secure week-end diversion from serious considerations, since a carefree holiday might prove soothing to excessively stimulated feelings, emotions and impulses. Any effort at adjusting stubborn, strange and devastating situations might prove futile, and the interim might be spent in currying favor with elders or superiors whose approbation is urgent.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are urged to take time to give keen and calm analysis to underlying circumstances, in which tempestuous and wild impulses, emotions and destructive attitudes have brought about difficult situations. Self-restraint, deep research into the baffling circumstances or disruptions could gain by the friendly understanding or advice of those in influential places. Personal relations are likewise in jeopardy by a rash show of "temperament".

A child born on this day may be temperamental and difficult, with its feelings and emotions tempestuous and exaggerated. Early training is recommended.

WITH THE CANADIAN LEGION

By the Secretary

This column could really be entitled "Memories of a Secretary after his first Poppy Day Campaign." Firstly the careful and optimistic planning, the conferences, the well-considered letters and sales approaches and the hurried phone calls—the handling and delivery of wreaths, the handling and delivery of poppies—the counting of receipts—the invitations to our annual dinner—the planning of the Cenotaph agenda—more poppies here—more wreaths there—phone calls to Toronto and Orangeville—parade orders and invitations—publicity, both radio and newspaper coverage—the selection and placing of volunteers—the final tabulations—the last minute details which include the cropping-up of those things which have been completely forgotten or overlooked—and—the regular Legion business at is, highest peak, intermingling with the above.

However, it is all over. That sigh you heard after November 11 was the one heaved by the Remembrance Day committee. Now remains but the statements to the different wreath purchasers and the publication of a result sheet for the public of Peterborough who helped to make this campaign the biggest in years and to the ex-servicemen and women who helped to make this Remembrance Day parade a memory in itself. Looking back, the committee sees the mistakes which will be corrected next year for we will be planning a bigger and better campaign in 1949; and to an even more complete observance of the memory of our departed comrades. And looking ahead, we see a year where we can ably assist those ex-servicemen and women who need help.

The general meeting of November was held on Monday last when Cyril Withers, chairman of the Sports committee, presented the City and District Football League Cup and the Mayor Ovens Cup for Injured Players to the Branch. Jack Adams and the men of the Soccer Club were moved a hearty vote of thanks for their successful efforts

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Doesn't the wing-spread of this coat make me look storkish?"

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

HINDSIGHT IS ACCURATE

THEY DON'T pay off on hindsight. Ability to see what you should have done, after it is too late to do it, only rubs salt into your bridge wounds. That is, unless you are able to translate your hindsight into foresight the next time a parallel situation arrives. That, indeed, is the way many fine players have developed. They make their mistakes, yes. But they also learn from them. All that writing or teaching can do is help point out some of the tactics that will work and some of those that are likely to fail. It is then up to the individual to recognize the charted marks and govern his course accordingly.

Maybe that isn't the best bidding ever known, but it was good enough to put South into a game contract he could have made if he had been keen enough. West opened the spade 3 to the J and K. South blithely scored the diamond A and K, playing low from dummy, and then gave up a third diamond to East to establish the fourth. The spade return gave West three tricks there, so that the defenders now had their book. The club K was the return, which South won with dummy's A. Noting that he could not get back into his own hand, he scored the diamond 9, heart A and K and then gave up the last two tricks to West.

When he was in the dummy near the close of the deal with the club A, South wished he could get into his own hand. If he had been able to, he could have tried the heart finesse, which as it developed would have worked. The A and K then would have felled the Q and made the fourth heart the game trick.

South realized too late that he could just as well have had a re-entry to his own hand for the heart finesse. If on the diamond tops he had played the 9 and 8 from dummy and left a little card there, he could have used the 6 in his own hand for a re-entry. But the time he should have realized that was away back when he was playing the diamonds, not afterward.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

What plan of play should South adopt for his 3-No Trumps if the defenders lead diamonds against him?

THREE NOMINATED FOR MAYOR'S OFFICE

WHEN KING GEORGE made this tour of inspection of the National Institute of Agricultural Engineering at Wrest Park, Bedfordshire, Nov. 11, it was his last public appearance prior to the announcement this week that he was suffering from a circulatory ailment of the legs which will confine him indefinitely to the palace. His guide wears rubber boots as they walk over a bumpy beet field. It is assumed that His Majesty was suffering from his leg trouble when this photo was made.

Report 10,000 Red Troops Encircled Near Nanking

NANKING, Nov. 27—(AP).—The battle for the approaches to the Chinese capital of Nanking spread today over a 100-mile radius south of Suchow. Ten thousand Red troops were reported encircled at Chang-paling, only 40 miles north of Nanking, one newspaper said.

Fighting in the immediate vicinity of Suchow was almost ended with the main forces of both the Reds and the Nationalists moving southward in a series of scraps.

A Government general said the Communists have lost 230,000 men in the 19-day battle. Government losses were reported at 95,000 men. However, these figures customarily are distorted by the Chinese.

This same phase of the war seemed to be shaping in north China where Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's headquarters in Peiping said he was preparing to meet 280,000 Reds in Hopei province with Tientsin and Peiping as the prizes.

Fu's headquarters intimated that if the Reds did not attack his men, 4,000 of whom are reported to have deserted to the Communists three days ago, they would seek them out and engage them in battle. Fu has seemed confident of whipping them in the Peiping - Tientsin corridor, where scattered fire fights have been reported.

Still Strong Force

Tom Lambert, Associated Press correspondent, said he saw a few Communist dead or captives in villages where the Reds had been repulsed.

Field commanders believed the Communists still had 450,000 troops in the area and next would slash southward, trying to cut communications between Suchow and Nanking.

The railway town of Suhsien, 50 miles south of Suchow, was still admitted to be in Communist hands, and the line was cut at other points farther south.

The Government has four new United States-equipped divisions at Tsingtao, anchorage for the United States Western Pacific fleet.

Increase City Power Quota

Peterborough's daily quota of electric power has been increased from 229,700 to 235,422 kilowatt-hours in an announcement by the Hydro-Electric Commission reflecting an improvement in the provincial power supply.

In many rural areas the quotas have been exceeded, and it has been necessary to open feeders intermittently to conserve power. The Hydro has directed the following changes applying to rural consumers: no cutoffs on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays; no cutoffs before 7.30 p.m. or after 11 p.m.; no single cutoff to exceed 30 minutes; a minimum of elapsed time of 45 minutes between cutoffs.

Greek Liberty Ship Aground Off Jamaica

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—(AP)—The Greek Liberty ship Mariam is aground on Morant Cays 60 miles southeast of Kingston, Jamaica, and a tugboat has been sent to her aid, the coast guard here said today.

Coast guard area headquarters said the 7,176-ton (gross) ship radioed today she is in no danger and needed only a commercial tug to refloat her. The Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corporation's tug Relief was dispatched from Kingston.

The Mariam left Trinidad Nov. 23 loaded with the metal Bauxite bound for Baton Rouge, La., Its home port is Chios, Greece.

The coast guard here had no word of the size of the Mariam's crew or whether passengers are aboard.

Trenton Man Run Over By Tractor

Machine Backed Up Knocking Him Down; Found Dead In Field

TRENTON, Nov. 27—(Staff)—James R. Little, 67, of RR 4 Trenton was killed on Friday afternoon when his own tractor ran over his chest.

Mr. Little was plowing a field on his farm. He is believed to have stepped off the back of the tractor when the plow became disconnected. The machine, still in gear, backed up, knocked him down and ran over him.

When found at 5.30 p.m. by his son Gordon his body was pinned to the ground by the front wheels and the large back wheels were still turning, digging deeper into the rain-soaked earth.

About three hours earlier Gordon had left his father to do the plowing and everything was running smoothly.

Dr. F. Drure of Brighton, coroner, said there would be no inquest. The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable George Coling of Brighton.

Prices Support For Potatoes

OTTAWA, Nov. 27. (CP)—A prices support program for patatoes has been introduced in Canada to coincide with restrictions on exports to the United States, the Minister of Trade and Agriculture announced Friday night.

The prices support policy, which guarantee growers in designated portions of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick a minimum price of $1.15 per 100 pounds on a farm basis.

Shipment of table potatoes to the United States will be stopped Dec. 1. Export of seed potatoes will be continued, but on a permit basis, only to certified seed buyers in the US and only between certain dates in the case of many states.

The machinery selected by the government to control potato exports to the United States was to require permits for the export of any potatoes to any destination. In the case of all countries, except the United States, the permits will be granted "freely and without delay" for either seed or table potatoes.

The action was taken in response to US complaints that the volume of Canadian shipments was disrupting their prices support program.

Fined, Gets Beating

TORONTO, Nov. 27 —(CP).—William Dougherty got fined $75, and costs, and took a beating for pretending he was a policeman. He got the fine in Police Court on Friday on public mischief and impersonation charges. He got the beating from High School student Douglas McTaggart whom he tried to convince he was an officer.

Sub Menace Big Problem In Defence of Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 27. (CP)—The submarine menace, one of the major problems of Canadian defence, has received striking and belated emphasis in two recent developments that have drawn attention to something the navy, and presumably the government, have known for a long time.

It is the inadequacy of Canada's navy, as it now stands, to cope with modern undersea craft that are capable of greater speeds below water than the RCN's wartime sub-hunters could make on top and which can stay down for weeks.

The developments:

1. Disclosure that Canada will start building next year a new sub-hunting escort vessel, with a lot of US equipment, that is expected to be an answer.

2. Disclosure in anti-sub exercises off Halifax that she needs it.

There was no surprise at navy headquarters at the result of a two-day mock battle of four RCN surface ships against eight modern US subs which, an announcement said, "demonstrated technical advantage" over them and scored a victory roughly in the ratio of two to one. News reports on the recent visit of a Canadian squadron to Pearl Harbor indicated the same thing.

The incidents merely stress a situation that has been occupying the attention of naval planners since the war and which is underlined by reports that Russia has at least 250 or 300 subs, some of the latest type, and is building more.

Those same eight subs warred against a 100-ship US fleet off Newfoundland earlier and, in the opinion of the admiral in charge, would have "sunk or seriously defeated our task forces" in actual combat. The sub chief of the US Navy says, however, it has perfected devices which should be capable of matching the Snorkel-breathing subs.

Spite Killing

GAYLORD, Mich., Nov. 27 —(AP).— Three boys were held today in the "spite killing" of an elderly woodcutter who wouldn't help them cover up their school truancy. Authorities said the three youngsters, the oldest 13, admitted the fatal shooting of 66-year-old Arthur King in the woods near here Nov. 18. King was shot, it was said, because he refused to chop down a tree so that it would fall across a power line. Prosecutor Paul Kenny said the boys imagined this would cause consternation in town and "their absence from school wouldn't be noticed.

24 Laborites Oppose Length Of Army Terms

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(Reuters).—The government is facing a new clash with a section of its parliamentary supporters over the length of compulsory military service.

Twenty-four members have signed an amendment calling for rejection of a bill increasing the length of service from 12 to 18 months. The amendment will be debated on second reading in parliament Wednesday.

The 24 are led by Ellis Smith, former parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, and include Left-Wing members of the others who, on conscientious grounds, previously resisted a similar proposal.

Britain's national service bill, which when first introduced in 1947 proposed 18 months' compulsory service, met with large-scale Labor resistance.

Reduced Period

The Government subsequently reduced the proposed period of service to a year, but later reinstated the 18-month period.

The Government, because of service requirements for stations ranging from Germany to Malaya, has been unable to begin any large-scale reduction of forces.

A period of one year's compulsory service does not provide trained men in time to be used in stations further distant than Germany, and means that men for such trouble centres as Malaya must be provided largely from the regular army, which is also occupied with training recruits.

A considerable number of the 1947 recalcitrants who opposed the Government's 18-month scheme because it reduced available manpower for economic recovery have since became reconciled to the Government's views on defence requirements.

Efforts are likely to be made by the Government before Wednesday's debate to dissuade the critics from active resistance.

Try Jail Break At Port Hope

PORT HOPE, Nov. 27.—An attempted jail break here Thursday night only got the two men involved that much deeper into the Port Hope lock-up and added new charges against them.

The two, John Joseph Clarke, 19, of Kingston, and Douglas Wise, 19, of Brantford, were jailed in the upstairs cells at the town hall, while another, Edward Clarke, 22, brother of John Joseph, was housed on the lower floor. All were charged with car theft.

Cell doors were left open so the men could use bullpen toilet facilities. During the night a bracket from a washbasin was used to pry boards off the bullpen floor, and the men dropped into the lower section with Edward Clarke. The noise aroused Lou Staples, caretaker who called police. Officers nabbed the men trying to pry windows loose, and put them in individual cells.

In court Friday John Clarke and Wise were remanded on attempted jail-breaking and car-theft charges, and Edward Clarke on a car-theft count.

Doctors Give Up Hope For Greek Premier

ATHENS, Nov. 27 (AP)—Doctors today gave up all hope for Greek Premier Themistokles Sophoulis.

The 89-year-old Greek leader was reported sinking fast and received the last sacrament of the Greek Orthodox Church.

Sophoulis was stricken with the heart attacks in two days and suffered a relapse during the night. The first attack came on his birthday last Wednesday. He had another attack Thursday.

Thank You, Uncle

BANCROFT, Nov. 27 —(ENS).—J Clarence Adams of Detlor was the winner of a 1948 car when the Bancroft Lions held a draw for it Friday night. More than 200 attended the dance which preceded it. Reeve J. T. Adams of Dungannon township, an uncle of the winner, made the draw blindfolded from the huge bowl of thousands of tickets.

Hope Dwindles For Compromise In Berlin Crisis

PARIS, Nov. 27—(AP).—Hope for a compromise settlement of the Berlin deadlock dwindled today.

Argentine delegate Juan Bramuglia, president of the United Nations Security Council, prepared to make what may be his final round of calls on Russian and Western delegates. He planned to see Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky, Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States, Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan and France's Alexander Parodi.

Bramuglia was to present to them a rough draft of the currency accord which he and representatives of the five other Security Council "neutral" members worked on in a meeting which lasted until the early hours this morning.

The new compromise formula is based on the Russian and Western-power answers to five questions put to them by Bramuglia. The answers were made public on Friday night.

Bramuglia is understood to be working on a draft plan which would create an expert commission including representatives of the neutrals as well as of Russia and the Western powers to try to settle the currency problem.

Willard L. Thorp, assistant United States Secretary of State, said his country accepts the idea that the Soviet mark should be used in all of Berlin.

He told a special press conference that the United States has in no way withdrawn from the agreement to accept the Moscow directive of Aug. 30.

One American source said, however, the Berlin political situation is deteriorating fast. This source contended it is "very urgent" that a Berlin solution be reached over increasing difficulties.

The Russians stood firm on the principles laid down in the tentative agreement reached in Moscow last August.

Calls UN Investigators Amateur Detectives

PARIS, Nov. 27—(AP)—Russian Delegate Andrei Vishinsky today derisively called United Nations investigators in the Balkans "amateur Sherlock Holmeses".

Vishinsky also repeated before the general assembly his charges that the U.N. special committee on the Balkans based its report on "garbage."

Waving his arms and at times pounding the table, the Russian shouted the report was based on "distortion, falsification and bad faith."

Sarcastically, he said the investigators "dabbled in detective work." They wanted to "get evidence at any cost proving Greece's three northern neighbors" aided the rebels.

Nature Provides Answer To Howe Allegation On Power Shortage—Drew

Difficulty, Cost Of Getting Steel From US Big Handicap For Hydro; Amount Of Water Determines Power Supply

TORONTO, Nov. 27—(CP).—George Drew says that Nature has provided an answer to Trade Minister Howe's "dishonest" allegation that low water conditions have nothing to do with Ontario's shortage of electricity. Mr. Drew, former Ontario Premier, said in a broadcast over two Ontario stations Friday night that more power became available to Southern Ontario after heavy rains fell throughout the Ottawa Valley in the last few days.

The national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party charged that the Ontario power situation was "incorrectly described" by Mr. Howe in a London, Ont., speech attributing "the whole blame for the present power shortage . . to me personally."

"If there was any doubt in your mind that the amount of water available determines the amount of power which can be supplied, that doubt must have been removed by what has happened in the past few days," said Mr. Drew.

Other Broadcasts

His speech was broadcast at 7 p.m. from Ottawa and at 10 p.m. from Toronto. It is scheduled to be carried over 31 other privately-owned radio stations in the province during the next six days at three-hour intervals.

Reviewing the power situation since he became premier of Ontario in August, 1943, Mr. Drew recalled that Mitchell Hepburn, former Liberal premier, said before the war that Ontario had a surplus and "is simply not interested in the production of any more power."

He denied stopping construction of the Des Joachims plant on the Ottawa River in 1943. Wartime scarcity of men and materials delayed construction, which was not authorized before he took office.

Detailing difficulties in proceedings with the 480,000 horsepower project, he said the Ontario Commission in April of this year had to buy from the United States 22,300 tons of steel unobtainable in Canada at a cost of $4,658,000 in U.S. funds.

On this the Dominion Government "imposed an import duty of $1,097,400. Nor did they stop there They also imposed a sales tax Thus the people of Ontario

Shipping Resumption Depends On Vote

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—(AP)—Early resumption of normal shipping operations along the strike-bound east and west coasts of the United States hinged today on a vote among dock workers on terms for ending the costly work stoppages.

The rank and file of the Longshoremens' Unions at ports along the two coasts started balloting on ratification of the agreement reached between union officials and employers. The outcome of the voting was expected to be disclosed tomorrow.

Cloutier To Die March 11 For Slaying Policeman

MONTREAL, Nov. 27—(CP)—Noel Cloutier, 24-year-old convicted slayer of a Montreal policeman during an east-end bank holdup last Sept. 23, Friday was sentenced to be hanged in Montreal jail March 11.

The jury deliberated only 15 minutes before returning the guilty verdict.

Upon hearing the death sentence pronounced the bandit showed little emotion although his features had twitched perceptibly when the jury foreman had read the verdict.

Two police constables, Nelson Paquin and Paul Emile Duranleau were slain during the bank robbery. Cloutier was tried specially for Paquin's murder.

Two other men, Douglas and Donald Perreault, unrelated, will also stand trial for murder. They evaded capture for nearly two weeks and travelled 2,000 miles across several provinces before bing caught in Taber, Alta.

Evidence of the officer who arrested Cloutier in a lane where he attempted to escape showed that Cloutier had almost $2,000 tucked inside his shirt.

The same officer testified Cloutier had told him that if he had a gun he'd 'fix' the officer as he had his "blond pal."

Donald Perreault, appearing as a Crown witness earlier in the trial, told the court he drove Cloutier and Douglas Perreault by a car to a place three blocks from the bank.

Flees Barefoot From Police On Way To Pen

TORONTO, Nov. 27.—(CP).—Hugh McIntotsh, sentenced to eight years for forgery, escaped today from police custody at Union station and fled barefoot while being taken to Kingston penitentiary.

Police said McIntosh, who was sentenced last Nov. 17 on 15 charges of forgery, three of false pretences and two of uttering false documents, bolted after police removed his shoes to put on leg irons. Police said it was customary to remove handcuffs from prisoners before they boarded trains.

Police said 30 year old McIntosh, a native of Brandon, Man., operated with Raymond Jackson, 16, in the Ontario communities of London, Orillia, Barrie, Bradford and Oshawa. They said the pair defrauded Ontario residents of $7,907 within three months. Jackson, described by Judge James Parker as "too young to appreciate what he was doing," was sentenced at the same time to two years less a day determinate and three months indeterminate.

Year-Old Death Becomes Murder

QUEBEC, Nov. 27 (CP)—Three men from St. Gerard de Majella, near Quebec, will be arraigned today ona charge of murder in the mysterious death of Gerard Beaumont whose body was found in the St. Charles river June 22, 1947.

The three men were identified by police as Roger Lizotte, Auguste Vallieres, and Maurice Legare, of the same locality.

A verdict of accidental death by drowning was returned by a Coroner's Court Jury more than a year ago in the death of Beaumont but police said they continued their investigation.

The body of the man was exhumed Thursday in the presence of police officers and Dr. Rosario Fontaine, medico-legal expert, who will make a report on his observations.

Police now say Beaumont was beaten and robbed on the night of June 14, and his body ditched in the river.

Seven-Power Talks Likely Next Week

LONDON, Nov. 27—(Reuters)—Seven-power talks in Washington for the preliminary study of an Atlantic union pact will be called in the near future—probably next week—it was learned today.

The five western union powers—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—have completed their exchange of views on the problems involved. The rough draft for a joint western union proposal worked out by the permanent commission in London has been studied by the five governments and returned with comments to the permanent commission, which Friday and today devoted two sessions to completing its work in the light of these comments.

The next step is for the permanent commission to communicate its findings to Washington and for the working party of the seven powers to be summoned at that the United States and Canada can pool their ideas with those already jointly agreed by the five western union countries.

Otonabee Assured Of Election

Lively Nomination Meeting Is Held In Keene Town Hall

KEENE, Nov. 27—(ENS)—An election seems assured this year in Otonabee Township. At the annual nomination meeting held in the town hall here on Friday afternoon three were named on the slate as possible candidates for reeve, two for deputy-reeve and at least four councillors.

Fred Hall and W. Sutton were acclaimed for the two positions open on the School Area No. 1.

All nominees will have until 9 p.m. today to qualify, and if they have already qualified they have up until that time to decline.

Reeve W. W. Dawson is back in the running and so is his opponent of last year, Harry Reid, who was barely edged out in a controversial election.

Peter J. Mather, former reeve of Otonabee, who dropped out of municipal politics last year, would not reveal whether or not he would accept.

"After spending many years in Otonabee politics I am wondering if I dropped out too quickly," he said.

When the nomination meeting adjourned before 6 p.m. on Friday night the nomination list stood as follows: Reeve—W. W. Dawson (accepted); Harry McIntyre (declined); P. J. Mather (undetermined) Harry Reid (accepted), and Roy Spears (declined).

Deputy-reeve—Percy Davidson (accepted); Harry McIntyre present deputy-reeve (declined); R. R. Stewart (accepted) and Roy Spears (declined).

Councillors — Percy Davidson Davidson (running for deputy-reeve); D. D. McIntyre (undetermined); Norman McConkey (undetermined); Allan Eason (accepted); R. R. Stewart (running for deputy-reeve); Roy Spears (undetermined); Preston Armstrong and R. Drummond both declined.

Suing Council

There was bad news for subscribers to the Otonabee Municipal Telephone System. Thomas Weir, township clerk, announced that the Bell Telephone System was suing the Otonabee Council for a sum of money known to be more than $1,000.

The actual managing of the Otonabee Municipal Phone system is put in the hands of a Commission but it is responsible to the Council. Because the Commission is not a corporate body it cannot be sued and therefore the ultimate responsibility rests with the Council.

Mr. Weir said that if the dispute, he said, was caused by the council were ordered to pay, the cost would undoubtedly have to be borne by the Otonabee Municipal Phone subscribers.

Collection of Tolls

In his nomination speech for councillor, Allan Eason further explained this matter. The dispute, he said ,was caused by the collection of long-distance calls on the Peterborough-Otonabee lines.

"The Bell Telephone reckon their toll on a basis of long distance lines owned by Otonabee," he said. "Formerly we had one line and Bell had two lines. Bell then put in another line and insisted we do the same or they would change the way of reckoning the cost of the calls."

Mr. Eason said this happened more than a year ago and because of a shortage of materials the municipal system was slow in completing its extra line. During that time the Bell Telephone Company, after a preliminary survey of phone traffic, raised the monthly bill by about $100, he said—from the approximate figure of $30 to $130.

"Our new line is now just about completed," said Mr. Eason.

He said that the municipal system had been installed about 30 years ago and up until about 1940 there had been no reserve fund put aside to cover its depreciation.

Referring to the new levy made by the Bell Co. he said, "If we'd had to pay that much we wouldn't have been able to build the new line."

It was expected by some of those present that news of this suit would cause tempers to soar among the ratepayers who crowded the benches, but apart from a few murmurs from the back row and a couple of not-too-searching questions the issue passed without incident.

Reeve Dawson said: "This is something that's been coming on for a few years, I don't think I should go into it here. There are many technical aspects that have to be considered. It's the judge's job to decide."

The Reeve said that the Suburban Area Commission this year spent $6,203 on improving township roads and the county roads and bridges commission spent $14,809. This cost together with improvements to the Old Peoples' Home, Lakefield, boosted the tax rate by three mills.

No extra machinery was hired during the year, he said, except on the Wallace Point road where a bulldozer was used to take out the stumps. The only new construction work was on this Wallace Point road and two bridges—at Stewart Hall and Cedar Lake.

Next year the road from Village to Keene will be straightened out, the reeve intimatd. The other accomplishment of the County Roads and Bridges Committee he cited was the elimination of a deficit and the purchase of a $22,000 grader.

Turning from county matters he gave a brief review of township business during the year. He conceded that taxes are up but said that was to be expected because "everything else is up a little."

Cost of Snow Contract

This year the snow will be plowed at the rate of $4 an hour when the contractor uses the township plow and $4.50 an hour when he used his own. Standby pay has been set at $1,200 for the three-month period Dec. 15 to Jan. 15.

It is expected that the total cost of snow control will be about $6,500.

"Members of this council are not in favor of paying more than $150,000 at the present time to the civic hospital," he said. "It's an expensive business. I feel that the county shouldn't be saddled with too much expense in this connection."

Mr. Mather said that no matter who was Reeve, taxes were bound to be raised during the past year. He said that he was in favor of the High School Area plan of the Department of Education but cautioned that it would increase taxes.

"I wonder what's in the report of the Royal Commission on Education that has finished its hearing," he asked the ratepayers.

He urged those present to run for municipal office. "You have nothing to lose if defeated. You are offering yourself as a public servant."

While not openly critical of the 1948 Council he said that there had been discrepancies on the voters' list and assessment roll, and he stated that it seemed unusual to him that a township council would stop work on a project such as the grading of Hiawatha Hill without first completing it.

Harry Reed who was defeated last year queried the overall boost of 25 per cent in the rates. Referring to the road estimates he said, "I think that a raise of more than 50 per cent is wrong. I'd like to know who of you received any benefits. We didn't get any along our own line."

Other things he pointed the finger at were: Weed cutting; township financing of a ditch being cleaned out on the 8th Line he claimed that under the Ditch and Watercourse Act the cost should be borne by those who benefit) lack of street lights in Keene; poor drainage system in Keene; the athletic field still in the planning stage; assessment roll not completed in time; "a proper organization for Remembrance Day; dust laying in time; a building inspector properly appointe; Hiawatha Hill graded.

After listening to some of these suggestions Reeve Dawson remarked, "It's a great program of Mr. Reed's if he'l only carry it out."

2 Men Contest Reeveship For Belmont

HAVELOCK, Nov. 27—(ENS)—Following municipal nominations held Friday afternon in the township hall at Preneveau, Reeve William E. Griffith will be opposed by Councillor Ross Barrons of Cordova Mines for the reeveship of Belmont and Methuen townships for 1949 Both have signed up. Two former reeves Carl Purdy and Isaac Anderson were also nominated but withdrew.

Mr. Barrons has served as councillor for three years. He has also been township auditor for 13 years and tax collector for four years. In the election for 1946 council he headed the poll with 334 votes. The 1947 council was elected by acclamation and for 1948 he was in second place with only 20 votes under the high man.

Mr. Griffith is a veteran in municipal affairs and despite quite a number of defeats he has had a total term of 11 years as reeve and four years as councillor. He was first elected to the council of Belmont and Methuen in 1908 when eight candidates contested the four seats on council and two reeves were in the field. Out of that number he is the only one living.

In 1909 there was an acclamation and in 1910 eight candidates for council and two candidates for reeve were again seeking election. Of that number only Mr. Griffith and J. W. Ketchen of Havelock are alive. In 1911 he had another acclamation but was defeated in 1912 when he ran against A. A. Wilde. It was 1915 before he entered municipal matters again when he defeated Mr. Ketchen by 13 votes but in 1916, Mr. Ketchen turned the tables and defeated Mr. Griffith by nine votes.

In 1917 Mr. Griffith was again elected and was reeve from then until 1922 when he dropped out of the contest for a time. He was elected warden of the county in 1921. Between 1921 and the present he has contested the reeveship against various opponents sometimes with success and other times meeting defeat. In the election for 1948 he polled 292 votes and his opponent Carl Purdy 260 votes.

Six candidates were nominated for the 1949 council five of whom have signed up. They are Norris Whitney who headed the poll last year, George Newton, Donald Anderson, Donald Plunkett, Robert Wrightly and Alex. Buchanan. Mr. Buchanan is the nominee who as yet has not signed. He was also nominated for school trustee. The first three are members of 1948 council.

Longest Service

Mr. Newton has the longest service as councillor to his credit having served for eight years. In 1946 he was the only member of the old council to retain his seat. Mr. Wrightly was a member of the council in 1946 and 1947, and Mr Anderson was a new member on the 1948 council. For school trustees in Area 2 for three seats, three candidates were nominated and signed namely: J. McGowan and S. Barrons for two year terms and C. Ellis for one year term. Which means there will be no election for trustee in Area No. 2. School area No. 1, three trustees were nominated for one seat for a two-year term. They are: R. Barton, C. McConnel and Alex. Buchanan. Mr. Barton has signed.

Expect Battle In Six Cities For Mayoralty

By The Canadian Press

The deadline for qualifications tonight is expected to leave mayoralty fight set up in a half-dozen Ontario cities.

Multiple nominations for the chief magistrate's chairs outnumbered acclamations Friday and several lively campaigns before Dec. 6 voting day were predicted. Contests are indicated for other civic offices in most of the province's cities, towns, villages and townships.

Qualifications in Oshawa Friday put Ernest Cay, M. Starr and R. Halliday into a race for the mayoralty which Frank N. McCallum is giving up at the end of the year. Mr. McCallum is seeking a 1949 council seat but contest the next Federal election as Progressive Conservative candidate for Ontario riding.

North Bay, where Mayor Ced Price was re-elected by acclamation had one of the longest lists of aldermanic nominations of any Ontario city this year. In all, for the 10 council seats, nominees numbered 47.

Walter J. Dowden received an acclamation as mayor of Brantford A lively aldermanic contest is in prospect in that city.

Galt gave an acclamation to J. M. Moffatt.

Board Assisting Blind Headed By W. C. Hughes

Ten people who are blind are receiving instruction in Braille reading, typing and handicrafts, it was announced at the annual dinner of the Peterborough City and County Advisory Board held on Friday night in the recreation room of the Grafton and Co. store. These are given instruction by the board's teacher, Miss C. Dawson, who intimated that many of the pupils had produced work which would make very suitable Christmas gifts.

W. C. Hughes, the chairman of the board, presided, and A. N. Magill, supervisor of field secretaries, was the principal speaker. Following the address the election of officers resulted in the following being placed in charge of the board's work for the ensuing year:

Chairman, W. C Hughes; vice-chairman (county) T. P. Lancaster; vice-chairman (city), His Worship W. R. Philp; secretary, Miss Agnes Grant; treasurer, T. T. Rodger; welfare committee chairman, Mrs. Floyd Curtis and a board of 20 members.

Percy Stollery, placement officer, reported six blind persons employed in industry, and in the past year they had earned $10,000.

Mrs. R. Whalon reported on the recently formed Louis Braille Club. This club meets once a month at the Dixon House and bowls once a week on the K of C alleys. It is a recreation and social club and at times 40 are in attendance. Assistance in financing the club has been received from the Lions Club and other women's organizations.

Field Secretary Edward Brown reported on the work in the city and county, where 79 blind persons come under the attention of the branch. He commended the placement work on Mr. Stollery and the work of the advisory board, especially in the rural areas, in giving supplementary assistance such as radios.

W. W. W. Dean of Lakefield introduced the speaker, Mr. Magill, who said that there were 78 boards and committees set up throughout Canada to aid the blind, and these had under their guidance 15,000 people. He intimated that 60 per cent of the cases blindness could have been prevented if proper attention had been given.

Magistrate Philp moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, and Gordon K. Fraser, MP, and T. P. Lancaster commended the work being done by W. C. Hughes, the chairman, and Mr. Brown.

City Nominations

Acceptance of nomination must be declared to City Clerk Outram by 9 o'clock tonight.

Hear Addresses

The hour of nominations was followed by the customary period of addresses by the nominees, for which City Clerk Outram was appointed chairman. The council chamber was comfortably filled by ratepayers, including a few women. A drizzling rain did not affect the attendance, nor dampen the spirit of public service and interest in the city's administrative branches that was manifested in the number of nominees and their expressed wishes for the continued prosperity and soundness of Peterborough.

Absence of explicit and serious criticism of the city council was noted in the comments of those who were present to accept the opportunity of discussing any public questions. Several of the prospective candidates for council mentioned the delay in the construction of the Memorial Community Centre and the sewage disposal plant. The most ambitious personal program of affairs to receive his attention in the event of election was presented by Maurice E. Ketcheson.

The Utilities Commission and the Board of Education received a compliment of the approval of silence by escaping any note of criticism, and several of the speakers conveyed to Mayor Ovens congratulations upon his three years as head of the council.

Canadians Enter Chicago Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(CP).—A prize-hungry band of Canadians Friday invaded this mid-western American Fair capital and went gunning for some of the richest awards in world agriculture.

Coming from five Canadian provinces by rail and car they brought some of Canada's finest livestock, grains and hays for today's opening of that famed international livestock exposition and hay and grain show. The agricultural show carries with it $100,000 in prizes.

Many came to Chicago directly from the recent Royal Ontario Fair in Toronto, bringing with them prizeworthy exhibits which will rank beside some of the finest produce of United States agriculture.

Canada's big stake in the Fair is in grains. Exhibitors kept an eye on samples submitted by S. J. Allsop of Red Deer, Alta., the 1947 Chicago wheat king who came here fresh from winning the world wheat championship at the Ontario Royal last week, and Mrs. Grace Kelsey, the dainty Erickson, B.C., farm housewife, who won the Chicago title in 1946.

American stockmen and grain growers have learned to respect the Canadians for they often walk off with top honors. Last year, for example, Canada won 11 championship and 30 first-place awards. Canadians have taken the wheat championship every year since 1929.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27 — (CP)—Oats and barley futures prices moved rather narrowly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Friday. The session saw moderately active buying. Oats were supported by mills and American houses with processors taking barley. Shippers bought both grains. Offerings were slightly more liberal, especially at high points.

Advances in Chicago rye prompted commission house buying in this grain in the early stages of the Winnipeg market. But offerings increased at top levels. Elevator selling was evidenced in flax with buying of a mixed character.

Islanders Have Merry Time During Winter

By WILLIAM STEWART.

CAP AUX MEULES, Que., Nov. 27 — (CP).—Winter winds will soon howl across the Magdalen Islands, but they won't drown out the lively fiddles and the thump of the "Madelinots" dancing feet.

The 10,000 people inhabiting the cluster of islands, out in the St. Lawrence Gulf, have put about $700,000 in their pockets from a season's fishing and it will soon be time for winter merry-making.

Practically everywhere through the 40-mile string of low islands families will pack into sleighs and travel from one little wooden home to another, and from island to island across the ice, for the slack-season round of visits and good times.

The end of fishing this year for young islanders means earnings in their pockets and that makes it marrying time. Wedding festivities will fit in perfectly with the winter order of life in the Magdalens.

By next March they will be ready to settle down to the work of trimming gear for a new season of mackerel, herring, cod, smelt and lobster fishing.

Gradually Changing

Life is changing gradually in the Magdalens under the press of the modern age and its gadgetry. But the sandy islands with their French, English, and Portuguese descendants are still far enough out in the Gulf to be undisturbed in their habit of winter fun.

When finter comes, the islanders' links with the mainland are confined to a wireless station, twice-weekly airplane flights to the mainland via Prince Edward Island, and their radios.

Late in the year their co-operative's five ships end their trips to the mainland and the island schooners that bring coal from Cape Breton, lumber from Summerside, PEI, and other wares from Canadian maritime ports stop operations.

The islanders earn their year's livelihood with their fishing and seal-hunting, but during the winter season, though it is a time of celebration, some of the fishermen and employees of the islands' four fish freezing plants are eligible for unemployment insurance benefits and get them.

Four freezing plants, a co-operative, a credit union, and new schools are improvements that have been carried out in recent years.

Prince Can Call 2 Palaces, 3 Castles, Mansions Home

By JOAN CAPREOL.

LONDON, Nov. 27 (Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth's son can call two palaces, three castles, and three mansions his "home." He will spend some time in each every year.

The two palaces—Buckingham Palace in London and Holyrood Palace in Edinburgh — are the national state residences of his grandfather, the King.

Windsor Castle is another national state residence, while Balmoral Castle, on Deeside, Scotland, is the King's private property.

The third castle, Glamis, is the Highland seat of the family of his grandmother, the Queen.

One mansion—Sandringham in Norfolk — like Balmoral, is the King's private home.

The other two mansions are the homes of the child's parents. The first is Clarence House, St. James' their official London residence, which will be ready complete with a nursery floor, at the beginning of the year. The other is Windlesham Moor, their leased week-end home, with a 50-acre estate in Surrey, 25 miles from London.

All Have a Story

All but the latter home, whose main attraction is a nine-hole golf course, have a story.

From childhood, the young Prince will hear the legends surrounding Holyrood House where Mary, Queen of Scots, lived for the greater part of her reign.

He will play hide-and-seek with the "ghosts" in Glamis Castle, like his grandmother and mother before him.

His birthplace, Buckingham Palace, has been the focal point of the United Kingdom in times of rejoicing for more than a century. Described as the ugliest palace in Europe, it has never been very popular with the Royal Family.

Second home to which the new Prince will be introduced is the 11,000-acre Sandringham estate where Princess Elizabeth will take him to spend a traditional Christmas with the rest of the Royal Family.

His first Easter will probably be spent at Windsor Castle where the Court also goes in residence for the Ascot races in the summer. There he will play in the famous corridor used by Royal Princes and Princesses for a hundred years.

Sometime during next summer and fall he will visit his three homes in Scotland.

Hollywood Duo Grinds Out Three Hit Songs

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27 (AP).—Ray Evans and Jay Livingston continued to grind out hit songs. Their latest: "Buttons and Bows."

These boys probably are the only successful song writers with steady jobs. They are employed by Paramount to whip up incidental songs for pictures and also tunes to exploit film titles.

"Of course, our royalties on 'To Each His Own' were more than our salaries for 2½ years at Paramount but the security is nice to have," remarked Ray—or was it Jay.

My confusion over their names still prevails. Each of them wears Robert Walker-style glasses, has thinning sandy hair, is 33 and attended the University of Pennsylvania. One is taller, but don't ask me which one.

"We've been pretty lucky," added Ray (or Jay). "Out of the five tunes of ours that have been plugged, three have been hits. Irving Berlin says if he hits one out of every five, he is lucky."

The team's golden threesome have been "To Each His Own," which clocked up 20 weeks on the hit parade; "Golden Earrings," which lasted nine; and "Buttons and Bows," which last week hit its fifth on the parade and its third in the No. 1 spot. It is threatened only by "Slow Boat to China," written by Frank Loesser, whose office is below that of Livingston and Evans.

"B. and B." like all Livingston-Evans tunes, was a product of necessity, not inspiration. A song was need for a sequence in which Bob Hope serenaded Jane Russell in "The Paleface." The song was to be a switch on the Western theme, with ski-nose yearning for the comforts of Eastern living. The two song writers were ordered to grind it out.

Holing up in their cubicle, the boys went to work. Their first product was the latter part of the song. Then they came up with the idea of calling it "Buttons and Bows."

"It doesn't mean anything," they explain, "but it's alliterative and it sounds like the idea we wanted to put over."

France On The Ruhr

The Ruhr is a river in Germany, a tributary of the Rhine. It is not, however, the river but the area around it—the most important industrial section of Germany—to which people refer when they speak of The Ruhr. The Ruhr includes half a dozen large industrial cities like Duisburg, Essen and Duesseldorf. It produced 107 million tons of coal and 11.2 million tons of steel in 1936, one-fifth of the entire coal and steel production of the whole of western Europe. This year the estimated output will be 79.6 million tons of coal and five million tons of steel. Whoever controls the Ruhr has control of Germany's heavy industrial core. The control of the Ruhr area is now the chief point of contention between France on the one hand and Britain and the United States on the other.

* * *

The Ruhr is now in the British zone of occupation. Last spring France reluctantly agreed to a plan for international control of the Ruhr. The plan provided for the creation of an international body in which the U.S., France, Britain and Germany would have three votes each, with one reserved to each of the three Benelux countries. The U.S. and Britain, being chiefly responsible for that part of Germany which includes the Ruhr, would designate the German representatives and exercise their votes. France now thinks that its interests were not sufficiently safeguarded last spring, for the U.S. and Britain can outvote France and the Benelux countries.

* * *

The U.S. and British Military Governments in Germany have lately appointed German trustees for the Ruhr industries. France wants, if not non-German ownership of the mines and factories, at least non-German management of them. It really wants them under French management. The chief reason is that France fears British and American policy in Germany. The U.S. policy seems to be to rebuild German industry, or to let the Germans rebuild it, so that western Germany can become a power-house against Russian communism, can become the American first line of defence. The French still feel that Germany is a threat to French security. If the heavy industry of the Ruhr is put under German direction, France sees itself losing not only a significant share of the Ruhr's coal and iron, but facing in the future a strong and threatening German state.

Representatives of the six interested powers have been meeting in London, to try to implement last spring's plan for an International Authority of the Ruhr. The conflict of interests over the area is dividing western Europe.

The King's Illness

Canadians everywhere will feel deep concern and sympathy for H.M. King George, whose illness now confines him to a wheelchair, and makes impossible the discharge of many duties which he had undertaken. There can be little doubt that the strain of the war years, during which His Majesty and Queen Elizabeth set a fine example of quiet courage, has taken its toll of his health. Nor can anyone doubt that the circumstances under which he came to the throne greatly increased a burden which is heavy enough at the best of times. It is no secret that His Majesty is a man of retiring and nervous disposition and the life which he is compelled to lead—a life in which there is little privacy and little rest—must put a great strain upon him.

The physicians who are attending the King have expressed confidence that rest and proper treatment will do much to restore the use of his foot. There has been no attempt, however, to conceal the fact that the condition might become very serious, and that rest is imperative if the King is to hold his own. For this reason the proposed journey to Australia and New Zealand has been cancelled.

The people of those Dominions, with characteristic warmth of spirit, have expressed deep concern for the King, and have said nothing about their own disappointment. Nevertheless we are sure that they are disappointed, just as we in Canada are disappointed that the visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to Canada next summer must be cancelled for the same reason. The people of the British Commonwealth are united in sympathy for His Majesty, whom we hold in deep affection as our sovereign, and also as a man of proven courage and goodwill.

Difficulties In Conducting Foreign Policy

Never before have nations had so many agencies for dealing with their national and international affairs. There are the numerous branches of U.N., and financial, economic and judicial international organizations. There are more embassies and consulates than ever before, more meetings between representatives, more tribunals, larger staffs in Foreign Offices. There are quicker and more direct means of communication. There are more people interested in and informed about their country's needs and aspirations and about world conditions. Despite all these things, and a general desire for peace and a will to co-operate, international affairs are in a messy state, diplomatic agencies are floundering (like U.N. on Palestine) and national foreign policies are not being fulfilled. Why?

One reason is that "foreign policy" is and has been exceedingly complex and in these speedy days we tend to oversimplify and to expect miracles in a year. It is a complex matter because, as Professor E. H. Carr says in his book Britain, "Foreign policy is not, as some people imagine, the discovery and application of appropriate means to achieve known ends. It involves the discovery and formulation of ends and means, and the adaptation of both to the circumstances of the moment".

It deals with intangible things like the fiction that "nations" are capable of having interests and pursuing policies. The very term "Canada" is a fiction. What does it mean? Does it mean the same thing to all people? What are "John Bull", "Uncle Sam", "the Red Menace"? What is "democracy" to which the foreign policy of nations like Canada, the United States, Britain and even Communist Russia are variously linked? Do we mean President Roosevelt's democracy, that of the Founding Fathers of the U.S., Sir Stafford Cripps', Gladstone's? What do we mean by equality? Is it equality of wealth, equality of opportunity, equality of rights, or equality in proportion to deserts? Can any one of those "equalities" be made a reality? What do we mean by "liberty"? Liberty for the strong may mean bondage of the weak; liberty for the many may mean bondage of the best. Since these concepts are basic to foreign policy, foreign policy must ever be complex

To these difficulties new ones have been added. Foreign policy used to be conducted by a small group of experts, as wars were fought by professional soldiers. Now the issues of foreign policy are settled not by governments in secret negotiations but by peoples. Diplomats operate under spot-lights, their words are on the wires sometimes before they have been said. This modern development is so important that we proposed to discuss it separately in these columns next Saturday.

In every foreign policy there is as Lord Halifax once said, a gap between the "ideally right" and "the practically possible". We must not despair if the gap is very wide in these days. Progress is being made despite the difficulties, as, for example, in Western Union and towards the Atlantic Security Pact.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The population of Toronto has been raised by the coming of 200 gypsies, invited, no doubt, as part of a 'Brighter Toronto' movement.

A doctor says that people who take cold baths don't have rheumatism. They don't need it; they're miserable already.

With lumber the price it is at present the once-scorned wooden nickel should be worth at least a quarter.

The Guelph Mercury announces ungallantly that married women have bigger feet than single women. Spread, no doubt, by putting them down so often.

The plastic dresses which were promised during the war are now considered to be out of the question. Disappointing, as we had visions of brides dressed in cellophane, symbolic of purity and perfect freshness.

"Potatoes prove good buy and extremely versatile" says a news item in the Montreal Gazette. We'll give that a by and still call a spud a spud.

Diary Of A Social Failure

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: A Royal Prince born today and I can hardly wait to see how the newspaper announcement will be phrased. Will it simply read: "H.R.H. the Duchess of Edinburgh, of a son", or will it be couched in the cosy phraseology of our Canadian papers, thus: "Betty and Phil announce that it's a boy, a nephew for Aunt Maggie". I am always delighted by these folksy communications, which seem, somehow, to ameliorate the indelicacy of birth....While listening to the radio heard somebody refer to a man as the possessor of "a well-furnished mind". If one thinks of minds in terms of interior decoration a whole new field of fantasy presents itself. Some people I know have minds which appear to have been furnished throughout by the book-clubs with shiny, pretentious, run-of-the-mill furniture, upholstered in plastic and stuffed with mouldy hay; others have minds which are, like attics, repositories of disused and dilapidated ideas; richly, lavishly, or even comfortably furnished minds are regrettably few.

MONDAY: My morning paper expects me to sympathize with a man who shot a bear cub, and then was charged by the mother bear; he and his companion fired eleven shots at her before they finally killed her. But before I congratulate him on his escape I would like to know why he shot at the cub in the first place? Had he never heard that bears are strange, unpredictable beasts, likely to chase people who shoot their young? And what is the fun of shooting a bear, large or small? Is it the pleasure of seeing it fall down? Or does a shot bear leap comically into the air, shouting "O my goodness!", thus providing the hunter with a hearty laugh? It seems to me that I once read in an old musty book (very much out of date, probably) that it was unsportsmanlike to shoot the young of any animal, or to shoot a female who was running with her young. But it is plain from the reports which appear in the papers every season that ideals of sportsmanship have changed, and that the tactics which, in political circles, are called "realistic" are now in fashion.

TUESDAY: A man asked me today if I play bridge. No, I don't. An ancestor of mine was once a fair euchre player, but the talent for cards died out of the family when he passed. In my youth, when I still thought that by Herculean efforts I might turn myself into a social success, I tried to read a book about bridge, but it was worse than geometry. For the same reason I tried to learn to dance, and although I enjoyed it I found that I got on better without a partner than with one, and this was considered eccentric in the circle in which I moved. Still pursuing the fleeting goal of popularity I attempted to become a raconteur, and memorized several funny stories and a number of witty rejoinders which I dragged painfully into any conversation in which I was engaged; this device failed me, also. It was quite a long time before I realized that I lacked the qualities which makes a man the darling of a large and brilliant circle of friends, and resigned myself to being an outcast and a curmudgeon. Nowadays when I am asked to a party I sit in a corner and snarl at anyone who comes near me. This is called Being a Character, and although it is not very much fun for anyone, it is the best I can manage.

WEDNESDAY: Called by the Mayor today. "The Governor General is coming to town", said His Worship, "and the only way we can get him up to my place is past Marchbanks Towers; what about getting some of that junk out of your front yard? If you like, I can send a gang up from the Works Department, and bill you for it". "Have no fear", I replied; "Marchbanks is no man to affront His Majesty's representative, and the Towers will be a bower as you sweep by with your fine friends"....But as I laid down the telephone I reflected that His Excellency will be honouring my street on a Garbage Day, when my neighbours and I conspire to turn the whole avenue into a replica of Hogan's Alley, and the jolly doggies strew our kitchen rubbish in a thick carpet all over the pavement. When Catherine the Great of Russia passed through a village, false fronts, like Hollywood scenery, were put on all the huts, and sleek, well-dressed peasants stood in front of the fakes, while the real owners cowered hungrily behind the dunghills. Could not something like this be done tomorrow?

* * *

THURSDAY: The Governor General and his Lady visited my city today and I attired myself suitably in Canadian National Costume, consisting of a cowboy hat, a Red River flannel shirt, a Quebec doeskin wamus, Bay Street trousers (made of imported cloth and beautifully creased) and St. Catherine's Street shoes (patent leathers with buttoned cloth tops); under this I wore a hair shirt (to represent the Canadian Puritan Conscience) and a pair of underpants which have been sitting for thirty years and are due for retirement (to represent the Civil Service); in addition I wore a tartan cummerbund (to represent the Maritimes, sometimes referred to as "the soft underbelly of Canada") and a string of ice-cubes around the brim of my hat (to represent the immense promise of our Northland). In this picturesque garb I stood at my gate and as the Vice-Regal party drove by on its way to refreshment with the Mayor I cheered lustily in English and French; cheered again as the party drove back to the teetotal meat-tea which had been prepared downtown....The costume was quite a strain and gave me a new realization of what a difficult country Canada is to unify.

* * *

FRIDAY: Saw a man blowing his nose on his fingers in the street today. This ancient art is in decline, and our grandchildren will know it only as a bygone custom, like chewing tobacco, taking snuff, and giving women seats in streetcars. And yet when one thinks of all the great figures of the past who were adepts at it — Mary, Queen of Scots, St Thomas Aquinas, Dr. Johnson, Madame de Pompadour, George Washington and Laura Secord—one regrets that the advance of hygiene has broken this link between us and them. They had handkerchiefs, of course, but they used them for flourishing about, and occasional polishing of the nose when the main business had been done.

* * *

SATURDAY: One cannot associate with women for long without finding that the tiresome creatures never have a pencil with them when they need one. And yet they are tormented with the urge to write things down, and quite often they have little books especially for that purpose. But a pencil—no! A century or so ago women carried affairs called chatelaines from which were suspended, by chains, their keys, thimbles, scissors, pincushions and other accessories, and invariably a little notebook with a silver pencil attached to it by another chain. One constantly reads in old novels of the heroine "with her chatelaine hanging from her zone". Zone was a fancy word for belt, and indicated simply that it was an encircling line of some sort. Occasionally ladies wore them very high, up in the temperate zone; when fashion changed the chatelaine dropped to the Equator which, because of the heavy corsets worn at the time, may be referred to as the Torrid Zone. In medieval times the chatelaine was worn low, and was probably rivetted to those steel step-ins in which gentlemen of the times saw fit to encase their ladies before riding off to the Crusades.

CIVIC ELECTION

Sir: May I use some of your valuable space, to comment on the coming civic election in Peterborough. I've noticed that several of council members are offering themselves for re-election, also several new faces. Including two or three Labor men. During the last few years Peterborough has grown considerably, both in area and population. It is mainly a manufacturing city. Thus a workingman's city. But one fact stands out very much. While all the men on the council did good service to the city and were a fine type, there has not been a direct Labor representative elected to the council, one who could speak for Labor. In Labor our voice. It is very strange in a city where the working men predominates. There are many men in the ranks of the workers, who would do a good job on the council. Surely the workingman has confidence in their own leaders. If they vote solidly together, there is no reason why this year's slate of labor candidates can not be elected.

Only one thing more. It is up to the workers to see that their candidates which are picked to run are going to sincerely work for the cause of Labor, and not for any doctrines which are foreign to our way of life. Thanking you for your valuable space.

I am, yours truly,

M. BERNARD GLAUM.

HOLY SABBATH

Sir: I was much interested in the reply of Rev. Mr. Webber to your editorial on the Lord's Day Act. To me he gets at the real point of the matter when he says that amusement concessions at summer resorts are definitely profit making business. This seems to be a point where our waning consciousness of God asserts itself. Yet inconsistently we feel no twinge of conscience at listening to high paid radio performers.

It is at this point that my puritanical despicacy of hypocrisy asserts itself, and secularism of current religious practice creeps in. Of course with me it gets back to my pet theme that it is our basic system which is out of line. If the profit motive is so evil that it cannot be countenanced on Sunday, I can't see why its practice is in its present form should be such a marvel of social conduct on the other six days. There are many people who appear to think that God closes His eyes on week days. To me the farmer who milks on Sunday isn't fooling God a bit by collecting his pay check later on. We know that milking a cow on Sunday is in conformity with the natural law of need. It is man not God who has introduced the inconsistency.

There are no inconsistencies in the pattern of the basic principles of the natural laws of God, and man cannot justify himself with God by man made laws to cover up violations of these basic laws. Christians would do far better to take the attitude of Christ that there is no accent on any paricular day, but that we are living in the Sabbath Day of God, and that if we do not conform in our daily life to the natural laws of God, which our advanced knowledge is making more clear, they will break us, not us them.

Of course I realize that men like Mr. Webber must feel some form of justification for the Lord's Day Act, but to me there is only one interpretation to the allegorical picture presented in Genesis, Chapter 3, verses 1-13. To me this lesson means that man is supposed to use his power of reason in all fields but the determination of good and evil, and so I feel that supporters of the Lord's Day Act are carrying out a continuation of the original sin of Adam and Eve. The result can only lead to a state of religious turmoil, and contradictory conflict with basic natural laws of God, which means a retarding of man's advancement to a higher plane of relationship with God.

While I realize that the solution lies outside of the spiritual field in the realm of economics, it must have a spiritual background in its conformity to the natural laws of God. All through the natural forms of life we find provision for need. Yet, man comes along and sets up a lop-sided economic system which is based entirely on production with no study or plan for distribution or need. The result is that we keep legislation bodies on the jump to change this, and change that, and tax this and tax that, in a futile attempt to change a rolling ball into a solid block.

One result, as cited in a U.S. magazine, the Farm Journal, seems worthy of comment. Last year the U.S. Government took 35 million bushels of potatoes off the market, at least some of which they dumped. This year as early as September they had bought 12 million bushels and lost $20 million. Of course this year they didn't put them out to rot, they sold 1.5 million bushels to millers at 9c a bushel and bought them back as flour at $6.75 to $7.00 per hundred weight. At the same time the Saturday Evening Post of recent date presents an article depicting how the expenditure of large amounts of public funds have irrigated an area so that one man was able to establish a record of 1,188.2 bushels of potatoes per acre.

I know that my ideas may sound screwy to a lot of folks, but when I think that the lives of this generation and the ones to come, are in the hands of legislatures and parliaments, I think that our main efforts should be to see that they conform to the natural laws of God, and let the folks who want to throw baseballs at Kewpie Dolls on Sunday do so.

Yours truly,

RALPH G. KILBON.

NOMINATION TIME IN PETERBOROUGH COUNTY

Sir: Everyone in Peterborough County should be very wide awake concerning the momentous effect an ignorant, selfish, irresponsible official or the type of an official, who, after he is elected, turns a deaf ear and blindness toward all business projects, that should give the people their legal rights as citizens, would have if placed or kept in office. Dummer Tp. now again have notice that Nomination Day this year is Nov. 29 at 1 p.m.

Peterborough needs officials who by their honesty, integrity in all respects, willingless and able to give their best ability, time unselfishly and to be capable, alert and willing to fight (if necessary) for, that which is the best for and the will of, the majority of people, who found just cause to trust, nominate and elect, that official for a position which in time may be a stepping stone toward the highest, most honoured, most cherished and trustworthy office of the county, province or the Dominion. Canada, at this most crucial time, needs an official in every office who is not afraid to think, act and induce all other contacted workers, to think and act, on all occasions, regardless of majority or the power against them, act for all that is right for the safety, welfare and the future, to promote that which will develop the higher standard physically, mentally and spiritually for this and future generations.

The potentialities of this Peterborough County cannot be fully estimated by this generation, even though, I among others have on different occasions, by articles have tried to impress the facts of those existing potentialities, as, they concern this and the future of this county in respect to other parts of his province and Dominion. We need officials who do not spend their time from one election time to the next on how they can remain in office, but only see to the end of their own nose and to the depth of their own pocket and not consider the needs, the deserving advancement of advantages to promote the welfare in all respects of all those who gave their trust and put that official in office.

Every candidate should question himself and be sure he has the honesty, time to serve, willingness to serve the public as they desire and not just as he may do to join others to form a majority to promote that which is not right or the will of the people. We need, capable and alert thinkers of quality against quantity, right against wrong, moral against the immoral and above all, a strong enduring patience, perseverance and the will, to hold steadfast and maintain the rights for every individual within the borders of this country an equal right for educational advantages, health, liberty for the pursuit of life, such as, any citizen should deserve and enjoy in a democratic country.

In order to obtain, hold and make use of our rights, every citizen should boost and attend the meetings and vote to hold the right to vote.

LIKES PAPER BOY

Sir: Your apparent dislike to Colonel George Drew is more than obvious from your editorials of the last month. May I be so bold as to suggest you find a new personality to ponder about. Most of us in this riding are not so biased in our opinions. Please, Mr. Editor, stick to the Arts. You are far better qualified in the cultural fields than in the political as a writer.

I should dislike cancelling my Examiner as I thoroughly like my paper boy.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience....

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. (James 1: 2, 3, 12.)

* * *

And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openth; I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Rev. 3: 7-13.)

And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead. Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

LET'S START A CONTROVERSY—not just for the sake of arguing but with the hope of improving the open seasons. Here's the question. At a meeting in Toronto of the Central Kawartha Lakes Tourist Association, it was suggested that the pickerel season open May 1, the same time as the open season for speckled trout. It was also suggested that the pickerel season be closed in June. The idea is to eliminate boat fishing entirely, take the pressure off the trout streams by allowing the pickerel anglers to start the same time as the trout fishermen, and also to reduce poaching by permitting fishing at a time when all anglers are itching to wet a line.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THE SUGGESTION has a lot of merit. First, let's consider the trout, although that is far from being the most important angle. Hundreds of pickerel fishermen throng the trout streams with heavy tackle on May 1, and kill many undersize fish. They also lack the skill and technique of the brook trout addict, and ruin the fishing for these veterans, by scaring the daylights out of the trout population. If pickerel season were open, they would be fishing on the river, the pressure would be taken off the trout streams, and a substantial contribution made toward trout conservation. By June 1, the fly hatches have started, and if the pickerel fisherman switches to the trout stream then, using worms, he will give up in disgust after a few tries. At the same time, the trout fisherman following the feeding habits of the fish will turn to flies and have the stream pretty much to himself.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

NOW LET'S CONSIDER the local angler. For the past five years anglers have fumed and fretted through the delightful May weather until the 15th, while the river ebbed to near-summer level. By the time the season opened, the run had been over at least two weeks, and the peak of the fishing was past. Many disgruntled worm dunkers claimed the season was being set to suit the non-resident fisherman, and while this is untrue, weather and water conditions seemed to verify the charge. They can't see why the season shouldn't be opened on May 1. At that time the walleyes are up in fast water, and the bass and muskies are not. Poachers are active during the first 15 days of May, and it is reasonable to expect that this poaching would be reduced if legal fishing was permitted. By the time June arrived the edge has been taken off the anglers' appetites and the pickerel fishing has also fallen off, because the majority of the fish have moved into deep water. Perhaps local anglers would not mind having the pickerel season closed in June—or would they?

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

TOURIST RESORT OPERATORS can be expected to oppose closing the pickerel season in June. Up at Bobcaygeon, Americans claim they are lured to this area in June by advertising, but when they come and try boat fishing, all they catch is bass. By that time the fast-water fishing for pickerel is no good. At least that is their story, not mine. They would prefer to see the bass, maskinonge and pickerel season extended to Oct. 15. At present the muskie season ends Oct. 1, and anglers can troll, cast or still-fish for bass and pickerel. They catch the muskies too, and not all are returned to the water. If June was closed, the pickerel season moved back to May 1, and the season lengthened to Oct. 15, the anglers would have about the same amount of fishing. From the resort owner's standpoint, he has no trouble getting fishing parties in May; June is a dead month, but the same parties return with their families in July or August and often make a third trip in late September. Extension of the muskie season to Oct. 15, might bring more tourists back a third time.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THE CURSE of the whole picture is this screwy law that permits fishing from an anchored boat with bait only. That law cannot be enforced, and its abuse is angering hundreds of sportsmen who want to keep the law. If boat fishing was outlawed until July 1, then the whole problem would be solved. I am talking now about the four counties of Durham, Northumberland, Peterborough and Victoria, because these are the ones affected by this legislation. This law was passed about 1933 at the request of the Bewdley Association, so far as I can learn. It might well be repealed because there is plenty of fast water in this district to give the angler good pickerel fishing during May. I mean shore fishing with either artificial or live bait. It is true that resorts which now rent boats during the pickerel season would suffer, but the improvement to bass and muskies because of the June protection might far outweigh any temporary financial loss.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THERE IT IS. What do you think of it? Mind you, it is not my idea, but I do admit I am sympathetic toward it. It is likely this suggestion will be put before the fish and game committee of the Legislature, so perhaps local fishermen and resort owners should give some consideration to it. The opposition to opening pickerel fishing on May 15, has been growing every year, and if they open it on May 1, it won't hurt my feelings a bit. I think that pickerel have done far more harm than good to the general tourist and fishing picture in the Kawarthas since their introduction. They are heavy feeders and if a few more were taken out in the first two weeks of May, I believe it would help all round. At any rate it is up to the anglers themselves. Let's have your comments.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

APPEAL DISMISSED. Anglers and hunters will welcome the news that the Court of Appeal upheld a judgment awarding damages of $5,600 to six Sudbury resort owners for what they claimed was pollution damage caused by waste from a paper mill. Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Co. at Espanola was the defendent. Chief Justice McRuer originally ruled that refuse from the Company's plant polluted waters of the Spanish river and killed fish, thereby hampering the tourist trade, on which the property owners depend for a livelihood. Chief Justice McRuers' decision in granting an injunction to each of the property owners restraining the paper company from depositing foreign substances in the Spanish river in future, was also upheld by the Court of Appeal. This is a straw in the wind, an indication that Ontario sportsmen can fight water pollution in the courts and win. Perhaps before another year is out the Federation of Anglers representing more than 110,000 sportsmen will be instituting an action, too.

Canada Vice-Regal Couple Attend Ottawa's Tiny Anglican Church

By JEAN LOVE

OTTAWA— There is a little Anglican church on Mackay St., back of Rideau Hall here, which has been the Vice-Regal place of worship since Confederation and has long been linked with royalty

Their Excellencies, Viscount Alexander of Tunis and Lady Alexander regularly attend morning service and take communion at St. Bartholomew's along with the other parishioners, as have the Governors-General of Canada for more than three-quarters of a century.

When they are home from school in England, the Alexanders' three children sit with their parents in the pew at the front right of the church especially reserved for members of the Vice-Regal party. Visitors at Rideau Hall usually go along with Their Excellencies for Sunday worship. The first pew bears the royal coat of arms, and is furnished with five chairs.

Many governors-general were accustomed to reading the lesson in this church, though Viscount Alexander does not do so. Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, U.K. high commissioner is a frequent reader. Members of the families of the squires of Rideau Hall have taught in the Sunday school and sung in the choir down through the year.

Like most churches these days, St. Bartholomew's is not crowded. There are no tourists because this church is well off the main thoroughfares. The interior is dark, rather shabby, but mellow and pretty.

The congregation is used to seeing the King's representative come to church with members of his party, aides and lady-in-waiting, file up the aisle at one minute to 11. There is no gold braid, pomp or ceremony about the presence of the people from Rideau Hall. They come, as do the regular parishioners, simply to worship God quietly and reverently at the nearest church of their faith.

Rev. A. T. Carson, formerly from Smiths Falls, now rector of St. Bartholomew's, will tell you that Their Excellencies are among his best parishioners as far as attendance and helping at church functions are concerned. "The Alexanders are devoted to their church," Mr. Carson says.

The Women's Parish Guild of St. Bartholomew's often call on one of their own members to officiate at their bazaars—Lady Alexander. I was at a bazaar she opened there recently. Like any good church worker, the Viscountess is ready to do her share of the work. She contributes articles for sale, makes a speech and then, buys things.

Opening the event in the old parish hall, where the first stone was set in place on St. Bartholomew's Day, 1867, Her Excellency said: "I think special mention should be made of the ladies who have put so much effort into the making of these articles and the decorating of the booths.

"The raising of money for the care and upkeep of the congregation," Lady Alexander continued. "They can relieve the rector of financial difficulties which will leave him free to look after the spiritual needs of our members. I am happy to open this bazaar and in so doing, wish you the very best of luck."

Her Excellency then visited each booth chatting with the women in charge and commenting on the quality of articles for sale. Lady Alexander's first purchase was a blue baby's sweater and bootees. Then she bought a box of home-made chocolate fudge and two blue print aprons her own size. Then she had tea with Mrs. C. D. Howe, president, and the guild executive.

Located close enough to Rideau Hall to enable its residents to walk to church, the quaint old St. Bartholomew's parish hall was finished in 1867. The church itself was not completed until 1868 when Viscount Monck, Canada's first governor-general, laid the cornerstone.

Lady Victoria, the daughter of Early Grey, GG, 1904-11, was buried from St. Batholomew's. In 1931, the infant son of the Earl and Countess of Bessborough was baptized at the altar. His sponsors were His Majesty King George V, with Sir Robert Borden, formerly prime minister, as proxy, and Lord Stanley, with Viscount Duncannon as proxy.

Many of the church furnishings were donated by royalty. The altar cross and candlesticks were a gift of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. The large east window was given by the Duke of Connaught and was unveiled by the Prince of Wales, Nov. 19, 1919. The communion vessels were donated by Viscount Willingdon. The Duke of Devonshire presented a Bible. The altar desk was given by the Marchioness of Dufferin. The three bells were a gift of Princess Louise.

The two aged flags hanging in the chancel, the Union Jack and the Cross of St. George, were made by the hand of Princess Patricia. The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen gave the organ.

Many tablets in the church recall famous names. This is where many of the King's representatives have worshipped God for more than 80 odd years. Mingling with the rest of the congregation in praise and prayer are princes, dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts and barons.

I was at St. Bartholomew's for morning service on Sunday and I was struck by the way this church continues to wear its regalities quietly, affectionately, and in an atmosphere of humble reverence. This is indeed a credit to the congregation and to those responsible for its direction.

St. Bartholomew's is truly a holy place that breathes the simplicity of greatness in the heart of the nation.

Young Peterborough Artist Acclaimed In His Picture 'Stairway To Heaven'

By FRANCIS HENRY LOVE

Have you been in the Public Library lately? Did you notice the art exhibit on your left as you enter? You didn't? Then go back and take another look for there, in the most obscure corner of the exhibit you will find the most imaginative picture ever painted in Peterborough.

It is called "Stairway to Heaven". It was painted by Tom Ashby, an 18-year-old student at the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School.

A passing glance will seem to indicate that it is just a page full of swords and curlicues and beautifully drawn lines. Tom's great grandfather was a draftsman of some note and his father, Clyde Ashby, is no mean hand with a brush.

The steps to Heaven are always a little obscure. If the stairway was running down instead of up you would have no trouble recognizing it.

The picture has three things in particular to commend it. Foremost is the outstanding imaginative conception of the artist. This is based on a firm foundation of skill in drawing, plus plenty of patience and hard work.

The technique of the picture is as simple to the lay mind as nuclear fission. On a cardboard base the artist drew a pattern of light and dark colors with wax crayon. This base is then rubbed with chalk dust a certain amount of which is absorbed by the wax. A coating of India ink is then brushed on and absorbed by the chalk. The base is now ready for the drawing.

The actual drawing is done with a pen nib or stylus or other sharp instrument. It is here that Tom's outstanding skill as a draftsman comes out. It is the symmetry of line plus his imaginative conception that makes the picture a poem in color.

Of course you will recognize at once that this is not a Canadian primitive. Back of this picture you will find much study and diligence. The study of poetry, literature, music appreciation as well as drawing. And back of it all is Miss Earla MacVannel, Tom's art teacher. Miss MacVannel and her work are very much alive and very much a part of Peterborough, and have been for the past seven years.

The Provincial Department of Education thinks so much of Miss MacVannel's work that they lure her down to Toronto every summer to teach other artists and teachers at a wage that makes you wonder why she stays with us.

But Miss MacVannel likes Peterborough. It has a stimulating atmosphere. She finds that our students are stimulating to work with and she finds considerable scope here for her progressive ideas on art.

Artistically speaking, Tom Ashby thinks that Miss MacVannel has a very stimulating personality. The only thing she is dogmatic about is that each student must use a motif from their own background. After that down to earth start they are encouraged to let their imagination run riot.

But "Stairway to Heaven" is not the only picture in the exhibit. Each one of the other represents a different phase of the work done at the collegiate. Then there is the textile design and the clay work, both worth studying. The batik work is also of more than ordinary interest. This is drawn with a brush dipped in hot wax then the color is put in by dyeing. This operation has to be performed over again for each color. In this case two.

Miss MacVannel's students are enthusiastic about the work they do and they think she is tops as a teacher. She has instilled in them a love of creative work which will be reflected in the future life of our city.

Like most of the students, Tom Ashby does not expect to follow art as his life work. There does not seem to be many opportunities in that line in Peterborough. But he thinks that what he has learned in art class will help him in any kind of work because it has stimulated his thinking.

Some people see a stairway as just a good place to break one's neck. Tom Ashby sees it as something on which a man could climb to the stars so he called it "Stairway to Heaven."

Training Day Formed Part In Canada's Early Defence

There are few people in the Peterborough district today who remember the annual Training Day of the Victorian era. These twelve-monthly periods of rifle and foot drill formed the basis of Canada's 19th century defence.

Although the militia in Canada was never constant enough to be relied on in time of emergency without help from permanent fighting forces, the citizen's volunteer army rallied on every needful occasion and contributed to the establishment of the British constitution in the colonies of the new world. The militia, of course, was not voluntary, but they liked to think of it in that manner.

Reference is made to these training days quite often in the archives of Peterborough's past, and it is apparent that although military matters were concentrated more in Toronto and Kingston than in the Colborne district there was more than idle interest shown by Peterborough men in the defence of their country.

Training Day was patriot day in Upper Canada, and it was held on the birthday of the king, and, after 1837, on the birthday of the Queen, May 24.

In 1793 the four districts of Upper Canada were divided into 12 counties. In some manner the people of each district were registered for service in the militia, and each county had its own regiments and companies, commanded by a lieutenant of the regular forces who was assisted by ostensibly deserving officers selected from the militia. The companies were to assemble for inspection once a year, and all men between the ages of 16 and 50 were liable for service. Those who did not voluntarily register in the militia were fined a sum not exceeding $4. The penalty for failing to attend parade was $8 for officers and $2 for men.

Although military service was less voluntary then than now, the awarded with considerable more equity than sometimes seems the case in modern times.

In 1793 the Militia Act was amended to include, in time of war, men of 60 years of age, which, in fact, was statute up until World War II. However, men over 50 were exempted from service in the militia in time of peace but were subjected to a fine in time of war until they had reached the exempt age. Quakers and other religious sects who did not believe in violence were exempt but were required to pay a fee which was used by the various companies to outfit bands.

The men of the militia were obliged to serve either aboard ship or out of the province for a period not exceeding six months, but on occasion entire militia groups waived their exemption in order to finish their campaigns. There were virtually no exemptions from these rules.

There were 9,000 citizen soldiers in Upper Canada in 1794. It was a give-all arrangement, because the militiamen were required not only to provide their own muskets but the powder and shot as well. There was no pay for their service, and defaulters of these responsibilities were fined £5 in peace and 40 shillings in time of war. General Brock later obtained gratuities for these men. They were the same soldiers who captured Detroit in the War of 1812, who fought with Brock at Queenston Heights, who fought at Stoney Creek, Beaver Dams and Chrysler's Farm.

In spite of everything, the militiamen responded to a call in 1837, when there were no regulars available to put down the Mackenzie Rebellion. So many of them went to Toronto from the new settlements that they were asked to go back home because there was no food for them in the capital.

Another Militia Act of 1855 provided for a force of 7,000. Training now became a state responsibility, and arms, food, uniforms and pay were given for 10 days' training annually.

In 1866 and 1870 Upper Canadian militiamen defended the frontier against the Fenian Raids, and served in the Red River Expedition in 1870. They also took part in the Northwest Rebellion in 1885.

The militia never quite escaped the ridicule of the regulars, however. All early defence in America was provided by paid regulars from the British armies, and the militia was intended merely as a supplement. Because of their general awkwardness on the parade square (which was understandable in view of their limited exposure to the military) they made no pretence of making Training Days public appearances. Their exercises were done as often as possible in the seclusion of some woodland clearing.

William Johnston, who came from the famous line of British soldiers, recounted a training day of 1860, the Queen's birthday. "It was a hot day," he writes. "Men had come from miles around. The company commander, Col. Sparling, was on a horse to lend some dignity to the otherwise sloppy occasion. Few of the officers had been trained and it was difficult to put the men through their drill."

An Irishman named Cathcart took the initiative and marched the rabble up and down, and had them shoulder and ground arms. The difficulty arose when the command to "change front" was given. Someone had attached a clump of grass to the grass buttons of his companions claw-hammer coat tails. The colonel's horse reached for the fresh morsel and held until the cloth gave away.

This incident so upset the gravity of the occasion that the officers proposed three cheers for the Queen and dismissed the militia for another year.

And so, Canada's reserve forces have evolved from the old militia. Training Day has disappeared, but the volunteer method of raising forces for peacetime as well as for war is still intact. The Queen's birthday is now a day set apart for track meets and fishing.

PCVS Seniors Lose To UCC In Hard-Fought Grid Fray

Defeating PCVS 28-17 in Toronto yesterday, Upper Canada College won the ORFU interscholastic senior championship before a big crowd. Many Peterborough fans stood around the UCC Oval gridiron and saw a swell struggle during the misty afternoon. The sudden-death game was staged there as UCC won the toss.

Outweighed on an average of at least 15 pounds a man, Coach Bey Goulding's Garnet and Gray gridders went down battling to the finish. UCC had a 5-0 lead in the first quarter and built it into an impressive 18-5 margin at the half. PCVS then roared back into the game for a 12-0 edge in the third to have the score 18-17 for Upper Canada. But the latter clinched the victory late in the game with a 10-0 fourth-quarter drive.

Two Injured

Both starting ends for Peterborough, Bart Grainger and Jim Swanston, were aided off the field in the last half with injuries. Grainger was believed to have a fractured jaw when he left the game in the third quarter after a high block. Swanston was smashed in a pile-up and carried off, the extent of his injuries not being known for sure right after the tussle finished up. It was a typical hard-hitting playoff game, and a lot more penalties could have been called, especially on the bigger homesters.

The backfield work of Blair Thomson and Johnny Green was outstanding throughout, while Al Northcott and Wally Graham were effective frequently. All the line worked terrifically against heavier opponents, and all the alternates shot the works every time out. The big gun for UCC was Bob Bazos, huge and speedy half, who reeled off large gains almost every time he got the ball. O'Sullivan was another tough one to stop and the team as a whole played fine football.

Got Touchdown

After a nice runback by Green in the first frame, Bazos bucked 30 to midfield. O'Sullivan got 12 more and Bazos moved the sticks again as they ripped into a lighter line. Working in closer, Bill Campbell on a cutback scored from several yards out, but it wasn't converted. Green took the kick and Thompson plunged for six. Bazos took their kick and ran 20 to his own 40. He threw a pass to Hewitt, who ran for a try but it was called back. Later Bazos ran back another hoof 20 yards till Thomson downed him neatly. Blair bucked 15 but they had to kick after that. A Bazos ripped through for 45 yards and O'Sullivan bucked nine at quarter's end.

On the first play next heat, Baos ripped through for 45 yards and a touchdown, Andison converting to make it 11-0. Green had a 15-yard runback to his 30 and later Swanston pounced on a UCC fumble after a kick on the homesters' 45-yard strip. On a fancy flicker play, Graham threw a pass 35 yards to Green, who galloped 20 more for a major, the convert missing. Thomson intercepted a forward deep in his own area. Twice kicks were blocked, one recovered, and the other fallen on by Mathers over the line for a try, Andison converting. Shortly after, Bazos booted a single for a point to make it 18-5 at the half.

A Big Edge

PCVS battled back in the third for a 12-0 edge. Grainger threw Ball for a loss and a kick went to Northcott who ran 10 to UCC 45. The latter then drew a penalty, but Bazos ran out Graham's good kick. On a fumble, PCVS almost recovered back of the line for a major, but didn't. Northcott later took a short kick on UCC's 30-yard chalk. Green flipped a forward to Northcott for the try, and Northcott kicked the convert. Grainger came off hurt, and Graham pulled an end run of 25 to the College's 45-yard chalk. Northcott and Thomson drove up closer and then Thomson took it over for the major, Northcott kicking the convert to make it 18-17.

Two PCVS penalties early in the fourth pushed them back, and then speedy O'Sullivan shook loose on a reverse to travel 40 yards for a touchdown, not converted. UCC returned a kick and Thomson started another drive up. They got an incomplete forward on interference and a penalty to give them possession at midfield, but O'Sullivan intercepted a pass and went 25 to PCVS 35. Bazos and Anderson each gained 15 on a lateral and then Bazos went over for another try to end the scoring. Green again made a net runback and Graham bucked 15 to the UCC 45. Thomson got five but they intercepted another pass. Swanston went off hurt late in the quarter and they were battling bitterly a the last whistle. The losers congratulated the victors.

Neills And CGE Gain Wins In Girls' Loop

Neill's defeated Lock Co. 22-10 and CGE won from Normals 22-7 in Girl's Basketball League games at the YWCA gym last night. Rainy weather probably kept a number of fans away but two lively games were dished up, the losers rallying in each case when it was too late.

In the opening tussle, the Neill's crew racked up a 17-2 margin with an early and sustained drive, while the loser's couldn't get clicking at the start. Lock Co. really came to life in the last half to outscore their opponents 8-4 but the damage was done by then and time ran out on them. Some good basketball was seen by both sides. For Neill's, Wilma Floyd, Jean Vass — till she retired via the foul route—and Joan Dunk went best. J. Paterson, Joan McIntyre and Betty McIlwaine were the pick of the Lock Co. cagers. The teams:

Neill's—M. Freeman 4, J. Dunk 2, J. Vass 5, W. Floyd 8, J. Caverley 8, F. Floyd, J. Smedmor.

Lock Co.—J. Paterson 4, J. McIntpre, I. Harvey, J. Johnston 2, D. Jackson, M. Crowley, B. Holmes, B. McIlwaine 2, J. Wilson 2.

Second Game

Electrics were too good for the Normals in the second scrap of the evening, though the latter made it a battle the last half. CGE led in the first half 12-0 and had a 10-7 edge in the tighter last part. But that big lead of CGE could not be whittled down much as they played a solid game in all departments. Betty Stewart starred with 14 of their points, while Marg Kennedy and Marg Perrin were other aces. Ruth Dougherty, M. Bayne and M. Pearse went best for the losers. The teams:

CGE—M. Kennedy 6, M. Batley, I. Scotcher, A. Collins, B. Barry, T. DeCarlo, D. Schell, B. Stewart 14, M. Perrin 2.

Normals—M. Brown, F. Bate, R. Dougherty 2, M. Bayne 4, R. Lytle 1, V. Jameson, J. Abernathy, M. Pearse.

Referee, D. Plunkett; timer, A. Neiman.

Tee to Hack

By HERB MARTIN

The accident that happened to Howard Clegg last evening is the first of its kind to happen to any curler, in our rink as far back as we can remember, and we can go back quite a way.

Mr. Clegg had just begun to play his game against J. McDermid, on ice No. 5, when he took one step backwards and fell, his right leg snapped. He was immediately taken to the hospital by his fellow curlers, Dr. R. Clark in attendance.

At the time of writing this column we have had no further report from the hospital. We know that curlers will be hoping for his speedy recovery.

Our good friend Chris Graham paid a visit to the rink last evening, for the first time since his accident, sometime ago. He was kept busy shaking hands. He was glad to be out and the boys were equally glad to see him up and around again.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

There was a picture showing here earlier in the week. More or less a war movie about Hitler. Showed the ranting dictator at the peak of his power but, of course, didn't have a camera trained on him when he shot himself like a rat in a Berlin cellar. And we got thinking of the days in the late 30s when folks would listen fearfully to his screaming gutturals on the radio—translated between outbursts into English—and how things worsened until war swept most of the world. We recalled some fine chaps from here who served and didn't come back, and others who came back crippled up.

* * * * * *

Other things came to mind, too. Like local athletics just before the war. They were good, but times weren't. Hungry 30s, remember? Lots of houses and apartments for rent. Cheap, too. Not many jobs, though. Lot of fellows were on relief. Others did government road work on the Apsley highway, and for mighty small wages. Later, there was plenty of money for munitions. Gang of guys and girls around the factory gates every morning and every afternoon, waiting for the employment manager to come out and say: "Sorry, no one being hired today." Quite a few vacant stores around town. Prices were down, but so were wages—if you had a job.

* * * * * *

Some Of The Best

As we said, sports were good. Some of the best ever seen here. Senior football, for instance. Colorful baseball under Knotty Lee in a strong COBL. A hockey team which won the Eastern Canadian intermediate title. But gates generally weren't too good even though ducats were comparatively cheap. Often, the unemployed were let in free. After all, they had lots of time on their hands but no dough. Oh, yes, we had a rink then, too—not a big modern one, but a rink. However, we'll have one here again this winter after a long time without one.

* * * * * * *

Well, the war came and went. Not just as easily as that, of course. It was mighty tough but it eventually ended with the dictator and his dupes overthrown, but at great cost. For those in this country who came through it unscathed, things have definitely improved. Except that it's a terrific task to get a house or an apartment. Plenty of employment for all and wages are highest in history. Folks are making about double what they did before the war—though, it seems, the cost of living has at least doubled, too. Sports everywhere are booming. Good games before big crowds, with athletes wanting more do-re-mi all the time and the customers coughing up plenty for ducats.

* * * * * *

Same Old Pattern

How times change. Though the pattern doesn't so much, after all. There was a boom after the first world war, then a long depression. Perhaps the only reason we aren't expecting a depression—we don't wear kid gloves, so don't call it a recession"—after this boom has caught up with itself is that some fear of another great war exists. Such a war may never occur, at least for many years yet, but it might, too. And, when it does, we're positive that sports-loving democratic countries—the kind that love games and freedom more than military parades—will eventually emerge victorious. However, this isn't much of a sports column today, is it? Too political or something. You wonder what's our point. None at all. Just that a picture about Hitler got us thinking back. Silly, we suppose.

* * * * * *

But getting back to present-day doings, Upper Canada College beat PCVS 28-17 in Toronto yester aft to win the ORFU interscholastic senior grid title. A swell scrap, 18-17 for UCC till out in the fourth quarter. And they were a big, tough team. Outweighed the PCI-ers more than 15 pounds all along the line and in the backfield. Looked more like a Big Four squad than a "little big four" team, as they're known. Huge Bob Bazos is a pip in the backfield. Reels off terrific gains regularly with his speed and size. O'Sullivan is mighty fast, too. But the smooth deception plays and battling spirit of PCVS made it a real game for the big crowd to enjoy. No disgrace at all for them to lose this one.

* * * * * *

Went Down Fighting

Captain Blair Thomson and Johnny Green shone in our book, with Wally Graham and Al Northcott not far behind. Whole team went fine, and it's hard to single out a few when they're all battling every minute. Lot of local fans on deck, also. Bart Grainger got a probable fractured jaw, and Jimmy Swanston was hurt—but we had to catch a train and didn't learn if it was bad. Concussion, probably. Anyway, he was carried off and out of the game. Both had been going swell in this struggle. The PCVS third-quarter drive when they had a 12-0 margin to whittle the count to 18-17 really had the boosters for the husky UCC champs worried. Well, that's that, but the Garnet and Gray went down fighting in a dandy playoff game.

Ski Club Plans Introduction To Activities

The Peterborough Ski Club is presenting their annual introduction to the winter's skiing season Thursday, Dec. 2nd, at 8 o'clock at the Collegiate Auditorium.

Special movies, produced and directed by Luggi Foeger and featuring the continent's outstanding ski personalities are being shown. Olympic champions, gathered together at the famous Sunshine Lodge near Banff, enjoy a work-out under the guiding eye of Toni Matt. On the slopes, they ride the bumps, work over their slalom techniques and rhythm perfection, run a slalom race against time and end their ski seminar with a pulse-quickening run down the famous slopes of Mt. Athabasca and across the Columbia ice fields.

"A Ski Pros' Holiday," the second film, has been universally acclaimed as one of the most beautiful ski pictures ever made. Professionals, Hans Schneider, Real Charette, Arnold Coquet and others are photographed ascending, and racing Mt. Athabasca. The breathtaking run across the snow-fields, through canyons, and finally back to their starting point is sustained by one of the finest musical scores heard.

Both these movies have toured the greater cities of Canada and United States, and are definitely worth seeing.

Also, members of the club executive will attempt to outline the plans for this season's activities, the improvements at Bethany, and news concerning memberships.

Door prizes will be a pair of Tyro boots, donated, and a pair of steel ski poles.

Digger Hats Stay

SYDNEY, Australia — (CP) — Quite a flutter was caused when it was reported that the slouch hat was to be discarded from the military wardrobe. But the report was erroneous. A new walking-out uniform is to be adopted, but the old hat is to be retained for active service.

TEAM MATCH LINED UP—Wrestling fans are in for a treat next Wednesday with the announcement from Manager Jim Laidlaw that he had lined up a team match between Fred Atkins, shown above, and Pat Flanagan on one side and Ben Morgan and Dan O'Connor on the other. The fans really go for these team matches and a capacity crowd should be on hand at the Brock Arena for next week's show. Two other outstanding matches will be on the card.

TWO FRIENDS who see eye to eye in almost everything else differ on chow preference. Tippy, dog mascot of Mrs. Helen K. Haggerty's racing stable, Andrampart, the little black mare who has won seven blue-ribbon stake races in 1948, seem to be talking it over at Miami, Fla. Rampart is enjoying a wisp of succulent hay. Tippy would prefer a hunk of liver.

CITY CARPETBALL

The dropping out of the Hasty Bees and the Navy League has put a slightly change in the schedule and we are not yet very certain about our friends from the Red Patch club. We would like to see some action if keeping this team in and probably scraping up one more to make it an even 10 at least.

Only one game reported so far this week when the Thistles met Vatry's and divided the points. In the first game Vatry's could not get going at all and fell before the count of 12-4 but in the second came back to get the best side of the 11-10 total.

Here is a change in the numbers:

The first six teams will remain as previously reported, the Glengarrys will be known as No. 7 from now on and the Red Patch Number 9.

To square up the schedule the games between LOL 3 and LOL 4 also Glens 7 and Woollens 8 should be played during the coming week.

Future games for the coming week—No. 3 bye; No. 1 vs No. 6; No. 2 vs No. 4; No. 5 vs No. 7; No. 8 vs No. 9.

No. 9 vs No. 1; No. 7 vs No. 3; No. 6 vs No. 3; No. 5 vs No. 4.

Latest—B. Ralston is now skip of the Thistles No. 5 and W. Gracie skip of the Red Patch Club.

FOOTBALL FEVER is running high throughout Canada as the day for the East-West football dawns. Both the Calgary Stampeders and the Ottawa Roughriders have been holding daily workouts in preparation for the fall classic to be played at Varsity stadium, Toronto, today. Both teams are rated an even chance of capturing the Grey cup, emblem of Canadian football supremacy. Among the Stampeders who are convinced that the mug will rest in Calgary this year are (left to right) Rod Pantagnes, Peter Thodos and Ced Gyles.

Carl Asmussen and his Kitchener rink Friday night won the Mutual Life trophy at Kitchener, defeating the Gordon Stevens rink from Toronto in the final 10-5. The trophy, premier event of the Kitchener Granite Club invitation bonspiel, has been won three times in the last four years by the Asmussen rink.

Canadian-bred, nine-year-old Sheperton, one of Canada's most colorful horses, Friday was sold to L. E. Smallman, of London, Ont. Big Shep, owned by Fred Schelke, will replace Khorasan at the head of Smallman's Medway farm stud.

Rocky Graziano, has been suspended indefinitely from boxing in California, Joe Genshlea, secretary of the state boxing commission said in Sacramento, Calif. Friday. Genshlea said the commission took the action as the result of Graziano's "running out" on a fight Dec 1 in Oakland with Fred Apostoli.

The commission also asked the National Boxing Commission to bar Graziano from fighting anywhere in the United States.

India's Thomas Cup badminton team arrived in Toronto Friday and one of their first moves was a trip to Toronto's Carlton Club—scene of their first-round cup match against Canada's team Dec. 3-4. Team Captain George Lewis wasn't over confident that his players would have an easy time beating the Canadians; "Our chances are 50-50."

Lewis confirmed that the team had cut short its stay in Montreal because the Canadian Badminton Association had refused them permission in an invitation match there this week-end.

"We had no other alternative," he said. "Since we are having the international match in Toronto, it would not have been fair to play. If we had lost it would have affected our game in Toronto."

J. B. Robertson of Lynden will head the Ontario Rural Hockey Association during 1949, H. D. Ovenden, secretary-treasurer of the association, said Friday night at Welland. Although three were nominated, withdrawal of R. P. Barrick, Wainfleet, who has served as leader for three years and C. J. Kaufman of Tavistock, enabled Mr. Robertson to obtain the post by acclamation.

Other officers returned by acclamation were, vice-presidents, C. J. Kaufman, G. R. Stewart Thornton, and A. W. Quait of Thamesford. Mr. Ovenden was re-elected as secretary-treasurer and R. G. Schiefel, Breslay, J. L. Murdock, Cayuga, and D. J. Brown, Bolton, were named to the executive.

Chilean boxers are learning to keep their guard up as a result of what their team learned at the Olympic games in London. In Chile, as in other Latin American countries, it has been the gentlemanly custom to shake hands at the start of the fight and sometimes at the start of each round. Those who came back from London reported the boxers there came out swinging at the first gong.

The wealthy Aly Khan, current boy friend of Actress Rita Hayworth, is interested in buying Movie Magnate Louis B. Mayer's extensive thoroughbred breeding farm at Perris, Calif. Myron Fox, an executive of Mayer's studio, said the Aly has inspected the huge estate, reputed to be worth $1,000,000 with an eye to purchasing it.

Anybody's Year As NHL Quarter Through Games

By The Canadian Press

They'll be quarter of the way through the 1948-49 National Hockey League schedule at the end of tonight's three-games. But there still isn't much indication of who's goign to take the marbles next March.

So far Boston Bruins, Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings have been bunched tightly ahead of the pack. But the trailing Toronto, New York and Chicago clubs can all present a lot of reasons for their cellar showings.

Boston plays at Montreal tonight with New York at Toronto and Chicago at Detroit. The Red Wings and Black Hawks rush back to Detroit for a Sunday game while Maple Leafs go down to Boston. If Bruins lose one of their week-end games and Detroit scores two wins over the ailing Hawks, first place in the league will be tied up come Monday morning.

Small Margin

Dit Clapper's Bruins now are a scant two points ahead with Montreal and Detroit tied for second place with 16 apiece. Three points back are the Leafs while Chicago has 11 and Rangers 10.

Bruins worked out in Montreal Friday but without their star centre Milt Schmidt or rearguard Jack Crawford. Both may miss tonight's game.

Schmidt received a rib injury in Detroit Wednesday night when he was put into the boards by Marty Pavelich as Bruins took the Red Wings 5-3. It has not been determined whether he suffered broken ribs but the injury is reported to be troubling him.

Crawford was injured in Toronto a week ago when he was struck on the ankle by the puck. He has not been on skates since.

Rangers attribute their dismal showing this year to a host of injuries—the most serious a preseason automobile accident which involved six Rangers and still keeps star centre Buddy O'Connor off the ice.

Leafs had a flock of rookies to break into the machine that won two straight Stanley Cups. In an attempt to boost the flagging champions, Manager Conn Smythe has equipped them with six defencemen.

Flyers Trip Marlboros 12-3 As Tigers Down Mercurys

By The Canadian Press

It's a question of who was off—or on—the beam last night—a total of 59 goals were sniped in six games of the Ontario Hockey Association.

A backdrop of netminders' nightmares was the 62 assists given out—a grand total of 121 points.

The only netminder to frustrate the goal-seekers was versatile Howie Harvey, who chalked up his third shutout of the season as Toronto Marlboros downed Stratford Indians 5-0 in their senior OHA tilt. Hamilton Tigers strengthened their second-place hold in the senior race by defeating Owen Sound Mercurys 8-1.

In the junior loop, the third-place Barrie Flyers bested the cellar-dwelling Toronto Marlboros 12-3 while St. Catharines Teepees jumped into a first place tie by downing Oshawa Generals 7-5. Guelph Biltmores defeated Galt Rockets 5-4 and Stratford Kroehlers beat Windsor Spitfires 5-4 in the other junior games.

Lead In First

Marlies led 1-0 at the end of the first period, and forged into a 5-0 margin in the second.

Johnny McCormick notched the first Toronto goal early in the first frame. Ray Hannigan garnered two second-period markers and Alex Davidson and Al Buchanan one apiece. The win puts Marlies in third place, two points behind Kitchener, who have 20.

Hamilton grabbed four goals in the first period and four in the second against Owen Sound. Mercurys only marker came in the second when Jack Ingoldsby scored on a goal-mouth scramble.

Johnny Conick led Hamilton scorers with three goals. Carl Smelle with two, and Polly Miocinovich, Tom Smelle and Comfort with singletons were other Bengal snipers.

Hit Their Stride

Barrie took a two-goal lead in the first period, made it 7-2 in the second and added five more in the third while Marlies added one. Flyers' Wags McArthur, playing his first junior game since promotion from juvenile ranks recently, scored two goals and assisted on three others. Fleet Sid McNabney equalled McArthur's point total with three counters and two assists.

Murray Grenke, Bob Hasard and Larry Regan tallied for Marlies.

Guelph spotted four goals in the first two frames and then drove back with five counters for their win.

Pete Tkachuk with two, Boychoff and Hal Hopper with one apiece counted for Galt. Two goals apiece for Ron Plumb and Don Oberholtzer and a singleton for Don Bellringer accounted for Guelph's total.

After holding a slim 1-0 margin in the first stanza, St. Catharines went ahead 4-1 in the second and held out in goal-wild third.

Jack McIntyre was reported suffering a spinal injury when he crashed into the Oshawa nets early in the first period. He returned late in the final frame after a checkup. Wayne Brown led St. Catharines scorers with two.

ONE "OUT" that Joe DiMaggio welcomed was his out of Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., when doctors permitted him to go home and convalesce with his heel. The sluggeer of the New York Yankees underwent a surgical operation on the right heel for removal of a bone spur. He had a similar operation on the left heel last year. The pride of the Yankees said he feels fine but proof of the pudding, he thinks, will be when he gives the new heel a workout at Spring training.

McGill Edges Queen's

MONTREAL, Nov. 27—(CP).—Reg Sinclair and Phil Henry fired two goals apiece on Friday night to lead McGill University Redmen to a 6-4 victory over Queen's University in a Senior Intercollegiate Hockey League game before 5,000 forum fans.

TOO, TOO BAD this 21-pound musky didn't manage to get acquainted with Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, who once devised a plan to foil Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, but the musky didn't know the shift, so Slugger Williams hit him for a homer. Williams did it during his fishing trip in Wisconsin's Hayward area.

King Retains Unbeaten Record At New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—(CP)—L'il Arthur King of Toronto, Canadian and British Empire lightweight champion, last night won a unanimous 10-round decision here over rugged Chester Rico of New York.

The flashy Canadian, weighing 136¼, was the aggressor all the way, alternating sharp left jabs to the head with jolting rights to the body.

King was unable to score a knockdown, but he so completely out-classed his opponent with his speed and a fine assortment of punches that Rico did not win a single round on the score-card of any official. Rico weighed 140½.

Judges Harold Barnes and Frank Forbes scored it 10-0. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 9 rounds for King and one even.

The Toronto lightweight made his New York debut a rousing success. A crowd of 2,247 paid $5,943 to see the fight. It was King's second fight in the United States. Two weeks ago he stopped Nat Harden in the second round at Philadelphia. He won the Canadian lightweight championship less than a year ago by beating Danny Webb, and annexed the British Empire crown last Oct. 1 by knocking out Billy Thompson in the seventh round at Manchester, England.

2nd Ballet Festival Planned For March

TORONTO, Nov. 27—(CP). — The second Canadian ballet festival will be held in Toronto the first week of March with at least six groups from across the Dominion participating, it was announced Friday.

This non-competitive festival, featuring the work of Canada's outstanding ballet groups, originated last year in Winnipeg. It is hoped that through these festivals Canadians will learn to appreciate the ballet and make it part of their regular entertainment.

The ballet committee said it was hoped at least two groups would present an all-Canadian ballet — one with the music, choreography, set, costumes and theme by Canadians.

MR. RULEBOOK RETIRES—Canada's foremost authority on parliamentary procedure, Dr. Arthur Beauchesne, 72, left, has announced he expects to retire in January as Clerk of the Commons. He has written three books on House rules and has been a vital background force in many Commons fights as adviser to the Speaker. Successor to Dr. Beauchesne is expected to be Roy Graham, right, now assistant clerk. A former Liberal member of Parliament for Swift Current, Mr. Graham received his present appointment after his defeat in the 1945 election. The position of Clerk of the Commons is considered the third ranking civil service job in the Dominion.

East Dislikes 50-Cent Pieces While $2 Bills Prairie Aversion

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 — (CP). — Canadians are fussy about the type of coinage they jingle in their pockets and the denomination of crinkly bills they stuff into their wallets.

Practically every one dislikes carrying around a large number of coppers. But the dislikes do not stop there. In the Prairies, for instance, the people have a pet aversion to the $2 bill. In Montreal, Ottawa, and some other Eastern cities the 50-cent piece is eyed with disfavor.

On the other hand, Vancouver and Toronto residents like the 50-cent piece and frequently call on Eastern banks for supplies.

The currency likes and dislikes are well known to C. E. Campbell, chief of the Currency Division of the Bank of Canada. The greying, friendly official works in a guarded ground floor office of the Bank of Canada's main building not far from Parliament Hill.

Moneybags

There he keeps track of the currency issued by the banks, passes on orders for different types of currency across country and supervises the destruction of mutilated and torn bills. Another job is to deal with requests for the replacement of damaged currency.

"You know," he said in an interview, "hardly a day goes by but what some one writes in and asks for replacement of currency that was placed in an oven to dry and then forgotten until someone came along and turned on the oven."

When silver dollars were first issued in Canada some of the silver mining areas of British Columbia insisted on using the new dollars in place of the customary paper ones.

"But that was kind of a fad," said Mr. Campbell. Now the main demand for the silver dollars comes from radio quiz shows and collectors.

By thumbing through a well-indexed book, Mr. Campbell can tell how many bills and coins of each denomination are in circulation. The $1 and the $10 bills head the list.

There are approrimately 43,000,000 bills of the $1 denomination in circulation and about 41,000,000 of the $10 bills. The $5 bills ranks third with about 20,000,000. There are about 16,000,000 of the $20 bills and 2,228,00 of the $100 denomination.

RECOILLESS GUN—This unorthodox rifle developed by the United States Army weighs only 100 pounds but fires a shell capable of penetrating all but the most heavily-armored tanks. It is designed to give the infantry a readily portable gun capable of engaging and defeating armored vehicles. This Canadian army photo shows Canadian soldiers testing the new weapon.

Changes In Traffic Act Outlined To Kiwanians

Implications of recent changes in the Highway Traffic Act, as they apply to every motorist, were outlined to the Kiwanis Club's Friday luncheon by John Bradshaw.

"The net result of these, in my opinion," said Mr. Bradshaw, "is that one-third of our drivers are going to be kicked off the road." The speaker said that observation could show that the "quality of driving has deteriorated in the last few years, the standard of driving has lowered."

The public as a whole is not aware of these vital changes in the law regarding traffic which have been passed within the past 18 months, he said.

In 1947, the provincial legislature enacted that driving and ownership licenses would be suspended for all motorists convicted of even minor offences under the Highway Traffic Act, if there has been damage to person or property in the accident from which the charge was laid. The license suspension applies until the motorist files a proof of financial responsibility.

The Minister of Highways is also empowered, under the new regulations, to require such proof of financial responsibility if he feels that a motorist is wholly or partly to blame for an accident, he said.

Because of the severity of the penalty for even minor violations, Mr. Bradshaw says that he has noticed "a reluctance on the part of police to lay charges for petty matters. They realize that a car today is practically a necessity, not a luxury."

This police attitude of leniency, he feit, had some bearing on the lessening of the quality of driving.

"People are not being checked enough, they are getting away with too much."

The speaker also outlined the recent establishment by the government of a pool fund from which unsettled accident costs can be partly met. To receive payment, from this, he said, it is necessary to satisfy the Highway Department that any other means of payment is not possible. Under an amendment this year, insurance companies are not allowed to collect losses from the government pool.

Traffic hazards are aggravated locallly, he said, by the large number of bicycles in use. They are practically uncontrollable from a traffic standpoint and create a hazard for motorists and themselves.

"Yet, if a motorist runs into a cyclist or pedestrian, the onus is placed on him to prove that he was not driving carefully . . . one is practically held guilty until he proves himself innocent."

Mr. Bradshaw was introduced by President Ted Pridham, who was chairman of the meeting. Thanks of the club were expressed by W. A. Richardson.

Apsley WI Mark Twentieth Year

APSLEY, Nov. 27 — (ENS)—The Apsley Branch of the Women's Institute marked their 20th anniversary on Thursday, when members held a banquet at St. George's Parish Hall. Achievements of the branch during this period were outlined by the president, Mrs. Charles Smith, who said they had been instrumental in obtaining street lighting for the villages, daily mail services, fencing and additional care for the cemetery. They were also partly responsble for the introduction of music instruction in schools and had taken an active interest in obtaining a public library.

Mrs. Smith, who has been a member for 20 years, was the first branch secretary. It was recalled that Mrs. Wellington Lean, now a charter member, was the first president, and that Mrs. Roy Brown, of Lakefield, was also a charter member.

The women were accompanied by their husbands. The banquet was under the direction of Mrs. B. Wagner. A toast to the King was proposed by Reeve Norman Wilson. Mrs. P. H. Lean offered a toast to the gentlemen, to which Mr. Roland Tucker replied and Mr. Herbert Tucker's toast to the Women's Institute was answered by the president.

Prize winners of the progressive euchre were: Mrs. Chesel McColl, Mr. Roy Brown, Mrs. Sid McCauley and Herbert Tucker.

Teachers' Forum Discusses Objects Of Education

OMEMEE, Nov. 26—(ENS).—A well-prepared program was presented at the Emily teachers' meeting at Omemee School Tuesday.

One of the features was a forum conducted by Miss M. Dunn, Miss J. Lamb, R. Widdis and L. M. Curtis, the subject under discussion being "Education: For What"

Mr. Widdis opened the discussion, suggesting four purposes of elementary and secondary education: to establish a basis for higher education, to facilitate in the business of making a living, to teach the pupil how to live with others and to fit him to live with himself.

Miss Dunn pointed out that while some of these purposes might apply to one section of the class and some to another there was one purpose applicable to everyone—that of developing the pupil as a personality.

Mr. Curtis spoke of the possibility of a child developing three or four personalities, determined by influences of the church, the home, movies, the streets and the school, depending upon the attitudes of the people he contacted in these places.

"The school," he said, "has the task of counteracting some of these influences and re-directing others."

There was much discussion about ways and means of arriving at this goal. Miss Lamb thought it important that the child should develop social consciousness.

The question was raised by Miss Dunn as to whether these interests might not become overstressed at the expense of work, and to the extent of his having his attention drawn too much to his own development. Was it not better, she said, that he should gain those attitudes unconsciously through his work rather than through projects.

"This brings us to the consideration of two things," said Mr. Widdis, "mental discipline and work. Work is necessary to attain mental discipline; the child discovers that painstaking effort brings him, not exhaustion, but an exhilerating sense of accomplishment, and out of this grows a sense of responsibility."

"The question is how to link this sense of responsibility with education," stated Miss Lamb.

In consideration of the best solution, the comparatively recent expansion of the curriculum was discussed as opposed to the old idea of more intensive study of few subjects.

Miss Lamb thought the extra subjects were more than frills and that they often gave relief to a discouraged child to find he could excel in something. It was thought too that the broader curriculum gave the pupil an opportunity to sample and decide for what line of work he was adapted, rather than tending to make him a Jack-of-all-trades, and that the best course was a core of good solid subjects with a few extras suitable to diversities of talents.

One more question was raised—"Can we force a sense of responsibility?"

The conclusion was that while some force might be necessary in the early classes, it was best, as far as possible, to keep the reins in the child' own hands, subject to the advice and guidance of his teacher; also that nothing can be accomplished without discipline, and that the character and wisdom of the teacher is the largest factor.

Another item on the program was a talk on "Entrance Examinations" by J. B. Hough, Omemee, High school principal.

The election of officers for 1949 resulted in the following slate:

President, Miss J. Lamb; secretary-treasurer, L. M. Curtis; program commitee, Mrs. R. Price, Miss L. Graham, Miss D. Leslie and Miss Piggott.

View of New Civic Hospital now under construction.

THE HOSPITAL MUST BE COMPLETED

Despite the fact that an additional $1,500,000.00 is needed to finish the Civic Hospital, everyone agrees it MUST BE COMPLETED. There is no other solution.

As you will see from the above photograph, the hospital building is well under way, and, to abandon it now, would be costly and impractical. In 1944 when the original estimates were made, all authorities considered they were adequate, but, as everyone knows, since then costs on everything have sharply increased, and there is no indication that they will come down.

It is no one's fault, and nobody is to blame. There is nothing to do about it but approve the By-law for the additional expenditure on December 6th or abandon the work already done and lose the money already spent.

Peterborough needs a Civic Hospital today even more than it did when it was approved four years ago. This need is far greater than any dollar consideration as it involves the health and well-being of every man, woman and child in the community.

There is nothing to be gained, but much to be lost by delay. Let's go on with the job and finish the hospital as quickly as possible.

Scripture—Isaiah 5:1-7; Matthew 13:31-33, 44-46; Luke 10:25-37; 15:3-32.

By Alfred J. Buescher

A lawyer asked Jesus what to do that he might inherit eternal life? Jesus told him that it was written in the scriptures that he should love God wholeheartedly, and his neighbor as himself.

The lawyer asked Jesus whom he considered his neighbour? Jesus said a man was robbed and wounded by thieves. Some passed him by, but a Samaritan cared for him. He was good neighbor.

Another parable Jesus told was that of the shepherd who, having a hundred sheep, lost one, and searched until he found it; then called in his neighbors and friends to celebrate with him.

Jesus also told of the woman who lost one of her ten pieces of silver, and when she found it, she called her friends to rejoice with her.

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 9:35

Christ, The Wonderful

By REV. E. R. JAMES

His Name shall be called Wonderful—Isai 9:6, Jesus saith unto the sick of the palsy: son, they sins be forgiven thee.—St. Mark 2:8.

Does the word wonderful make any appeal to you. A famous thinker says that it is the highest gift the child has. Have you the child-like eyes that you still see the wonderful world and universe you live in? Many years ago this writer was on board ship off the coast of Ireland. A storm was rising; the smoke of a vessel on the horizon was just visible. When he went below he saw a notice—the first radiogram he had ever seen. It was from the vessel, giving her name and destination. He returned to the deck and looking across the stormy waves marvelled. Men speaking to one another across the waves through the ether. Wonderful.

But hearken to a man doing a still more wonderful thing. A carpenter, looking into the eyes of the palsied man, quietly says: "Son, they sins be forgiven thee." Can you see the wonder in the eyes of the crowd; the anger in the eyes of the Rabbis? Above all, the look of peace in the eyes of the palsied man.

We are accustomed to say daily: "Forgive us our trespasses". It has become a habit, a practice, an expression. It has lost its deep meaning because of its familiarity. Yet you have only to look into the eyes of the palsied man and see the effect upon him. He has been brought into the Presence of the Pure One, the Son of God and the Son of Man. The eyes of perfect purity are looking into his heart. What a sharp pain it produces in the heart of the palsied man. He is in the presence of perfect holiness and purity. He said to himself "What is the healing of my palsy as compared to the agony in my soul. If the Teacher can only heal the pain of my soul I can bear the paint of my palsy.

The Lord Jesus utters the power word and immediately there passes into the soul of the palsied man a peace, a new life, energy and joy. It means the restoration into the fellowship of God. We are so accustomed to think of forgiveness lightly that we forget the tremendous impression this miracle made upon the Apostles and early Christians. It is repeated by the three Exangelists. The Lord claims to have power on earth to forgive sins. This has been granted to Him by God.

"But that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins; He saith to the sick of the palsy: "Arise, take up thy bed and walk". St. Matt. 9:6, St. Mark 2:24, St. Luke 5:24. These verses are the same in all the accounts showing that the writers had copied from a valuable manuscript. It was probably a diary kept by one of the Apostles.

The power to forgive sins is the greatest wonder in the character of the Lord Jesus. Men and women who have heard Him utter His power word know. They have felt the guilt rolled away; they have been restored to the Father's fellowship.

But the spiritual miracle is proved by the physical of healing. Let us never forget that the forgiveness of sins by God through Jesus Christ is joined to the command: "Arise and walk". New life has entered the soul; new energy is given to the will to obey and to walk humbly before God in the new strength. Then only will your friends be amazed and say: "We never saw it in this fashion". "Arise and walk" is always the result of forgiveness and our re-union with the Life of God.

You may draw near to God in the quiet of your room realizing His presence. With the eye of faith you may see Him; with the ear of faith you may hear Him say unto you also: "Son, Daughter; thy sins be forgiven thee. Arise and walk".

THUS SAITH THE LORD. I WILL FORGIVE THEE INIQUITIES AND I WILL REMEMBER THEIR SINS NO MORE. THANKS BE UNTO THEE, O LORD.

Psycho-Surgery Valuable

By LUIS TIVES

LISBON, Nov. 27—(Reuters)—The value of psycho-surgery for curing mental disorders which have hitherto defied all forms of treatment was confirmed by eminent surgeons attending the first international conference of psycho-surgery recently in Lisbon.

These surgeons reported that of some 10,000 patients who have undergone the operation known as pre-frontal leucotomy, or its modification known as lobotomy, about one-third have been cured.

Another one-third showed considerable improvement but were now able to earn their own living. In the remaining third there was little or no improvement.

Mortality resulting from the operation was estimated at about three per cent.

Best results were obtained in the case of patients with great tension, particularly those suffering from schizophenia (split personality), melancholy or obsessions.

Some 140 doctors and professors from 14 countries attended the conference.

First Operation in 1935

Professor Egas Moniz, 73, first performed the pre-frontal leucotomy operation in 1935. It consisted of cutting nerve fibres in the pre-frontal region of the brain to change the pattern of thought and emotion of patients suffering from certain mental disorders, thus relieving them of their symptoms.

Later, Dr. Walter Freeman, Washington psycho-surgeon, modified Professor Moniz's technique by cutting more fibres. He claimed his method, which he called lobotomy, gave better results.

About 2,500 operations by both methods have been performed in Britain—more than any other country.

Discussion of cases led to the conclusion that a pre-operational study of the personality of the patient is a fundamental requirement. Integrity of personality prior to the operatoins appears to be the most important factor in the success or failure of psycho-surgery.

At the end of the conference, the Brazilian delegation proposed that Dr. Egas Moniz be put forward as a candidate for a Nobel prize for medicine.

Dr. Walter Freeman on behalf of the United States delegation suggested a resolution proposing Dr. Moniz and signed by all members attending the conference, be sent to the Nobel prize committee. The proposal was adopted by all delegations.

VOL. XCVII, No. 123 — SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1948

Need 12 Cars To Ship One Generator

To deliver its big generators, Canadian General Electric Company has to knock them down as shown in the accompanying photograph, and distribute them over multiple flat cars. In this instance, a 62,500 kva, stator has been reduced to four quarters, each of which requires its own car. They have been sent by the company to Shawinigan Falls, Que. To transport one complete machine, consisting of its essential parts, stator, rotor and shaft, plus the enclosing frame or housing, exciter and so on would require a string of ten or twelve cars.

The Shawinigan Power Company ordered three of these generators of 67,000 horse power production. This was part of the third unit leaving the local works.

If the three big machines were assembled in one shipment they would require an entire train of probably 35 cars.

The imposing battery of three of these electric generating machines would produce 201,000 horse power or more. That is their rated capacity.

Peterborough Child Welfare Expenditure One of Lowest

Peterborough spends less on the conservation of health, with the exception of Oshawa, than any other city in Ontario of comparable size, according to the latest report of the Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs. Last year Peterborough spent $29,503, while Kitchener's expenditure was $41,-260, St. Catharines $42,879, Brantford $34,837, and Kingston $34,612. Oshawa's expenditure was $27,-566. In child welfare Peterborough was the lowest of the group with $12,417 spent, Kingston $31,-190, Brantford $28,919, St. Catharines $15,308, and Oshawa $15,-694.

For recreation during 1947 Peterborough's expenditure was well up with the other cities, costing $97,098, with Kitchener spending $109,583, Brantford $100,853, St. Catharines $77,653, Kingston $71,996, and Oshawa $59,094.

Public Works Expenditure

St. Catharines led the field in the amount of money spent on public works with $197,0 4 with Peterborough spending $172,144, Brantford $144,257 and Kitchener $134,257. Under the heading of general government Peterborough spent $92,799, Kitchener $162,676, rBantford $114,048, St. Catharines $295,298, Kingston $95,337 and Oshawa $86,923.

St. Catharines was at the top in revenue received by the city treasurer on the sale of liquor in the municipality with a Liquor Commission payment of $7,871, Peterborough received $5,824, Kitchener $6,106, Brantford $5,-741, Kingston $5,825 and Oshawa $5,173. The health grants varied from nothing to Brantford to $10,269 for St. Catharines with Peterborough getting $1,053 and Kitchener $1,500. Both Kingston and Oshawa received less than $1,000 each.

Government Grants

Peterborough was at the top with the amount of money being received from the provincial government with $107,273, St. Catharines $99,685, Kitchener $77,105, Brantford $67,500, Kingston $63,-757 and Oshawa $78,571.

With the exception of Kingston the assessment of the other cities in the group, is fairly constant with the one mill subsidy in Peterborough amounting to $30,739, Brantford $30,096, St. Catharines $31,172, Oshawa $30,984, Kitchener $32,529 and Kingston $22,754.

A poll tax, a question which causes much debate in many municipalities is not collected in Kitchener, Brantford or Kingston. St. Catharines collected $8,687, Peterborough $4,794 and Oshawa $9,446.

Tax collections in all cities were high with Oshawa collecting 98.78 per cent of the current roll, Kitchener 98.23, Peterborough 97.57 and Kingston 97.39 per cent. Total tax arrears in all cities was under the $55,000 mark.

On the year's operation Kitchener reported a deficit of $52,624, Peterborough $30,242 and Kingston $5,881 while surpluses were reported in Oshawa of $8,538, Brantford $13,213 and St. Catharines $27,731.

The distribution of the expenditures in education offers an interesting comparison:

(City, Public Schools, Separate and Collegiate)

Kitchener, $277,826, $73,709, $97,944.

Brantford, $211,137, $17,877, $99,487.

St. Catharines, $272,065, $35,067, $164,949.

Peterborough, $257,225, $38,911, $135,935.

Kingston, $262,147, $40,126, $106,904.

Oshawa, $237,467, $15,557, $166,542.

Hydro Quota Being Met Here

Peterborough's average use of power this week was 211,000 kwh. daily as against the quota of 229,-700. This record for the four days since Monday, was less than the 221,600 kwh. for the five days of last week.

The record for this week is: Monday, 168,000; Tuesday, 216,-000; Wednesday, 236,000; Thursday, 224,000 kwh.

Presumably the community understood that it had accumulated a margin credit on the first two days, and with that fine saving performance, the register bounced back to 236,000 kwh. on Wednesday, the worst day in a month.

Woman And Son Struck By Car

Mrs. E. Everitt, 637 Chamberlain St., and her young son, Teddy, age three, narrowly escaped serious injury on Thursday when they were knocked down by a car which backed into them.

The car, driven by J. J. Ireland, 772 Duffus St., had been parked at 612 Chamberlain St. Mr. Ireland started to back up at the same time Mrs. Everitt and her son stepped onto the road.

A wheel ran over Mrs. Everitt's right foot and both she and the child were knocked down. The injured woman was taken to the Peterborough Clinic where she was attended by Dr. H. V. Dobson.

An X-ray revealed that no bones were broken.

PC Eldon McDonald and Sgt. J. Naples investigated.

Slight damage was caused on Friday afternoon when a car driven by Robert Carney, 1227 Kenneth Ave., collided with the rear of another car driven by Gordon Toms, 366 Mark St.

Toms was travelling west on Hunter St. and made a left turn to enter a laneway on the south side of the street. The taxi, driven by Carney, attempted to pass and collided with the rear fender of Toms' vehicle dragging it along the street several feet.

Only damage was to the front fender, the fog light and the grill of the taxi. Toms' car was unmarked. PC George B. Shaw investigated.

TORONTO, Nov. 27 — (CP). — Gordon Staples, 38, owner of a Toronto meat-packing plant, was arrested Friday on a charge of receiving stolen goods following investigation into what police described as a black market in meat. Dedicate New United Church In South End

Pages of time were leafed over on Friday night when the dedication and the first worship service of the Peterborough South United Church were held. It brought back memories of the same ceremonies 40 years ago when the Mission Church of St. James' was a tent.

The service was under the direction of Rev. E. E. Pugsley, of Norwood, chairman of the Peterborough Presbytery. Rev. M. J. Aiken, St. Andrew's Church, conducted the dedication. Assisting were Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon, of Trinity Church, Rev. H. G. Douglas, Knox Church, Rev. A. M. Partridge, Mark Street Church, Rev. George Murray, Keene, chairman of the Home Missions Committee, and Rev. E. W. Rowland, pastor of the new Mission Church.

R. W. Harrison, builder in charge, presented the keys of the church to Mr. Aiken, who presented them to Mr. Pugsley.

"Far too many men and women pushed aside the Kingdom of God," said Rev. J. R. Lang, MC, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Home Missions. In his sermon he said:

"They have forgotten it, but have sought other things in this modern world. The basis of the Kingdom of God is enduring things such as sincerity, honesty and good neighbors. Let us face the facts. People are not interested in such things as honesty, sincerity and purity. Gradually individuals will recognize the sovereignty of God is the basis of civilization to-day. In this building God's wishes will flourish. The road ahead is not easy. Stand in the sunlight of God's world."

Installation Service

The installation service was conducted by Mr. Pugsley. Rev. W. R. Archer of Lakefield read the extract from the minutes of the Presbytery concerning the new mission church. During this service, Mr. Rowland received the keys from Mr. Pugsley. Mr. Rowland said that if there is cooperation between the congregation and himself, he predicted that the church will be a centre of power in the commmunity.

Mr. Aiken, chairman of the Building Committee, said the church cost $7,000. Hon. G. N. Gordon donated the property. Mr. Aiken thanked those who helped in any way to build the church.

Greetings were extended to Mr. Rowland by the members of the Presbytery present, and by Mrs. F. K. Harris, St. Andrw's Church, Ernest Reid, St. Andrew's Church, E. L. Sackville of George Street Church, R. F. Downey, Trinity Church, and A. E. Prest of St. James' Church.

"I Shall Not Want" and "My Home Sweet Home" were sung by the Harrison Quartette.

Rev. E. V. McNeely, Oshawa, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church who was to have taken charge of the dedication ceremony, was unable to be present.

CAMPBELL ROWATT, Westclox employee who was re-elected as president of the Peterborough Trout Stream Conservation Club for the second term. He heads 40 men interested in improving the habitat of speckled and brown trout.

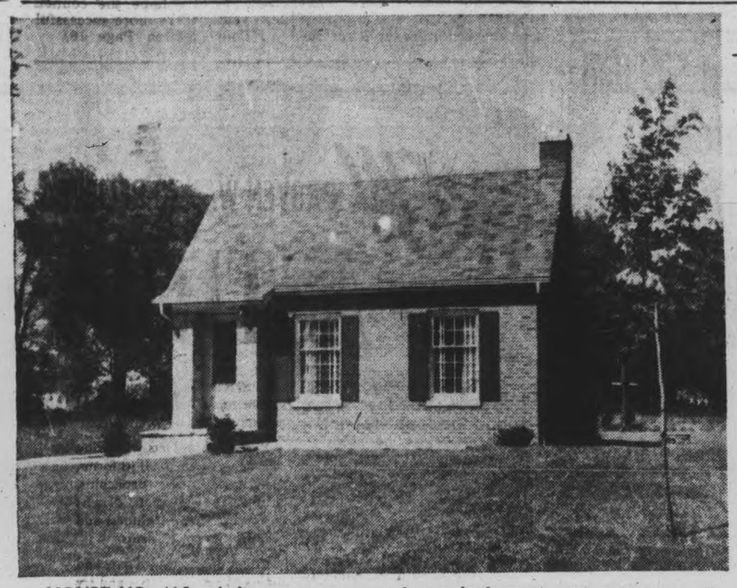
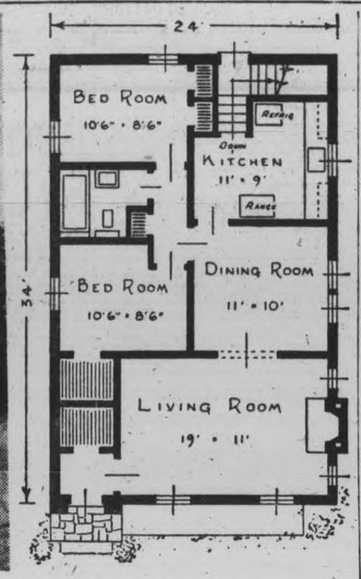
PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT





HOUSE NO. 415—A five room economy house, built on a pleasant residential street. Its simple, sturdy lines give it character hard to beat for a house on the tiny side. Faced with the problem of a narrow city lot, here is a design worth noting. It has a frontage of only 24', with a depth of 34'. Walls are of red brick, and the roof and shutters are green. Entering the house from the street we find a vestibule with roomy coat closet, and to the right, a splendid living room with a big stone fireplace at the far end. Through an arch we come to the bright little dining room, with its built-in corner cupboard, and then on to the kitchen. Here we find a good arrangement of equipment. The 2 bedrooms and bath are quite apart from the rest of the house and have good closet accommodation. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay Street, Toronto, and enclose a stamped envelope for reply.

Key To Well Built House Good Plans, Specifications

Your keys to a well built home are the working drawings and specifications. They play a basic part in home construction. Upon their completeness often depends the willingness of the loaning company to finance the proposition. Furthermore they avoid "extras" in the contractor's bill as the really complete set of plans and specifications should combine to describe in every detail the exact home of your dreams.

Specifications should amplify the working drawings and describe fully all processes of work, quality of materials and workmanship required.

Beware of Confusion

By describing in detail it is not presumed that descriptions of materials and methods of construction be more wordy than necessary—rather, the contrary should be the rule. Wherever it is possible to describe a material or a method of construction clearly and unmistakably in one sentence, it would serve no useful purpose to use two or three sentences. The latter case may lead to confusion, or by reason of additional wordy descriptions, so swell the content of the specifications as to discourage careful and intelligent study by the home owner whose interests they were intended to protect. Many otherwise intelligent prospective home owners know very little of the contents of the specifications applying to their home. They attempt to acquaint themselves with the contents of the specifications but allow themselves to be discouraged by a maze of technical terms unintelligible to a lay mind.

As a help to the owner it is well to incorporate in every specification an outline stating as simply and directly as possible the type of materials to be used in specified places. This outline should appear at the beginning of the specifications and should provide a quick and ready reference for the home owner. The body of the specification may then be developed in the usual manner to describe in detail the items mentioned in the outline. If no outline is provided it is customary to describe the work to be done under the heading of the trade which according to local custom is responsible for that branch of the work. The description of the work should describe the desired finished result together with the quality of materials and workmanship to be employed to attain that result.

Clearing Site.—The exact extent of clearing to be done should be specified and definite provision made for the preservation and protection of such trees, shrubs, etc.

Excavation.—Describe the quality of excavation work desired, listing all items including that for the cellar, footings, piers plumbing lines, dry wells, septic tanks, drains, etc., and giving the minimum depths below finish grade for each item, if it is not shown on the drawings.

Footings. — Describe the construction of footings and the materials to be used and give the size, if not shown on drawings, for each class of footing (under walls, piers, chimneys, etc.).

Foundation Walls. — Describe the foundation walls, piers, etc., giving the material and methods of construction to be used.

Cellar Floors. — Describe the cellar floor, its composition, including sub-base and finish, thickness, reinforcement, if any, method of drainage, etc.

Chimneys.—State the materials to be used in the construction of the chimney; how flues, cap, fireplace, and hearts are to be built.

Walks and Driveways. — State what walks and driveways are included in the contract and their construction.

Framing.—State what material is to be used in framing. If wood is to be used, give the kinds, grades, and sizes to be used for sills, plates, girders, joists, studs, corner pots, wind-bracing, bridging, fire tops, rafters, ridge pole, sheathing, subflooring eac.

Exterior Walls.—Describe the materials to be used for exterior wall finishes, stating quality, sizes and methods of erection.

Roof.—State the kind of roofing to be used, giving the grade and, if a trade-marked product iss to be used, the manufacturer's name, and describe the method of laying. Describe leaders and gutters and how and by whom they are to be connected to the drains.

Interior Wall and Ceiling Finishes.—State the kinds of wall and ceiling finishes to be used and describe fully.

Trim.—State the kind and quality of materials to be used on exterior and interior trim.

Windows and Doors.—Give the style, material, quality, thickness, and sizes of windows, and exterior and interior doors and frames if not shown on drawings.

Rough Hardware. — State by whom the rough hardware is to be furnished.

Equipment. — List all equipment, not otherwise specified, that is to be installed, giving the manufacturers' names.

Miscellaneous.—Weather stripping, insulation, waterproofing, or any other items of work not specifically covered here shall be fully described.

Broadway Jokes At Itself In New Play

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (CP). — Broadway laughs at itself this week, in Moss Hart's "Light Up the Sky" at the Royale Theatre.

The stage is peopled with folk supposed to be in show business. And it's not too difficult to guess their real-life prototypes.

You can hear the audience whisper: "Sammy Levene, playing the financial wizard, is a take-off on Billy Rose. . .I'll bet Audrey Christie, as his wife, is Eleanor Holm. . . . Do you think Virginia Field, as the temperamental leading lady, is supposed to be Gertrude Lawrence?"

But even for theatre-goers who are not "hep" to the Broadway gossip, "Light Up the Sky" is good fun, with a change of pace that neatly switched the tempo from slapstick to serious drama in a couple of lines.

Welcome "Good-bye"

Assured of a long run, Madeleine Carroll's first play in North America was welcomed by critics and audiences alike. "Good-bye, My Fancy," a witty work concerning a liberal Congresswoman who returns to her alma mater—and her first lover—for a visit, has loads of laughs and is acted with polish that has not been seen on Broadway for some time.

After a premiere in London, Ont., "Good-bye" opened its box office at the Morosco Theatre for sales several months in advance on the strength of unanimously good reviews.

The male leads, Conrad Nagel as president of the university, and Sam Wanamaker as a magazine photographer, are capably played.

Pack of Trouble

A bunch of young hellions cause a pack of trouble in "The Young and Fair," a melodrama with a girls' school setting which opened this week at the Fulton. Author Richard Nash has dished up a weird portmanteau plot that tackles such major problems as the power of wealth, intolerance, and the question of truth and ideals vs. chicanery and compromise.

The weakness of "The Young and Fair" is chiefly that it leaves unsolved most of the problems it tackles.

Curtain Call

"For Heaven's Sake, Mother," billed as a comedy, bowed in at the Belasco and bowed out again four nights later. It turned out to be a soap-opera type of production involving an actress who finds she is becoming a mother and a grandmother simultaneously. A saving feature was the lively acting of Milly Pigon. Julue Berns wrote and staged the play.

THE SANTA CLAUS Parade at Belleville attracted 10,000 spectators, who lined the main street four deep. There were 14 floats and three bands in parade.

When Planning Your Home Plan for Conventional Living

There are certain functions of home life that are well-established: eating, sleeping, working and relaxation being the most common. However, each of these functions has many variables depending upon our modes of private and social living. It is the consideration of all the requirements of the family, and the provision for them in a comfortable and convenient manner, that makes a home a success.

Father thinks of his home as a refuge, a place where he can go at the end of a busy day, drop into a comfortable chair, and enjoy just a few moments of peace and quiet. It's his centre for hobby activities . . . a place where he can entertain guests. The responsibility for keeping the home an operating business rests a good deal on the mother. Here she has her work centre, she supervises her children, and has her own particular places of relaxation and recreation. Children want privacy for themselves and for their friends, a place to hold parties, space for quiet and study, accommodations for storing the thousands of treasures that all children collect. If there is a baby, the home will need warm floors, play space, plenty of sunshine. Pets, too, have their special requirements of shelter and space.

In addition, all desire the structural, mechanical and decorative feature that will complete the convenience and comfort of daily living.

Open Planning

The method commonly used is to combine living areas. The combined living and dining area is one familiar form of open planning. Kitchen and laundry combinations are becoming familiar, and a general activity room possesses manifold uses. A library may serve as a guest room, eliminating the necessity of maintaining a room that is seldom used.

In open planning, walls have a tendency to be more useful and furniture units are often built-in, becoming an integral part of the wall areas. Partitions are often semi-permanent, and fold or slide out of sight when not in use. They may be of some translucent material that make the room boundary less definite, adding the feeling of spaciousness. All of these add to the effect of space, light and air, so different from the small cubicles typical of yesterday's homes.

Traffic Through Rooms

In planning your new home, consider carefully the use of every room, and how each member of the family moves around in the house. List the activities that will take place in each area and determine the traffic lanes. Even a small house can be planned to eliminate steps, but it requires much forethought. Privacy for rooms is usually desirable, but if it requires an excessive amount of hall space to achieve this privacy then it become a disadvantage. The problem of planning and pre-establishing traffic lanes is closely tied in with the over-all planning for the house, because certain areas must be adjacent to others if we are to have convenient living.

Duel Use Space

Many of the new plans today provide for an all-purpose room that can be used for many living needs. There seems to be some confusion as to the name of this new area, but in general it is a family activities room, useful also as a guest room, and one which has become increasingly popular in the no-basement homes. In very small homes, where the extra space is not available, the activities of this area are transferred to rooms planned for dual use.

The attached garage is another feature to consider in dual-use planning. This area can be made comfortable economically by radiant floor heating, and has many uses. When considering the possibilities of an attached garage to augment other areas in your home, you may want to plan for additional floor space in the garage to accommodate extra activities.

Future Expansion.

If the family is small and the budget limited when you start your building project, it is a good plan to have future needs in mind. Expansion can be accomplished economically if provided for in the original plans, but usually proves difficult otherwise. Unfinished attic space, with arrangements made for future plumbing, heating and wiring, is the most economical place to expand.

Plans should also be made for expansion on the ground floor. Bear in mind that your requirements will change with the years, so allow for them in your original plans.

FUSSY ABOUT MONEY—Canadians are fussy about the type of money they carry in their pockets, says C. E. Campbell, chief of the Bank of Canada's currency division. Here he gives instructions to Miss Marion Rice of Brockville, supervisor, of the disposal of old $2 bills taken out of circulation. People on the prairies are particularly adverse to handling these. In Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern cities, the 50-cent piece is looked on with disfavor.

MORE ABOUT—

City Nominations

To Continue Good Work

In thanking the citizens for their renewal of confidence in him as a member of the Utilities Commission, Mr. Macdonald said he would do everything possible for them in the futuure, as he had tried to do in the past.

With the expansion of the city in the last three years and the large number of houses built, there had ben a great demand for water services. "We could not give the people all that they should receive in one year or so, but the Commission has tried to be fair. We completed more than 10 miles of mains this year, and the same for lights. We have had good labor, but the difficulty was in getting delivery of pipe and other materials. Many other places in Canada were in the same position, and we just had to take our quota with the rest."

Mr. Macdonald said the pumping capacity at the waterworks would have to be increased, and more water pressure provided for Ashburnham. That work was planned for this year, but it could not be begun this fall.

"We have worked closely with the council. Sewers are not much use without water. We changed to propane in the gas department, and we find it working very well. There have been some complaints, but the propane gives more heat in the flame, and people use less.

I would like to pay tribute to our staff. We have been blessed with good employees. The Utilities work is expanding, and we are trying to do our part. I would just like to ask for your patience."

The names of the nominees listed above follow the order in which they were proposed.

Difficult Task

Mayor Ovens said: "One of the most difficult tasks I had in the seven years in which I have been in municipal life is to stand before the microphone and say au revoir. During that period I have had many happy moments in my association with the members of the council and in the work of the committee meetings, in my meeting people at many affairs and on social occasions.

I think that Peterborough has been very fortunate in its municipal representatives over a long period of years."

Mayor Ovens said the city's business always received the careful attention of the members, "and it has been my experience that there is no finer group to be associated with than the councils which have represented you in the last seven years.

I have attended meetings of councils in other cities and towns, and I can say by comparison that we have had splendid councils in Peterborough."

His Worship said members of the council had experienced disappointments in things they had hoped to do. The council of 1949 would have problems to contend with, and Mayor Ovens said that if there was every anything he could do to assist the mayor, members of the council and board of education, in any way, "I hope you won't hesitate to ask me. My thoughts will always be with you. I wish to thank the members of the council and the ratepayers generally for the splendid support I have always received and for the associations I have enjoyed with you."

A long round of applause followed His Worship's brief and grateful speech to the electors.

Grateful To City

Ald. Max Swanston said it was a great pleasure to be nominated for the office of mayor. He said he was born in Peterborough, and his grandparents had come here one hundred years ago.

"I feel that I owe a lot to Peterborough. The citizens have been good to me, and I feel that my eight years in the council have helped me to repay that debt. As alderman I served three years as chairman of the property committee, one year chairman of the industrial development committee, one year chairman of the board of works and three years chairman of the finance committee.

During the years of depression Peterborough did not borrow money for the public work that was carried on. Unlike some other cities, the council paid as it went along, and the result was that its finances were put in good condition. During the war the city began to expand, and there was a rise in the tax rate to provide houses. All our civic departments were kept busy, and we could not do much new work."

Need Better Roads

Ald. Swanston said the meeting had heard some mention of the sewage disposal plant, the Memorial Centre and the new city hall. The council would also have to build more permanent roads, and with all that exependiture the tax rate was bound "to go up some".

"I think Peterborough is in the best position among cities of Canada. If I am elected I cannot promise any reduction in taxes, but I will try to get full value for every dollar we spend. The man who succeeds Mayor Ovens is going to have a hard task on his hands. I don't think that any one outside the council realizes the thought and time that Mr. Ovens put into the city affairs. We have been fortunate in the last three years in our mayor. We are also fortunate in our staff. I think we have as good a staff as you will find in any other city. I hope that if I am your mayor next year that I will not let the citizens down and also my mover and seconder."

Mr. H. L Bradburn said it was an honor to have one's name placed before the electors as nominee for mayor. "I served the citizens for nine years as alderman. If I decide to stand, and I am uncertain yet about it, I believe my nine years would stand me in good stead to serve you to the best of my ability, if I were elected."

Maurice E. Ketcheson

Mr. Ketcheson said he was in favor of getting new industries for Peterborough, and if elected "I will continuously discuss with council and citizens in general any leads that we may get on prospective industries.

"I wish a research made to ascertain why some industries we had left us and some we were trying to get went elsewhere. Get more, but hold those we have. Why do some of our industries make additions to their business, going elsewhere to do so?"

Mr. Ketcheson said he would ask for an investigation in the long delay in getting the Memorial Centre under way.

"I will ask that a hall be made available for citizens of different wards to meet in and present their views on different matters. This means to be used until we have the ward system of which I am heartily in accord."

A crossing on Charlotte St., between George and Aylmer Streets was needed for the safety of the public, Mr. Ketcheson said, and another in front of the C.G.E. An indoor market, an ambulance at the fire hall for quick service, filling the ditch on the west side of Park St. south, and a survey of vacant places over stores or empty houses as potential living quarters were other proposals on Mr. Ketcheson's program. Others were: completion of the sewage disposal plant, and the building of a fire hall in the south end.

Wants Labor Voice

Mr. Alfred Barber said organized labor should have a voice in civic affairs because its members constituted a vast majority of the workers in the city and most of them were taxpayers. He said he was in favor of the ward system as the only way in which every part of the city could get representation in the council.

"I am also in favor of trying to get large industries for Peterborough to provide employment, because unemployment is on the increase."

Stress Vital Needs

"We of the Allied Labor Council," said John Beggs, "have tried to nominate candidates for the council to promote those things we really need. We have tried to get action on the sewage disposal plant and the Memorial Centre. We feel that they are a great necessity to the citizens. We feel that more action could be taken by the council in trying to bring new and substantial industries to Peterborough. If I am elected I pledge myself to serve all groups of citizens, no matter what occupational groups they belong to."

Mr. Beggs said he believed there were no harder working people in the city than the heads and executives of business. They were the keystone of all the occupational groups, binding all working people into one group. "If it was not for the business and industrial executives we wouldn't have a city. But as we have different occupational groups, we have different aims and opinions. That is one reason why we wish the different groups should all have a chance of voicing their problems to the people through the city council."

Mr. Beggs said he wished to express the appreciation of organized labor to Mayor O ns for his three years in the office of mayor. "We feel that he has done a wonderful job in administering the city's business."

It was a disappointment that a representative of labor was not elected to the council under Mayor Ovens, to have shared in the work under his leadership and to have had the appreciation of all citizens in what labor tried to do for the city.

Put City First

Ald. Hurrell Dodds said it would be folly at this time to try to tell the citizens all the council had done. The people who had followed its work and were interested in the council knew what had been done.

"As to the future, if I am returned to the council, I will still put the interests of the city first, and my own second."

Some things were being criticized, "and I hope the council next year will be more successful

Campbellford Ladies' Choir Capable and Well Trained

The Campbellford Choralians, a small choir of women's voices, presented their first Peterborough concert at St. James United Church Friday night. Conducted by Mrs. A. G. Watson, they sang a number of well-known songs with skill and earned a reputation as a capable and well-trained body of choristers.

A recital on the organ by Charles Allen was a lively feature of the program, and there were also piano duets played by Mrs. Margaret Hendershot, ATCM and Mrs. George Nicholls.

The choir, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Nicholls, gave a fine performance of the Scottish folk song "O Whistle, My Lad," which probably demanded greater musical skill from the singers than any other item. The gay, carefree spirit of spring was captured in Strauss' "Greeting to Spring," and there was a light humorous treatment of "The Two Clocks" (Rogers) which might easily have lost its character with a less skilful choir. C. Franck's "O Lord Most Holy" was sung by Mrs. F. G. DeCarroll.

The concert was sponsored by the King's Own Class of St. James' Church.

Soroptimist Club's Organizer Present for Third Birthday

Third birthday of the Soroptimist Club of Peterborough was celebrated Friday evening with the organizer Miss Muriel Gladman of Toronto as guest speaker. She was introduced by the charter president Miss Myrtle Sargent, following dinner in the Empress Hotel.

Having recently returned from a trip to England where she attended the Soroptimist International Convention at Harrowgate, and to points in France and Belgium, she talked informally of the most interesting things she had seen and done.

Uppermost impressions were of the shining example of Soroptimism. Many remarks have been heard to the effect that there is something different and better about their meetings that attracts outsiders and Miss Gladman believes it is the Soroptimist pledge which makes this difference. "Members unconsciously strive to live up to the pledge of tolerance, sincerity and friendship and to maintain high ideals in business life," she said. "Many spoke of ths pledge and how it would help solve the problems of today."

After reviewing the results of bomb warfare at many points in England, the speaker said she was impressed with the fact the people never grumbled "They may feel it inside but they don't pass it on," she remarked.

To her the highlights of the Soroptimist Convention were the opening ceremony and presentation of flags by representatives of many countries, which brought back thoughts of what lay in the 10 years behind, and the address of Mrs. Geoffrey Fisher, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, stressing individualism, and stating her belief that one of the greatest sins is fear.

Following dinner, members and guests were very pleasingly entertained by Mr. Holloway, cellist, who played "Gavotte" by Potter. "Cecelia" and Allegro Passionata." He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Agnes Logan Green.

Appreciation to the guest speaker and entertainer was expressed by immediate past president, Mrs. Enith Scott.

To celebrate the inaugural meeting of November 17, 1945, Miss Musa Cox had arranged a refresher quiz which brought out the outstanding club events of the past three years in review. An iced birthday cake bearing three candles and decorative flowers in blue and yellow was cut by the president, Miss Grace Sargent. Roses on the head table were a birthday gift from the sister club of Belleville, and another bouquet was from Dr. Agnes K. Moffat who was unable to be present. Candles and flowers carried out the Soroptimis color scheme.

Mrs. George Smith, president of the Belleville Club, spoke briefly conveying the congratulations and good wishes for the occasion sent by fellow members. She also spoke of her visit to England and Europe and attendance at the International Convention

The club's honorary member, Senator Iva C. Fallis, who is an active member of Ottawa Soroptimist Club, paid tribute to their president, the late Mrs. Tweed, whose death had previously been announced by Miss Sargent.

Support by the Soroptimist Club in the matter of the Civic Hospital by-law which will come to a vote on Monday, December 6, was approved by the members.

Announcement was made of the bazaar and tea being held by the Golden Mile Club which is sponsored by members, and they were asked for assistance in the YWCA Green Room during Saturday afternoon.

Telegrams of congratulations on the anniversary came from Miss L. Grace Nicholls of Toronto, first vice-president of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, and Miss Gertrude Whiteside, of Windsor, regional director.

Rainwear, Short Hair-dos For 1949 at Fashion Week

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—(CP).—A little bit of everything—or almost—from the short haircut to baathing suits, scarves founded on the funny papers and rainwear equally useful in sunshine featured fashion week display.

Bathing suits included lastex in a number of patterns, sharkskin and satin in different color combinations which were simple and figure-flattering. Shirring is used considerably and the designer stressed the wired bra with attachable straps for use when, of all things, the wearer decides to go swimming.

In the line of more covering apparel Dutch boys and girls highlighted a criss-cross print suit. The neckline folded around the throat and ended in a yoke effect with double peplum hugging the hipline at either side.

One designer, presenting raincoats, said, "To my mind 'rainwear' no longer refers to a garment that can be worn in the rain only but to a coat that is adapted to spring and fall on the brightest or rainiest day."

Gabardines took the spotlight in various shades of green, wine, turquoise, powder blue and navy. Buttons showed new and novel use with accentuated backs and cuff treatments. But hoods will be worn again so if you have a 1948 raincoat it won't look out of place in 1949.

Blouses and scarves splashed springtime color and a Li'l Abner scarf showing the characters of Dogpatch. Frosty white crepes with delicate lace touches and fine tucked detail in hand-washable blouses were designed for wearing with spring hats.

About the hair-do: A hair specialist informed listeners that for any smart coiffure the cut is the secret and short hair demands careful cutting and skilful trimming. That solves the combing problem because hair so cut looks well in the salon and just as well as home the next day. Not only that, says the expert, short hair is here to stay for a couple of more years.

James Howard Is Re-elected Head All Saints' Choir

At the annual meeting of All Saints' Anglican Church choir held in the chapel on Thursday evening last Mr. James Howard was re-elected president.

For the business meeting which followed the regular weekly practice, Mr. Howard, as president, occupied the chair. The election of officers which followed was presided over by the choirmaster, Mr. George Chandler. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Hon. president, Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite; Hon. vice-presidents, Rector's Warden, People's Warden, Mrs. W. A. Logan, Mr. C. Lacheur, Mr. G. Royea, Mr. P. Hooper; president, J. Howard; vice-president, Mrs. J. Morley; secretary, Miss M. Hooper; treasurer, Miss A. Williams; recording secretary, Mrs. C. Armstrong; assistant recording secretary, Miss R. Leach; librarians, J. Roberts, H. Flowers, Mr. Chamberlain; robes mistress, Mrs. C. Foster; assistant robes mistress, Miss J. Maconomy; robes master, J. Raybould; social convener, Mrs. C. Armstrong; visiting committee, Miss A. Moore, Mrs. J. Morley, H. Boddy, Mr. J. Howard; representative to church council, J. Howard.

After the election of officers the meeting turned to discussion of general business. The Rev. Mr. Kibblewhite addressed the choir and expressed his thanks and that of the congregation for the co-operation and faithfulness of the members of the choir throughout the past year and the choirmaster replied on behalf of the choir.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a pleasant social hour was spent.

London Milliners Meet Teen-Agers

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP)—British teen-agers accuse London milliners of lack of variety.

"We'd rather go hatless," they chorus.

"After the spring shows," retort the designers, "you'll have to think of another excuse. Just look at the variety in the cloche-bonnet arrangement alone."

In modern version of Regency, second Empire and Victorian styles, spring models combine charm and glamor with prices suitable to the teen-age pocket. And most 1948 models are in "all-year" design.

One cloche-bonnet style in apple-red wool felt, with side quill and navy veil, has a pointed "Pinecochio" crown. Another, in old gold, has the hipples of its high "snail-shell" crown emphasized with narrow chocolate ribbon bands.

A visor-brimmed helmet style in two shades of mauve, has a fly-away felt bow at the brim base on the centre crown to give a youthful impudence.

For special occasions is the black ring velvet "Easter bonnet" style with its side chou of soft mauve feathers.

HOUNDSTOOTH CHECK SLACKS — Good looking slack suit which is neither stark nor pajama-like is shown you here on Patricia Neal, a Hollywood star. The fabric is a wool houndstooth check in gray tones, the pants made without toe-catching cuffs, the coat rather loose and finished with a shawl, not a notched collar. Third piece for the casual costume is a crew neck pale blue blouse which is buttoned down the back. Platform moccasins of polished brown calf complete the outfit, which could be a standby for years in any wardrobe.

DOROTHY DIX

Congeniality Real Recipe In Making Marriage Success

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I are still in our twenties, but both of us have been married three times. Our other marriages were failures, but this one is a success. My husband wanted a good cook, a good housekeeper and a good companion, one who had the same taste in furniture, food clothes, friends and entertainment as he had. I wanted a good who had the same taste in furniture, food, clothes, friends and entertainment as I had. That left us nothing to argue about.

Dorothy Dix

We were not in love when we married, but you should see us now. Regular love birds. The secret of being happy though married is to get someone whom you can get along with without friction, and that includes your husband.

MRS. W. G. G!

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Right you are, lady. You have found the one recipe for making marriage a success that never fails. It is congeniality. If men and woman would pick out husbands and wives who had the same points of views, who liked the same things and had the same habits, it would put the divorce courts out of business.

Pitfalls Are Many

Think of the things that so many husbands and wives fight over and that wreck their homes! Religion. Politics. Naming the baby. Each other's family and friends. Reading the newspaper. Bridge. Rearing the children. Hot bread or cold bread. A million things that are just as good for a family row as a nickel is for a ginger cake.

And think of the happiness that pervades the home in which the husband and wife agree on every subject and where they can discuss any matter without getting in each other's hair, where they like the same kind of cooking and even worship the same God.

When the average marriage goes on the rocks, it is rarely because either the husband or the wife is a villain. It is nearly always just because they were incompatible. They were always at cross purposes and rubbed each other raw. And what we all crave is congeniality. A husband or wife who is more or less a rubber stamp of ourselves.

The only happy marriages are those in which the husband and wife yes-yes each other. The arguing habit has wrecked more homes than all the seven deadly sins.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 19. My husband is 20. We have been married a year and a half and are expecting a baby next month. My husband is very dissatisfied with everything and everyone. He hates his job, doesn't want the baby and is very unhappy. He says he wants his freedom and to be able to wander around and try to find himself. He is a very serious person, not interested in sports or parties. Says he hates people. Doesn't drink or believe in God.

He went into the navy when he was very young and was stationed for two years in a desert island off Alaska. As soon as he came home, we were married. I think that maybe that's what's the matter with him is that he never had any young-time of life. But how shall I deal with him? I think he still loves me, but at the same time feels that I am his jailer. Should I let him go to wander freely for a year or so in the hope that he will grow up and become settled?

BEWILDERED WIFE

ANSWER: I think that you should tell him that you will not give him a divorce until he has tried out roaming and found out that wandering around without any objective, or any family ties, or anybody to care whether he lives or dies is about the most forlorn thing in the world. But you will have to drive with a loose rein if you want him to come back to you and the baby.

One of the greatest tragedies of the war was that so many boys, who were so young they had had no experience of life and so undeveloped that they had no idea of what they wanted in a wife, got themselves engaged to girls when they went into the war and felt that they had to marry them as soon as they were discharged. And the result was disastrous in so many cases where the boy had outgrown his hobbledehoy love affair. He had never had any playtime and he wanted to go around with other girls and have a good time, and he chafted under his matrimonial fetters. That is why so many G. I.'s have gotten divorces.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: How shall I address my mother-in-law? I have never called her anything in the year and a half I have known her. I feel that "Mother" is too endearing and intimate and that one should only use it in addressing his real mother. My mother-in-law is 43 years old.

HARRY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: As she is so youthful, you might call her by her Christian name if she would prefer it. Otherwise call her "Mom," or "Mama," or any one of the endless varieties of pet names. I know one man who addresses his mother-in-law as "Dearie," which would probably tickle your mother-in-law pink.

Totem Poles In B.C. Put On Sale

PRINCE RUPERT, BC, Nov. 27 (CP).—A valuable collection o slate totem poles in the Museu of Northern British Columb here is to be sold by the owne 82-year-old George Cunningham The exquisitely carved figure have been on loan to the Museum for many years. Announcement that they would be sold, probably to the highest bidder, surprised museum officials.

There are 39 pieces in the collection which Mr. Cunningham started gathering in the Queen Charlotte Islands 60 years ago. He had previously rejected several offers, preferring to have the figures exhibited in Prince Rupert.

"I promised the two native artists that I would never commercialize on it," he said in an interview. "But they are dead now so I think the promise has been fulfilled. I could use the money, too."

Art Now Extinct

The pieces are fine examples of an art that once flourished in the Queen Charlottes and now is virtually extinct.

"The Haida Indians used to spend their winters carving nephrite slate into totem poles and other figures," he said. "There are some fine artists among them but two were outstanding.

"These were Chief Charlie Edenshaw of Massett who died in 1919 and Lo Chapman, a lame slave boy captured by the Haidas from a tribe around Bella Bella.

"At times at our store at Port Essington we had literally tons of nephrite poles which we had taken in trade. I kept only the best. I have always considered it interesting that the finest work came from a high chief and a humble slave boy.

"The chief held himself above recognizing the poor alien lad was never known to speak to him. Great as their kinship as artists should have been, it was not great enough to overcome the Haida chief's pride."

MORE ABOUT—

than some of us were in the past. I am not interested in Peterborough becoming a great big city, but I would like to see it a big city with the comforts and recreation and a real sense of security that we require."

Accepts Nomination

Dr. Matthews briefly said he appreciated the importance of the city council and the breadth of experience which the citizens should have to choose from. In that understanding he was prepared to accept nomination.

Joseph A. Jebson recalled the several years he had spent in trying to get the Memorial Centre built. He had concluded that if he was a member of the council he might find out why the job was not completed. That would be his first endeavor, if elected. He said the Centre committee did not spend "ten times tuppence" on its organization work. A similar organization in Toronto had spent $31,000 to get $90,000. "We spent nothing but our honest time."

"Before we can think of more industries," Mr. Jebson said, "we should be thinking of more houses. We can't expect an industry to come here, if we can assure them we have homes for the people who work in their plants. That is one of our greatest needs. I am a great believer in city management. Our city is a million dollar business, and unless we have some person to devote all his time to city government we can't be very successful."

Mr. Jebson said he had been a union secretary at 18, and was a member of the Yorkshire district council.

He was the first man in Peterborough to cut down the hours of labor in retail stores and irrespective of what others did, he had brought in closing at 7 p.m. Saturdays so that employees should have a reasonable Saturday evening. He said that if elected he would do his best for the city as a whole.

To Mayor Ovens he said: "As a citizen I wish to thank you Mr. Mayor, and Mr. John Marshall for the excellent arrangements you had for the visit of the Governor-General to our hospital Thursday afternoon."

Sound Administration

Gordon W. Hodgson said that as a nominee for alderman, with eight years in Peterborough, "I can only offer if you see fit to elect me, a program of sound administration, pledging myself to the citizens to do my best to carry it out."

Walter Bannon said he intended to qualify as a candidate for the Board of Education, "and, if elected, to try to do everything to the best of my ability for the better in education for our children." He recalled that he had completed four years as a trustee, three years as chairman of the advisory vocational committee, and one year as chairman of the committee on appointments. Previously he had six years' experience in school board work in North Monaghan, three years as chairman of the board.

Apreciates Honor

James E. Gillespie said that as a native son, he considered it a great honor to be nominated for alderman. He said he was inclined accept. "If I do, the only interest I have is to be elected and serve the citizens. I have no definite program at moment except that I am interested in good civic government. I sincerely hope that the five men elected are the best men for Peterborough."

Ald. Adam Sands said with brevity that in his eight years in the council he had learned one thing, not to do much talking, "but to take off my coat and get to work. That is all I am doing tonight."

Frank H. Jobbitt, four years on the Board of Education, reminded the assembly that he had been chairman of the property committee for the last two year. "In our new additions to two of the schools we have accomplished something of which the Board and the citizens should be proud. If you see fit to return me as a trustee, I'll continue to serve the citizens and the Board to the best of my ability."

Mather Undecided

Peter J. Mather, a former Warden of the county, said he was pleased to see so many citizens interested in public affairs. "I haven't made up my mind yet as to my name being on the ballot. I am well aware of the problems of the city, and also of the county. I am living in the city, and if I were elected I assure you I would weigh every question from both points of view."

Mr. Percy A. Martyn said he was not going to presume to criticize the council or make any rash promises. "If elected I will give my best service to the citizens and the city."

Stanley Adamson announced that he would accept nomination for the Board of Education. "Like Mr. Gillespie, I am a native son, and a graduate of your schools. If elected, it would be my desire to serve you by a sensible and economic administration by your Board. I am hoping for that privilege and for the opportunity of repaying the debt I owe to our schools."

Has No Fears

Mr. Harry Yudin said that after listening to the preceding addresses he had no fear for the future of Peterborough. "I thank the two good and fearless men (Ald. Armstrong and Chas. Kingan) for nominating me," Mr. Yudin said in a light humored vein. Having been in England and the United States and many parts of Canada he had settled here, and found it ideal. "I have every confidence we can keep it that way after Dec. 6th."

Arthur B. Burrows: "I hope, if I am elected, to enjoy the continued confidence of the citizens. I agree with Ald. Sands. "After two years' experience in municipal work, I think it is unwise to make promises. If I am elected I will give you all I have in sincerity and industry and good intentions."

Others of the 24 nominees were not present when City Clerk Outram called their names. The meeting concluded with his invitation to Ald. Sands to lead in the singing of God Save the King.

SHRILL YELLS OF COWPUNCHERS could be heard echoing through Toronto's Union Station as the Stampede Special arrived from Calgary, bearing 400 grid fans who went to support the Stampeders in the rubgy championship game with Ottawa Rough Riders at Varsity stadium on Saturday. There was so much racket no trains were on schedule. There were red shirts, pink shirts, green shirts, high-heeled boots, spurs, lovely western lassies all in colorful confusion. A parade formed up at the side of the train and with banners of "Stampede 'Em Calgary" in the lead, the fans moved off the station proper. In the foyer, the west took over and called a square dance. Sea of sombreros filled the station and every hat was covered with names. Nora Valetine, left, finds room to sign one. Some of the merry-making western rooters are shown at right.

Two School Trustees Not Re-nominated

BANCROFT, Nov. 27.—(ENS).—Four men were nominated Friday for the reeveship of Bancroft. They are D. A. Kellar, this year's Reeve, W. Maxwell, Theo Tryon and Dr. S. S. Lamb. For the four vacant seats on the Council there were seven nominations: W. Maxwell, Don Russell, Theo Tryon and Jas. Bronson, who are serving on the Council this year, and Edgar Stapley, C. A. Eddy and C. A. Broad.

Of the three serving members of the School Board, only Harold Thompson was nominated for office next year. Other nominations were: Edgar Stapley, Fred Belyea, the Rev. R. Eachern and Fred Brethour. Harold Skuce and Reg Wiggins are the two serving members who failed to be re-nominated.

A change of representation on the Power Commission is also certain, since F. J. Follis is the only re-nominated member. The other nominations are: J. N. Brown, E. Harley and W. E. Wiggins. Dr. R. E. Harryet, who was not re-nominated, retires at the end of the year.

Candidates have until 7 p.m. today to qualify.

Old Fire Engines Given To Children

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27—(CP)—Thousands of Vancouver children will see a dream come true in the near future.

Three tired old 1913 fire engines, veterans of many a blaze, were snatched from the hands of the junk dealers recently by a Parks Board bid.

Stripped down to non-moveable essentials, the machines will stand in the parks for the kids to play on.

"The kids can swarm all over them," said Park Board Superintendent P. B. Stoyan.

"Eventually I guess they'll be ruined, but the youngsters will have fun in the process."

Australia To Admit Migrants To Eire

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 27—(CP).—Australia's search for migrants has been extended to Eire, Germany and Austria.

Immigration Minister Arthur A. Calwell has announced the Federal Government's decision to assist Eire citizens wishings to migrate to this country with their passage and travelling costs.

Previously the only Eire citizens eligible for Federal Government assistance were men and women who served in the British armed forcess during the war.

The Eire Government has refused to contribute towards the cost of the passages.

Announcing the removal of the ban on migrants from Germany and Austria, Calwell said that migrants within certain age limits from these countries would be admitted provided they were guaranteed accommodation by relatives or friends already resident in Australia and did not constitute a threat to Australian security.

Will Build Dam

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27—(CP)—The Manitoba government will construct a dam and power plant on the Winnipeg River, about 70 miles northeast of here, at an estimated cost of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, Premier Campbell said Friday.

Rheumatism Research

LONDON—(CP)—The Nuffield Foundation has received a donation of $1,800,000 for aiding research into the prevention and cure of rheumatism. The donor is Captain Oliver Bird, 68, himself a sufferer from rheumatism for a number of years.

ENGLISH SCHOOLBOYS raise cain with cane producer. Eric Wildman (centre) is seized by husky boy students at Horsley Hall, Eccleshall, Eng., recently and gave him a dose of his own medicine in the midst of a lecture advocating whipping for students. Wildman, 27, calls himself president of the National Society for the Retention of Corporal Punishment in Schools and also runs a company making whipping canes for schoolmasters. During the lecture, one of the boys sneaked up and upset his chair, while the others pounced on him and gave him six strokes with one of the 20 canes Wildman had brought to the school.

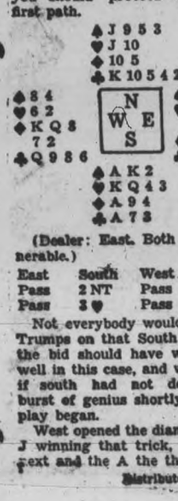
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DON'T CHANGE TOO FAST

ENCOUNTERING something unexpected during the play of a contract should make you sit up and think. If you had a well developed plan in the beginning, you must consider changing it. But don't change too quickly. Give the new situation the same kind of thought you used with the original plan. Maybe some inspired idea, which hit you when the surprise appeared, is not such a good idea after all, and perhaps you should proceed along the first path.



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 ♣
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	3 NT

Not everybody would bid 2-No Trumps on that South hand, but the bid should have worked out well in this case, and would have if south had not developed a burst of genius shortly after the play began.

West opened the diamond 7, the J winning that trick, the Q the next and the A the third. South had decided that by holding up the A until the third round and then playing clubs toward East, he could probably keep West out of the lead and make his contract—if East had the heart A. The plan was pretty sound, so South embarked on it.

Laying down the club A, South was startled by the fall of the J. He let that change his plan, deciding that East was more likely to have a doubleton Q-J originally than that West had four headed by the Q. If this was the case, he reasoned, he could clean up the whole club suit by dropping the Q with the dummy's K. So he tried that and was flabbergasted when East discarded a heart. Worse still, he was beaten, as now all he could score was eight tricks, with three in hearts, one in diamonds and two each in the black suits.

Even with the chance that East held the club Q, South should have finessed the 10 on the second trick. If that failed, enough club tricks would be certain to give him game anyway, without risk to his contract if the heart A was where it had to be. And it would have given him an extra trick if the finesse worked. In addition, the Q was more likely to be with West than East, after the fall of the J.

Your Week-End Question

Why should a rubber bridge player try in the bidding of a slam to put it into a major suit, if it be safe, instead of in an equally safe minor?

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

G. A. Brethen Reports Continuing Poultry Losses, And Campaigns For Open Shooting Season For Foxes The Year Round . . . The King's Guineas Steer At The Royal Comes to C.P.C. . . . Extraordinary Autumn And November End Next Week.

Peterborough farmers have settled down to post-season chores in full appreciation of one of the mildest Novem[illegible] in long memories.

The glory of autumn is gone from the woods and the lanes. Trees are stark and stern. Nights lengthen, and days catch only glimpses of the sun. The old year enters its last month next week, and the turn of the calendar will mark the advent of winter.

[illegible] farmers are cutting their wood supply for 1949. Fall wheat is showing a healthy top. The hay crop has come through in good condition but the acreage is [illegible] less than a year ago.

Outlook prospects and estimate of six weeks ago have been revised upward. Pasturage recovered its greenness this month. Younger cattle are still in the fields, but dairy herds have been for weeks housed in the barns. The late routine of work is completed. Plowing is done, but farmers can always find something for idle hands. It may be ditching, or cleaning out drains, or laying tile.

The Royal Winter Fair is only a memory. Municipal administration is coming into annual attention. Some of the townships held nominations yesterday. Others are quite satisfied to wait until the end of December. Their electors have learned that changing the date affords no magic gain. Christmas appears on the new calendar page Wednesday, and soon the dead leaves in the hardwoods will be encrusted with white, and the deserted nests will fill with snow.

December days darken earlier, and the lights of the windows call to the fireside and the warmth of home. Frost is long overdue. Only several mornings in October offered hard ground under foot. Rains have caught up on the long drought of late summer.

REMEMBER DECEMBER 7

When you tear off the November page, but a ring around Tuesday, December 7, that Federation luncheon at the Empress.

HOMEMAKING CLUB

On Wednesday evening last a group of girls from the Peterborough Junior Farmers met at the home of the Misses Savigny to form a Homemaking Club. The club will be under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Thompson and Miss Eleanor Whitfield. The project the girl plans to study will be "The Club Girl Entertains".

The next meeting will be held on December 14 at the home of Mrs. Thompson.

JUST A SMILE

After giving the Private a dressing-down for being so late in returning with supplies, the Sergeant demanded "Okay, let's hear how it happened, Miller".

"Well, I picked up a Chaplain along the road," explained the woebegone rookie, "and from then on the mules couldn't understand a word I said".

"I SEE BY THE PAPER"

Farm Forum subject Monday, Nov. 29 is: "I See By the Paper". That invites a survey of the papers that enter the farm home, weekly, daily, farm journal? What influence do they have on the farm family? The subject invites comment and suggestion, but probably Forum groups will require no elbowing to open up on one of the rural peeves—how scant is the information most city people have about the problems of the farm and a just rating value of most of its work, its investment and its demand of knowledge.

CHEESE SHOW

Probably there is little local interest in the Empire Cheese show at Belleville, Nov. 30-Dec. 1. Once upon a time Peterborough was a cheese centre, but the only remnant factories are few in the eastern townships.

KING'S GUINEAS WINNER

The champion steer at the Royal Winter Fair, an Aberdeen-Angus, was bought by John Stuart, Jr., of Old Orchard Farms. It was awarded the King's Guineas. At the present rate of exchange the 50 guineas are actually worth $211.05, but Kenneth McKinnon, 18-year-old Hillsburg farmer, received $250.

Viscount Alexander presented the prize last Tuesday night. The guineas winner will be on the way to the local plant of Canada Packers, Monday morning. McKinnon won this award two years in a row. He received $10,000 for his black steer a year ago. This year's animal brought only $3 a pound. It weighed 920 pounds.

A story from the Department of Agriculture says Lorne Franklin, auctioneer, "had to go into reverse" several times when bidders weighed on their offers. Mr. Stuart had gone on to Chicago. One of the stories reaching here was to the effect that after several bidders flunked, Mr. Stuart accepted at his last bid, although there was no necessity of him doing so.

+ + +

NEW RUHNKE BOOKLET

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, has recieved from the Department, copies of a booklet entitled: "Organic Matter,—the life of the soil". Written by Prof. G. N. Ruhnke, head of the department of soils, O. A. C., and published this year, it should be of interest even to many farmers who know the organic-matter story. A few quotations suggest the scope of this discussion of soils.

"We have created this organic matter problem ourselves by: growing too many clean cultivated row crops in succession, year after year, giving the soil no rest. We have discarded clovers from our rotations for more "profitable" crops.

By not having enough livestock manure available for even occasional dressing of land under row crop. Having no sod (or soil building crops) in the rotation.

Burning straw and cornstalks "to get rid of them". Cheating the soil by not even growing an occasional green manure crop for plowing under. Putting less plant food into the soil than were taking out.

Forgetting that nature is violently opposed to "clean cultivation" in the way it has been practised to the extreme in the past."

+ + +

"CRUMB" STRUCTURE

"In heavy textured soils, clay loams and clay, the organic matter content is especially important because it greatly influences their physical properties, drainage and aeration. Sufficient active organic matter is necessary to give to heavy soils what we call a good structure. A soil has good structure when the particles, or grains are grouped tightly together in clusters, or granules. Such a soil has a granular structure. If you take a handful of topsoil from beneath an old grass sod, the granules look like bread crumbs; in fact we speak of this as crumb structure. It makes for plenty of pore spaces in the soil, through which surplus water can drain out, and air can get in to the plant roots.

When organic matter is worked out of a soil, these crumbs are broken down, the soil particles become separated by raindrops falling directly on the surface. The fine particles run together, clog the pores, and form a seal over the surface, that prevents normal absorption of surface water. Thus, thesurface water is prevented from soaking into the clayey soils and getting into the tile drains where it should go. . ."

Prof. Ruhnke deals with crop residues, farmyard manure and organic matter crops. He writes at the end: "Organic matter cannot be maintained in any soil without making provision also for the maintenance of soil fertility. This means that nitrogen and mineral nutrients have to be provided for as well. Long term experiments in the United States have also shown that soil management practices that result in continued high yields of crops automatically, maintain soil organic matter at an adequate level. Organic mater alone however, seldom keeps crops yield at a high level.

What is needed in the final analysis is a balanced system of soil management, in which provision is made for the return of both organic matter and fertility in proportion to the annual losses from the soil. Anything less than this must lead to bankruptcy of the land."

DRAMA IN CATTLE BREEDING

An example of showmanship a century ago is related of William McCombie of Tillyfour, Scotland, who is reputed to have fused the polled Aberdeen and Angus black cattle into the beef breed which since then has been known as Aberdeen-Angus.

When he had established a type of animal to which he had directed years of breeding, McCombie outclased competition in Scotland, England and France. His black polled bullocks took many prizes at the leading fat stock shows. The climax of his successes was his capture in 1862 of all the honors possible at the Smithfield Stock Show in London with his bull Black Prince.

Mr. McCombie obviously had a flair for promotional and publicity enterprise. He presented his prize Aberdeen-Angus bull to Queen Victoria and invited her to visit Tillyfour to see his herd of some 400 humlies, as the blacks were called in Aberdeen. She accepted, and soon afterwards assembled an Aberdeen-Angus herd of her own at Abergeldie Mains.

King Edward VII continued the herd. In this way McCombie obtained the endorsement of the Royal Family, an invaluable stroke of advertising, and helped to increase the popularity of the blacks throughout the United Kingdom. The Emperor of France paid 160 pounds and 140 pounds for three blacks from the Tillyfour herd.

Inspiration To Juniors

That is just one bright chapter from the history the livestock that have been developed by intelligent farmers now forgotten. Juniors of today who are deciding to make a life work of agriculture will find in the history of their industry many personal achievements like that credited to Wm. McCombie whose "program", to use a familiar word of today, was largely of his own thinking and planning without benefit of the numerous and acknowledged experts now available. Delving into that background should give the young farmers of today more understanding and appreciation of what was done by others like themselves long before the institution of our agricultural colleges.

One of them was a young Scotsman, Hugh Watson of Keillor, Scotland. When he was only 19 years of age, as it is related, he began in 1818 with the best selection of polled blacks that he could obtain.

There had been a movement toward crossing improved Shorthorns with the native blacks, but Aberdeenshire farmers began to realize the danger of their cattle becoming extinct or lost as a pure breed. Since herds of outstanding quality from which he might obtain breeding stock were few, young Watson decided on a policy of cautious inbreeding.

Exhibiting for the first time at the agricultural society show at Perth, Scotland, in 1829, he won first prize for a pair of polled oxen. In his career as an exhibitor at Scottish shows he won more than 500 prizes. The most noted of his females, Old Grannie, was the first cow to be registered in the Scottish herd book.

Produced 29 Calves

It is told of Watson that he was curious to see how long a cow of strong constitution might live, he kept Old Grannie until her death. He recorded that she lived to be 35 years, and produced 29 calves, the last when she was 33. Eleven of them are registered in the herd book, traced to her blood through the female line is exceeded only by those of Black Meg 43, which belonged to William Fullerton, second only to Watson as an improviser of the blacks in that period. The latter cow is regarded as the foundress of the breed.

That was the work of the junior farmer of 130 years ago, Hugh Watson, then only 19 years old.

Two cows from the McCombie herd of Tillyfour became in turn the foundation stock for the Ballindalloch blacks owned by Sir George Macpherson Grant, another of the famous Scotsmen in Aberdeen-Angus history. Sir George demonstrated in show rings of that time that "refinement and good conformation are cardinal in cow breeding and that the bull should be masculine, while a cow should retain the refining graces of femininity". That is generally accepted today as a good principle in breeding, but it was Sir George Grant who did much to define it.

Upon dispersion of the Tillyfour herd in 1880, Ballindalloch cattle became the most famous blacks in Scotland. For nearly a century they were continously owned by three generations of the Grant family. The herd was finally dispersed in 1934.

Son To United States

Going back to Hugh Watson of Keillor—his son William Watson was engaged to manage the farm of T. W. Harvey, a wealthy lumberman, at Turlington, Nebraska. Harvey was not content to import Aberdeen-Angus cattle, but he also obtained Scottish knowledge and ability to build up his herd. It combined the Tillyfour and Ballindaloch blood. The younger Watson concentrated on quality. He had bought Black Knight, the sweepstake winner in 1883 at St. Louis, and used him chiefly in his breeding. The result was a parade of quality seldom equalled anywhere. Among the winners was Heather Lad 2nd and Abess of Turlington, with which Wallace Estill won the championship over all beef breeds at the Columbian Exposition in 1893.

Those are only a few sketchy chapter from the history of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, framing the agricultural drama in the career of the Scottish teenager, Hugh Watson, and his vast contribution of the development of black cattle both in Scotland and America, and of that Victoria showman, William McCombie.

PLANNING WAR ON FOXES

"Since the article was published in the Examiner two weeks ago drawing attention to the present day ravages of foxes upon farm poultry, abundant evidence is being received regarding the seriousness of this situation.

A few days ago a transport driver on No. 7 Highway west of Norwood took the trouble to stop at the first service station to telephone a local farmer that two foxes were having a field day in his big flock of Christmas turkeys. Another farmer reports that he and his wife were eye-witnesses to the destruction by one fox of 40 half-grown turkeys as it rushed through the flock on its mission of killing.

Another poultryman reports the loss of around 150 well bred pullets worth $2 to $3 each during the last month. Foxes don't kill poultry solely for food for themselves or their young. They kill for the fun of it, and 10 to 12 dead birds are not unusual from a raid by a single fox.

The explanation most generally accepted for the vast increase in the number of foxes and the losses therefrom is that the present ridiculously low price of the pelt gives no incentive to the hunter or trapper to engage in the marauder's destruction, and, frankly, the average farmer has neither the skill nor the equipment to get the wily destroyer.

Nominal price of a fox pelt is one dollar, but a fur dealer told me he would not go across the street for a bagfull.

What will be done about it? As the fish and game regulations stand at present "foxes can only be killed legally between Nov. 1st and Feb. 28th each year except in certain counties." In other words, the fox is protected by the laws of the province of Ontario to live, raid and destroy from March 1st to Oct. 31st in any year, except in countries whose county councils have requested and received authority from the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to declare an open season on foxes for the above period, and have provided a bylaw implementing the Order-in-Council to this effect.

We understand that Peterborough county has requested and received this permission.

So, the county council may now declare a bylaw providing open season for hunting foxes during [illegible] period from March 1st to October 31st, in any years.

Due to the many complaints of the losses sustained by farmers in every section of southern Ontario from raids by foxes, the Hatcherymen of this district meeting in Peterborough some weeks ago, decided to do something about it. They decided that a delegation named at that meeting would approach the county councillors of Peterborough and Northumberland-Durham in session at their first meeting in January asking them to take action to provide a legally open season for foxes for the full twelve months in any one year, and also to offer such financial aid by way of bounty that would promote a drastic reduction in the increase in foxes.

It was also suggested that farmers and poultrymen, aroused to the seriousness of this problem, bring the matter up for discussion at their municipal nominations, that their elected representatives, acquainted with the weight of public opinion behind it, would be more ready to give it their support later."

Swanston Acclaimed Mayor 12 Candidates Qualify For Five City Council Seats

Dodds, Young, Sands Seek Re-election; Six Men To Contest Four Vacancies On Board Of Education

Ald. Max J. Swanston was elected by acclamation Mayor of Peterborough for 1949, succeeding Mayor W. G. Ovens, in the week-end nominations, which also returned George A. Macdonald to the Utilities Commission without opposition. Twelve of the fourteen nominees for five places on the City Council accepted candidature, and the six men who were proposed for the four vacancies on the Board of Education wrote their names on the ballots that will be printed for the elections Monday, Dec. 16.

The candidates for the council in alphabetic order are: Alfred Barber, John Beggs, Arthur B. Burrows, Ald. Hurrell Dodds, James E. Gillespie, Joseph A. Jebson, Maurice E. Ketcheson, Percy A. Martyn, Peter J. Mather, Ald. Adam B. Sands, Ald. Herbert N. Young, MD, and Harry M. Yudin.

The two other nominees were: Gordon W. Hodgson and John G. Morton.

Candidates for the Board of education are: Stanley A. Adamson, Walter E. Bannon, Dr. Ralph C. Honey, Frank H Jobbitt, Dr. Ross Matthews and Stanley O. Shields.

Retiring members of the Board who qualified for re-election are: Mr. Bannon, Dr. Honey and Mr. Jobbitt. The fourth member whose term is expiring is Mr. W. B. Gordon who announced several weeks ago that his business prevented him from accepting re-nomination.

Declined To Qualify

Mayor Ovens and Mr. Herbert I. Bradburn declined to qualify for a mayoralty contest, and the electors did not set any opponent to George Macdonald of the Utilities Commission.

The five two-year aldermanic terms that are ending in December are those of Ald. Swanston, now Mayor elect; Aldermen Sands, Dodds, Young and Gordon Armstrong, the latter of whom said recently that he could not afford time from his own affairs to devote to the civic administration.

The new council will be without the experience of Mayor Ovens and Ald. Armstrong whose respective service to the city has been recognized in their separate abilities and earnest application to their trust of public duty and responsibility.

Police Fusilade Halts Two Burglar Suspects

WINDSOR, Nov. 29.—(CP). — A fusilade of police bullets halted one of two men police said were fleeing from an attempted burglary Sunday.

James Martin, 28, no fixed abode, is in hospital with a bullet wound in his ankle. He is under police guard.

Joseph Louis St. Amour, 26, is in custody on a charge of breaking and entering by night with intent to commit a theft. Martin faces a similar charge.

Martin was felled by a police bullet fired in a west-end vacant lot.

Bullets were fired by both Constable Scott and Constable John McConnell at two men who fled when they were surprised in a double garage.

The pair was chased through alleys to the vacant lot.

Constable Scott reported he fired three warning shot over the escaping men's heads. Then he fired at one of the men, who stumbled, but got up and continued running.

The constable said he next fired at the other suspected burglar and dropped him with a bullet in the ankle. He ran up to the fugitive and handcuffed him. The man gave his name as Martin and was taken to hospital.

Doctors Report King Improved

LONDON, Nov. 29 — (CP). — Doctors reported today there is improvement in the general health of the King.

A week ago His Majesty cancelled all public engagements because of an arterial ailment affecting his legs.

A bulletin issued by the five doctors attending the King said:

"As a result of relief from walking, standing and fatigue, improvement in the general health of the King is apparent.

"This is an important factor in re-establishing arterial circulation to the feet, which is also being encouraged by appropriate medicinal and physical measures.

"In this condition restoration of circulation is a slow process extending over a period of months.

Hold 3 In Attack

TORONTO, Nov. 29—(CP). —Three Toronto men were arrested and charged with robbery with violence following an attack early Sunday on Albert Hathaway of Carrying Place, near Trenton, on a downtown street. Police said the men—Walter Gilarski, 28, Peter Gurney, 28, and Reginald Johnson, 22—robbed Hathaway of $65. Police in a cruiser were attracted to the scene by the victim's shouts.

Chef Murdered In Cafe, Door Locked

MONTREAL, Nov. 29 (CP).—Thomas Kacvinsky, chef at the Sunshine Cafe, on St. James Street West, was found slain today, his body slumped over a small restaurant table.

Kacvinsky's head was battered. Police began an investigation to determine also whether the man was shot. Part of a revolver handle was found near an apron on the floor. Police said the apron was used by the slayer in an attempt to wipe up blood.

Captain William Fitzpatrick, head of the homicide squad, said blood stains were found in other parts of the restaurant, indicating a fight had taken place there or that Kacvinsky had staggered into the restaurant after being attacked.

A lower dental plate, believed to belong to Kacvinsky, was also found, near the blood-soaked apron.

Conrab Reibmayr, owner of the restaurant, told police Kacvinsky was the man who opens the restaurant from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sundays. Neighborhood restaurants said the restaurant was open as usual to 3 p.m. Sunday.

A puzzling angle confronting police was definite indication the restaurant was locked from the inside. The owner had to use a broomstick, through a broken window on the side of the door, to lift the latch when he went to the restaurant to-day.

A set of keys apparently had fallen from Kackinsky's hands, indicating the slayer possible had entered as Kacvinsky was about to lock the door.

Israel Applies

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Israel formally applied today for membership in the United Nations. Britain is expected to abstain.

Draws Gun At Party In Lakefield

Police Nab Suspect On No. 7 Highway; Find Small Arsenal

In jail here today, Albert N. Asseltine of Toronto will face charges for carrying guns illegally, following an incident in which it is alleged that he threatened more than a dozen persons in a party at Lakefield Saturday night. Asseltine was arrested early Sunday morning by provincial police after he had left the Lakefield home where it is charged that he lined the group against a wall and brandished a revolver at them. The host of the party, William Corby, is still in hospital following an operation for a hand wound received in a scuffle with Asseltine.

Asseltine had two charges laid against him today in court: the first for unlawfully pointing a .22 calibre revolver at another person; the second was for possessing a .22 calibre revolver capable of being concealed upon his person.

He pleaded not guilty to the first charge and reserved plea on the second. He was remanded until Dec. 6 on $200 bail.

W. J. Arthur Fair represented the accused.

Police say that further charges will be laid.

According to the story told police by the persons at the small gathering at Corby's home, Asseltine had been in the party when he grew angry over some dispute. Drawing a revolver from a shoulder holster, they said, he ordered them to line up against a wall in the living room. This was shortly after midnight.

"He told us to get up there against the wall before somebody got hurt," Mrs. Corby said.

It was while Asseltine was holding the revolver towards the party, witnesses said, that Mr. Corby tackled him and struggled with him for possession of the gun.

Mrs. Corby said that "he was trying to shoot it, and that's how Bill got hurt." Mr. Corby received a serious cut to his hand, presumably where it had been torn by sharp parts of the revolver.

Leaves In Car

While the scuffle was going on, Mrs. Corby telephoned police at Peterborough and Lakefield. Chief Constable Garnet Samis of Lakefield was on patrol at the time. In the interval, before patrolling provincial police arrived at the Corby home, Asseltine had withdrawn from the group and driven away.

A radio alarm description of the car and driver was sent out.

The arrest was made near Fowler's Corners on No. 7 Highway about 3 a.m. Provincial Constable B. Welde of the Lindsay detachment, a recent recruit with the force, was on patrol when the radio message was received. He stopped the described coupe eight miles from Peterborough and arrested Asseltine. While the ac-

Canada Studies Air Lift Again

PARIS, Nov. 29—(CP). — Discussions on possible Canadian participation in the Berlin air lift may be resumed in Ottawa after the current session of the United Nations General Assembly adjourns next month, it was learned today.

If the new talks take place, the emphasis probably will be on manpower rather than machines.

While official confirmation from the Canadian delegation here is lacking, it seems obvious that some reassessment of Canada's position may be in the cards. Such re-examination would be prompted by two recent developments:

1. Canada's close touch with the Berlin situation through Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, permanent Canadian representative to the UN Security Council, in the mediation efforts of the little-six countries in the Council.

2. The week-end visit to Berlin by Gen. McNaughton and L. B. Pearson, head of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations.

Six Children, Mother Die In Flash Fire

DETROIT, Nov. 29—(AP) — A mother and six children were burned to death Sunday night in a flash fire that swept through a crowded wooden dwelling.

Firemen found the bodies of Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins and her six children in bed. The children were identified as Marlene, nine; Peggy, seven; Robert Lee, three; Matleen, two; Neenyora, two months, and Beverly Ann, 14 months.

Police said 10 persons were living in one second-floor room.

The father, Jessie Jenkins, 48, was in severe condition in hospital. Police said he jumped from a second-floor window. Another child, Constance, 13, was badly injured when she also leaped from the window to the pavement.

Constance told police that her parents and the other children were asleep in the bedroom and that she was sitting in the kitchen.

"I was listening to the radio," Constance told police. 'All of a sudden I noticed that the window shade was on fire. Then I noticed fire breaking out through the walls all around me I screamed and jumped through the window.

Constance told police that her mother and father had been separated for eight months but had become reconciled just a week ago.

40 People Escape From Burning Church

KIRKHILL, Ont., Nov. 29 (CP) —Forty persons escaped uninjured when fire broke out Sunday in West United Church during the morning service. Kirkhill is 60 miles east of Ottawa.

Reverend J. Maxwell Allan, newly-inducted minister of the church, said there was "no panic whatsoever," in the congregation when the blaze was discovered.

The floor of the stone building was destroyed, along with the pulpit and most of the woodwork at the front of the church.

The fire, which did $2,000 damage, was believed caused by an overheated furnace.

Swanston First Resident Ashburnham To Be Mayor

"I feel deeply grateful to the citizens for electing me to the office of Mayor for next year," said Ald. Max Swanston today. "It takes one a little time to realize it, and especially in getting an acclamation.

"I would like to mention particularly Mayor Ovens and Herbert Bradburn in retiring after they were nominated, and leaving the field to me. No one appreciates their qualification better than I do. I was with both of them in the council for a span of years.

"The splendid record of Mayor Ovens is known to everybody, and I am confident that Herb Bradburn would have made an excellent Mayor and would have given fine leadership in the council."

"The fact that they both stepped aside calls for more appreciation than I can put in words. Their action gave me a little assurance Saturday night that they felt the position was safe with me. I wish to thank them both, publicly, for their indication of confidence in me. Mayor Ovens had previously declared that he was not going to be in the field again. He is winding up three years as Mayor on the high note of the visit of the Governor-General to lay the foundation stone of our new Civic Hospital."

First Ashburnham Man

"There is another aspect of the election that appeals very strongly to me. I believe I am the first resident of Ashburnham to be Mayor of Peterborough."

4 Dead, 22 Hurt In Plant Blasts

HULL, Yorkshire, Eng., Nov. 29—(CP) — Four persons were killed and 22 injured today in three explosions which ripped the British cocoa mills plant apart. Seven persons were trapped in the building as it went up in flames.

Police, firemen and other rescue workers struggled to force their way into the blazing building to reach those trapped. Cries could be heard from those still in the plant.

Smoke from the fire rose more than 1,000 feet and windows more than half a mile away were shattered by the blasts.

T. F. Sloot, technical director of the plant, explaining that gasoline was used in large quantities at the mills, said the first explosion was caused by one of the tanks bursting.

Escaping gasoline flooded the plant, caught fire and other explosions followed, blowing out walls and shattering machinery.

An eye-witness said that one man who was killed was blown out on to the street from the top of the building.

A roll call showed seven persons, including a girl, missing.

2 Cars Meet Head-On, 4 Injured

2 Other Automobiles Also In Tangle After Passing Attempt

Richard Mercer, 23, of 374 Grady Ave., an employee in the machine repair department of the C.G.E. was almost instantly killed in a four-car smash-up on highway 28 at 10.30 Sunday night.

Garnet Cox, allegedly the driver of the car in which Mercer, his wife and Miss Ann Hughey, 499 Albert St. were passengers, is in Civic Hospital with numerous cuts and bruises on the face, arm and legs. Miss Hughey, also in hospital is suffering from slight concussion and shock. Mrs. Mercer was allowed to go home after having her injuries treated, and Miss Inez Spooner, passenger in another car involved was treated for a leg injury.

According to police the car driven by Cox was proceeding north near the Fraserville cemetery, behind a car driven by Douglas Stinson, Haliburton, with Sinclair Davies, John A. Austin, Neil Howe and Clifford Vickery as passengers. Cox started to pass the Stinson car on a slight grade, and met a south-bound car almost head-on.

The south-bound car was driven by Roy Wrightley, R.R. 2, Havelock, and his passengers were Wilfred Spooner, Dennis Spooner, Inez Spooner and Miss C. Wilson, all of Havelock. Wrightley's car was damaged to the extent of $300 and Cox's car was a total wreck. The Stinson car was also involved in the tangle as was another south-bound car which had been following Wrightley. This fourth car was driven by D. Foote, Toronto, who was alone. Both his car and the one driven by Stinson were slightly damaged.

Mercer was employed as a machine-repair man at the C.G.E., and had completed his apprenticeship a short time ago. He served in the Royal Canadian Navy during the war. He was married this year, and his wife was also employed at the C.G.E. plant.

Provincial Constables Crough, Grayling, Stephens and Cooke investigated the accident.

Floods, High Winds Batter Southern U.S.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—The elements hit the United States in various forms Sunday. Floods and high winds struck the south. Rain and snow plagued many areas.

At least five persons were killed in automobile accidents attributed to the weather. Another was missing.

Rain-scwollen rivers left their banks in three Southern States—Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes. Property and crop damage was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Three died in Georgia and Alabama highway accidents and another person was missing. Two were killed on a slippery highway in Pennsylvania.

Many roads were inundated. Near Montgomery, Ala., 335 convicts were evacuated from a prison farm to the Kilby State prison, nearby, when the Tallapoosa river rose.

Former Hired Man Kills Farmer Boss

Shoots Wife, Then Kills Himself As Police Take Him In Hospital

TILLSONBURG, Nov. 29—(CP) —John Matulevicius killed Bruno Gudavitch, 48, wounded Gudavitch's 27-year-old wife with three bullets and then shot and killed himself a short time later when law officers closed in on him, police said.

Matulevicius, 27, known in this district as Joe Mitchell, was a Lithuanian displaced person. Investigation showed he came to Canada three months ago, from Europe, bringing with him the German Luger pistol and the German-made bullets he used early Sunday in the shooting, for which police have established no motive.

Mitchell worked for Gudavitch during this fall's tobacco harvest. But when Gudavitch was unable to sell his crop, Mitchell received his notice. About a week ago, Mitchell returned to the Gudavitch home. An argument started Sunday and he was given an hour to leave the farmhouse in South Norwich township three miles from here.

Marcel Vandemaele, a neighbor, said Mitchell aroused him early Sunday morning with word of the shooting.

"He shook my foot to wake me and said, 'come over Gudavitch's. Big trouble there.'

Finds Victims

"When I got there with my truck, Mitchell was there in the doorway and led me inside. The woman was lying in the doorway between the bedroom and the living room. Mrs. Gudavitch raised her arm and moaned, 'help.' Mitchell tried to support her but she would have nothing to do with him. She said, 'Don't leave Bruno back there; poor Bruno will die.' I carried her to the truck.

"On the way to Tillsonbury, I spoke to him (Mitchell) in German. He understood it better than English. He told me Bruno was shot and was dead, so I made up my mind that when we got to the hospital I'd walk right in and leave them in the truck while I called the police."

"But Mitchell followed right along."

"When we got the woman into a room, she said, 'He shot me and Bruno.' The nurse turned in surprise and pointed at Mitchell. I told her not to point or he would know what she meant.

"Mitchell waited about five minutes there and I knew we were in a tight spot. Then he saw the police car through the window. He started out the back door. Two policemen came in the door and, when he saw he was cornered, he turned back."

"I tried to get him to sit down but he walked past me about six feet with the police right behind him. He pulled his gun then and shot himself through the head."

There will be no inquest.

Chiang Forces Withdraw From Suchow

Government Wants Best Soldiers To Defend Road To Nanking

NANKING, Nov. 29 — (AP). — The critical battle for central China appeared today to be shifting from Suchow to the approaches of this Chinese capital.

It was learned reliably that the estimated 250,000 Nationalist troops at Suchow, defence bastion for Nanking, have been ordered to withdraw southward to engage the main Chinese Communist forces.

The battle for Suchow has raged three weeks. Its abandonment would indicate that the Government regards as more critical the developing struggle in the 211 miles between here and Suchow. Earlier, reports from the fronts indicated that the Communists have left secondary troops to engage Nationalists within the Suchow perimeter. The main Communist strength of nearly 500,000 troops was reported heading south toward Pengpu, 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

The Communists already hold Suhsien, 45 miles south of Suchow. An estimated 140,000 Government troops—regarded as inferior to those at Suchow—oppose the Communists at Suhsien.

Farther southward, and mostly in the Pengpu area, are another 50,000 Nationalists.

(If the estimates of the opposing sides are about correct, the urgency of withdrawing Suchow's defenders to help Government forces to the south appears clear. The Communists seem to hold more than a 2-to-1 numerical advantage over the Government on the road to Nanking.)

The Red armies of Generals Chen Yi and Liu Po-Cheng have been edging steadily southward from the Suchow area.

In Peiping, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi's north China headquarters announced Government withdrawal from Shankaikwan, seacoast town along the great wall and 165 miles northeast of Tientsin, and the nearby port of Chingwantao. Fu said the two isolated points had lost their strategic value.

Potato Price Support Costs About 5 Million

OTTAWA, Nov. 29 (CP)—The government expects to shell out between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 next year for Canadian potatoes that may be fed to cattle or dumped into fields.

A government source said Sunday night that this amount is expected to be paid out to Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick potato farmers under the government's price support program in 1949.

Although Canada's 1948 potato crop is estimated at more than 90,000,000 bushels, the source said no more than about 8,000,000 bushels in P.E.I. and N.B. will require price support.

Farmers will get paid at the rate of $1.15 for every 100 pounds still remaining on the farm after April 1. Government estimators will start a check then and payment is expected to be made the following month.

The source said the government set the supported price at $1.15 per 100 pounds after certain trade groups in the two Maritime provinces urged a price-support figure of $1.90 for every 100 pounds, packed, graded and ready for loading at rail points.

The government decided on the lower price for potatoes on the farm since it saw no reason to prepare them for shipment when there was no expected market for the surplus.

There was also the expectancy a lower international demand for Canadian potatoes will ease the retail price across the country.

The government hoped to keep the rich United States potato market open "as much as possible" for Canadian seed potatoes. Table potatoes were not wanted, since the United States had a bumper crop of its own to support.

No Big Welcome For Mme. Chiang

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's arrival here this week is expected to touch off a fresh drive to get the United States to underwrite China's war against its Communist foes.

Authoritative informants said today that as the Chinese president's wife she will be shown "every courtesy," but they made clear privately they have little sympathy with Madame Chiang's unofficial mission.

This attitude has been openly shown in the hands-off policy the United States state department has tried to follow as far as possible in dealing with her trip. In announcing Saturday night that she would travel here in a United States naval transport plane the department emphasized that it was made available "at her request." There was no expression of welcome and no official word on arrangements which might be made to expedite her mission after the scheduled arrival Wednesday.

The fact is, Madame Chiang's trip dramatizes a dilemma in which State Secretary Marshall and President Truman find themselves in connection with the Chinese crisis.

Drives 350 Miles With Injured Indian

LITTLE CURRENT, Nov. 29.—(CP).—Dr. John Henry Sunday night set out over north country roads for Toronto, taking a critically injured Indian youth 350 miles by auto for an emergency operation on a bullet wound in the head.

A freeze-up a few days ago stopped the regular air service to this Northern Ontario community on Manitoulin Island.

Alberta, Ontario Sweep Honors At Chicago Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 29—(CP)—The wheat, oats and soybean kingships already in the Canadian fold, exhibitors from the Dominion today were favored to add the rye and barley crowns at the 49th International Livestock Expositions.

The rye and barley kings will be picked this afternoon at the International Grain and Hay show, held in conjunction with the livestock exposition.

Sydney John Allsop, ruddy-faced farmer from Red Deer, Alta. a rich farming community 90 miles north of Calgary, was named wheat king of North America Sunday. John T. Elink of Hairy Hill, Alta., topped all competitors to win the oats king title. William R. Beattie of Staples, Ont., took top soybean laurels.

Allsop, who twice before took the title—in 1934 and 1947—won with an entry of fat, plump Reward variety of hard red spring wheat which weighed 66.9 pounds to the bushel. He thus bettered his record last year, when he won the crown with a 66.5-pound sample.

Elink's winning oats sample was aptly of "Victory" variety. The triumph marked the 13th straight time the oats crown remained in the dominion. Alex Stewart and son of Ailsa Craig, Ont., entered the prize-winning sample last year. This year their entry did not reach the finals.

Beattie won with his Lincoln variety of yellow soybeans.

Canadians even invaded traditional American agricultural fields, and won. Harold Holdaway of Blenheim, Ont., took a divisional first in yellow corn, notably an American product. His camp of genuine Pfister hybrid bested entries from 25 American competitors. Two other Blenheim farmers, Archie and D. H. Laird, took first and second places, respectively, in Flint corn.

Calgary Stages Victory Rodeo In Toronto Hotel

TORONTO, Nov. 29—(CP).—It might have looked like New Year's Eve and it certainly sounded like New Year's Eve. But it wasn't. It was merely a horde of happy Calgarians celebrating the first Grey Cup the foothills city has ever won. Hundreds of happy Westerners packed the main lobby of Toronto's largest hotel Saturday for a bit of a hoe-down.

They set up the goal posts in the lobby, packed it from wall to wall with cowboy-clothed singing, rollicking fans. It was so crowded that two guitar-strumming merry-makers used a table top for fear of strumming somebody's eye out.

One enterprising individual was busy sawing up the goal posts and selling souvenir slices at $1 each. But when the singing started he gave up money for music.

All around the mezzanine balcony, awed Easterners stood four deep, just watching.

The crowd sang everything but "Auld Lange Syne," concentrating of course, on western songs.

Scores of persons besieged Stampeders star lanky Negro end, Woody Strode, for his autograph.

Wear Black Ribbons

Several persons — obviously from Ottawa—were wearing black ribbons.

Ottawa Rough Riders left their hotel Saturday night.

The celebration was not confined to the hotel. All across the city and far into the morning, night-spots, bars and restaurants were punctuated with shouts of "Who won the football game?"

"CALGARY!"

Players of both teams took time out to go on a coast-to-coast broadcast two hours after the game from the Toronto Men's Press Club, where Mayor Hiram McCallum extended an official civic welcome. There was no let up in the Calgary celebrations there.

Tom Brook, Stampeders president, went on the air hugging the Grey Cup. He had carried it around ever since getting it right after the game from Percy Robinson, Canadian Rugby Union secretary.

Calgary players and supporters togged out in their colorful cowboy outfits, took turns drinking from the venerable trophy. Some said it contained champagne, although maybe anything tasted like champagne to the victory-mad Calgarians.

Big Tony Golab was among the first of the Ottawans to congratulate the Calgary players.

cused drove the car back towards the city, PC Welde followed in the police cruiser.

"At the outskirts of Peterborough, on No. 7 Highway, provincial police here had erected a road block and there took over the prisoner from the Lindsay officer. On duty were Provincial Cpl. L. T. Keeler, Constables Beverley Bell, George Henderson, Harry Cook and Keith O'Shaughnessy and Chief Samis.

In the car was found what was described as "a small arsenal." The haul included a German submachine gun, with two loaded clips; a loaded ammunition belt; revolver in shoulder holster and a single-barrel shotgun. There was plenty of ammunition for all the weapons, the searchers said.

Meanwhile, back at Lakefield, a doctor was called for Mr. Corby, whose hand injury was bleeding badly. He was operated on Sunday afternoon and will be permitted to go home today.

Mrs. Corby would give few details of the incident. She said that a number of friends and relatives from the Belleville district had been visiting and that the party was in their honor. Asseltine had been a stranger to her, she said, and had been with one of the other visitors. She did not say what argument had led to the alleged revolver-waving incident.

Asseltine will be charged with assaulting Mr. Corley, in addition to other charges connected with the guns.

GALWAY-CAVENDISH Reeve and Council were returned by acclamation on Saturday. Peter Pearson, shown above, was returned as Reeve for his fourth consecutive term. The councillors are Lester Hickey, Ray Allen, Charles Molyneaux and Alex Kennedy.

Dawson, Reid Candidates For Reeveship

In Otonabee, the election ract is wide open. When the deadline for qualifying arrived at 9 p.m. Saturday two men were standing for Reeve, two for Deputy-Reeve and four for Councillors.

Main interest is focussed on the battle for the reeveship. The two opposing candidates are the present Reeve, W. W. Dawson and his opponent of last year, Harry Reid.

That election was very close. Only about a dozen votes separated the two men when the ballots were tabulated. Because the voters' list and assessment roll were later found to be faulty there was considerable speculation whether there would be a recount or another election.

When Mr. Reid was giving his nomination address on Thursday he said that he had every right to ask for a re-election but thought that it would be an unwarranted expense for the ratepayers.

"I thought I'd wait a year and try again this time," said Mr. Reid.

Two present Councillors, Percy Davidson and R. R. Stewart are candidates for Deputy-Reeve. The incumbent, Harry McIntyre, announced at the nomination meeting that he would drop out of municipal politics this year.

Decides To Stand

Because of Mr. McIntyre's decision, Percy Davidson said that he had decided to submit his name to the electors of Otonabee. He had one suggestion to make: that the nomination meeting not be held until the end of the year so that a clearer picture of the municipality's financial position could be seen.

Mr. Stewart in his nomination address refrained from committing himself but asked the body of ratepayers present whether or not they approved the proposed expenditure of $9 000 to $12,000 on firefighting equipment.

He regretted that more interested people did not offer themselves as school trustees. "I don't know of anything more important than the education of our children," he said.

For the three positions on Council there are four candidates —Allan Eason, a councillor last year; David M. McIntyre, Norman McConkey and Roy Spears.

Peter J. Mather, former Reeve of Otonabee, withdrew from the Reeveship at the last minute and is running for a seat on the 1949 Peterborough Council.

Bethany Man Shot In Thigh

BETHANY, Nov. 29—(ENS).—When a shot gun was accidentally discharged on Saturday at a shooting match for geese, Harry Jones of Bethany was wounded in the thigh. Mr. Jones was standing within about ten feet, awaiting the turn for rifles when shot entered the stock of the rifle in his hand, deflected and entered his thigh.

Part of the discharged shot also entered the shoulder of Russell Kerr, at whose home the accident occurred, and Clarence Page, another member of the party, received some small shot in his hand. Mr. Jones is a patient at Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay.

"I knew most of the aldermen who have been members from the east side of the river: M. Harry Gainey, the late Gus Hay an Harry Morgan, Frank Adams and John Anderson, Archibald Weir and John Smith who was a machinist at the Wm. Hamilton foundry on Reid St. I believe R. M. Glover was living on the west side while he was Alderman, but I think he should be mentioned anyway. There may have been some others."

"I would like to mention too that some weeks ago Ald. Hurrell Dodds volunteered the statement that he would not oppose me because with eight years in the council he considered that I should have a chance to be mayor. There have been many other expressions of encouragement, and my main hope is that I will measure up to the traditions connected with the office of Mayor of this city."

Expansion Predicted For Cobourg Plastic Industry

COBOURG, Nov. 29— Rotarian Harry Gadd, plastic manager of the C.G.E. plastic plant at Cobourg, gave a classification talk on the plastic industry at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of Cobourg. He pointed out early in his address, that the function of the Cobourg plant is to mould and fabricate plastic materials into finished plastic components which enter into the assembly of finished equipment.

"The moulding and forming of plastics cover a very broad field of operations and our present program does not by any means provide for all of these processes. At present we concentrate on the type of things which enter into the assembly of company apparatus and appliances. Ir. addition to the company's own requirments, we manufacture plastic parts of the same general type for other companies who do not have the facilities. Also our equipment lends itself to the production of many other items that are not related directly with the electrical industry but which call upon techniques with which we are familiar. Hence the great variety of types of things made here in Cobourg," Mr. Gadd said.

The plastic industry, he continued, was relatively new and is considered one which will expand a good deal further before it has found a stabilized level. The company looked to possible future expansion in increased demand in types now made and also in a broadening to other types of materials and processes not provided for in the present program.

240 Employees.

"The first job is to get the present facilities into full operation and to be able to produce at competitive prices. The success or otherwise of this will no doubt be a determining factor upon our prosperity so far as the Cobourg plant is concerned. My associates at the works, and myself, feel confident and enthusiastic and feel very gratified about our choice of location from every point of view. About twenty of our technical people were brought here, chiefly from Peterborough. The people of Cobourg have certainly sold themselves to us newcomers and we hope that, on our part, we are not making too many mistakes from a community point of view. There are about 240 people employed at the plant now and this continue to increase. We are working at three shifts a day except for meal-times and rest periods," the speaker said.

He defined plastics as a word which in itself was older than the plastic industry. Plastic was an adjective describing a condition of matter, for instance putty was plastic but wood was not. A great many materials which are solid at ordinary temperatures become plastic temperatures but they are plastic at some point between that condition and their moulten state. This word "plastic" was accordingly properly employed as an adjective to a great many materials.

Now Its a Noun.

"For our purpose today, however, we are interested in the use of the word as a noun. It appears that the plastic industry has appropriated this adjective and used it as a noun to embrace the products of the industry. Our definition is that when used in this sense, the word plastics refers to materials which may be moulded, processed or formed to shape by the application of heat and pressure, the basis of which material is a synthetic, organic resin. A synthetic resin is a manufactured resin and is invariably more uniform than is a natural resin because the synthetic resin is made under complete control and from known ingredients. Some of the natural resins are still used in the moulding industry as the largest proportion of phonograph records are still made from shellac, although even in this case, the higher-quality records are now being made from Vynil plastics," Mr. Gadd told his listeners.

In the production of plastic moulding compounds, the synthetic organic resins may contain fillers or reinforcements of many types. The plastics may also, in some case, be composed of the complete resin with no other ingredients. The fillers may be various substancese in powdered or granular form. Alternatively, they may be fabric sheets or paper impregnated with the synthetic resin. The rest of the general story is that these plastics resins some in hundreds of different types and in thousands of detailed formulations, giving plastics the name for a great many different materials. In addition to the difference in the resins, there is also the effect of the different fillers and different processes of fabrication. There were more varieties of plastics than there are of metals. If an article is to be made from metal, consideration would have to be given to the service that the piece had to perform and the type of metal best suited for that service. In plastics engineering at the CGE it is a requirement that the right plastic for the right job is selected.

"Our jobs include the designing of the plastics parts and of the moulds which will produce them, also of estimating the costs of both they are made. The moulds must be made from hardenede steel with minute accuracy as to shape and dimension. These will be produced in our tool room and is a highly skilled and expensive part of the business. A mould for a radio cabinet costs approximately $5,000 but it would be capable of producing many thousands of models. We have 72 presses of different types. These are hydraulically operated and the moulds steam heated. Each mould must be mounted in the appropriate press and the technical details of operation worked out," Mr. Gadd said.

Lakefield In Hockey With The TVL

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 29—(ENS)—Should the Trent Valley Hockey League remain as one unit or should it be split into two east and west areas? This was the most pressing question before an executive meeting held in the Masonic Temple on Sunday afternoon.

President Art Duncan of Batawa said that division would cause the fans to lose interest in hockey and that it would weaken the whole structure of the league. Others pointed out that the long disances the teams had to travel involved too much strain on the players and proved too expensive to some clubs.

Jack Baker of Madoc stated that if Lakefield was excluded from the league the transportation problem would be greatly simplified. He made a motion to that effect but it was defeated Then Dr. Richardson of Campbellford moved that the league carry on as in previous years. The motion was sustained.

It was made clear that the following rules and regulations must be obeyed: Referees are responsible to the executive and must send secretary a report immediately following each game. The player must be a bonafide resident of the town for which he plays and the deadline for signing his residence certificate is Oct. 1. If two towns claim a player who lives about an equal distance from each, the player has the right of choice but he cannot obtain his release once he has signed his certificate.

It was moved and carried that a club failing to ice a team as per schedule or failing to notify the opposing club before 5 p.m. on the day of play why it cannot honor its obligations will be liable to a fine not exceeding $50, the amount to be fixed by the president.

The following clubs are expected to enter the league: Batawa, Frankford, Madoc, Stirling, Tweed, Marmora, Hastings, Warkworth, Campbellford, Norwood and Lakefield. Ken Kingston of Campbellford was selected to draw up the league schedule.

Cobourg Choir Visits St. James

The choir of Trinity United Church, Cobourg, visited St. James' United Church to present a special service of praise at the regular Sunday evening service. The choir was under the leadership of Mr. William Mortimer, organist of Trinity Church. The following anthems were most effectively rendered: "O Loving Saviour," "Thou Lamb of God," "Even Me," and "Sun of My Soul." Impressive solos were sung by the following members of the choir: "Open the Gates of the Temple," Mr. Albert Hircock; "In Green Pastures," Mrs. Stewart Guy; "The Lord Is My Light," Mr. Art Jones. Well-known hymns were used in the service in which the congregation heartily joined.

Following the church services both choirs met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lapp, where united fellowship was enjoyed by all. Christmas carols were sung by the group of seventy choristers, after which individual selections were rendered by several members of both choirs, vocal and instrumental. Before the happy evening ended the combined choirs sang the "Hallelujah Chorus." Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Cecil Lapp, and her helpers, and a helpful evening of fellowship and co-operation was brought to a close. St. James' senior and junior choirs, under the able direction of Cecil Lapp, organist, conducted the service of praise at Trinity Church in Cobourg.

The Next U.S. Cabinet

Political observers in the United States are an apparently unchastened lot, for they are now busily discussing the probable appointments to be made by President Truman to his next Cabinet, despite the fact that the great majority of them had a Republican Cabinet picked out as late as Nov. 1. Most of the speculation is on the possibility of changes in the two most important departments of the present time—State and Defence.

* * *

Several commentators have freely predicted that both Secretary of State George Marshall and Under-Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett are due for retirement, the former because of his own insistence and the latter because of President Truman's insistence. Mentioned as likely candidates for the State Department posts are Chief Justice Frederick Vinson, Averell Harriman, Dean G. Acheson and Sumner Wells. The resignation of Secretary of Defence James Forrestal is almost as freely predicted, and there have been hints that Secretary of Air Stuart Symington, who was unenthusiastic about Mr. Truman's campaign, would also be dropped. Several names are also mentioned as candidates for the Defence Department—former Secretary of War Harry Woodring; former Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, who was Democratic fund-raiser in this year's campaign; Secretary of War Kenneth Royall, and Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan.

* * *

While other world capitals would undoubtedly regret the departure of either General Marshall or Mr. Lovett from the State Department, the quality of the replacements mentioned is fortunately high. Harriman, Acheson and Welles are able and experienced diplomats, and while Chief Justice Vinson lacks international experience, he is considered one of the shrewdest mediators in the United States. It is regrettable that the same cannot be said of the candidates mentioned for the Defence Department; not one man on the list is regarded as an acceptable successor to Mr. Forrestal, whose slight differences with President Truman have not in the least obscured his brilliant record in the U.S. Cabinet.

* * *

The appointments to the Defence post, and to others, will indicate whether the recent advance of mediocrity in the United States Administration will be checked or will continue to spread. These appointments will be among the most important decisions President Truman will have to face during the next four years, for they will, in effect, name the rulers of the important field of policy-making during that time.

Israel, A "Vibrant Reality"

We have been reading a three-quarter page advertisement in the New York Times with considerable astonishment. The advertisement announced that Menachem Beigin, former Irgun Commander-in-Chief, would arrive in New York that day (November 23rd). It had much to say about Mr. Beigin and listed hundreds of names of prominent Jewish people who were on the reception committee. It was a big splash and rather a muddy one, from a Canadian point of view.

The advertisement had a large headline describing Menachem Beigin as "THE MAN WHO DEFIED AN EMPIRE and GAINED GLORY FOR ISRAEL". In a box at the side of the advertisement were four lines of verse written by an Irishman:

"One man with a dream at pleasure
Shall go forth and conquer a crown.
And three with a new song's measure
Can trample an Empire down".

We suggest that no matter how much glory Mr. Beigin gained for Israel and no matter how 'vibrant a reality' Israel now is, the British lion did not quiver at his defiance nor has he 'trampled an Empire down'. It is shocking to see hate advertised in large letters in a great American paper, even though hate is so easy to stir up and so persistent long after the alleged causes of it have been removed.

It would be difficult for an impartial historian to put Britain in the role of oppressor of Jewry. Throughout the centuries, Britain has shown greater tolerance of and more hospitality to Jews than any other civilized nation. Its record of the last thirty years in Palestine is not dishonourable. Britain had not only to consider Jewish national aspirations but the rights of the major population—Arabs. If any serious criticism must be directed at Britain for its Palestine policy it would be that the Arabs have been neglected and the Jews favoured by it.

We regret exceedingly such advertising tactics by the New York Jewish community. We are sure that they do not speak for Jews in Britain and Canada. Unfortunately such blasts can backfire, and injure our Jewish friends outside New York. The state of Israel may be a vibrant reality, but some of its American supporters are striking the wrong strings. The resulting noise is nasty and arrogant.

Why Wy?

English people leave out their 'h's' in strange places, and in none more odd than in words like when, where, why and what. These words which most Canadians pronounce which a good whoof on the 'h' are heard in the very best British circles as wen, were, wy and wot. Indeed, such an aristocrat of language as the late Professor H. C. Wyld, Merton Professor of English Language in the University of Oxford, acknowledges in his dictionary only those pronunciations—never an 'h' in them. It may shock many Canadians to learn that people in Britain who speak "received Southern English" (that is Professor Wyld's term for what he thinks is the King's English) do not say their 'h's' in these and similar words. They may never have noted the omission. Our breezy 'h' in why and where is, however, one of the points of difference in speech which some English people are quick to hear but too reticent to remark on.

Must we Canadians begin to say 'Wy did you do it?" and "Were are you going?" and "Wot do you want?" if we want to speak correct English? Monstrous! For one reason, what may be 'correct' in England is not necessarily 'correct' in Canada. For another, the 'h's' suit our climate and character—a bit gruff, a bit breezy, a bit open, a bit forthright. Anyway, our way of speaking English is rather old-fashioned; indeed, Shakespearean. It is also more Irish and Scottish than southern English. Shakespeare said 'why' with an 'h', and the Scots and Irish do today. If we went even farther back than Elizabeth, back to Anglo-Saxon days, we would hear the 'h' even stronger than in Canada now. Every one of those words in which many English people discard the 'h' with scant ceremony has its root in an Anglo-Saxon word which begins with an 'h'.

To clinch our argument: the Oxford English Dictionary gives only 'h' pronunciations: wHat, wHere, wHy? We shall keep our 'h's' and puff them loudly to the Canadian skies.

New Publisher For The Telegram

Newspapermen everywhere in Canada will congratulate Mr. George McCullagh, who has bought the 72 years old Toronto Telegram and who will take up control of it on the first of December. Although of late years it has lost much of its former influence The Telegram is still one of the most important newspaper properties in Canada and under decisive management there can be no doubt that it will soon regain lost ground.

Mr. McCullagh's abilities as a publisher are amply proven by the success which he has made of The Globe and Mail; although many Canadian newspapermen disagree with its political opinions and its intensive crusades, there has never been any question but that The Globe and Mail is a model in its presentation of news, and unquestionably the finest example of newspaper typography in this country. Undoubtedly Mr. McCullagh will apply the methods which have given his morning paper character to his evening paper, and we may expect great improvements in The Telegram.

Since The Telegram was founded methods of newspaper organization and production have changed almost out of recognition. There is no publisher in Canada who understands modern methods better than Mr. McCullagh and we are happy to see an historic journal pass into his hands.

NOTES AND COMMENT

In a horserace at Manchester a horse called Abou Ben Adhem "also ran". Last time we heard that name it "led all the rest".

Italy is opposed to Britain's trusteeship of Cyrenaica, which used to be a part of Mussolini's African Empire. We have it on good authority that Italy is also opposed to the fact that she lost the war.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

WHAT woman could resist an inventory of worldly (and unworldly) goods as fascinating as that which the late G. K. Chesterton was prepared to endow his future bride! According to a story told in Maisie Ward's charming biography of Gilbert Keith Chesterton, he wrote to the lady, who was later to become Mrs. "G.K." (she could not have withstood this type of argument for any length of time):

"....I am looking over the sea and endeavouring to reckon up the estate I have to offer you. As far as I can make out my equipment for starting on a journey to fairyland consists of the following items:

"1st. A straw hat. The oldest part of this admirable relic shows traces of pure Norman work. The vandalism of Cromwell's soldiers has left us little of the original hat-band.

"2nd. A walking stick, very nobby and heavy; admirably fitted to break the head of any denizen of Suffolk who denies that you are the noblest of ladies, but of no other manifest use.

"3rd. A copy of Walt Whitman's poems, once nearly given to Salter, but quite forgotten. It has his name in it still with an affectionate inscription from his sincere friend Gilbert Chesterton. I wonder if he will ever have it.

"4th. A number of letters from a young lady, containing everything good and generous and loyal and holy and wise that isn't in Walt Whitman's poems.

"5th. An unwieldly sort of pocket knife, the blades mostly having an edge of a more varied and picturesque outline than is provided by the prosaic cutler. The chief element however, is a thing 'to take stones out of a horse's hoof'. What a beautiful sensation of security it gives one to reflect that if one should ever have money enough to buy a horse and should happen to buy one and the horse should happen to have a stone in his hoof—that one is ready; one stands prepared, with a defiant smile.

"6th. Passing from the last miracle of practical foresight, we come to a box of matches Every now and then I strike one of these, because fire is beautiful and burns your fingers. Some people think this waste of matches: the same people who object to the building of Cathedrals.

"7th. About three pounds in gold and silver, the remains of one of Mr. Unwin's bursts of affection: those explosions of spontaneous love for myself, which, such is the perfect order and harmony of his mind, occur at startlingly exact intervals of times.

"8th. A book of Children's Rhymes, in manuscript, called the "Weather Book" about three-quarter finished, and destined for Mr. Nutt. I have been working at it fairly steadily, which I think jolly creditable under the circumstances. One can't put anything interesting in it. They'll understand those things when they grow up.

"9th. A tennis racket—nay, start not. It is a part of the new regime, and the only new and neat looking thing is the Museum. We'll soon mellow it — like the straw hat. My brother and I are teaching each other lawn tennis.

"10th. A soul, hitherto idle and omnivorous but now happy enough to be ashamed of itself.

"11th. A body, equally idle and omnivorous, absorbing tea, coffee, claret, sea-water and oxygen to its own perfect satisfaction. It is happiest swimming, I think, the sea being about a convenient size.

"12th. A Heart—mislaid somewhere. And that is about all the property of which an inventory can be made at present. After all, my tastes are stoical; simple. A straw hat, a stick, a box of matches and some of his own poetry. What more does man require?..."

✧ ✧ ✧

IN a second hand book shop last week I came across a small pamphlet which quickly caught my interest. It was called Sir Wilfrid's Progress Through England And France In The Jubilee Year, and was published three years before the turn of the century. A. M. R. Gordon wrote the verse in imitation of W. H. Drummond.

WILFRID DE GREAT

W'en Queen Victoria call her peup's
For mak' some jubilee,
She sen' for men from all de worl'—
Dat mean her colonie.

But mos' of all she sen' dis word,
To dis Canadian shore,

Den Wilfrid sail across de sea,

'Bout little t'ing like dat.

"To Londres, on de day in June
You tole me, I will come,
And show you w'at is like de French—

Den Wilfrid sail across de sea,
An' Queen Victoria's met,
An' w'en she's see him, ah! she is
Jus' tickle half to deat'!

She tak' a sword into de han'
An' hit him on de neck.

An' w'en she do, she smile on him,
An' dese de words she say:
"Rise up, my true Canadian knight,

Den Wilfrid kiss de Royal han',
An' back off on de door,
An' bow, as only Frenchman can,
An' smile an' bow some more.

Nex' day, it ees a glorious sight,

For see Sir Wilfrid ride on state
An' in chapeau de coque!

Letter To The Editor

PUBLIC HEALTH IN THE COBOURG DISTRICT

Sir: I usually try to listen to some of the session of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Council when I am in Cobourg and I dropped in on Thursday and while there I heard some of the members discussing the health unit of the counties. I gathered that they figured the medical men working in the unit, there are three I believe, were getting too much money and the nurses were getting too low a salary.

I heard one county councillor criticise the health unit because he was given a dirty fork or something in a Cobourg restaurant and in the next breath he was talking about inefficient sanitary inspectors. However, while the county council is asking for fewer sanitary inspectors, the fact is that there isn't one in the Cobourg area. It would appear therefore that if anything the number of inspectors should be increased if cafes are to be kept up to the proper standards of cleanliness.

Another man complained about something else that had to do with a sanitary inspector and one could hardly do anything else except gather that a few isolated instances had been picked up and held forth as reasons why the health unit was not doing its job. There was also the complaint that the doctors were getting too much money. I think the chief M.O.H. gets $5,700, and his assistant M.O.H.'s get $5,200 and $4,200 respectively. No doubt the nurses are paid considerably less, but I wonder if it is realized the supervision that must be carried out by these doctors and is ridiculous to attempt to set up the theory that nurses should be paid along the same scale as doctors. Perhaps some sanitary inspectors are officious, and if they are, all that has to be done is to make a complaint to the county board of health. I am afraid our counties council has a foreshortened vision that is cluttered up with some minor instances while the overall efficiency of the health unit is lost sight of. They would decrease the staff by say one doctor, saving (?) $4,000 or so, and then they would think nothing of tossing away that sum many times more to keep the voters in some township happy by fixing up a road that might not be necessary.

JOHN NORMAN.

Mr. King's Memoirs—

Let us hope, too, that in good time there will be given us a first-rate biography of Mr. King in definitive, objective form. When John W. Dafoe wrote his brilliant study of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he quoted the lines:

"Ne'er of the living can the living judge,
Too warm the affection, or too near the grudge."

It will take time, the healing of old controversies, the after-glow of calmer memory, to appraise justly Mackenzie King, the man. But that day will come, and with it a challenge to somebody to etch in right proportions one of the most remarkable, and perhaps one of the most baffling, of all the political personalities who have made a difference to our country.—Ottawa Journal.

Mr. King's Valet

For 26 years Mr. Nicol has been valet and a private messenger to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, though in latter years his principal duties have been that of a valet. This in itself was an important job. Mr. King, a Liberal, is ultra-conservative in his dress. With the help of Mr. Nicol he always was neatly and appropriately dressed for every occasion.

Mr. Nicol was an exceptionally good valet, but was more than that. He was a confidant of the former Prime Minister. Probably he knew more about Mr. King than did most cabinet members. Certainly in pursuance of his duties he saw Mr. King in a more intimate light than did any other Canadian.

Now retiring, due to Mr. King reducing his personal budget in keeping with a smaller income, Mr. Nicol will take with him many memories of important people and far-off places. And, to the extent that clothes make the man, he can take credit for Mr. King's long record in public office.—Windsor Star.

And Biography

The London Times hopes that Mr. King's memoirs "will not be too long delayed.... the book will be document of first rate historical importance".

We agree. It has been Mr. King's high privilege to have met and known intimately nearly all the towering figures of our generation, to have had more than his share of life's tumults and triumphs. To have his memories and impressions of such men, coupled with his reflections upon events in which he had so considerable a part, would be memorable contribution to the story of our times.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God. (Ps. 90: 1, 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places. He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth....

Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations. (Ps. 135: 6, 7, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works....For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone.

Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name. (Ps. 86: 8, 10, 11.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works (Ps. 119: 27.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

Sports Editors Agree Stamps Deserved Win

TORONTO, Nov. 29—(CP)—The great east-west football final was fought again today in newspapers as sports editors discussed Calgary Stampeders' 12-7 triumph Saturday over Ottawa Rough Riders.

Tommy Shields, Ottawa Citizen sports editor, said three phases of the Saturday tussle decided the issue: "The clean-cut smartly-executed drive that brought the Calgary team their first touchdown . . . the bad bounce that turned a potential touchdown for Matt Anthony into Stampeder possession on their own four-yard line early in the third quarter. . . . The lapse—mainly charged to Pete Karpuk—on a loose ball that was ruled as a wild lateral and not an incomplete forward that allowed the alert Westerners to establish themselves on the Ottawa 11-yard line and then go over for the six points that meant the Grey Cup." He added:

"The Riders agree the devastating passing of Keith Spaith was the big fly in their ointment. They offer no excuses for a below-par display. Only in flashes did they show the power with which they dominated eastern football this fall . . ."

Worthy Champions

Bill Westwick, Ottawa Journal sports editor, said concensus among Ottawa followers is that Riders could have won against Calgary any other day than Saturday.

"That was the pay-off performance with no second chances and all are agreed Stampeders played fine football and are worthy champions. . . ."

"Calgary's Keith Spaith who kicked, passed, tackled and intercepted for a brilliant performance deserved genuine praise and admiration. He and Woody Strode came east with a great reputation and they lived up to it. Spaith exceeded expectations."

Said Dink Carroll, sports editor of the Montreal Gazette:

"The Westerners consider it a glorious win, but supporters of beaten Rough Riders went away muttering in their beards about being beaten by a referees' touchdown.

Really In There

"Stamps were really 'up' for this game and Riders weren't. The latter were a study in frustration all afternoon, though it's hard to say how much of it was caused by the Stamps line which was razor-sharp for this contest.

"Riders certainly didn't figure to run into such an alert and stubborn defence. Yet you had the feeling throughout that Riders were a more powerful club and could beat the Stamps six games out of seven. But they just didn't do anything right here Saturday."

Jim Coleman, sports columnist of the Toronto Globe and Mail, quipped that "those unsophisticated hillbillies known as the Calgary Stampeders met the city-slicker Ottawa Roughians on Saturday afternoon and fleeced them as mercilessly as a confidence man rolls a stiff."

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Nov. 29.—(AP).—Film magnate Louis B. Mayer tonight disposes of some more of his once vast horse racing empire. Labelled one of the largest dispersal sales of breeding stock in the history of the American turf, 52 brood mares and four stallions go on the block before a select and invited group of bidders at Hollywood Park. Mayer in the last two years, in public auctions and private sales, has sold approximately 101 thoroughbred horses for a total believed to be $3,683,027.

Mayor Grateful For Welcome To Gov.-Gen.

Mayor Ovens said last night he was exceedingly grateful to the school children and their teachers for their splendid welcome to the Governor-General.

"The children were on their best behaviour, and I was proud of them," His Worship said. "I am sure they made a hit with His Excellency, and I would like them to know that the warmth of their reception was greatly appreciated.

"The other group I wish to mention were those citizens who cheered His Excellency as his party left the Empress Hotel about 11 o'clock Thursday night. To me that was almost the high light of the whole day, because it was a spontaneous outburst, it was not scheduled and it was a grand surprise. There must have been 1,000 or more people, and they put on their own show. There was nothing staged about it, and I think Viscount Alexander was quite aware of that fact. That incident gave the long and happy day a final note that delighted everybody."

"The Governor-General said his impression was that this district must be very attractive in summer. He said he was quite definitely coming back to Peterborough, possibly next summer, to visit and also to see something of the Kawarthas.

He was so pleased with the weather that he did not wear a topcoat through the early afternoon. He said he had become thoroughly acclimatized. However, out at the hospital I began to feel a bit of a chill in the wind from the west, and when that part of the program was over he suggested to his wife that maybe it might be just as well if he put on the coat. It had been left in the back of the automobile.

"I knew that sooner or later he would have to give in," Lady Alexander laughingly remarked to Mayor Ovens. "That wind turned rather uncomfortable."

The Governor-General paid only a brief visit to the Quaker Oats. He told the staff that he had wished to see more of that industry because he was interested in it for two reasons: "One was that it was reputed the largest cereal mill in the British Empire, and the other was quite personal—he had Quaker Oats for breakfast every morning."

Lakefield Lions Sponsor Juvenile Hockey Team

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 29—(ENS). —A highlight in the fall sessions of the Lakefield Lions Club came on Thursday night, the official visit of the Deputy District Governor, Dr. George Miller of Bowmanville.

A busy winter's agenda was linedup when the club voted unanimously to put on a minstrel show, with B. D. Weaver as director.

The Lions will again take an active part in sport, and with the new arena, which is being rapidly completed, will sponsor a juvenile team. The club will also pay entrance fees in the OHA for Bantam and Midget teams.

Elwood Northey provided the meat for the annual venison dinner.

Harry Stabler reported on the bingo and games held in Memorial Hall on the occasion of the car draw for the rink committee and showed a profit.

Dr. George Miller, DDG, was introduced by Doug Weaver and gave the club a talk on his medical experiences in India.

One amusing incident the speaker mentioned was the first use of DDT in the Far East. It was used on Viceroy Linlithgow for a malarial mosquito bite.

Dr. Miller outlined several instances of intolerance, mentioning in particular the case of a medical officer in the US Army who almost lost his rank for using blood bank serum from a native for transfusion to a white officer. The DDG pointed out that Lionism helps combat instances like this and automatically wages a constance fight against intolerance by bringing together of men from all walks of life in club membership.

Dr. Miller was thanked by Robert Sutton and was presented with a gift by President Ken Morris.

Grey Cup Heading for West After Calgary Wins 12-7

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO, Nov. 29—(CP).—The 18-inch-high Grey Cup headed for a home in the West today aboard a special Calgary-bound train carrying nearly 500 football-happy Albertans. It looks just like any other time-worn sports trophy—a trifle battered after years of knocking around between Eastern and Western Canada. The cup is being looked after by Calgary Stampeders' president Tom Brook, who says he won't let it out of his sight until the train pulls into Calgary. "The man who gets it will have to be much tougher than me, and I'm a former football player," he said in an interview shortly before the team and fans left here last night.

Just as in other years of the past, space will be found on it to stick a shield on the side showing its holder for a year, or until another club comes along to win it. This year it will show that Stampeders gained possession with a 12-7 victory over Ottawa Rough Riders—nothing more.

This terse information tells only part of the story of Saturday's final. It doesn't record that:

The game, played before a bulging crowd of 20,000 at Varsity Stadium, was one of the big upsets of the year; Rough Riders, hot pre-game favorites and one of the most alert clubs in Canada, were caught sleeping twice and these temporary mental fogs will be a big conversation piece by football fans for years.

Rough Riders, who led 7-6 going into the fourth quarter through a single by Tony Golab in the first 15 minutes and a touchdown by Bob Paffrath, converted by Eric Chipper, in the third quarter, were despondent after the game.

They filed into their dressing-room and flopped on benches or tables, or just stood around. None spake and one sobbed unshamedly.

Sleeper Play

The first of the unforgettable moments that sent Calgary on its way to its first Grey Cup was the figure of 20-year-old Norm Hill gathering in a long forward pass on the Ottawa one-yard line and stepping over for a touchdown. Black-haired Hill, unseen by the whole Ottawa club, and probably the majority of the spectators, had pulled off the historical sleeper play.

The ball, tossed by quarterback Keith Spaith near the end of the second quarter, floated and wobbled like a balloon in a breeze, giving Rider players time to walk over and snare it. But they were caught in a well-thought-out trap. Would-be Calgary receivers spread out on the other side of the field, drawing Rider players with them, and Spaith suddenly turned and let it fly in the direction of Hill.

The end, who had been lying face down just inside the sideline, jumped to his feet, ran about 15 yards, and gathered it in. The Stamps mapped it out the previous play and when they went into a quick huddle Hill was on his face at the side-line.

"The ball felt as if it had a pound of mud on it," Spaith said later. "I thought it was never going to reach Norm when I saw it wobbling."

Watch It Happen

The other big moment was the picture of Ottawa players, staring at the ball on the ground in the final quarter after a Rider lateral went wrong and walking away from it as Woody Strode, Calgary six-foot-three negro end, picked it up and started for the Ottawa line.

Coach Wally Masters of the Riders explained later that the pass from Paffrath went forward and ahead of Pete Karpuk, the intended receiver and that Karpuk had thought the play was a grounded forward pass. This would have automatically taken the ball back to the spot where it was scrimmaged.

Officials said three horns were sounded but that no whistle had gone to end play. Les Ferguson of Calgary, judge of play, and referee Seymour Wilson of Hamilton, said the lateral was offside between three and five yards.

Even Strode appeared uncertain about the play. He chugged at half-speed, peered over his shoulder as if he were doing something wrong and expecting officials to motion him back.

They didn't and a couple of Riders whipped after Strode and pulled him down after he gained 15 yards but not before he laterailed to teammate Jim Mitchener, who was brought to earth on the Ottawa 10-yard stripe.

That Was All

Pete Thodos, with Vancouver Junior Meralomas last season, went around right tackle into pay dirt on the next play and the score, after Fred Wilmot's second convert, was 12-7 for Calgary. And that was all.

Marines Beat West End 'Y' To Open the Hoop Season

Outboard Marines' intermediate "A" cagers opened their basketball season in impressive fashion at the Collegiate gym Saturday night when they beat Toronto West End "Y" seniors 36-23. A good-sized gallery saw a lot of hoop action, with the Marines' "B" team playing a prelim against the "Y" Wonders and dropping a 33-27 decision in a nip-and-tuck affair to the YMCA.

The main game saw Marines roll in the first half, led by Bill Edger, to rack up a 23-5 margin. Their driving attack was cracking the Toronto defence and the shooting looked in mid-season form. Chum Gillespite dropped several from well out for six points, as Edger scored seven and Joe Stewart five. West End "Y" solved the Marines' zone system to start the second half and dominated play for 15 minues.

Slip a Bit

Marines' ball-hawking around the basket was absent in this period and their shooting erratic. With five minutes to go, Toronto just four points down, Marines started to click again and they looked better at the finish with a comfortable lead. Edger, Joe Stewart, Ed Nicholls and Chum Gillespie stood out for them, and the team showed plenty of promise when they've had more play together. Wilson and Trazuc were the pick of the visitors. The teams:

West End "Y"—Wilson 4, Fallis 2, Trazuc 8, Gibson 2, Graham 2, Dempster 4, Park 1.

Marines "A"—J. Stewart 9, A. Stewart 2, Edger 6, Gillespie 6, Burns 1, Nicholls 2, MacPherson 2, Smith 2, Plunkett 2, Trimm 2.

Referees—Menzies and Dinsdale.

A Close Fit

The prelim was a hot affair with the issue much in doubt till the final whistle. Payne, Trimm and McLaren put Marines' "B" bunch on top in the first half, setting up some nice baskets and it was 15-11 at the interval. But Marines faded a bit in the second half as the YM squad drove in fast, with Griffin, Dibben and Lee throwing some quick hoops and eventually going out in front 33-27 right near the windup. Marines are considerably stronger than last year with good reinforcements, but the "Y" boys, shorter on spares at that, turned in a swell effort. The teams:

Marines "B"—Payne 4, Green, Butcher, MacTavish 2, Trimm 8, McLaren 8, Dadson 5, Seabrook, Smith, Griffin, Garden.

Wonders—Griffin 6, H. Dibben 2, D. Dibben 8, Lee 7, Taylor 3, Thompson 7.

BROCK ARENA -- WEDNESDAY

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Mat rivals of last week will clash again at the Brock Arena this Wednesday eve, but in one of those wild team matches. Yeah, Pat Flanagan of Toronto and Fred Atkins, Australian champ, will team up in the main grapple bout against huge Ben Morgan, the boarded Tennesseean, and Irish Dan O'Connor. It should be a hilarious affair and packed with action. Pity the poor referee when these huskies go for each other in a team bout. Jack Moore is matched with Jack Wentworth in the semi-final, while tall Bill Stack, the Bowmanville pro, opens the card against an Italian from Australia, Tony Lamaro. Sounds like a fine mat show.

The Petes, with some good Quinte puckists aboard, made their debut in a Lindsay exhibition on Saturday against the strong Meteors. Latter won a fine scrap before a thousand fans by a 6-5 count in a rough sort of go. Petes agreed to meet them again soon provided OHA referees were used, as they claimed the two Toronto arbiters gave 'em the works on penalties. Gave them eight of 10 penalties in the first frame for very minor infractions. Meteors had better condition but were crowded plenty as the Petes fought hard in the third in an attempt to sew it up. Crowd liked it and the locals—and the Belleville boys—all looked good. The teams may have an exhibition shortly on Belleville ice.

How They Saw It

Some clippings on the UCC-PCVS game Friday. This from the Globe: "PCVS came surging back from an 18-5 deficit after the half to pull within a single point of the favored UCC team. But, in the last quarter, the big prep school wingline, averaging close to 200 pounds a man, took heavy toll of the opposition. The Petes never gave up. The kids went down with their football boots on and two of their teammates wound up in the school hospital for emergency treatment. For all but four of Ted Jarvis' 26 players, it was the end of their prep school football career. Graduation will decimate one of the most powerful teams ever to compete in Little Big Four or in ORFU interscholastic competition."

* * * * * *

The Star said: "The powerful blue and white clad warriors had too much power for the gallant Liftlock gamesters. However, the invaders flew the no-surrender flag at all times and threw a scare into the home side by fighting their way to a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter to make it 18-17. Upper Canada's beefy wingline played a prominent part in the school's 12th straight triumph. They hurried most of Peterborough's plays and twice broke through to block kicks, one resulting in a touchdown. It was excellent football. Close to 2,000 crowded around and braved a steady rain till the final whistle."

* * * * * *

Had Them Worried

And this from the Telegram: "The Little Big Four champions found the Peterborough lads, winner of the COSSA title, just about the toughest opposition they have met this season, and were forced to put on a powerful last quarter drive to assure the decision. Trailing 18-5 at halftime, the Peterborough students fired by a hard-running backfield rushed over two converted touchdowns and were within a single point of the big UCC team at the end of the third quarter. The spurt had the previously confident Upper Canada huskies plenty worried, but once their hefty wingline went to work on the tiring Petes, they salted the game away with two major scores in the final session." We might add that big Bob Bazos got most of his hefty gains on a delayed plunge.

* * * * * *

That 12-7 Dominion final victory for Calgary over Ottawa in Toronto on Saturday pleased a lot of rigid fans, apart from followers of the Roughriders. The colorful Stampeders and their big-hatted enthusiasts caught the fancy of the east, and the team showed plenty in turning back the Roughriders. The latter had two serious mental lapses and they'll be taking a verbal beating over those for a long time yet. Our junior PCI-ers know enough to watch for the old sleeper play, and also know that the horn does not stop play in a football game. You finish out the play and then let the referee make a ruling. We'd like to have seen the jampacked spectacle in Varsity Stadium, and likewise the wild and woolly celebration later in the Royal York.

Marines Look Oke

Men's hoop season started Saturday p.m. in the Collegiate gym. Outboard Marines "A" cagers showed plenty of promise as they beat Toronto West End "Y", a senior squad, 36-23. Al Clark's crew clicked fine the first half, slipped some in the second but finished strong again to take it handily. Bill Edger, Joe Stewart and Chum Gillespie were most efective, but the team showed up okay as a whole. A prelim game saw the "Y" Wonders dishing up a potent late drive to edge out Marines "B" basketeers 33-27 7in a hot tussle. The latter team will do all right in the Lakeshore Loop a bit later as they've added some classy players like Trimm, McClaren, Dadson and Mactavish. For the "Y", Thompson, Lee, D. Dibben and Griffin led the snipers.

Curling Notes

By HERB MARTIN

"While the main object of matches between rinks is to determine their relative skill in the game, it should ever be borne in mind that the ultimate object of curling is to develop a manly recreation and to promote good will, kindly feeling and honorable conduct among those who take part in it, and this sentiment should influence both the interpretation and the application of all rules."

This week's program is pretty much the same as last week's, only on Saturday, December 4 there will be a men's bonspiel, all day, commencing at 9.00 a.m. Each entry must be of schedule calibre. The fee is $4.00 per rink. The committee would appreciate your entry early.

So far this season the men's Saturday afternoon bonspiels have been a flop—that is as far as attendance is concerned, but the mixed rink bonspiel at night seems to be getting bigger each week. There was almost a capacity entry on Saturday evening. They played the usual two 6-end games, after which lunch was served. The skips winning both games were T. Doughty, S. Lowe, F. Batten, G. Green and O. Price.

Tonight Groups No. 1 and No. 2 play.

Meteors Take Close One Over The Petes

Meteors eked out a 6-5 exhibition puck win over the Petes before a thousand fans in Lindsay on Saturday night. In a rough game, marked by 20 penalties, the victors' better condition paid off. It was an exciting struggle all the way, with the Petes having a 2-1 margin in the first period, but fading in the second to let Meteors go in front 6-3. However, they kept fighting back in the third to tally two more and make it close.

The Redshirts opened scoring as Garvey laid a neat pass on the stick of Leo Goyer. Vern Goyer (who was in on three) set up Terry Gordon for the next. Apart from a long scoring shot by Vern Goyer in the second, Meteors had most of the play and Harding had to be good to hold down the count. But they came back in the third with a fine solo effort by Jerry Creighton and a good goal by Tompkins, with Tim Williams and Vern Goyer aiding. Meteors all looked good but the Petes showed plenty of promise in their first fray of the season, a bruising battle all the way.

The teams:

Petes—Goal, Harding; defence, Parsons and McMasters; centre, L. Goyer; wings, J. Creighton and Garvey; alternates, Tompkins, Williams, Legrow, Jopling, Horton, V. Goyer, Gordon, J. Mortimer and Quigley.

Meteors — Goal, Cleary; defence, Campbell and Sadler; centre, Thoms; wings, Vallure and Veigel; alternates, DeLaat, Parks, Carter, Gallagher, Gordon, Kelly, Williams and Bell.

Referees—B. Irwin and D. Preston of Toronto.

Summary:

Petes—Gordon (V. Goyer) .. 3.30
Meteors—DeLaat (Parks) . 16.00

Penalties—V. Goyer 2, T. Williams, Garvey, Parsons, Carter, Jopling, Gordon, Creighton, Parks.

Second Period

John Ovens, one of the founders of the Kitchener-Waterloo Boys Hockey Association, Saturday was named first winner of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association honor award. The trophy will be awarded annually to a person judged "to have made an outstanding contribution to minor hockey" in the province.

Mr. Ovens started his work in minor hockey in 1933 when he built a rink in his own back yard, used his basement as a dressing room and organized a league. For 15 years he has managed and organized minor league teams and leagues in Kitchener and Waterloo. The trophy was presented to Mr. Ovens at the OMHA's annual meeting at Toronto by Dr. Roger Matchett, one of the founders of minor league hockey in Ontario.

J. L. Christie, in the secretary's report, said that more than 9,000 boys and 711 teams were affiliated with the association last year.

Players in the National Hockey League are warned against fraternization with players of opposing teams on and off the ice in a letter signed by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League. The letter says that fraternization may give a wrong impression to fans.

Winless Navy spoiled Army's bid for a perfect season with a 21-21 tie but Notre Dame continued undefeated as the last big Saturday in United States college football found the selections for the eight major bowl games on New Year's Day virtually completed. This is how the major bowl clashes on New Year's Day will look:

Rose Bowl—Northwestern vs. California; Sugar Bowl—Oklahoma vs. North Carolina; Cotton Bowl—Oregon vs. Southern Methodist; Orange Bowl—Georgia vs. (opponent unannounced, but probably University of Texas); 'Gator Bowl—Clemson vs. Missouri; Dixie Bowl; Wake Forest vs. Baylor; Delta Bowl—Oklahoma A&M vs. William and Mary; Sun Bowl—West Virginia vs. Texas Mines.

Toronto police nabbed three men and charged them with attempting to scalp tickets for Saturday's Grey Cup final. The three were picked up outside Varsity Stadium just before game started and officers said they were trying to sell $1 tickets for $6. Two counterfeit tickets were found at the game but police said there was no connection between the three and the counterfeiting.

Ghosts Capture East Title Over Montreal

COBOURG, Nov. 29 (ENS). — Cobourg Galloping Ghosts took the Eastern Canada intermediate football championship by defeating Montreal Rocklands 10-0 Saturday afternoon here. The Ghosts have challenged the Western Canada winners. If the challenge is not accepted, they will claim the Dominion title. This would make the second Canadian championship for Cobourg.

Montreal's heavy team was no match for a lighter team that had the advantage of better generalship. Cobourg's playing-coach, Robert Cooper, mixed plays so effectively that Montreal never knew what was coming.

One of the most spectacular plays in the Ghosts' record this season came in the third quarter. Quigley, fast Cobourg half, jumped several feet in the air to grab a Montreal forward pass and then went like a shot on a 50-yard run that took the ball over the Montreal goal line. Montreal tacklers fell in a dizzy array in an ineffectual effort to stop Quigley.

The victory parade after the game paralyzed traffic. Teen-age fans from the Cobourg Collegiate snake-danced down the main streets while hundreds along the parade route cheered themselves hoarse as the Ghosts, draped in red windbreakers, drove along in a truck.

Montreal averaged 200 pounds, and in the line-up were four Quebec Provincial Police members. The Ghosts averaged about 185 pounds.

Cobourg started on the offensive from the opening whistle. Cooper threw a 35-yard pass to Douglas that put the ball in Montreal's 45-yard line. Cobourg kicked to the 10-yard line. Cobourg picked up a Montreal fumble and Cooper passed to Jamieson from the 15-yard line and Jamieson took the ball across for a touchdown.

BILL STACK IN OPENING BOUT—Bill Stack of Bowmanville, shown above, a great favorite with local fans, will wrestle Tony Lamaro in the opening bout of Wednesday's mat card at the Brock Arena. Lamaro is an Italian from Australia who has followed big Fred Atkins to this country in search of new fields to conquer. He is big and tough and it should be a severe test for the rapidly improving Stack, who is practically a home-towner as far as local fans are concerned. In the semi-final spot Jack Wentworth, who thrilled the folk last week with his "Standing Backbreaker" win over Charlie Green, will meet the Ohio toughie, Jack Moore.

The main interest of course will be in that thrilling type of wrestling known as a team match featuring Dan O'Connor and Big Ben Morgan against Fred Atkins ant Pat Flanagan. A record crowd will likely be on hand to witness this sparkling card.

Bruins Crush Two Teams Sprint Into 4-Point Lead

By The Canadian Press

Boston Bruins smashed both Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs to sprint into a four-point lead during the week-end as the National Hockey League passed the quarter mark.

The Bruins blanked Montreal 2-0 Saturday—the second straight game that Canadiens have been scoreless on home ice——then crushed Toronto 6-2 in Boston Sunday.

The Maple Leafs fell apart in Boston after giving Turk Broda his second straight shutout Saturday when they beat New York Rangers 3-0.

Chicago Black Hawks upset the Red Wings 5-3 in Detroit Saturday night. But the Hawks' hottest streak this year—three wins and a tie in four games—ended Sunday night when Detroit came back to win 9-6

Bruins shoved five goals past Broda in a torrid second period. Pete Babando had beat the 34-year-old Vezina Trophy holder early in the first, then Johnny Peirson and Grant Warwick each sunk two and Paul Ronty got the sixth.

Frank Brimsek was well on the way to his second straight shutout until the final seven minutes when Ted Kennedy batted home his own rebound. With less than a minute remaining Max Bentley scored on Bill Juzda's pass.

Peters Big Gun

A former Canadien, Jimmy Peters, was the big gun as Bruins shut out the Habs Saturday. He set up Porky Dumart for Boston's first goal then scored the second midway through the middle period.

It was the fourth game in five nights for Leafs. Kennedy and Bentley had showed the way for the Stanley Cup holders the night before, each rapping in one goal with Bill Ezinicki getting the third.

Toronto hung on desperately during the final period against Rangers when penalties to Gus Mortson and Garth Boesch left Leafs two men short. Rangers poured in on Broda and once Edgar Laprade hit the cross-bar as the Toronto goalie was lying out of position on the ice.

Chicago's Bill Mosienko leaped ahead in the league's scoring race in Saturday's game with Detroit. He counted four goals and an assist but was held scoreless in the second game.

A goal by Jerry Couture and two by Pete Horeck sent Detroit ahead during the first 12 minutes of the Saturday game. But Mosienko scored two before the period ended and added one in the second, all on passes from Doug Bentley. He set up Roy Conacher for one early in the third and scored unassisted for the fifth.

Take Return Game

Chicago's biggest hockey crowd this year—17,113—saw the Red Wings come back to take the return game Sunday night. They were even 4-4 at the end of the first, the Red Wings whipped in three in the second and both teams scored twice in the final period.

Couture sunk three for the Red Wings while George Gee scored twice against his old team mates. Bud Poile, Jim Enio, Gord Howe, and Sid Abel got the others. Gaye Stewart with two, Roy Conacher, Metro Prystai, Bus Bodnar and Doug Bentley scored for Chicago.

Kroehlers Smack Spitfires With 3-2 Win

By The Canadian Press

The fourth-place Stratford Kroehlers smacked down the league-leading Windsor Spitfires twice in their last two meetings in the Ontario Hockey Association.

Stratford's latest win over Windsor came Saturday night with a 3-2 victory. Windsor have only dropped three games in 15 starts this season. Kroehlers downed Spitfires 5-4 last Friday night.

In other junior games during the week-end, Barrie Flyers beat Toronto Marlboros 3-1, Galt Rockets downed Biltmores 4-2 and Oshawa Generals dropped St. Catharines Teepees 4-2.

In the senior loop, Toronto Marlboros climbed into a second-place tie with Hamilton Tigers by defeating Stratford Indians 2-1 and Owen Sound Mercurys overcame Hamilton Tigers 8-5.

Maintain Mastery

Stratford drove from behind in the third period with two goals to maintain their mastery over the high-flying Windsor team.

Spitfires opened the scoring in the first period when Bert Giesbrecht tallied on a pass from Van Bellaghem. Each club counted once in the second period, with Jim Pernfuss scoring for Stratford and Jim Hay counting for Windsor.

In the final frame, Pernfuss notched his second counter of the game to tie the score and Pierre Cadieux came back minutes later with the winning goal.

Barrie took a firmer grip on second-spot in the race with their victory over Marlies. Gary Gordon was the strong man for Barrie putting the Flyers two up before the midway mark of the first period. Gord Pennell got Barrie's other goal while Regan notched Toronto's marker.

Oshawa snapped a four-game losing streak with their victory over St. Catharines, who are tied with Windsor for first place.

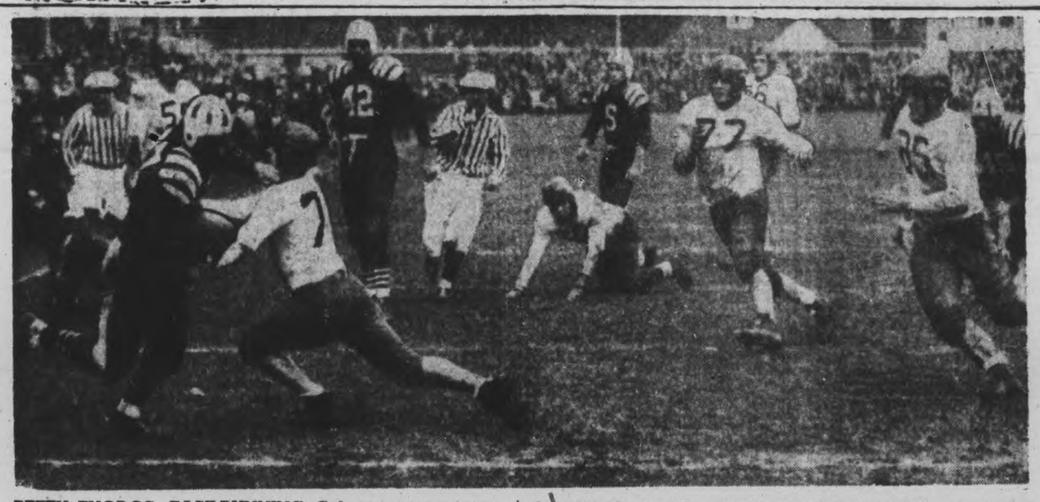
Teepees opened the scoring, but the initial stanza ended in a 1-1 tie. Two quick thrusts in the first half of the second period put Generals out in front. A goal by Bud Evans counted for St. Catharines. Hendry's fine goaltending enabled Oshawa to hold their slim lead. Marty Burton scored on a breakaway in the third period to clinch the game.

Other Oshawa scorers were: Ted O'Connor, Gerry Scott and Chapman. Gerry Toppazzino and Bud Evans colunted for St. Catharines.

Pete Tkachuk led Galt with a three-goal splurge. Bill Boychoff got Galt's other goal. He carried the puck the length of the ice, split the defence and slid the puck into the nets. Frank Bathgate got Guelph's markers.

VETERINARY SURGEON DIES

Dr. John Robert Hagyard, 93, veterinary surgeon who attended many of the great thoroughbred and trotting horses of the past, died at his Lexington, Ky., home Sunday. Born at Brampton, Ont., he was a director and for a time an officer of the eKntucky Trotting Horse Breeders Association.



PETEY THODOS, FAST-RUNNING Calgary youngster, is shown twisting away from a tackle by Pete Karpuk at the goal-line to score the last quarter payoff touchdown which won Calgary the title in Toronto, Saturday. It was Karpuk's boner in allowing a ball which hadn't been blown "dead" by the officials to roll around until Woody Strode, giant Stampeder end, picked it up and ran to the Ottawa 10-yard line and set up the scoring play. On the next play, Thodos raced for the score. Strode (42) may be seen in the background. Cutting across too late to stop the payoff play is Don Loney (77) and Jack Waggoner (85) of Ottawa.

BOB PAFFRATH, OTTAWA'S stocky American quarterback, who had a bad day in Saturday's national final, is getting a face massage from a Calgary player as he scores Ottawa's only touchdown early in the third quarter, putting the 'Riders into a temporary lead. Paffrath plunged from two yards out to get the score. Back to camera (52) is Ced Gyles, rookie Calgary halfback. Giving Paffrath an applauding pat on the back is Jack Waggoner (95), large Ottawa lineman. Touchdown is signalled by headlinesman Johnny Munro (left), referee Seymour Wilson (background) and umpire Jimmy Simpson (right).

St. Louis Edges Indians 5-3

By The Canadian Press

It was a profitable night for the home teams in the Eastern and Western Division of the American Hockey League last night as St. Louis Flyers, Buffalo Bisons, New Haven Ramblers and Providence Reds all overpowered their visiting opponents.

St. Louis now enjoys a five-point margin over second-place Pittsburgh in the Western section, the result of their 5-3 victory over Springfield Indians.

Pittsburgh Hornets went down to a 5-3 defeat at the hands of Buffalo. It was their second win over the week-end. The Bisons maintained their unbeaten record on home ice in the rough contest.

Providence, making a runaway of the Eeastern Division race, downed Hershey Bears 8-3. This sixth straight victory boosted the Reds' divisional lead over the Bears to 11 points.

After almost blowing a 4-1 second-period lead, New Haven withstood a determined third-period assault to edge the Indianapolis Capitals 4-3.

OHA MEET SATURDAY

The annual meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association will be held at Toronto next Saturday, it was announced Sunday night. Each affiliated club is allowed one delegate.

"OLD GREY CUP, I LOVE YOU," declares Woodrow Wilson Strode, lanky end wing of the Calgary Stampeders, as he prepares to plant a kiss upon the emblem of Canadian football supremacy during the civic reception after Saturday's game. Strode, who doffed his muddy football uniform for full cowboy regalia, played an important part in his team's 12-7 victory over the Ottawa Roughriders.

NOT CONTENT with feeding Toronto's Mayor McCallum a hot pancake, the Calgary invaders parade up Toronto's main streets in their western hats, bright shirts and spurs. Feature of the parade was the chuck wagon, rigged as it operated before the days of rugby games, loud speaker systems or motor cars.

Arthur Godfrey Steers Clear Of Movie Offers

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29 (AP). —Radio star Arthur Godfrey, here for a special air show, shook his famous red head at movie offers.

The salty personality of radio told me he has received some film nibbles, but figures the screen is not for him—yet. "I'm not in a position yet to get what I want," he said. "I want a producer to come to me and say, 'I've heard you for quite a while and I know what kind of a guy you are.' I have seen too many radio people flop in pictures."

Brush Deal

"Fuller Brush Girl." That is the intriguing project planned by Producer-Director S. Sylvan Simon as a follow-up to his smashing success with Red Skelton. There will be a search for the right "girl" for the title role, but don't be surprised if a famous redhead lands the part.

Danny Kaye tells about being at the Paris Ballet recently and hearing a voice from the boxes shouting: "Hey, you silly-looking creep, what are you doing here?" Danny gazed upward and saw Gene Kelly, who is vacationing in Europe.

Bing Crosby has given up trying to interest his sons in golf. "I guess it's too slow a game for them," he laments. . . . Maria Montez lost her voice for five days during the filming of "The Last Port" in France. It's hard to imagine Maria speechless.

Title Changes

Columbia is undergoing a rash of title changes. "Bonanza" is now "Greed," because it was feared Easterners would not know what a bonanza is. "The Lovers" (in which I hear Patricia Knight registers nicely) is now "Shock Proof." A studio wag comments that the latter is not a sequel to "Watch on the Rhine."

Betty Grable is intrigued with the idea of doing a musical with Harry James. Their one film together was "Springtime in the Rockies" in 1942. That was before she became Mrs. James.

CBC Board Of Governors Will Meet In January, '49

OTTAWA, Nov. 29 — (CP).— Next meeting of the CBC Board of Governors likely will be held early in January unless something urgent occurs to make an earlier meeting necessary. The Board last met at the end of October.

It is possible that by early in the New eYar, CBC officials will be able to report on the Board's investigation into the possibility of developing television in Canada on a co-operative basis.

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the Board, and other CBC officials are working actively on the matter but are not ready to say anything for publication.

One thing being studied is a suggestion that the CBC and private stations pool resources to construct and operate trial television stations in Montreal and Toronto. These stations could be used to study ways of overcoming many kinks expected to develop at the outset of television's introduction in Canada.

The stations also could be used to train the staffs and the technical men needed to operate television stations and equipment.

Senate

Another round of speculation about the future of the Senate has started, throwing attention on the possibilities of reform of the Upper Chamber. It is spurred by a recent series of deaths among Progressive Conservative members which reduced that party's membership to 18 compared to 63 Liberals. There are 15 vacancies.

So far there are no indications that any official study is under way. Similar conjecture has cropped up sporadically in the past and died away without seeing any change.

Unofficial suggestions include one that the Provincial Governments should be allowed to recommend a certain number of new members. This would give a voice to more than the two old parties and would stem the trend towards an overwhelming proportion of Liberals.

2 Municipalities Nominated Peter J. Mather

Peter J. Mather appears to be the first resident of either the city or county who had a choice of candidature in two local municipalities, one of them the city.

He was nominated Friday afternoon for Reeve of Otonabee, as a property owner in the township, and in the evening some of his city friends presented him for the city council. He had to make his decision by 9 p.m. Saturday, and decided to offer himself as alderman.

"I don't know of anybody who was ever in that position," Mr. Mather said today. "I have been a property owner in the city for about five years, and could qualify in either municipality. But, I gave seven years in Otonabee municipal service, most of them as reeve. At the same time I think I know the city affairs pretty well. Mr. Wilson Craw of the Examiner should remember that when the county council was considering the question of North Monaghan annexation back in 1944 I suggested then that the city might as well move their western boundary over to Erskine Ave. because that was where they were headed for."

"My recollection is that Mr. Craw is the only one who agreed with me, but as everybody knows the city had to take in extra territory and Erskine Ave. is now its boundary."

Mr. Mather said his nominees described him as an insurance broker. It should have been insurance manager. Mr. Mather is district manager of Confederation Life Insurance Co. The district comprises six counties.

Mr. Mather has been a member of the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital, appointed in the first place as a county representative, and has been a vice-chairman of the Board.

Car Topples Into Ditch

Four passengers and the driver escaped injury on Saturday when the car of Frederick Burrett, 775 St. Mary St., overturned on Armour Rd. just north of the railway tracks.

According to police Burrett was driving north on Armour Rd. when the right wheels of his car went over the edge of the road and continued on for about 300 feet in the ditch.

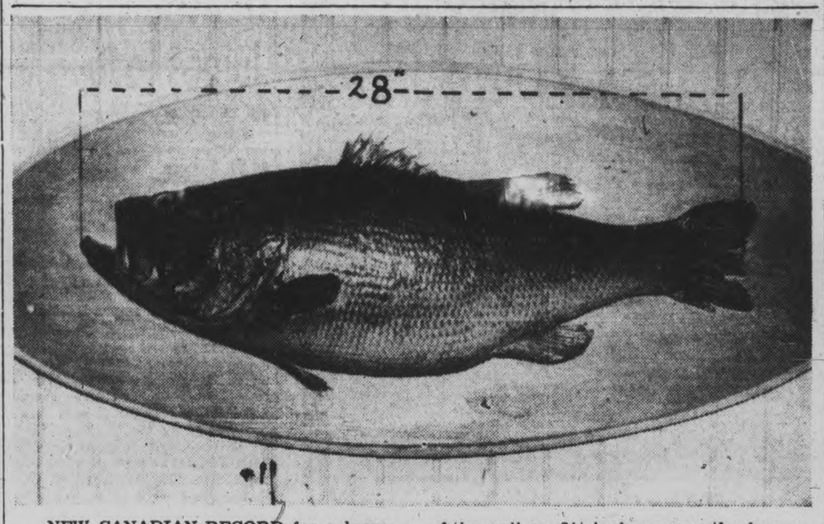
The car is then said to have made a complete turn, facing south, and turned over on its side.

Total damage was set at $25.

P.C. Louis Rodreque investigated.

Car Is Ditched

About $200 damage and a smashed telephone pole were results of an accident three miles east of Havelock on No. 7 Highway early Saturday morning. The driver, A. E. Boyle, 477 Rubidge St., was uninjured. His car went out of control, into the ditch, where it struck and snapped the telephone pole and turned upside down on the bank. Provincial Constables Emmett Crough and A. F. Grayling investigated.



NEW CANADIAN RECORD for a large-mouth bass is being claimed for Leonard Noonan, Stony Lake resident, who caught this monster bass in the Burleigh channel in late July of this year. The V-joint boards of the wall are 2½ inches across the face so the size of the fish can be easily checked. It is 28½ inches long and had a girth of 22¼ inches. The weight is estimated at 14¾ pounds.

Firemen answered three alarms over the week-end. Shortly before 11 a.m. on Saturday they went to a car parked on Hunter St. owned by V. Eastwood, 408 Belmont Ave., which was smoking as a result of a short circuit in the wiring. Less than an hour later they went to the home of E. Cheele, 176 Sherbrooke St. where a chimney fire was reported. And at 6.25 p.m. on Sunday they went to the home of J. Gardner, 260 McDonnel St., where there was a flooded oil burner.

NEW POWER LOW

Peterborough's electric power record at the week end dropped to a new low of 124,000 kwh. Sunday, following 188,000 Saturday. In the previous week the figures were: Sunday — 132,000 kwh., Saturday, 220,000; and two weeks ago: Sunday, Nov. 14—140,000 and Saturday 218,000. The average for the five days last week, Monday to Friday inclusive was 214,000 kwh. as compared with 221,600 for the previous week and 216,400 two weeks ago.

Candidate Refused To Take Acclamation

The way Dave McIntyre became a candidate for council in Otnabee was briefly that Norm McConkey declined an acclamation but was willing to qualify if there would be a contest, and Mr. McIntyre persuaded to fill out the nomination papers.

That is the report from Keene. There was going to be an election any way. That was the way the straws pointed. Roy Spiers and Allan Eason were named for council, and so was Mr. McConkey. That was a convenient way of filling the three seats. But, Mr. McConkey wasn't attracted by an acclamation, and finally Mr. McIntyre agreed to let his name go on the ballot.

Record Large-Mouth Bass 28" Long Taken In Stony L.

A new Canadian record that should satisfy even the most critical expert or angler has been set by Leonard Noonan, farm laborer of Stony Lake, who landed a large-mouth bass in the Burleigh channel last July which is estimated to have weighed 14¾ pounds.

Noonan was not interested in any publicity or records either but because the bass was so large, he had a friend in Peterborough mount it. Then someone visited this cabin and said 'wowie' as he spotted the bass on the wall. This visitor was Harold Hopkins, Lakefield, but when he spread the news, the fishermen just laughed at him.

On Sunday, Pete McGillen, outdoor editor of the Examiner went to see the specimen for himself. It is a bonafide catch, a perfect specimen of the large mouth bass, although it is the size of a bayou bass from Florida. The bass has the characteristic dark coloring of the northern water fish, the fins, scales, and mouth size are all O.K. McGillen estimates the weight at 14¾ lbs.

The fish measures 28 inches from the tip of the lower jaw to the fork of the tail, and from the tip of the lower jaw to the end of the gill cover is 9¼ inches. It measures 22¼ inches in girth and this with the length are the two measurements taken by Noonan after he caught it. Unfortunately he did not weigh the fish.

However this does not present too great a problem, because the weight of a bass can be computed fairly close if the measurements are known. For instance, the small-mouth black bass world record fish weighed 14 pounds even, and the measurements were 28 inches long and 21¼ inches in girth.

Noonan said he was trolling at 9.30 during the last week in July in the Burleigh channel using a red and white Lucky Strike plug when the whopper took hold. He got the fish into the boat by pushing the gunwale down to the edge of the water and then rolled the fish in.

"Why didn't you report it, and have it weighed?" he was asked.

"What do I care about records or other fishermen, he was a big one and I landed it, so that's all there is to it," was the reply.

Noonan, a farm laborer works for H. A. Dunsford near McCracken's Landing on Stony lake. He occupies a small cabin on the farm, and the mounted fish has a place of honor dominating his bedroom wall.

Car Overturns 5 People Unhurt

There were no injuries to William Harrison, 92 Aylmer St., or five passengers in his car when it skidded off No. 28 Highway Sunday morning and overturned in the ditch. The accident happened about two miles south of Bailieboro about 9.30 a.m. The vehicle went out of control on the slippery road and went right over on its top, which was badly damaged. Provincial Constables Joseph Hanson and Gordon Langton investigated.

Damages Total $450

A total of $450 damage resulted when a car owned by James E. Girven, 367 Mark St., and a truck driven by Russell Fife, RR 2 Omemee collided on Saturday night on the Chemong Rd. near No. 7 Highway.

The Fife truck was driving south on the Chemong Rd. and cut across to the east side of the road to turn down a laneway. As it did so it collided with the north-bound car driven by Girven.

Nobody was reported injured.

Provincial Constables Keith O'Shaughnessy and Cecil Chambers investigated.

Lived In Bethany 91 Years Mrs. Porteous Dies Aged 93

BETHANY, Nov. 29—(ENS)—Mrs. John Porteous, who has lived at Bethany for 91 years, died on Sunday at the Nightingale Nursing Home, Lindsay, after a long illness.

Mrs. Porteous, who was 93, saw many changes in Bethany during her long residence there, and could recall the coming of the first railway, the building of the schools there and the erection of three churches. She also had memories of the Great Fire of 1911 which destroyed most of the business section and witnessed the subsequent development of that area.

In the days when there were no ready made dresses and a dressmaker was almost an integral part of most households, Mrs Porteous and her sister Serepta had a dressmaking business in the north end of the village. Their house, which was removed to Glengarry Ave. when the Canadian Pacific Railway was brought to the village, is now the home of Mr. Harold Kincaide.

The Porteous family became established in Bethany about 1857 when Mrs. Porteous's father, William Gardiner came to the village as a shoemaker. In those days customers were measured and had several fittings before their handmade shoes could be completed. Mrs. Porteous was married in 1877 to John Porteous, a farmer who was born on the 7th Concession of Manvers Township, on the farm now owned by Edward Fallis. There were three children: Claude, who died in 1926 as the result of a tractor accident; Irene (Mrs. Edwin Veale) whose death occurred last year and Ona (Mrs. Alva Thorndyke) who has been living with her mother. There are ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

MRS. JOHN PORTEOUS

Mrs. Porteous, who became a widow in 1936, was a keen worker for the early Methodist church, later, the United Church of Canada. In spite of advanced years and declining health, she was an active member of the church.

The funeral service at the Bethany United Church at 2 p.m. on Tuesday will be conducted by the Rev. W. Crandall.

Saw Woodcox Fire Shot That Killed Arnold Gill Witness Says In Evidence

By BOB BUCHANAN

LINDSAY, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Florence Dack, a Crown witness, told a court that she saw Herman George Woodcox fire the shotgun blast which killed Arnold Gill, Tory Hill, on Hallowe'en night. Her evidence was given at the preliminary hearing before Magistrate E. A. Gee of a murder charge against Woodcox, a 33-year-old woodman.

Woodcox was committed for trial at the next sessions of the Supreme Court shortly after 1.30 today. The preliminary hearing lasted two and three-quarter hours.

Mrs Dack gave a detailed and carefully-worded account of the night that 19-year-old Gill died following the alleged shooting in the little Haliburton village of Tory Hill, 60 miles north of Peterborough.

Pleaded With Accused

The witness said that her car was parked in front of Findlay's store, near the scene of the shooting. She had been in another store and at about 9 o'clock she heard the sound of a shot. Leaving the store she found a crowd gathering on street and some kind of an argument going on. However she did not see the accused at that time and the crowd consisted of children and men. Mrs. Dack got into her car and then noticed the accused standing on the store's platform with a gun to his shoulder, pointing it towards the crowd. "When I saw him with the gun pointing towards the crowd I got out of the car and asked him to put down the gun before someone got hurt." She said Woodcox replied "I don't care—they're going to get it." Mrs. Dack said she pleaded with him several times to put down the gun.

"Then I saw the two Gill boys, Arnold and Kenneth come out of the crowd towards Herman," she said. Woodcock turned towards the Gill boys and yelled at them "You're asking for it and you're going to get it." At this point the witness said she got back in her car and did not see any activities for a minute. "When I looked" Mrs. Dack continued, "Herman and the two boys were out in the street facing each other and then it was only a matter of seconds before the shot was fired and the Gill fell." She said Arnold Gill was only two or three feet away from the point of the gun when the shot was fired "Herman was in a crouched position with the gun on his hip when he shot. I had the gun" Mrs. Dack told Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan who is conducting the crown's case. Woodcock ran away then Mrs. Dack concluded her hour-long testimony.

Was Called Names

David Woodcock, a cousin of the accused with whom Herman Woodcock boarded at Tory Hill told of name calling which Herman had received from the crowd of boys. He said that he and Herman had come into the centre of the village that night. Herman was planning on going out to a lumber camp and had brought his twelve gauge shotgun and shells with him. While he and Herman were standing on the Findlay store platform, the witness said, some boys began jeering at Herman with taunts of "here comes Blackneck Herman the crow." He said he had heard boys in the village making fun of the accused before this incident. On that Saturday night, he said Arnold Gill had been one of the youths calling names. David said he crossed to tell "the lads to stop teasing Herman" while there he said he got involved in a debate with Allan Gill, father of the dead youth.

The two were still talking when both shots were fired. Dr. Agnes Jamieson of Minden testified that she had been called to the Red Cross Hospital at Haliburton where Gill had been taken. Gill was dead on her arrival, she said. The youth bled profusely, she said. Death had been due to hemorrhage and shock. It was questionable whether there would be any chance of save Gill's life even if medical attention had been brought earlier.

Sgt. W. W. Sutherland, RCMP ballistics expert, testified that the two shells had been identified by Woodcox' cousin as having been fired from the accused's gun.

The hearing was held in the Police Court of Lindsay's town buildings. The rows of spectators' seats were almost filled before the court opened.

The accused, a small, dark-haired man of slight build, was dressed in a workshirt, a pair of khaki army pants and a blue suit coat. He sat quietly beside his counsel, speaking seldom, with his eyes fixed steadily on the table in front of him most of the time. He appeared to take little interest in the first parts of the Crown's evidence.

Identification Officer William Aggas of the Peterborough police department was first Crown witness. He identified photographs taken by him of the Tory Hill main street. The pictures, he said, showed bloodspots on the road in front of Findlay's general store.

Caldwell Says Drew Slanders Labor Gov'ts

KENMORE, Ont., Nov. 29—(CP) — CCF Leader Coldwell charged in an election speech here Saturday night that Conservative Leader Drew had slandered the Labor governments of Australia, New Zealand and Britain.

He based his charge on the Progressive Conservative leader's reference to the CCF as the "National Socialist Party".

"When Mr. Drew slanders the CCF by calling it National Socialist, which is the name of the Hitler party, then he slanders the Labor parties which now form the governments of Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain," Mr. Coldwell said.

"Mr. Drew may remember that in the European theatre, the CCF received a larger vote than any other party in the 1945 election.

What kind of nonsense is Mr. Drew talking when he suggests that Canadian servicemen, who were fighting National Socialism overseas, were at the same time voting for it back home?"

Dr. Eugene Forsey, CCF candidate in the Carleton county by-election which Mr. Drew is contesting, spoke at the same meeting.

East U.S. Coast Docks Hum At Strike Ends

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—(AP)—United States east coast piers today hummed with activity after a paralyzing 18-day strike of longshoremen.

New York's waterfront resounded to the familiar clatter of pier trucks and escalators Sunday as 2,200 men reported for work following settlement of the strike.

And a union chief said all 45,000 longshoremen and 20,000 clerks and handlers would be working today in ports from Maine to Virginia.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL), also predicted "peace along the waterfront for a long time to come"

There also were new prospects of peace on the strike-bound Pacific coast.

CIO longshoremen in the three major west coast ports have approved a proposed new contract following its endorsement Saturday by the Waterfront Employers Association. About 2,700 longshoremen voted Sunday in Los Angeles to end the 89-day maritime strike. Saturday 6,000 San Francisco Bay area longshoremen and more than 1,200 in Seattle took similar action.

The Atlantic coast longshoremen's strike, which had paralyzed shipping and slowed down many dependent industries, came to an end when the ILA dockers voted 9 to 1 Saturday to accept a peace formula.

The men won several benefits, including a 13-cent increase in the day-shift and straight-time pay to $1.88 an hour and an increase of 19½ cents in the night and week-end overtime rate to $2.82 an hour. The ILA's latest demand had been for increases of 25 and 37½ cents.

The east coast strike was estimated to have cost the port of New York and its shippers about $30,000,000 a day. It left more than 30,000 sacks of overseas mail piled up. Lay-offs in a number of industries resulted because they were unable to ship their products.

Plan Big Party For Wheat King

EDMONTON, Nov. 29—(CP)—Sydney John Allsop is assured of 'some welcoming party" when he reaches his Red Deer home.

The 34-year-old farmer who Sunday won his second consecutive world wheat king title at the Chicago International Hay and Grain show is en route home from Toronto where 10 days ago he won the world wheat championship at the Royal Winter Fair. It was his third wheat title at Chicago where he also won in 1934.

Over a QPP-mile telephone line from the farm near Red Deer, south of Edmonton, where Mr. Allsop farms with his parents and younger brother, Albert, a woman —a poor connection made it impossible to identify her—said the family had heard the "good news and we are all very much thrilled." She added: "You can bet there will be some welcoming party."

The quiet, ruddy-faced farmer has been showing wheat since he was 16 years old, when he won the Royal Wheat championship with an entry of Turkey Red variety in 1930.

Better Off In England British Girl Thinks

LONDON, Nov. 29.— (CP). — The Daily Herald today says an emigrant British wife now in Canada has written friends here that "you can tell everyone at home they are better off in England than in Canada."

She is Mrs. Joyce Carter, who last February made British history by giving birth to a seven-pound baby painlessly while hypnotized. She is living in New Westminster, B.C.

Mrs. Carter said:

"I do like the wonderful food, gorgeous shops, streamlined cars, washing machines and refrigerators in this country. But I do not agree that the over-all standard of living is higher than in Britain. 'Neither here nor in America is there social security like there are at home. Doctors and hospital fees are very high."

She said her husband, Nick Carter, has a good job at high wages but because of high living costs they must draw on capital and never seek outside entertainment or smoke.

Calgary Fans Run Convict Interference

TORONTO, Nov. 29.—(CP). — Rejoicing Calgary football fans unconsciously ran interference Saturday as a convict, dapper Hugh McIntosh, escaped from a police squad guard taking him to Kingston penitentiary.

He slipped his wrist through a handcuff and raced away from the train at Toronto's Union Station, dropping a pair of leather sandals as he scurried down a flight of stairs.

McIntosh had been sentenced to eight year for his part in a series of forgeries of Department of Veterans Affairs cheques.

After getting out of the handcuffs, McIntosh lost himself in a crowd of Calgary football fans, here for the Grey Cup game, and disappeared.

Textile Workers Seek Increase

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—(CP). —Key demand in the economic program of the Canadian district, United Texttile Workers of America (AFL), will be for a 20-cent general wage increase, it was decided here Saturday at closing session of the annual conference.

The conference drafted a program designed to bring textile wages up to equality with other major Canadian industries.

The program also calls for two weeks' vacation with pay after one year and three weeks after 15 years, payment for all legal holidays, overtime after 40 hours and double time on holidays., full seniority protection, employer-paid retirement pensions and accident and sickness insurance plan and the union shop.

A special resolution was passed on a dispute between the UTW and the management of Penman's Ltd., involving 850 workers in Ontario plants of Paris, Brantford and Ayr.

The conference reported it had instructed union officers to warn the company that Jan. 3, 1949, was the deadline for a strike of the workers in the three plants if their demands are not met.

R. Ken Rowley was re-elected Canadian president by acclamation and Madeleine Parents was also re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Guests were piped to dinner by Pipe Sgt. Major Alex Milne and Pipe Sgt. Angus Munro.

In a brief address Mr. McRae told the band how proud he had been of their appearance and performance on Thursday when the Governor-General and Lady Alexander visited the CGE, and took pleasure in passing on their remarks of appreciation. Mr. Crowe offered congratulations to the band on achieving its present status after an uphill battle for the past three years, through which every member remained loyal.

Mrs. W. Addyman Is Elected Provincial Council Executive

An amendment to the Ontario Marriage Act granting husband or wife whose spouse has been absent seven years and is believed dead, right to apply to the Supreme Court of Ontario for a decree of Presumption of Death, was asked for at a meeting of the Provincial Council of Women at the Royal York. Such decree would legalize a second marriage by the petitioner and recognize children of such union as legitimate.

Four western provinces have this law, it was noted by Miss Grace Gordon, provincial law convener. This resolution, together with one urging local councils to press for juvenile courts in municipalities not availing themselves of existing legislation, met intelligent support, largely due to explanations of law made, by women lawyers, at recent discources.

Exception being taken by Mrs. W. Addyman, Peterborough, to asking "so much for DP's coming here that they will think all they have to do is ride along and forget that they have legs," a resolution respecting further provision for their educational and social welfare, was referred back for further study. Influence of the Women's Councils, she also argued, would be lessened by too many or unreasonable demands which would touch the taxpayers.

Liquor advertisements, some artistic and educational, were considered against public policy because of their bad influence on children and young people.

Release of the report of the Commission on Agriculture inquiry, begun about three years ago, was asked. The council also decided that a representative conference on oleomargarine would be desirable. It backed the women's institutes in asking standardization of sizes, qualities, etc., in manufactured clothing. Dr. Jennie Smillie was named representative on the Ontario Hospitals Needs committee.

The question of local councils participating actively in civic affairs, such as sponsoring women candidates. Mrs. E. J. McCleary, Ottawa, said was a troublesome one. So far her council had not felt it wise to "sponsor woman by name," for public office.

Peterborough Council had raised $5,774 and installed X-ray stems in two hospitals.

Mrs. James Roberts, Ancaster, was re-elected president. Others elected include: Mrs. Kenneth Dewar, Miss Lillian Breithaupt (Kitchener); Mrs. W. Addyman, Mrs. W. J. Stirrett, Port Arthur; Mrs. John Fleming, Chatham, vice - presidents; Mrs. G. J. A. Reany, Aldershot, secretary; Mrs. E. J. McCleary, Ottawa, treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Weller, Miss Jessie Redmond, Miss Laura McCoig, Mrs. Norah McMurray, Mrs. R. W. H. Johnson, Miss Grace Gordon, Dr. Aileen Cline, Miss Maude Beaman, Mrs. W. R. Lang, conveners; Mrs. E. Wand, archivist. Chatham's invitation for the semi-annual meeting next spring, was accepted.

Women must remember that they have "two strings to their bow" and capitalize on the power they have over the men of their families, as well as using their own voices to produce the "spiritual reawakening now needed in Canada." This was the message of Miss Florence Philpott, executive, director Toronto Welfare Council, to the Provincial Council of Women at a luncheon meeting Saturday.

No community in Canada, she said, "can afford not to have a well-planned community program." Charging that we are becoming so highly organized that we are losing many of life's most valuable relationships, the speaker said, "there is no loneliness like that of a large city." Neighborliness, she had found, is practical spirituality and groups of women, working together, can produce an awakening. Otherwise we are on the road to destruction.

She suggested that were the press not trying to please the public that there would be less space given to the sordid side of life and more to its important things. Reading between the lines in the papers and magazines, she sees social breakdown.

"There is failure, somewhere," she said. "It is for us to take the suffering and sorrow out of the life of this country." We must stop thinking of the cost of decent jobs and think of the cost of not giving decent livings and community programs if we would prevent social breakdown. "Don't," she said, "let us go on dissipating our energies on unimportant things, when our power could be used for the betterment of our city and country."

Success Attends First Bazaar Of Golden Mile Club Work

When the Golden Mile Club of Peterborough held its first fall tea and bazaar Saturday afternoon the YWCA Green Room became the gathering place for a throng of women. They came to view the display of work, and have tea, but they found so many friends that they stayed on to visit. A good many found articles they wanted to purchase and proceeds total about $125. The event was considered highly successful, socially and financially.

The Golden Mile Club is a group of older women who meet each week for sewing and socialability under sponsorship of the Soroptomist Club of Peterborough. Results of their summer's efforts were attractively displayed for sale and the varied assortment was augmented by interested friends. In addition they had arranged a "touch and take" table that proved a great drawing-card. Home-made cooking and candy booths also claimed their toll of popularity.

Mrs. R Tyres, president of the Golden Mile Club, and Miss Grace Sargent, president of the Soroptimist Club, received the guests. Members of the GM Club were on duty at each booth and in the tea room. The bazaar was convened by Soroptimist Miss Ethel Miller, and members of her club assisted throughout the afternoon.

Blue and gold, colors of the Soroptimist Club, were adopted for the color scheme. The lace-covered tea table was centred by a huge silver bowl of yellow roses that was flanked by silver candelabra holding tapers of blue and gold. Soroptimists Miss Abbie Robinson and Miss Anne Thomsan filled the tea cups.

A highlight of the afternoon was the draw for a beautiful rose satin cushion made by president Mrs. Tyres. Members had been selling tickets previously and during the tea, and the lucky winner was Miss Isabel Locke of RR 3, Peterborough.

Attendants of the Golden Mile Club were Mrs. C. Seeney, Mrs. E. Sanders, Miss F. Chiles, Miss W. Bailey, Miss M. Collins, Miss J. Gavine, Mrs. E. Strong, Mrs. E. McKee and Mrs. E. Chatten.

Regular meetings of this Club, held each Wednesday afternoon in the YWCA club room, will continue with renewed vigor after the success of their first public event. Entertaining programs are planned by the women and they serve tea before closing. Transportation is arranged by the Soroptimist Club and they will be glad to include new members at any time.

Doris Clements Bride Of Paul Conlin

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding when Doris Elgane, daughter of Mr. Harry Clements and the late Mrs. Clements of South Monaghan, became the bride of Paul Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Conlin, Romaine St. The Rev. P. P. Butler was the celebrant at nuptial mass.

Setting for the ceremony were bouquets of chrysanthemums. Mrs. R. Aman played the wedding music and Mr. Anthony De Noble sang "Ave Maria" and "Punis Angelicus" during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. James Dunstan. She wore a dress of white satin with lace peplum and insertions in the skirt. Her headdress of orange blossoms was fashioned in Mary Queen of Scots style, and held her veil of embroidered tulle. She carried a prayer book, topped with Briarcliffe roses.

Her only attendant, Miss Carmen Menard, wore blue satin and lace with a hat in matching shade and carried a nosegay of pink roses.

Mr. Arthur Conlin, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. Mr. Clair Conlin acted as usher for his brother.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents. Mrs. Elmer Herron received, wearing a rose dress with corsage of roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing dawn blue crepe with corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom left later for Toronto. For travelling the bride chose a grey gabardine suit with black accessories, a blue shortie coat, and wore a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Conlin will live in Peterborough.

Giving Presents to Girl No Proof of Man's Love

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl 17, very much in love with a boy of 18. Everything is just fine, but my problem is this: My mother says that when she was a girl of 17 and was keeping steady company with my Dad, he brought her gifts almost every time he came to see her. He wasn't in a position to do so and had to borrow the money to pay for them, but just so he brought a gift to her Mom felt sure of his love.

My mother thinks my boy friend should do the same thing. She says that a boy shows his love for a girl by the presents he gives her. Do you think it necessary for him to bring me a box of candy, or perfume, or some gift every time he comes to see me in order to prove his affection for me?

B. A.

ANSWER: Evidently your mother is one of the gimme sisters who put a price tag on romance and judge a man's love for a girl by how much money he is willing to spend on her. This may be good business, but it sort of takes the halo off of love's young dream if, when Arabella rushes into the boy friend's arms, she doesn't say "Darling, do you adore me?" but "Sweetheart, what did you bring me?"

I admit to being a sentimental old woman, but it does seem to me that the love affair that is based in the profit motive has a mighty weak foundation on which to stand, and that if I were a man who had to woo a girl with presents, I wouldn't fool myself into thinking that I was loved for myself alone. The kind of love that I would crave would not be the sort that is bought over the counter. It would be the kind that gives itself without thought of reward.

No Santa Claus

Of course, when a man is in love with a girl, he likes to give her presents because it pleases her and gives him a chance to pose as a big, strong benefactor who always will be showering gifts upon her and who will make her life gay and easy. But the gift-giving suitor is not always Santa Claus. Just as often he is a phony who goes in debt for the presents he has lavished on his sweetie, and many and many a wife has to scrimp and save to pay for the gifts with which her husband courted her.

So, dearie, don't put too much faith in Mother's theory that presents are a proof of love. Sometimes they are, and sometimes they ain't."

DEAR MISS DIX: I was much interested in the letter you published recently from the grandparents who were so discouraged because their grandchildren descended on them, like the wolf on the fold, and proceeded to practically wreck their home. I also am a grandmother with grandchildren who like to visit Grandma. But my walls still have the paper on them and my furniture is intact, and I attribute this unusual state of affairs to the fact that from their infancy I taught my children and their children selfrespect and to respect other people and their property.

I learned early that there is no sense in letting children be vandals. It is just as easy to make them ladies and gentlemen, and they are so much happier. In our old age we are not building walls about us, but bridges of friendship, of tolerance and understanding; and we all walk happily over them. Children are what you bring them up to be. That is an awful thought for parents, but it is a necessary one.

ANOTHER GRANDPARENT

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I wish that every father and mother who has young children would take the wise counsel that this grandmother offers. It would settle the juvenile delinquency problem. It would bring peace and happiness practically to the world, for there is hardly a hoodlum, or a thief, or a murderer whose crime does not trace back to parents who were too selfish or too weak to teach children self-control.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Christmas is nearly here and I don't know what to give my boy friend for a Christmas gift. I need your help. I already have given him a fountain pen and pencil set, cigarette lighter, shirts, sweaters, billfolds, neckties, scarves, shaving set and gloves. We are not sweethearts, just friends. What would be a proper gift.

MARIE

ANSWER: Well, as you seem to have exhausted the list of strictly masculine needs, why don't you send your boy friend a subscription to some magazine? That covers every contingency because a magazine deals with so many differents subjects that it is bound to hit the reader somewhere, and also it brings to the recipient 12 reminders of your thoughfulness instead of one.

THERE IS A PAGEANT-LIKE, theatrical air to the 1948 Christmast Cards as they recreate the magnificent scenes of our centuries-old Yuletide traditions. Emphasis in this season's cards is on story-telling designs costumed in bold and vivid colors, their drama enhanced by impressionistic lighting effects. Even modern scenes bring to life Yuletide drama. But while 1948 cards gain a delightful freshness from the new art style, their themes remain staunchly traditional: candles, holly and mistletoe, Christmas trees and lots of snow.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, November 30

Despite difficult and disappointing situations, the final outlook is not, perhaps without hope, security and lasting benefit, with delayed pleasure. But these must be definitely worked for, not only through judicious attention to long-range factors but by a general attitude to logical routine ways and means. This may be demonstrated in a friendly, sympathetic and considerate approach to elders, employers or others whose good will is essential. Social, domestic and business issues are involved. Health also may need attention.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a period in which a pause for reflection, with well-consdiered behavior in relation to elders, employers and superiors, especially considerate and sympathetic attention to those in domestic or social contact, may work wonders in removing obstacles or discounting disappointments. Sound judgment in business, keeping a level head if new agreements come up for decision; also health and thrift may call for attention for pleasant and long-range benefits.

A child born on this day may require particular attention to its education, since its judgment may be slow and energy lagging.

Protestanism Requires New Discipline

George St. United Church on Sunday celebrated its 113th anniversary. Pews were filled to hear the Rev. D. T. I. Forsythe, BA, BD, guest minister, at both morning and evening services.

"A Faith For Living" was the subject of his evening address, and he chose as his text the words of one of the disciples, "Lord, I Believe Thou Art the Christ, the Son of the Living God."

"If all of the Bible were to be destroyed except eight passages, I wonder if this is one of the eight that should be kept," he said.

The speaker said that this declaration showed the faith of one who had been with Jesus.

"We, as Protestants, believe that that not upon a man, but upon this affirmation of faith, is built the church of Jesus Christ," he said.

Dr. Forsythe stated he had recently conversed with a friend who had turned to Communism. He quoted the man as saying, "I find in Communism a faith that is electric, that moves me; it's doing something."

The hope of the world does not lie in the materialistic philosophy of Communism, the speaker said, but he conceded that it engendered in its disciples a strong feeling of faith.

"We can't combat 'isms' by criticizing them," he said, "but by convincing people in the power of the words of Jesus Christ."

Give Extra Study

During Lent he advised members of the United church not only to give something up, but to take some extra duty or study relating to church work.

Another great affirmation of faith, he said, was contained in the words of the Benediction. "The love of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit..." These words, he contended, were some of the greatest, if not the greatest, in the whole service.

The speaker stated we do not arrive at a belief in God by reasoning about Him, or by setting down all the facts pro or con. The Bible, took it for granted that there is a God of power, that "underneath life there is the everlasting arms of faith."

"When we start out believing in God through all the changing scenes of life, then we know that He is not just a god that is thought about, but a god that lives in us," he said.

Jesus Christ is necessary in our lives, he said. "Even though we pray and try to do things to lift ourselves up by our own efforts, these efforts are only accomplished through the grace of Jesus Christ our Lord."

"Protestantism must find a new discipline," he declared. It must find the disciple of prayer, Bible studying, humanity, concern and austerity if fanth is to be vital and real.

"The shadows are closing in," he stated. To illustrate his point he contended that scientists, awed by the new physical forces that have been unleashed in the world, are saying that the only hope for mankind is a belief in something —in Jesus Christ."

Morning Service

At the morning service a large congregation heard Dr. Forsythe address himself principally to the many young people present.

His sermon, "A Lad Is Here," was taken from the account in St. John's Gospel of the feeding of the multitude on "five barley loaves and two small fishes."

The words were those spoken by Andrew, Simon Peter's brother: "There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves and two fishes; but what are they among so many?"

Dr. Forsythe drew a parallel between those who were present at the feeding of the 5,000 and people generally today. He said there was one group which was interested only in gratifying its basic desires to the detriment of spiritual things and another group was skeptical of the project being accomplished.

In the afternoon Dr. Forsythe spoke to the George St. Sunday school teachers on the subject of religious education. Later, at his evening sermon, he congratulated the church on the quality of its teachers.

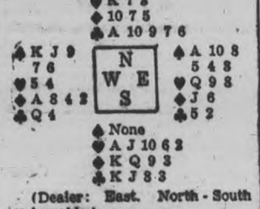
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

EVERY BIT HELPS SOME

OLDER bridge players remember a song of about four decades ago—"Every Little Bit Helps." Younger ones and older ones too may profit by bearing that in mind whenever they play the game. Whether it be rubber bridge or duplicate, the contestant who manages to get a few more points out of each scoring hand, or to lose a few points less on the negative hands will ultimately be better off than his rivals. That applies to all phases of the game, including such narrow items as putting a slam into a safe major suit instead of a safe minor, if both be available.



(Dealer: East. North - South vulnerable.)

	East	South	West	North
1.	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♣
	2 ♠	3 ♠	4 ♠	5 ♣
	Pass	6 ♣
2.	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♣
	2 ♠	3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥
	3 ♠	4 ♠	Dbl	5 ♣
	Pass	6 ♥

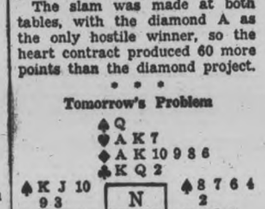
Notice the terrific difference between the second bids in the South position at those two tables of a duplicate game. At Table 1, South was what might be called "slam-minded in clubs" as soon as he had heard his partner's free bid of that suit. So on his next turn he cue-bid the opponents' spades, and consequently his pair reached the slam in clubs.

At Table 2, South's second bid, of 3-Diamonds, served a lot of purposes. It gave North a chance to try a nine-trick No Trump game if he stopped spades, or to show heart preference if he had three-card support for that major. He did have the latter and showed it. That enabled South, when he later cue-bid the spades and in return learned about the club ace by North's cue-bid, to put the slam into hearts.

The slam was made at both tables, with the diamond A as the only hostile winner, so the heart contract produced 60 more points than the diamond project.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

How valuable would you consider the unguarded spade queen when planning your opening bid on North's big hand?

Tells History Of Financing Civic Hospital

T. T. Rodger, treasurer of the Board of Governors of the Civic Hospital, outlined the steps behind the erection of the new hospital now nearing completion and the financial history of the project at the Kiwanis Club meeting Friday. With the matter of a $1,500,000 borrowing by-law being placed before the voters in less than two weeks, his summary of the developments was received with interest.

Various city organizations are identifying themselves with the bylaw and urging its support at the polls. Ted Pridham, president of Kiwanis, advised the club that he had been asked to take part in radio addresses favoring the additional financing. The club, after discussion, voted on motion that he could speak "for the whole club in support of the bylaw."

The first bylaw for the hospital, Mr. Rodger explained, was passed in 1944 by the city council and covered the amount of $600,000. Various conditions caused delay in a start on actual construction and it became necessary, because of increasing costs, to curtail the extent of the project.

The total amount allotted at that time—$1,350,000—would at most cover the construction of a 180-bed hospital without nurses' residence and entailing use of part of the present building.

The city's private bill, passed by the provincial legislature in 1945, called for the construction of a modern hospital and nurses' residence.

"Continuing cost increases created the situation whereby the 180-bed unit could not be built with the funds then available," he said.

The city council was informed of this by the Board of Governors. After considerable debate and painstaking exploration "of the situation from every angle," the council re-opened discussion as to the proper requirements in the matter of hospital facilities needed.

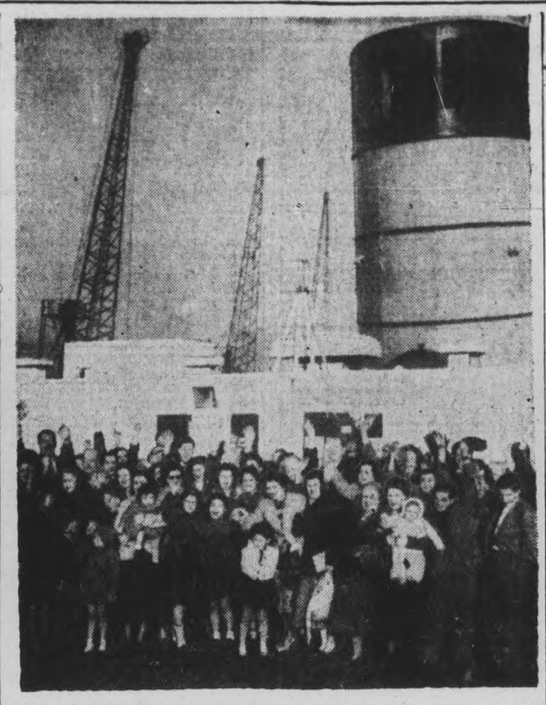
"Exhaustive discussion satisfied the council that the Peterborough Civic Hospital should be completed as a 265-bed hospital, under one roof, with a nurses' residence. This brings us to the present, and the fact that property owners are being asked to vote their approval to a bylaw for $1,500,000."

Figures today show that the total cost of the hospital will be about $3,500,000. The two money bylaws cover $2,100,000. The balance of $1,400,000 is provided by the following:

Dominion and Provincial government grants, $460,000; Nicholls Hospital Trust Endowment, $240,000; County of Peterborough grant, $150,000; City Trust funds, $300,000; Public Utilities funds, $50,000; sale of present hospital building and lands, $200,000.

"Solely from the viewpoint of definite self-interest, the property owners of Peterborough advisedly should approve the bylaw."

Explaining the role of the Board of Governors, Mr. Rodger concluded: "The responsibility to arrange provision of funds for this undertaking rests with the city council, who are the elected representatives of the citizens. The Board of Governors has no obligation to secure the needed funds for the building program. Its task is to see that the contract or contracts entered into by the city council are efficiently and properly fulfilled."



WITH FUNNELS TOWERING in the background, passengers on the top deck of the Queen Elizabeth, cheer and wave their hands after an announcement recently that the ship will sail from Southampton, England, on Sunday. The liner has been tied up at its dock for more than a week, its departure delayed by the East Coast dockworkers' strike in the US. Meantime passengers have luxuriated on board at considerable cost to the shipping line and the passengers.

1950 Election In Britain Will Hinge On Steel Bill

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Nov. 29 — (CP). — Political furies of the 1950 general election will swirl about the Iron and Steel Nationalization Bill.

The Bill stands stark and clear as a prime election issue. It is the Socialist signpost for the future, a warning that public ownership may be extended to efficient, progressive, strike-free industries besides those that, like coal, have wallowed in difficulty.

To Conservatives, it represents disaster, an end to the free enterprise system they believe made Britain great. Although they have opposed all nationalization, they have been forced to admit that coal, gas, electricity, transport, the Bank of England, and civil aviation, now under public ownership, could be looked on as public utilities or services and some degree of government intervention could be justified.

But they demand that the iron and steel industry, built, operated and modernized by private enterprise, should be left alone.

By 1950 the Bill should be law, placed on the statute book in spite of opposition by the Conservative - dominated House of Lords.

Give Voters a Chance

But the government is expected to postpone the actual transfer of the industry to public ownership until after the election, thus giving the electorate a chance to say whether the legislation, shall be implemented.

If the Conservatives are elected, it never will be. If Labor rushed through the transfer its opponents would say the government feared the voters' decision would be against it.

From this Bill stems back another issue—the Labor Government's Bill to reduce from two years to one the period for which the Lords can veto Commons legislation.

Labor no longer denies this Bill was designed to make sure iron and steel nationalization was carried through during the lifetime of the present government. But the Conservatives have called it an attack on constitutional rights, a measure that should have been approved by the electorate before being implemented.

Approve Most Plans

Apart from nationalization and the Lords, observers comment on the shortage of major issues between the two parties. Much bitterness has been shown on some questions in debates and in platform speeches, but the fact remains the Conservatives approve most of the government's social security program and the methods employed, most of the foreign policy program pursued by Foreign Secretary Bevin, and most of the economic recovery ideas set forth by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The Opposition complains about government expenditures, the continuation of innumerable controls, interference with private rights, arrangements for defence and the administration of their departments by some ministers. But the ordinary man comments that if the Conservatives were in power Labor would be saying much the same thing in opposition.

Unless some new subject of strife appears in the next 18 months, nationalization and the Lords will stir most echoes on political platforms.

PUPPET GOVERNMENT SET UP IN BERLIN

2 Abandoned Children Found By Dad

Blames 12 Living In Five Rooms For Drastic Action

TORONTO, Nov. 30 —(CP)—A 37-year-old Steel Company worker from Hamilton, Alfred Provo, early today identified his two children who were abandoned four days ago in a woman's lounge of a downtown Toronto store.

They were two of three children taken from Hamilton last week by his wife after the housing shortage and financial troubles had forced their six-member family first to crowd into the home of relatives, and later to break up.

Provo said his wife left Hamilton with four-year-old John, three-year-old William and 15-months-old Barbara Ann, after leaving a note saying she was "going to try and get a housekeeping job in Toronto."

The Globe and Mail, in a copyrighted story, told of him seeing William and Barbara Ann 'ying in their cots at a Toronto infants' home where they have been cared for since Friday.

"Thank God they're all right," he said. "I hope my wife and the other boy are well. If only she'd get in touch with me."

Found By Police

Provo was found by police who had been phoned in Toronto by a woman who suggested they get in touch with him. Police believe the woman is Mrs. Provo.

Provo said Monday night that no domestic trouble had caused their family to be broken up and his wife to disappear. He said that for some time he and his wife with their four children, had lived with his brother and sister-in-law and their four children in his brother's five-room bungalow in Hamilton.

"How can people get along like that?" he said.

He told how he had left to live in a separate room nearby to ease the overcrowding. His wife's departure last week left only their eight-year-old daughter, Louise, now boarding in Hamilton.

Provo said his wife is expecting their fifth child in three months. There whereabouts of Mrs. Provo and their son, John, is his big worry now.

He doesn't know where they will live when they are once more reunited.

"I guess we're asking too much to expect a place where we can be together, as a family should," he said.

Remanded In Custody

WHITBY, Nov. 30. — (CP).—Earl Hopkins, 27-year-old Uxbridge township man charged with attempted murder of his brother Marlin, was remanded in custody a week here today. Police say that an argument between the two brothers last Thursday resulted in the critical wounding of the 32-year-old farmer. They claim the two quarrelled over a young woman at a farmhouse drinking party.

Smash New York Divorce Racket Ring

Private Detective Admits Perjury In Hundreds Of Cases In 4 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—District-Attorney Frank S. Hogan today announced the smashing of a New York divorce racket ring with the arrest of two men and a young housewife on charges of perjury in connection with divorce actions.

Hogan said one of the men, Max Zuckerman, 53, a private detective, admitted "flagrant perjury in hundreds of divorce cases in the past four years."

He also said his office had obtained "evidence and statements implicating at least 10 attorneys and maybe more."

Others arrested are Mrs. Sara Ellis, 20-year-old mother of three children, and Samuel Schneiderman, 57, a pier watchman.

Hogan said Mrs. Ellis admitted she worked with Zuckerman in 35 divorce cases in the last 18 months, sometimes as the "unknown woman" in raids preceding divorce action and also as a witness giving false testimony to raids which never occurred.

Adultery is the only grounds for divorce in New York State and "evidence" is usually presented before a divorce is granted.

Hogan said Schneiderman admitted perjury in one case involving a divorce proceeding.

Britain Drops Negev Plan

PARIS, Nov. 30—(AP).—Britain today withdrew in the United Nations its demand that the Negev Desert of Southern Palestine be taken from Israel. Harold Beeley of Britain told the 58-member political committee Britain is withdrawing her blanket endorsement of the plan of Count Folke Bernadotte, the assassinated Palestine mediator. A British spokesman said his country's new position does not endorse the partition plan but gives it more weight than the Bernadotte recommendations.

The spokesman said that, in effect, Britain's position has moved almost parallel to that of the United States. The United States has said Israel should be given the 1947 partition plan boundaries, but if she wants more, the State must be prepared to make concessions.

This is regarded as meaning Israel cannot have both the Southern Palestine desert of the Negev and western Galilee, which is in Northern Palestine.

L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, who heads the Dominion delegation here, told the committee Canada has "some difficulty" in accepting a section of the United Kingdom draft resolution on Palestine, which gives specific endorsement to the Bernadotte report.

He said the Canadian delegation feels this section would "unnecessarily limit" the work of the proposed conciliation commission.

The Bernadotte plan, proposed in the final report by the slain mediator, would give the Negev to the Arabs and western Galilee to the Jews.

Last year's partition plan gave the Negev to Israel and western Galilee to the Arabs.

Both Jews and Arabs opposed the Bernadotte plan. The Jews did so because they said loss of the Negev would reduce Israel's territory by three-fifths and they needed the area for future colonization.

5 Per Cent Power Increase Announced By Ont. Hydro

TORONTO, Nov. 30—(CP). — Toronto's hour-long afternoon Hydro-Electric power cut will be reduced to ½ hour starting tomorrow, Mayor H. E. McCallum announced today. The ½-hour cutoff made possible by Monday night's announcement by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission that daily quotas have been boosted another five per cent., will be in effect for the month of December. The city will be free of Hydro service interruptions for the week preceding Christmas, Dec. 20-24, he said.

Afternoon power cuts will begin at 4.30 next month instead of at 4 as heretofore.

The Commission's announcement Monday night was good news to Southern Ontario communities struggling to keep within their daily quotas.

The boost, which the company expects to continue throughout the winter, followed increased rainfall over the Gatineau watershed.

The same rainfall in the Ottawa Valley raised water levels at Ontario generating plants in the area and brought two successive increases last week totalling five per cent.

The city of Ottawa moved quickly on hearing the good news, and announced an end to the cutoffs which have lasted for a month and at one stage totalled eight hours a week. Hydro officials there warned that voluntary saving of power must continue if citizens wanted to see the last of the blackouts.

Toronto officials, who Monday were considering the reimposition of morning and evening power cuts, meet with Ontario Hydro officials today.

E. M. Ashworth, manager of the Toronto Hydro Commission, said that the latest increase still left Toronto "considerably short" of her normal requirements. Mayor Hiram McCallum said he would not advocate restoring Hydro cuts "until I know how long the increased supply will continue."

Two announcements were made Monday in changes in the Ontario Hydro system.

Commission Chairman Robert Saunders said in Stratford that two steam-powered generators to be built at Windsor and in the Toronto-Hamilton area would generate more than 19,000,000 kilowatt hours daily, with a maximum output of some 820,000 horsepower, almost double the peak load of Toronto. The plants will cost about $75,000,000.

Fog Holds Up 100 Vessels

LONDON, Nov. 30—(AP)—The most persistent fog in a decade fouled up Western Europe again today.

The murk cut visibility to a few yards, grounded planes, slowed trains and snarled automobile traffic for the fourth successive day.

For the third time in three days it forced postponement of the sailing of the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth, already 13 days behind schedule on its Southampton-New York run.

It stopped the Berlin air lift, kept ambassadors, generals and minister of state from keeping important appointments, and made millions late for work.

Weather forecasters said there was little prospect of the fog lifting within the next 24 to 48 hours.

The fog blanket extended from the Baltic to Portugal. Most of France and Germany were blacked out. The last trickle of airlift planes reached Berlin late Monday.

Nearly 100 ships were held up in a 12-mile stretch of the fog-bound Thames Estuary.

Visibility was down to 150 yards at Southampton at 11 this morning, the latest time the Queen Elizabeth could catch the tide. The earliest the liner can now get away is 10:15 a.m. tomorrow.

Plan New Hospital For Greater Toronto

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP)—Greater Toronto is to have another general hospital, the most modern in Canada, it was learned today.

Plans call for an 600-bed hospital when completed, but the initial unit may be only 150 or 200 beds.

It is expected the hospital will be located north of Eglinton Ave. and named Yorkminister because it will serve a large area of York County as well as the city.

Nfld Ack-Ack Gunners Remembered In Will

LONDON, Nov. 30—(CP) — A dozen former gunners of a Newfoundland anti-aircraft battery have been remembered by an Englishwoman whose cooking they said they would never forget.

In her will recently probated, she left £14,328 ($57,312) to be shared by the Newfoundlanders, a schoolboy, a fleet air arm airman and a medical student, all of whom she "adopted" during the war.

The woman was Miss Edith Cawood, retired cookery teacher who made friends of the Newfoundland gunners stationed near her suburban Sandstead home at the height of the blitz.

When the anti-aircraft batterymen went to Italy they did not forget. They wrote regularly to their "godmother."

She died last July.

Give Churchill Prize Cheese

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 30 (CP)—The Rt. Hon Winston Churchill, dynamic wartime Prime Minister of Britain, will shortly be nibbling on prize-winning Canadian cheese, when plans of No. 84 Branch, Air Force Veterans Association, Montreal, materialize. The association comprises about 600 members.

James Irvin, honorary president of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers Association, sponsors of the British Empire Dairy Show now in progress here, has been authorized by C. Gordon Brown, honorary treasurer of the Air Force Association, to bid for the two top cheeses of the show when they are placed on sale.

Part of the cheese will go to the former Prime Minister, while the balance will be sent to exmembers of the Royal Air Force in Britain. The cheese will be purchased with funds from the Air Force Association Benevolent Fund.

Cripps May Go To Paris To Try To Break Deadlock

PARIS, Nov. 30 (Reuters)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, may come to Paris this week-end to try to break the deadlock with which Marshall-Plan countries have been confronted by Britain's four-year recovery plan, it was learned today.

The British plan, as disclosed here, has cast a chill among the Marshall-Plan countries and, because of its austerity, is said to have completely dislocated the timetable for producing an agreed four-year "master plan" for all Europe.

Marshall-Plan countries had promised to hand this "master plan" to the roving Marshall aid ambassador, Averill Harriman, Dec. 15. But as their representatives assembled here Monday to draw it up it was learned there was no chance of its being presented on time.

Britain's revolutionary plan for foreign trade in the next four years has radically upset the ideas of other Marshall-plan countries by providing for an export surplus to western Europe of $49,000,000 instead of the pre-war surplus of $600,000,000. The continental members of the Marshal group had based their plans on the pre-war pattern.

In producing the British plan, however, Sir Stafford and his ace planner, Sir Edwin Plowden, head of the British Economic Planning committee, believe Britain can and must be made independent of American aid by 1952, but that she cannot hope by that time to re-establish free imports.

Four years hence, when Marshall aid ends, they believe Britain will still have to buy chiefly essentials. Accordingly the British four-year plan provides for an export surplus to western Europe.

Russians Ban Voting In East Area

Say Sunday Elections In West Section Won't Be Recognized

BERLIN, Nov. 30 —(AP)—The Communists set up a hand-picked puppet government for Berlin today, completing the city's east-west division.

Unwilling to risk the results of a popular election, the Communists called a meeting of carefully selected leaders. This meeting by a show of hands elected a mayor and a magistrate (executive administration) claiming jurisdiction over the whole city.

This action by the Russian-backed Communists came as the United Nations considered a compromise proposal on currency which could lead to lifting of the Soviet blockade of western Berlin.

The Communist move in the Soviet sector made it virtually impossible for any agreement on currency to be carried out.

The Communists named Friedrich Ebert, namesake son of the first Weimar Republic president, as "mayor" of all Berlin.

Not Recognized

Ebert promptly declared that the elections set for Sunday in the western sectors were null and void.

The regularly elected anti-Communist city government, driven from city hall in the Soviet sector by Communist demonstrators, has been sitting in western Berlin.

Communist - controlled trade unions called upon all workers—in both eastern and western Berlin—to lay down their tools at noon and join the mass meeting.

City officials and the chieftains of other parties also were invited, but anti-Communist leaders promptly declined. They termed it a "scheme to establish a Red dictatorship."

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, told reporters in Frankfurt Monday he expected "no trouble that we can't take care of" from the Communists on election day.

The Communist were joined by a few splinter elements from other parties at the mass meeting in Admirals Palast auditorium in the Soviet sector of the city.

The rally was called with the avowed aim of taking "decisive measures for the protection of a United Berlin"—apparently a move to gain control of the whole city before the election in the western sectors, where about two-thirds of all Berliners live.

An outdoor demonstration of workers marching along Unter Den Linen in the Soviet sector was arranged to follow the rally.

The Communist rally adopted a resolution proposed by the so-called "Democratic Bloc of Berlin" denouncing the elected government and demading it be replaced.

The Communists elected as their Berlin mayor Friderich Ebert, 54, namesake son of the first German president under the Weimar Republic. Ebert belongs to the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) party. He is president of the Communist-controlled state parliament of Brandenburg.

Russia Accepts Mediation Plan Bramuglia Says

PARIS, Nov. 30 — (AP). — A new plan for mediation of the Berlin crisis devised by a man who would not give up, appears assured of a Big-Four trial.

Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine Foreign Minister and retiring President of the United Nations Security Council, is the author.

The plan calls for a neutral commission of experts to handle the technical and procedural phases of the East-West conflict over dual currency and the Russian land blockade.

Britain, United States, France, and Russia would assign their own representatives to stand by in Paris for 30 days to give whatever aid the expert commission might require.

Bramuglia announced Russia agreed to his new plan Monday night and that he expected formal acceptance from Britain, United States, and France to-day. They have already accepted in principle.

Gloomy View

An American source said the formula was being referred to Washington and that the Western Powers might reach a decision some time during the day or early to-morrow.

Officials in the United States delegation said it was difficult in the light of developments in Berlin, to hold much hope of a final agreement with the Soviet Union. They took a gloomy view of the situation.

(In Berlin to-day, Russian-backed German Communists established a separate city government in opposition to the elected anti-Communist administration, making virtually complete the political division between East and West Berlin.)

Bramuglia is winding up eight weeks of work on Berlin.

Churchill Has 74th Birthday

LONDON, Nov. 30.— (AP). — Winston Churchill reached his 74th birthday today and almost broke up a House of Commons session.

The old master of Parliament merely walked into the Chamber in his usual manner. But it was enough.

Members from all sides broke into a round of spontaneous cheers that drowned out a Labor member who was questioning the Minister of Town and Country Planning.

Decorum was quickly restored and there were no speeches.

At Churchill's home, however, congratulatory telegrams piled up by the hundreds. His secretary said far too many had been received for any list to be announced.

Churchill planned only a quiet party with his family and a few friends tonight. His birthday cake is iced to illustrate some of his many interests. Its decorations include a picture frame, an artist's palette and brushes, a map of Europe and a replica of one of his books.

The former Conservative prime minister received a flood of congratulatory messages and gifts, including books, flowers, a huge cake from a London baking firm, and plenty of cigars.

Order Army Out Of Suchow In Desperate Effort To Free 140,000 Comrades

Red Troops Encircle Trapped 12th Group Menacing Approach To Nanking; Yangtze River Only Barrier Remaining

NANKING, Nov. 30—(AP).—The powerful Suchow garrison has started quitting the city to go to the relief of 140,000 comrades trapped by the Communists to the south, usually reliable sources said today. The decision to abandon the bastion of East Central China 211 miles northwest of Nanking was taken in a desperate attempt to salvage forces for the defence of the capital.

Suchow had stood firm under nearly a month of Communist assault. But it was outflanked by a sweeping Red drive to the south which cut across Suchow's lines of communications.

The strong Government forces stationed there were reported moving south to engage Communist troops which have encircled the Nationalist Twelfth Army Group.

The government four days ago ordered the garrison to quit Suchow, but the troops stuck to the fortified city 211 miles northwest of Nanking.

Aircraft on Suchow's large air field were ordered to leave during the night, these informants said.

There was no government confirmation of this report. However, there was no secret about the previous order to the 250,000-man Suchow garrison to get out and fight.

The Suchow defenders were told to go to the assistance of the 140,000 government troops under Gen. Huang Wei encircled about 145 miles northwest of Nanking in the Suhsien area.

Only Bright News

(Only bright news from Chiang Kai-Shek's government came from the northern front. An official dispatch said Chiang's armies recaptured Paotow, inner Mongolian rail terminus 320 miles west of Peiping. Government headquarters also said planes inflicted heavy casualties on Communist convoys moving southward through Jehol province.)

Meanwhile two ominous signs appeared in Nanking. (1) There was a total absence of war news in the afternoon papers. (2) The government's military spokesman remained away from his office. In the past both of these have indicated reverses of considerable importance to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies.

Beyond the encircled twelfth army there is little to halt the Communist drive short of the Yangtze River bank opposite Nanking.

Reported Communist capture of a town only 65 miles east of Nanking pointed up the fragile defences below the Suchow battlefront. The Central Daily News, a Kuomintang (Government Party) newspaper, however, said the Communists were driven out of the town—Kouanchen—Monday after holding it 24 hours.

A detachment of 1,200 United States Marines meanwhile arrived at Tsingtao from Guam aboard the navy transport Bayfield. It brought Marine strength there to 4,800.

350 Searchers Find 2 Children Lost In Woods

ALBERT, N.S., Nov. 30.—(CP). —Two small children, missing since Monday night in the snow-laden woodland near this southeast New Brunswick town, were found alive today by members of a 350-man search party.

First reports said the two children, Carol Ann Wilbur, four, and her three-year-old sister Paula Fay, suffered no serious effects from their night outdoors.

A doctor's examination later showed the two young children were in good condition despite a night in driving rain and snow.

The two children, dressed in woollen coats and hats, were found sitting in the woods attempting to get one of their shoes back on. The mother collapsed when she learned they had been found.

The search was centred in a heavily-wooded area, Monday lashed by rain and snow, extending between the main highway near Albert and the northwest shore of Chignecto Bay, near Nova Scotia.

The children disappeared from the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs Preston Wilburn, at nearby Midway, late Monday afternoon, presumably to visit neighboring playmates.

Convict Sits In Taxi As Police Search

TORONTO, Nov. 30—(CP). — An escaped convict sat quietly in a taxi outside Toronto's Union Station Saturday while police officers combed the inside of the station for him. A Toronto cab driver, Horace Coad, said today he had picked up a fare at the station, believed to be Hugh McIntosh who escaped custody while being taken to Kingston Penitentiary to serve an eight-year sentence for forgery.

McIntosh slipped out of handcuffs, and lost himself in a crowd of Calgary fans who arrived for the Grey Cup football game. Goad said he drove the man about five blocks into the centre of downtown Toronto.

A check of Toronto's underworld haunts has led police to believe that McIntosh has fled from the city and is heading toward Western Canada.

Boyer Loses His Appeal Against Spy Conviction

MONTREAL, Nov. 30 (CP)—Dr. Raymond Boyer, wealthy Montreal chemist, today lost his appeal against conviction one year ago for violation of the Official Secrets Act in the 1946 espionage case.

The decision against the appeal was unanimous, delivered in a 50-page judgment which was said to be one of the longest judgments in the Appeal Court's history.

It was read by Mr. Justice Aime Marchand.

Counsel for Boyer, who was present in court when the judgment was read, immediately gave notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada and asked for extension of bail on which he was freed following his conviction.

The court rejected one of the principal points raised by the scientist accused of giving away Canada's wartime secrets.

That point was that evidence taken by the Royal Commission which investigated the espionage ring in 1946 should not have been admitted as evidence in the court case against him.

Dr. Boyer was sentenced to two years in penitentiary following his conviction on charges of conspiring to communicate information illegally to Russia. Specifically, he was alleged to have given information in 1943 to Fred Rose, former Labor-Progressive member of parliament, about Canada's secret process for manufacture of the super-explosive DRX. Rose now is serving a six-year penitentiary term.

Dr. Boyer, a former McGill University professor, was freed on $25,000 bail when his appeal was launched last January.

Canadian Bull Places First At Chicago Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 — (CP). — Canadian exhibitors in livestock classes of the International Livestock Exposition and Grain and Hay Show today set out to add to championships already captured.

A 1,450-pound cherry-and-red dappled Canadian Shorthorn bull — Scotsdale Bombardier — was placed first ahead of a herd of American-bred animals to take the grand championship of his class Monday.

The grand championship won by the herd sire of S. G. Bennett of Georgetown, Ont., brings four major titles to Canada so far in the eight-day show.

Although the barley crown was taken back to the United States by J. P. Westein of Joliet, Mont., virtually all other prize-winners in the class were won by Canadians.

Elmo Patterson of Coshocton, O., was crowned Rye King. The title, although won by L. L. Anderson of Fargo, ND, last year, went to W. S. Simpson of Dawson Creek, BC, in 1946.

Mantle Of Roses

When Judge Erique Santamarina, one of Argentina's leading Shorthorn breeders, placed the Canadian bull at the head of the line, a mantle of roses, ferns and carnations was thrown around Scotsdale Bombardier's neck.

Santamarina, who indicated the champion with two quick slaps on his heavy rump, described him as "harmonious."

"...It stands well, is of deep structure (and) has a certain style. This animal is a great walker: it's not unco-ordinated. It's level across the back line."

The small peas championship went to John S. Frisby of Markham, Ont., who won the small yellow field peas class Saturday.

The Lincoln sheep class was virtually split between two Ontario breeders—Stan Graham of Alviston and H. M. Lee of Highgate. Graham was awarded first place for showings of pens of three, and first, third and fifth places in the singles. Lee placed second in groups of three and second, fourth and sixth in the singles.

In the Cotswold class, F. G. Claspell of Hampton, Ont., outshone a group of United States exhibitors to win a first in pens of three and first, third and fourth in the single showings.

Prices Irregularly Mixed On Exchange

TORONTO, Nov. 30—(CP). — Prices were irregularly mixed in a quiet session here today. Industrials dipped on small fractional losses and base metals were also easier. Golds held steady.

Papers sagged in a weaker industrial list. International was down ⅜ and Donnacona, Consolidated and Powell River also dipped. Seagram's lost ½ and Walker's ⅛ in an easier liquor list.

Consolidated Smelters was down a point in a downward turning base metals group. Noranda, International Nickel and Hudson Bay were down fractionally and Waite Amulet and Falconbridge lost five cents.

Lake Shore and Kerr Addison strengthened in a firming gold board. A few juniors also brightened in dull actions.

All-Out Drive Called For US Tourist Dollars

SARNIA, Nov. 30 (CP). — An all-out effort to assist in the conservation of fast disappearing United States dollars was urged by John Sheppard, Hamilton, national vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who addressed a gathering of more than 150 members at the regional conference of District Five here.

Mr. Sheppard said Canadians should "not be shy" in encouraging American tourists to travel to Canada, because Canadians spend $175 per capita in the United States each year as compared with $7 per capita which residents of the United States spend in this country.

Faces Two Charges

Aden Freeman, a farmer of Chandos Township, was remanded to Jan. 6 on $500 bail when he appeared in court today and pleaded guilty to two charges of theft. The charges allege that he stole a set of harness from Douglas Baker at Norwood and a large tarpaulin from Walter Killoran on No. 28 highway. Represented by Emmett Sheehy, the accused pleaded not guilty to both charges.

He Likes It Cold

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 30. — (Staff)—There's nothing as sobering as a good cold bath, but city police here feel that enough's enough. They hauled one Belleville resident from the middle of the Moira River Saturday night, cutting short his attempt to cool off. He was first spotted by a number of persons as he stood, in his shirt sleeves, with the water over his hips. PC William Foster of the Belleville Department waded into the icy stream to bring back the bather. The would-be water sprite was put to bed by a neighbor. Even then, he had the last word and proved his point: he was sober.

Harvey Township To Have Election

BUCKHORN, Nov. 30—(Special)—Charles Flynn of Buckhorn, present reeve of Harvey Township, will be opposed for the position of reeve for the coming year by J. G. Elliott of Lakehurst, a councillor in 1948. The two were nominated at the township's nomination meeting here in the Orange Lodge Monday.

There will be no contest for the four council seats this year. Thomas W. Mann of Buckhorn was acclaimed councillor, taking the seat vacated by Mr. Elliott. Other members of last year's council returned were: K. Junkin, R.R. 4, Bobcaygeon; Charles Johnson, Nogie's Creek; Thomas Gordon, Buckhorn.

There was a large crowd of ratepayers at the nomination meeting.

The election for reeve will be held Dec. 6.

Nipped $10, Costs For Careless Driving

Theo Moore, 190 Charlotte St., was fined $10 and $15.50 costs when he was found guilty in court today on a charge of careless driving. The charge was laid following an accident on Lansdowne St., in which Moore's car collided with the parked car of Jack Drysdale, 184 Lansdowne St. Evidence was given that the accused drove for more than half a mile past the scene of the collision and was followed by a taxi driver. He returned later and paid the owner of the other car $100 for the damages, the accused told the court.

Wait For Appeals

TOKYO, Nov. 30. — (AP).— Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today condemned Japanese war leaders would "certainly not" be executed while appeals are pending before the United States' Supreme Court. He did not specify whether the execution of all seven sentenced to the gallows or only the two who appealed would be delayed. Among those waiting to die is Hideki Tojo, Japan's premier at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

North Monaghan Returns Reeve And Council

There will be no election in North Monaghan township this year. At a nomination meeting held at the County Court House on Monday night Reeve Melville Johnston was acclaimed for his 13th consecutive term. The four councillors and the six trustees of the two school areas also went in by acclamation.

The only change in North Monaghan is that Elwood Thompson has replaced Walter Hargreave as a trustee on School Area No. One. Mr. Hargreave dropped out of the running this year.

Complete list for 1949:

Reeve—Melville Johnston.

Councillors— Archibald Patterson, Walter Brown, James S. Roberts and G. Norman Moncrief.

School Area No. One (only the first three were up for election): Ernest Horton, Elwood Thompson, Douglas Mitchell, Fred Stenson and Harold Johnston.

School Area No. Two (only first three were up for election): Lloyd Whittington, Nelson Parrington, A. B. Preston, Henry Batten and George Whitfield.

Have Tax Problem

Main problem discussed at the meeting was raised by the township clerk, Bruce Johnston: "One of our big problems is to get increased assessment to make up our equalized assessment on North Monaghan township."

"About $213,000 in lost assessment was on our books but not on the books of the county," said Mr. Johnston. "The county didn't have as much money to turn back to use as we thought they'd have."

"We had a very good year in some ways; very bad in others," said the Reeve, "but we hope to see daylight. We are likely to have a deficit because of annexation."

He told the ratepayers that last year their taxes were too low and he warned them that taxes would be higher in the coming year. As an indication of taxation difficulties he quoted a few figures: the last assessment $447,000 while the equalized assessment was $507,000; this year's assessment $428,000 while equalized assessment $506,000.

"We were down $18,000 locally," he said, "but only $1,000 on the equalized."

He shone one ray of light on the situation however. Previously North Monaghan was paying 4.9 of the county rate and now 4.58 per cent.

On the subject of the Chemong bridge Mr. Johnston said that the rate of fill was keeping pace with what had been estimated and he said there was no reason to believe it would fall behind.

Although the arrival date of the swing span was still not known he stated that this did not mean the new causeway could not be used until it was inserted. A temporary bridge capable of bearing traffic would be thrown over the gap, he said.

He reviewed the work done by the County Council this year, and stated that he believed a county assessor had already been picked by the committee, but he still had to be approved by the council as a whole.

James Roberts said: "I think the County Council were rightly reluctant to commit themselves any further on the request for a request for a $500,000 grant for the new Civic Hospital. We in North Monaghan have a very low assessment and if we had to pay this extra grant to the city hospital—necessary though it may be—taxes would be unbearable."

There was some talk on the possibility of having to build a new school in the township. While no specific plans were put forward several of the ratepayers stated that in such an eventuality the school should be built away from the district likely to be annexed by the city.

Immigration Soars

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.— (CP).— Post-war immigration into Canada has passed the quarter-million figure, immigration officials said today. Since the end of the war, Canada has received 254,000 persons, including European displaced persons brought in for employment by the Labor Department.

No One Wins Strike

PARIS, Nov. 30. — (AP). — French coal miners ended their longest strike in history Monday on orders of Communist union leaders—and it looked as though everybody lost. Three miners were killed and hundreds of police and strikers were injured during the strike which began Oct. 4. More than 2,000 persons were arrested. The country's 335,000 miners lost about $20,000,000 in wages during the strike.

Security Pact Brings Talk Of Conscription

OTTAWA, Nov. 30 — (CP). — The development of a North Atlantic security pact has aroused conscription talk in Ottawa.

Expected to be one of the greatest military ventures in Canada's peacetime history, observers say the pact may send the Dominion's defence expenditures spiralling and may call on the Dominion to fit her forces into the greater international military scheme.

Observers also point to Canada's meagre enlistments and ask how she can hope to keep up to the military pace set by the United Kingdom and the United States unless her army, navy and air force start filling up quickly.

Although the answer appeared to give further consideration to some form of compulsory service, high defence officers have already indicated such is not the present intention of the Federal Government.

Neither have they indicated that Canada will indulge in any excessive spending in military projects, outside of a slight enlargement of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

However, Canada's internal policies likely will not remain unaffected by the $20,000,000,000-a-year defence alliance to serve as a bulwark against Russian aggression.

Defence expenditures by the other countries expected to sign the pact show that Canada stands fairly low in the expenditure scale.

Board To Seek Legal Advice Over Contract

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 30 — (ENS) — The chairmen of the School Board and property committee were appointed Monday night to interview a solicitor regarding the contract entered into between the School Board and Messrs. Bristow and Moore of Belleville.

The boiler recently installed by Bristow and Moore is sinking at one end, insulation not completed, control valve defective, radiators not working and no attempt is being made to instal 7 toilets and basins that also come under the contract.

A communication was received from Principal Hendershot asking that certain text books be authorized by the board to be used in the school and that a 4 years' supply of report cards be printed. His request was granted.

He also addressed the board regarding 4 typewriters he had sent away to be overhauled at $9 each with spare parts extra. He said that he should have asked the board to grant him authority to do this but that he had taken the matter in his own hands because the typewriters were badly needed. He asked the board to ratify his action. Ratification was granted.

A comunication was received from C. W. Booth, High School Inspector, on his recent visit to the school. He reported that all the teachers were fully qualified, the introduction of the House System and rugby had greatly improved school spirit, the standard of instruction was high and the caretaking was most efficient.

He recommended that an automatic time system should be installed, new desks should be put in room 7, the science laboratory should have a fire extinguisher and racks should be built for bicycles.

Election Likely In Seymour

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 30.—(ENS).—An election seems assured this year in Seymour township. At the nomination meeting held in the Masonic Temple Monday afternoon, Reeve M. Wight resigned and Councillors A. E. Bennett and A. B. Billen declared themselves as candidates for the office.

Councillor Harry Bedford is standing for deputy reeve and W. Rowe was nominated for the same office but did not reveal his intentions. E. Irwin, H. Milne, Sam Diamond, Jim Goacher and W. Archer were nominated for councillors but would not say whether or not they would accept.

Reeve M. Wight, in reviewing the work of the council for the year 1948, said that the taxes had risen slightly due to the increase in the maintenance of schools and considerable money had been spent on clearing the roads of snow. He stated that the financial condition of the township was good. The current taxes for the year had amounted to $52,810.80, with only $1,866.28 in arrears. He said that Seymour township had done a better job at killing weeds than any other township in the United Counties. It is with reluctance, he concluded, that I resign office after 10 years of service.

All nominees will have until 9 p.m. Tuesday either to qualify or decline. Clerk W. Stephens was in the chair.

Schoolmaster Visits Britain And France

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 30 — (ENS)—Rotary Club heard an address at their noon luncheon on Monday by R. A. Wyatt, D.C., of Belleville, who was speaking about his recent trip to Europe.

Mr. Wyatt sailed to Liverpool and was greatly impressed by his approach to England up the Mersey river. From the north, he travelled by rail to Devon. He said he had been impressed by the number of tunnels through which the trains passed and not once did he see a level crossing.

"The beauty of the countryside in Devon is accentuated by the profusion of wild flowers, especially roses, which grow in the woods and along the roadside," he declared. "One could live a lifetime in Devon amidst changing colors and sweet perfumes in perfec peace and contentment."

He stated that life in England was difficult owing to rationing and the poor quality of food. However, Englishmen still enjoyed their beer and game of darts in the "Pubs" and this innocent form of amusement compensated for a great deal of their inconveniences.

He found that in Paris the food was excellent and the city had lost none of its gaiety. There was an atmosphere of plenty in the night clubs and other centres of entertainment. The Louvre, the largest museum in the world, and the tomb of Napoleon were still places of attraction for tourists. Even the horrors of war had not extinguished the gas flame which burned perpetually in honor of the dead of the First World War.

Rotarian Henry Scott introduced the speaker and Rotarian Bert Taylor moved the vote of thanks. President Bill Brady was in the chair.

Angus Granted Divorce And His Costs

COBOURG, Nov. 30 (ENS). — James Angus of Brantford was granted a decree nisi, and costs, in his divorce action against Anita Angus, at the Non-Jury sittings of the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Schroeder on Monday afternoon. It will be recalled that Angus was found not guilty of attempted murder at the Fall Assizes in 1947, the charge being laid after Angus stabbed Jack Jackson of Baltimore in a fight.

Later Jackson sued Angus for assault and was awarded $300 damages by a jury, but the same jury granted Angus $3,000 damages in his counter-claim alleging criminal conversation. At the divorce hearing which was not contested, Angus related details to support his divorce suit, based on evidence that had been given at the attempted murder trial. A witness ialled by Angus yesterday was Provincial Constable Don Nicol of Cobourg, the constable who arrested Angus after the knife battle involving Angus and Jackson. Constable Nicol was called to give testimony in connection with finding some of Mrs. Angus' clothing in Jackson's small dwelling near Baltimore.

There are seven other divorce cases on the list. Also on the docket is the $8,000 damage action being brought by Mrs. Edith Waite, Cobourg, against Chief Constable W. J. Carey of Cobourg, claiming false arrest on a vagrancy charge and unjust committal to a mental institution.

C. O. Dudley & Sons of Warkworth are suing Walter Reycraft of Brighton Township in connection with an account for goods alleged to have been purchased at the plaintiffs' store.

Harriett Palmer of Lakeport is the plaintiff in a dispute over the will of her father, James Stanton, defendant being Sidney Turpin, executor of the estate.

Albert Gould of Seymour Township vs. George Ellis of the same township, is an action to establish title to a summer cottage and land.

Met Audience Behaves At '48 Opening

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)— The crowd turned out at the 66-year-old Metropolitan Opera House Monday night to hear opera and, perhaps, to observe a gala tradition. They neard—and they saw.

A couple of hundred others attended the opening of the New York Opera season, too. They came to be seen—and it scarcely seemed worth all the effort.

The new season marked an important milestone in music, too, for television carried the annual pageant to a living-room and tavern audience estimated at 2,000,000—most of whom never glimpsed the color-filled stage from a house seat.

It was a highly-jewelled and excited audience which flocked to see Verdi's "Otello," a sombre tale of murder and suicide.

Some veteran opera-goers said the choice of the heavier opera was deliberate — to discourage between-the-acts shenanigans which had stolen headlines in past years. Earlier director Edward Johnson had appealed to the press to ignore publicity-seeking exhibitions.

No Incidents

Whatever the reason, it was an opening almost totally without incident, other than the arrival of celebrities in the glare of television floodlights and the flash of Photographers' bulbs.

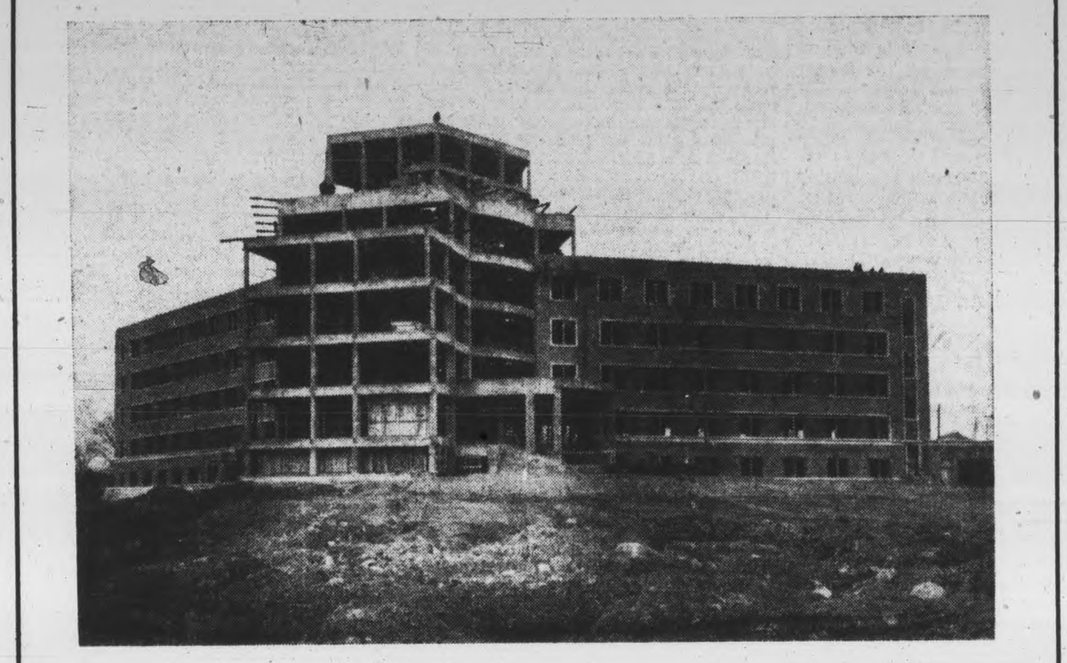
First-night regulars — society people, stage and opera personalities—started to arrive shortly before 8 p.m. But the climax was reached for the bystanders when Margaret Truman made her appearance 10 or 15 minutes after the opera had started.

She was smiling and pretty in a full, draped dress of white silk, whose modest decollete was broken by an oversize scarf—almost a stole—of white fox.

The crowd cheered and applauded as the president's daughter entered.

Should Lead Own Troops

WASHINGGTON, Nov. 30 — (CP).—Senator Tom Connally of Texas Monday said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek should personally lead his troops against the Chinese Communists. Connally, who will be chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs committee when the newly-elected Congress convenes, said at a press conference that if the Generalissimo "would take over an army in the field it would do more to restore the morale of the people than anything else."



View showing Peterborough Civic Hospital now under construction.

HERE'S WHY.... Everyone Agrees That The Peterborough Civic Hospital Must Be Completed

Despite the fact that an additional $1,500,000.00 is needed to finish the Civic Hospital, everyone agrees it MUST BE COMPLETED. There is no other solution.

As you will see from the above photograph, the hospital building is well under way, and, to abandon it now, would be costly and impractical. In 1944 when the original estimates were made, all authorities considered they were adequate, but, as everyone knows, since then costs on everything have sharply increased, and there is no indication that they will come down.

It is no one's fault, and nobody is to blame. There is nothing to do about it but approve the By-Law for the additional expenditure on December 6th or abandon the work already done and lose the money already spent.

Peterborough needs a Civic Hospital today even more than it did when it was approved four years ago. This need is far greater than any dollar consideration as it involves the health and well-being of every man, woman and child in the community.

There is nothing to be gained, but much to be lost by delay. Let's go on with the job and finish the hospital as quickly as possible.

Check the Facts for Yourself

(1) Between January 1 and October 31 of this year 548 patients were refused admission to the present hospital because of lack of accommodation.

(2) Provincial authorities estimate the minimum hospital requirement for Peterborough is 425 beds plus an additional 65 beds for chronic patients. Even with the new hospital, Peterborough will only have a total of 402 beds (Civic Hospital 265, St. Joseph's 137).

(3) Most Peterborough citizens are now covered with some kind of hospital insurance or plan. Without adequate hospital accommodation, these plans are seriously handicapped.

(4) Since 1944, when the hospital was first planned, the number of patients treated per year has increased over 50%.

(5) If Peterborough is to grow and attract more industries and population, we must have adequate services, including a modern hospital.

(6) Many Peterborough citizens are being forced to go out of town for hospital treatment because of the lack of facilities here.

(7) Both Federal and Provincial Governments agree on the great need of Peterborough for the new hospital, and are contributing a total of $460,000.00 towards the cost.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE HOSPITAL BY-LAW IS DEFEATED?

If such a calamity happened, work would be discontinued and the present structure abandoned perhaps for years. In this climate the structure would quickly deteriorate, and much of the money already spent would be lost.

Furthermore, the rated capacity of the present Civic Hospital and St. Joseph's is only 182 beds. This cannot possibly take care of the increased requirements of the City and District and a serious situation will develop if the By-law is not passed.

There is no other solution but to complete the hospital now and in the long run this would be the most economical plan.

WHAT WILL THE ADDITIONAL COST MEAN TO THE TAX-PAYER

We are fortunate that in Peterborough approximately half the property taxes are paid by business and industry. This means that only about 50% of the additional cost of the hospital will have to be paid by home owners.

The cost of carrying $1,500,000.00 hospital debentures and amortizing them over a 20-year period would add approximately 3 mills to the tax rate. As the average assessment for residential property is about $2,200.00, this means that the average cost to the average residential taxpayer will be about 12c a week or less than 2c a day.

There is no other solution but to approve this By-Law. The hospital construction is well along, and it must be obvious to everyone we can't stop here. Peterborough needs the new hospital and needs it badly, but, unless you get out and vote to approve the Hospital By-Law on December 6th, the money needed will not be forthcoming, and Peterborough will take a step backwards from which it may never recover.

Is Canada Over-Taxed?

Canadians are now paying the highest taxes in their history. Are they paying too much? Mr. George Drew thinks so, and spoke in Montreal four weeks ago accusing "the long-haired boys in Finance Minister Abbott's ivory tower at Ottawa" of robbing the public of an extra billion dollars. As a federal election is drawing near, and as this matter of taxation will be hotly discussed then, it may be well to look at some of the facts relating to it now, while we are still cool.

• • •

Mr. Drew's figure of a billion dollars was arrived at by doubling the surplus of $533 millions which the Government has collected during the past seven months. But can we assume that so great a surplus will be collected between now and April 1, 1949? No, we cannot. Expenses during the second half of a fiscal year are always greater than those of the first half. And in addition to the obvious expenses of the country there will be the costs of operating Crown corporations, and the costs of operating the Foreign Exchange Control Board. And in addition to these there will be $297 millions to be paid in refundable taxes. The Budget last year forecast a surplus of $489 millions, and it looks as though it would not be far from that figure—less than half Mr. Drew's estimate. In 1947-48 we had a surplus of $1.1 billions, but that was a most unusual year, in which we received heavy repayments of foreign loans, and several sums which must be counted as windfalls; we shall not have such a year again, and these sums cannot be counted as current revenue.

• • •

What will the surplus money be spent on? Quite a lot of it will go on military preparation; we do not suppose that any responsible group of Canadians would like to see that field neglected. More money will be spent to reduce our national debt, which is now $15.9 billions, or over $1,200 per capita; the yearly carrying charges on this sum alone come to $424 millions. Would any intelligent Canadian suggest that we should not pay off all we can of this great sum while we have the national prosperity which enables us to do so? There is no way in which we can more firmly establish the reputation and ensure the future of Canada in international trade circles than by paying our debts. Hard times will come, and we will have no better friend then than our excellent national credit.

• • •

Undeniably our taxes are high, but undeniably we are better able to bear them now than we have ever been. And to talk of surpluses in our national finance is to talk of illusions, for so long as we have anything resembling our present huge national debt we have no real surplus. It is the shallowest kind of financial thinking to believe that money collected over and above our running expenses is "surplus" money, which is being used on fly-by-night Government projects; it is being used, on the contrary, to pay to the people of Canada some of the money which was borrowed from them during the war years, and to get our country into the soundest possible financial position. There is no country whose standard of living is comparable with our own which enjoys lower taxes than we—save the U.S.A., the darling of fortune and our very good neighbour. Sound business principles counsel us to pay our way and to pay our debts while we are able, and that is exactly what Mr. Abbott is doing.

Are Irishmen To Be Foreigners?

The parliament of Eire has now put the last words to the Republic of Eire bill which will officially remove southern Ireland from the British Commonwealth. Britain and the other countries in the Commonwealth are devising formulas for dealing with the new Republic. There are matters of trade, imperial preference and citizenship rights to be determined. It seems that Eire will be given a special place in the Commonwealth, something mid-way between a foreign country and a sister dominion. That seems to be an extraordinarily benevolent treatment to give a country which is so determined to be foreign and non-British. Last Thursday a former deputy prime minister of Eire even expressed in the Irish parliament strong disapproval because Premier Costello had announced his intention to introduce the bill through "a foreign press agency". The "foreign" press was Canadian.

If southern Irishmen want to be foreigners, why should they not be treated as foreigners? They should not expect to have their bread buttered on both sides—to proclaim Ireland a republic outside the Commonwealth, yet to have Commonwealth benefits, like automatic British citizenship when they emigrate to Britain, Canada or other Dominions; like protection by the British Commonwealth forces in war-time while Eire parades as a neutral country.

The British Government is taking a more lenient position than Mr. Churchill would have it take. Mr. Attlee has said that "the United Kingdom will not regard the enactment of this legislation by Eire as placing Eire in the category of foreign countries". Canada is likely to adopt the same course, for the matter was discussed, and some sort of agreement reached, at the recent London conference of Prime Ministers. It is possible for Britain and Canada to recognize the specially close relationship between Eire and the Commonwealth, and still to treat southern Irishmen as foreigners.

Bad Days For Beggars

The ancient profession of begging has fallen upon evil days in modern London. A century ago that city had 10,000 beggars; today there are but 2,000—including, we presume, those "distressed gentlewomen" who are always appealing for help through the rather expensive columns of the London Times. The London Mendicity Society attributes this falling-off to the fact that very few people nowadays have money to give away casually, and they consider, with some justice, that a government which professes to look after everything else should look after the nation's mendicants.

People with tidy minds will be glad that beggars are growing fewer. But we perversely regret their passing. They were horrible, no doubt, and they were a shame to society, but they also made it possible for a man to make an unpremeditated, uncalculated, simple charitable gift. An instinct of generosity rose in his heart, and he satisfied it at once. Modern charity is no doubt much more thorough, but it is also chilly.

There were times, too, when a man gave something to a beggar whom he knew perfectly well to be a fraud. And as the money changed hands there might be a wink of the eye, or a smile, which spoke of a human understanding, of a real charity toward the frailties of men, which organized charity knows nothing about.

A Writer Of Thrillers

Widespread regret will be felt at the death of A. E. W. Mason, whose name has been familiar for forty years to lovers of exciting stories of adventure. Before the detective story in its modern sense of a complicated puzzle, solved by specialized means, became popular, Mason was delighting hundreds of thousands of readers with such pieces as The Witness For The Defence. Later came The Four Feathers, The House Of The Arrow, No Other Tiger, The Prisoner In The Opal, and perhaps his best book —Fire Over England. He was successful as novelist, playwright and writer for the films; his invention appeared to be inexhaustible and he worked until he was near his eightieth year.

What a lot of pleasure a writer may give to the world without ever engaging the attention of the professors of literature! Mason was no stylist (though he wrote well) but he was a teller of exciting, highly-coloured stories. He created no characters who live in the memory, but concocted plots which stirred the blood. If he belonged to any literary tradition, it was that of Kipling and he was a not unworthy disciple of that master among tellers of tales.

Science And Numbers

(TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT)

THE popular works of the late Sir Arthur Eddington and Sir James Jeans were a literary as well as a scientific phenomenon of the first order. He would have been a hazardous man in 1920 who would have predicted that books explaining the theory of relativity and quantum mechanics, the structure of the atom and the pattern of the heavens, would have been eagerly bought by millions of readers throughout the world. The reason certainly does not lie in the inherent interest of the subjects. They can be, and have been, so treated as to repel all but the most determined seekers after truth; and on the occasion of the publication of the first Arthur Stanley Eddington Memorial Lecture it may not be amiss to inquire what were the main ingredients in a style which brought the atom to the bedside table and threatened the supremacy of the writers of detective fiction over the minds of the masses.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE presentation of paradox with all the authority of science is certainly an element in attracting the attention of the reader. To learn that the chair on which you are so confidently sitting is really a mass of whirling electric charges and that it is mainly emptiness is an exhilarating discovery. But, as many authors have discovered, the attention of readers must not only be caught but held; and the literary success of Eddington, Jeans, Russell, Sullivan, and similar writers lies to a large extent in the ease and limpidity of the style, which carries the reader forward insensibly from unpromising beginnings to the most unexpectedly delectable havens. This triumphant sweep of their style may well be due to their training in the ways of mathematics; for, when their exposition of difficult scientific topics is examined, their ease of presentation is found to be largely due to their success in abstraction, and abstraction is of the very nature of mathematics. They have a gift for brushing aside the irrelevant or secondary and all that merely confuses the reader, and guiding him unconsciously but inexorably towards the goal. In the most famous of all Eddington's illustrations, the examination candidate faced with the problem of an elephant sliding down a grassy slope, the essence is abstraction. As soon as the candidate reads, "The weight of the elephant is two tons," he knows that he need no longer bother whether it is an elephant or a rhinoceros; all that matters is two tons. But such abstraction is what the mathematician is accustomed to every day. A line is length from which breadth has been abstracted, a point is that from which everything except position has been abstracted, and no mathematician feels the slightest qualms in treating the sun, the moon, the earth and all that therein is as points if it suits his purpose.

✧ ✧ ✧

SUCH a method has its dangers for the understanding of the world, but to be able to leave out anything not bearing on the main issue certainly leads to more graceful presentation; and it is noteworthy that when the great mathematicians have taken to writing in tongues understanded of the people they have usually done so with acceptance and have usually done so with acceptance and have not infrequently been the Jeanses and Eddingtons of their day. Plato was not indeed a mathematician himself, but his enthusiasm for mathematics and his inspiration of the most distinguished mathematicians of his day entitle him to be regarded as an honorary fellow of their society; and who among Plato's readers has not felt himself swept off his feet by the irresistible force of the language? The French in modern times have given several outstanding examples of mathematicians turned writers with dazzling success. The author of the Lettres Provinciales was the discoverer of "Pascal's Theorem" about a hexagon in a conic and founder of the science of hydrodynamics before he turned to Port Royal. Descartes set modern geometry as well as modern philosophy on its course. Leibniz was the creator of the monadology as well as the part-founder of the integral calculus.

✧ ✧ ✧

IF the value of a mathematical discipline in producing economy and clarity in style is clear, its dangers in the realm of thought are not less evident. There is, indeed, a school of thought which holds that La clarte, c'est la verite, but it is a belief which has been sustained largely by mathematicians themselves. The simplicity of Nature—Natura enim simplex est — was an assumption made by the greatest of all mathematical physicists, but we have no real reason to believe that the world is simple, though it may be convenient to believe it so in order to get to understand it; and every advance in science shows it to be more complex than we first supposed it to be. It is possible for the mathematician to build up a world of ideas which is completely self-coherent and explains all the known phenomena and is withal beautiful to behold but which suffers from the supreme disadvantage that it bears no relation to the actual world. That is exactly what Descartes did with his vortices and Leibniz with his monads. Those who have been bred in the study of history or the observational sciences may not find it so easy as the mathematician to brush aside all apparently irrelevant detail; their style may be more crabbed and the clean flow of their argument distorted by a hundred qualifications; but in the end they may prove to have had a training not inferior for the task of understanding the world as it actually is.

Salute to Canada

Press - Scimitar, Memphis, Tennessee: Among all the countries of the world our kinship and co-operation is closest with Canada. Two world wars have demonstrated the absolute interdependence of our nations. There can be no foreign attack on one without directly endangering the other. Defense of either is impossible without the other, because their strategic problems are inseparable. We rise or fall with Canada.

Therefore any change in government at Ottawa to us is second in importance only to a change in Washington.

Much as citizens of our country regret the voluntary retirement of King from active leadership after 21½ years—the longest record of any democratically elected chief of state—they will rejoice that his policy continues. St. Laurent, a French-Irish Canadian Liberal, was schooled by his old chief for the premiership, first as minister of justice and then as minister of exterior affairs. In recent months as acting prime minister he has co-operated closely with Washington.

His immediate interest is a North Atlantic security system, associating the United States-Canadian partnership with the Western European Union of Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. He would confront totalitarian aggressors with a defense union of the democracies.

We salute our Canadian cousins and their new prime minister.

A "Humorist" Views Montreal

L'Evenement-Journal, Quebec: A humorist from the metropolis who "loves his city hauls it violently over the coals for betraya. of its title to being a French city. He admits that Montreal contains a good million of inhabitants of French descent but this numerical contribution in no way influences its character. Its people, he says, speak a deplorable language; they go to English cinemas; they read American magazines; they pervert their minds and hearts and their culture reflects it pitifully. Houses and buildings are architecturally commonplace and completely baroque. Its citizens prefer their ease, their business, their dollars before any other value. He rises beyond materialistic considerations and dreams of a city that shines forth beauty, culture and civilization. ....Should we invite him to Quebec?

Dangerous Rival

Winnipeg Free Press: Having in mind the visit of Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red" dean of Canterbury, the following address (Manchester Guardian report) of Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, on Communism, delivered on Nov. 10, is of interest:

"While it is possible to be a Christian and a Communist, it is not possible to be a Christian and a Marxian Communist without disloyalty either to Christ or to Marx, for Marxian Communism is far more than a political or economic theory. It has a doctrine behind it which leaves no room for Christianity or for any form of theism. It is Marxian Communism which today is far and away the most powerful form of Communism in the world. It is the most dangerous rival to Christianity and directly and uncompromisingly challenges its faith and morals."

Colonel Sits Disconsolate

Montreal Star: The deepest and most heartfelt sympathy should be extended to Col. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune, who sits disconsolate amidst the wreckage of the Illinois Republican machine. The Colonel was not a Dewey man. If the convention refused to choose McCormick, he believed it ought to choose Taft. When the convention took Dewey, he stalked out, muttering crossly, "It might have been worse. It might have been Vandenburg." Then he went home to organize victory.

Today there is no Dewey. Today his Governor-stooge Dwight Green, finds himself retired into private life with the enthusiastic support of a large majority of the voters of Illinois. His favourite Senator Brooks, arch-isolationist, arch-reactionary, is likewise on the ash-heap, soon to be an ex-Senator.

Truly 1948 has been a bad year for the Colonel. No one has asked him to run for President. No one has asked him to invent a machine gun or a tank. No one has given him secrets to betray to his country's enemies, for a Democratic President led the nation successfully against whatever enemies it had. No one, indeed, has paid any attention to him at all,—and that is hardest of all.

Since early in 1933 Col. McCormick has been predicting the ruin of America. Perhaps there is consolation here. He can go on predicting it for four years more. The older the fiddle, the better the tune.

History Misread

Wilfrid Eggleston in Saturday Night: George Drew was quoted as having said at Montreal that extensive rights given to the provinces in 1867 were not given "because the provinces had demanded them particularly, but because the Fathers of Confederation had had a chance to note what had transpired in the drafting of the United States constitution, and had also seen the tragic events which had followed in the days when brother was pitted against brother" (Montreal Gazette). This is such a misreading of history that one can only hope the reporter's paragraph was inaccurate.

It was to avoid the danger of a Canadian Civil War that the Fathers of Confederation made Canada, as they thought, strong at the centre, and Sir John A. was at great pains to explain how the Canadian constitution avoided the pitfall of state's rights. At the Quebec conference Sir John A. said that intolerable as was the political deadlock of 1864 in the province of Canada, she was "better off as she stands than she would be as a member of a confederacy composed of five sovereign states."

The divesting of power by Ottawa to the provincial capitals, the elimination of the corps of high government advisers, whose quality has been admired by many other countries, the tossing back to Parliament of many of the matters which more recently have become the peculiar responsibility of the cabinet, may appeal at the moment as first-class election issues, but the Conservatives, once in power, would find it impossible to live up to their pledges and still carry out their national duties.

Before they get too deeply committed, the party would be wise, in my opinion, to take one more look at the long-term implications of certain of their current slogans.

I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me....I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. (Isa. 45: 5 12.)

Canadians Are Not Really Dull, But Feel They Have To Act That Way

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP)—Canadians are not really dull, they only feel they have to act that way, author Hugh MacLennan told the Canadian Club Monday.

He said Canada's whole inherited habit of mind must be radically changed before she could become a coherent country.

To do this, Canadians would have to make an about-turn from dramatizing themselves mainly in terms of the northwest frontier.

The most important step would be "in realizing that at present there exists in Canada a perculiar technique for making everything duller than it really is." He added:

"Far too many of us, especially when we speak or write in public, seem haunted by the policeman's warning: 'It is my duty to warn you that anything you say may be used as evidence against you.'

". . . Is it not a fact that if Canada had produced a flamboyant character like Winston Churchill, Ottawa would quickly have cut him down to size and let him know in no uncertain terms that there is no room in Canadian public life for anyone so unbalanced as to utter a principle so clearly that anyone can understand it?"

Mr. MacLellan said Canadians subconsciously tend to consider themselves interesting only in those aspects of their lives which Americans deign to consider of interest.

Must End Dullness

This has led to the "propaganda that depicts French-speaking Canada as a romantic backwater and English-speaking Canada as an Arctic frontier."

Canadians were not really dull or stuffed shirts—the festivities that surrounded the Ottawa-Calgary football final Saturday had shown that. But, except for the few times they were away from home, Canadians felt they always had to wear a white collar in public and act accordingly.

This perpetual caution could succeed only in producing a second-rate society and sending young people "in droves" to the United States.

"The reign of dullness can't last forever. Canadians are too interesting and the youth of Canada is becoming too impatient for it to last much longer."

Rotary Cub Endorses The Civic Hospital Bylaw

An outline of the need for the new Peterborough Civic Hospital was given by Mr. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors, to the Rotary Club at their luncheon Monday.

"Hospital accommodation is as necessary to the health of our people as schools for the education of our children, the fire department for the protection against fire or the police department for the prevention of crime."

"The way of living today in small houses and apartments makes it difficult to care for the sick in the home. Medical science has advanced to the stage where the best care cannot be given in the home but in the hospitals," he said.

"The demand and necessity for more and better hospital accommodation has outgrown the capacity of Nicholls Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital to adequately serve our people."

"A commission appointed in 1944 by the Department of Health reported that Peterborough and district had 218 beds available and 168 beds more were required. In 1945 admission was refused to 150 sick people and in 1947 we refused 567. If the average for the first nine months of this year holds out for the balance, 660 people will have been refused admission. I ask you to consider how much suffering has been prolonged and how many deaths have been due to this lack of room for the sick."

Means 3 Mills

"The cost of 'carrying additional hospital debentures for $1,500,000 and amortizing them over a 20-year period will add about three mills to the tax rate. This means that the average cost to the residential tax-payer will be about 12c a week or less than 2c a day. Is this too much to pay for a hospital that will meet the needs of our city for many years to come and to insure to our people a place where they can go in case of illness, a place where they can secure the care and attention that is only obtainable in such an institution?" he asked.

"We would appreciate the endorsement of your club to this project and the vote of every member in support of this By-law on Dec. 6th to provide funds to complete the hospital," Mr. Marshall said in conclusion.

Mr. H. Keefer introduced Mr. Marshall who was thanked on behalf of the Rotary Club by Mr. J. Dutton. The Rotary Club wholeheartedly endorsed the hospital project.

Guests of the club were Neil Moodie, Ottawa, J. Carrol, M. Bosley, W. H. Bosley, all of Toronto, Dr. R. Bell, Dr. T. Currier and J. McKenzie, Peterborough.

Lift Embargo Rail Shipments

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP).—The railroad freight embargo of eight east-coast United States ports went off to-day as shipping struggled back toward normal after the crippling 18-day longshoremen's strike.

The Association of American Railroads announced in Washington late Monday it was lifting the embargo on freight intended for export or coastwise movement.

The ban was removed in the ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va., Wilmington, Del., Port Newark, NJ, and Portland, Me.

Improved weather was expected to speed up waterfront recovery along the 700-mile stretch from Maine to Virginia, which began to come to life shortly after settlement of the AFL longshoremen's strike was announced on Saturday. Snow and rain hampered activities at several ports on Monday.

Explosion Shatters Waterfront Building

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30 — (AP). — An explosion shattered a frame building and shook a large area of the waterfront industrial area Monday night, but only one person was injured.

Walter G. Kratt, 47, a port engineer, suffered burns of the face and hands and severe shock. He was thrown 200 feet by the blast. Nearby stacked lumber caught fire, but firemen had the half-block burning zone under control in an hour.

Kratt was quoted by police as saying he entered the Portland Dock Commission office and smelled gas. When he flipped on a basement light switch to investigate the odor, the building blew up. Damage was estimated by port authorities at under $75,000.

Canadians Are Not Really Dull, But Feel They Have To Act That Way

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP)— Canadians are not really dull, they only feel they have to act that way, author Hugh MacLennan told the Canadian Club Monday.

He said Canada's whole inherited habit of mind must be radically changed before she could become a coherent country.

To do this, Canadians would have to make an about-turn from dramatizing themselves mainly in terms of the northwest frontier.

The most important step would be "in realizing that at present there exists in Canada a perculiar technique for making everything duller than it really is." He added:

"Far too many of us, especially when we speak or write in public, seem haunted by the policeman's warning: 'It is my duty to warn you that anything you say may be used as evidence against you.'

". . . Is it not a fact that if Canada had produced a flamboyant character like Winston Churchill, Ottawa would quickly have cut him down to size and let him know in no uncertain terms that there is no room in Canadian public life for anyone so unbalanced as to utter a principle so clearly that anyone can understand it?"

Mr. MacLellan said Canadians subconsciously tend to consider themselves interesting only in those aspects of their lives which Americans deign to consider of interest.

Must End Dullness

This has led to the "propaganda that depicts French-speaking Canada as a romantic backwater and English-speaking Canada as an Arctic frontier."

Canadians were not really dull or stuffed shirts—the festivities that surrounded the Ottawa-Calgary football final Saturday had shown that. But, except for the few times they were away from home, Canadians felt they always had to wear a white collar in public and act accordingly.

This perpetual caution could succeed only in producing a second-rate society and sending young people "in droves" to the United States.

"The reign of dullness can't last forever. Canadians are too interesting and the youth of Canada is becoming too impatient for it to last much longer."

Rotary Cub Endorses The Civic Hospital Bylaw

An outline of the need for the new Peterborough Civic Hospital was given by Mr. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors, to the Rotary Club at their luncheon Monday.

"Hospital accommodation is as necessary to the health of our people as schools for the education of our children, the fire department for the protection against fire or the police department for the prevention of crime."

"The way of living today in small houses and apartments makes it difficult to care for the sick in the home. Medical science has advanced to the stage where the best care cannot be given in the home but in the hospitals," he said.

"The demand and necessity for more and better hospital accommodation has outgrown the capacity of Nicholls Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital to adequately serve our people."

"A commission appointed in 1944 by the Department of Health reported that Peterborough and district had 218 beds available and 168 beds more were required. In 1945 admission was refused to 150 sick people and in 1947 we refused 567. If the average for the first nine months of this year holds out for the balance, 660 people will have been refused admission. I ask you to consider how much suffering has been prolonged and how many deaths have been due to this lack of room for the sick."

Means 3 Mills

"The cost of 'carrying additional hospital debentures for $1,500,000 and amortizing them over a 20-year period will add about three mills to the tax rate. This means that the average cost to the residential tax-payer will be about 12c a week or less than 2c a day. Is this too much to pay for a hospital that will meet the needs of our city for many years to come and to insure to our people a place where they can go in case of illness, a place where they can secure the care and attention that is only obtainable in such an institution?" he asked.

"We would appreciate the endorsement of your club to this project and the vote of every member in support of this Bylaw on Dec. 6th to provide funds to complete the hospital," Mr. Marshall said in conclusion.

Mr. H. Keefer introduced Mr. Marshall who was thanked on behalf of the Rotary Club by Mr. J. Dutton. The Rotary Club wholeheartedly endorsed the hospital project.

Guests of the club were Neil Moodie, Ottawa, J. Carrol, M Bosley, W. H. Bosley, all of Toronto, Dr. R. Bell, Dr. T. Currier and J. McKenzie, Peterborough.

Lift Embargo Rail Shipments

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP).— The railroad freight embargo of eight east-coast United States ports went off to-day as shipping struggled back toward normal after the crippling 18-day longshoremen's strike.

The Association of American Railroads announced in Washington late Monday it was lifting the embargo on freight intended for export or coastwise movement.

The ban was removed in the ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va., Wilmington, Del., Port Newark, NJ, and Portland, Me.

Improved weather was expected to speed up waterfront recovery along the 700-mile stretch from Maine to Virginia, which began to come to life shortly after settlement of the AFL longshoremen's strike was announced on Saturday. Snow and rain hampered activities at several ports on Monday.

Explosion Shatters Waterfront Building

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30 — (AP). — An explosion shattered a frame building and shook a large area of the waterfront industrial area Monday night, but only one person was injured.

Walter G. Kratt, 47, a port engineer, suffered burns of the face and hands and severe shock. He was thrown 200 feet by the blast. Nearby stacked lumber caught fire, but firemen had the half-block burning zone under control in an hour.

Kratt was quoted by police as saying he entered the Portland Dock Commission office and smelled gas. When he flipped on a basement light switch to investigate the odor, the building blew up. Damage was estimated by port authorities at under $75,000.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Just 10 years ago this evening, the city council threw a banquet for the Petes' OLA senior "B" champions. Which shows that our provincial lacrosse champs of the last two years weren't the only good gutted-stick players in this borough. A few of that team of '38 are still active locally. The players of a decade ago were: Bill Rogers, Doug Miller, Owen Hendy, Mike Loucks, Rowan Chute, Jack Westonfeldt, Ossie Sloan, Jerry Creighton, Buster Whittbn, Joe Meyette, Don Crowe, Norm Worthy, Pete King, Shorty Reid, Ned Vitarelli, Mick Magee, Ira Dundas, Emmett Creighton, Fraser Bowen, Red Creighton, Dutch Pammett and Red Dallin.

Andy O'Brien writes an interesting article in the Montreal Standard on ring slaughter. Points out that in pro fighting there are about nine ring deaths averaged a year in the last several years. It is the only game where opponents train deliberately to injure each other, and the fans yell for more and more action in a slugging match. The smart boxer—like Tunney—is unpopular. Andy feels that better conditioning and matching of fighters, a thorough medical examination, prompt action by referees in stopping a fight before it goes too far, and finally compulsory insurance paid by promoters and boxers, are the only answers.

Describes A Kayo

He quotes a doctor as follows: "A KO, to boil it down to its simplest terms, is either a mild or major concussion of the brain. There is no such thing as a harmless KO because there is no such thing as a harmless concussion. Since brain tissue does not mend, scar tissue forms. The brain acquires a pin-point hemorrhage. Several such concussions increase the number of pin-point hemorrhages and blocks form in the brain—the owner gets punchy. It has all been caused by the effect of bashing the brain against the skull, resulting in swellings inside. The KO victim imagines he recovers, but he never really does."

An interested grid fan inquires what we meant yesterday when we described Bob Bazos of UCC reeling off hefty gains by using a delayed plunge. There are probably other types, but the way we saw it in the PCVS game last Friday, Bazos would take the ball from the snap, then turn his back on his line. Two wingbacks would crisscross before him and each dig for opposite ends with arms folded and heads down. As PCVS players floated, trying to spot the ball-carrier, Bazos would turn and charge straight through the line. Being big and fast, he ripped through for some big gains after this deceptive play.

Not Many Changes

Expect to have most of the Legion lineup, if not all, in the next few days. Coach Ned Vitarelli pretty well knows now, and it is probable that most of last year's OHA senior "B" group champs will be back again. With a few additions, one being a top scorer from last year's Trent Valley League. But they have an important practice tonight in Lindsay, leaving the hall at 5.15, so more will be known after that. Also a Friday drill, leaving at 8.45, and plans for an exhibition with Lindsay Meteors on Dec. 18. If the Petes can keep those Quinte pucksts, it looks at this distance like two strong squads in Peterborough this winter, and lots of keen action for the hometown fans.

Once again the American Hockey League has come out with a Red Book, prepared for the press, radio and hockey officials. The smartly bound 124-page book is divided into two parts. First section contains a league directory and all records of the past season, with the other part devoted to a complete compilation of the all-time records brought up to date since the league was organized. The AHL is big business now across the line, playing good hockey to large crowds in many centres. Most players, of course, are Canadians. The teams have scouts hunting the hinterlands from early fall till spring playoffs are over, looking for talent. And loop officials don't fall down on the publicity job. This book is a fine number.

Story About A Bell

The bell operated by Fred Scates at mat bouts in the Brock Arena has an interesting history here. It first belonged to the old Dan Spence memorial ambulance, a horse-drawn vehicle in memory of the Boer War her in the early days of this century. During the past war, Fred Mann auctioned off this memento for the British War Victims' Fund, and the foot bell was sold separately. Reg Doubt of Lakefield bought it to attach to one of his buildings and ring for the kids when soup was on. Such a bell was needed for boxing and wrestling shows at the Brock, Reg was persuaded to sell them the gong—and it is now used there regularly at ring shows.

Warwick Leads NHL Scorers For 4th Week

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—(CP).—After a week of heavy firing, Grant Warwick, Boston Bruins' battling winger, retained his top spot in the National Hockey League scoring race for the fourth straight week.

The Bruins' mighty mite picked up three goals and an assist in Boston's three games, and official NHL statistics released today show him with 11 goals and nine assists for 20 points. Doug Bentley of Chicago, added a goal and three assists during the week to vault into second place with 17 points on six markers and 11 assists.

Toronto's Ted Kennedy and Jimmy Conacher share third place with 16 points, while next in line are Pete Babando and Eddie Sandford of Boston and Chicago's Roy Conacher, each with 15.

Jim Conacher and teammate Bill Mosienko put the best individual scoring displays of the season when each tallied four times in a single game. Jim Conacher and Mosienko were the big pointgetters of the week, collecting six points apiece.

Warwick's 11 goals make him top man in that department, while Doug Bentley heads the assists column with 11.

Montreal's big Bill Durnan forged further ahead in the goaltenders' race. He has allowed 29 goals in 16 games for a goals-against average of 1.81. Frankie Brimsek of Boston shoved Detroit's Harry Lumley out of second spot, and now has a 2.20 percentage. Durnan leads in shutouts with four.

Wild Bill Ezinicki widened his lead for badman honors, picking up 17 minutes in penalty time during the week to boost his total to 59. Kenny Reardon of Montreal is second with 49 minutes.

Atkins and Flanagan To Tangle With Morgan and O'Connor In Team Match

One of those rough and tough tag team wrestling bouts is due for the Brock Arena Wednesday night and Manager Jim Laidlaw is looking to the job of re-inforcing the steel struts of the ring.

Jack Moore

Pat Flanagan

Dan O'Connor who is a very troublesome matman in any ring teams up with the giant Ben Morgan against the high-flying Pat Flanagan and Fearless Fred Atkins. This team business is just about the most thrilling mat fare the fans have ever seen. Get four of these heavyweights flying in and out of the ring often than they change forward lines in hockey and you sometimes have pandemonium heaped on fireworks. Atkins and Flanagan can be counted on to hand back just as much as the "tough guys" care to handle.

Jack Moore meets Jack Wenworth and Billy Stack takes on Tony Lamaro to round out the big evening.

Stratford Does It Again Trounces Biltmores 5-2

By The Canadian Press

Stratford Kroehlers did it again Monday night. They followed up a successful two-game campaign during the week-end with a 5-2 victory over Guelph Biltmores in their Junior Ontario Hockey Association game Monday night. Stratford beat Windsor Spitfires last Friday and Saturday.

Kroehlers, who have dropped seven of their 17 starts this season, took over sole possession of fourth place in the scoring race with their win.

Shifty Ron Plumb started Biltmores off early in the first period when he beat netminder Boat Hurley on a three-way play with Frank Bathgate and Ferguson. Bob Houston got the equalizer minutes later.

Drive Back

Guelph went ahead in the second period on a counter by Butch Martin but Stratford drove back with two goals—Jim Pernfuss and Bibber O'Hearn taking the honors. Third period goals by Joe Beda and Pierre Cadieux clinched the game.

George Armstrong, one of Canada's most promising juniors, and recently star forward with Kroehlers, was promoted to the Toronto Marlboros seniors' roster Monday night. Armstrong's contract was bought by Marlboros juniors.

Only two games are slated in the OHA tonight—and both in the junior division. The fifth-place Oshawa Generals clash with Galt Rockets. A first-place team will be decided tonight when Windsor Spitfires and St. Catharines Teepees meet. Both are tied for first place with 23 points.

$60,000 Price For Stallion

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Nov. 30—(AP)—Thumbs Up, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap in 1945, last night brought the top price of $60,000 at the sale of Louis B. Mayer stallions and brood mares.

William Goetz, Hollywood producer, bought the nine-year-old stallion after slow bidding had started at $25,000. It had been expected Thumbs Up would bring over $100,000.

Hollywood celebrities and horsemen from all over the United States attended the film magnate Mayer's horse auction at Hollywood Park. It was the third sale in the liquidation of his racing and breeding interests.

The four stallions and 52 brood mares sold for a total of $652,650 for an average of $11,654.46. The stallions averaged $32,500 a head and the brood mares $10,051.

Dailey Enjoys Dancing Socially Too

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (AP).—Dan Dailey is one hoofer who likes to dance socially, too. But he has definite ideas about ballroom pests.

"The perfect dancing partner should dance directly in front of you and be chest to chest," Daily analyzed on the "You're My Everything" set.

The six-feet-four actor complained that most gals aren't tall enough for the lankier lads. "They should come at least to your chin, but not lower," he said. "If they are any shorter, every time you take a long step you knee them in the stomach."

The important thing about ballroom dancing said he, is the beat. "You want to hit it or you're a drag — a lagging partner" is what he commented, and you'll just have to take his word for it.

It's the offbeat dancers that louse up the floor, Dan added. "You keep bumping into them because they aren't keeping time with the music and you can't tell where they're going. Another danger is the middle-aged stomp type. They push about the floor pumping and bouncing for all they're worth."

Concerning female partners, Dan had three final points:

1. The gal who hums in your ear is a menace.
2. So is the babe who insists on gabbing through a dance.
3. "If you're dancing with a tall guy, for heaven's sake have a shampoo."

Character (Female Type)

She's a Hollywood character . . . if she speaks an octave lower than her voice really is . . . if she retouches her makeup every hour on the hour, no matter where she might be . . .

If she calls those whose names she can't remember "Darling" . . . If she can be nonchalant after dropping a false eyelash . . . If she thinks a girl's best friend is her sweater . . .

If her idea of a snappy comeback is "drop dead" . . . If she liked Olivier in "Hamlet" but thought the plot was "awfully dumb." . . .

If you can hear her crack her chewing gum at 50 paces . . . If she's always telling about a hot deal that might make her a star . . . but never does.

A HEAD OF WATER comparable to the usual spring high is rushing over the municipal dam at Parry Sound as much-needed rains help replenish the levels of streams in various parts of the province. The Parry Sound plant, which sells surplus power to the Ontario Hydro system, helps keep to a minimum lighting restrictions in the town. Rising water levels were reflected in last evening's announcement of a five per cent boost in Southern Ontario's power quota.

Give Fire Chief Rescue Medal

OTTAWA, Nov. 30—(CP)—Fire Chief Robert P. Dey of Pembroke, has been awarded the King's police and fire service medal for the daring rescue of an 11-months-old baby from a burning Pembroke house last March.

The award was announced Monday by the secretary of state's office after its approval by the King on the recommendation of the Ontario fire marshal.

Fire Chief Dey was the first of his department on the scene when fire swept through the home of Mrs. Alton Anderson on March 10.

Mrs. Anderson, who had been out of the house when the fire started, had made several attempts to get back in to rescue her son, but was driven back by the heat and smoke.

While by-standers held Mrs. Anderson back by force to keep her from entering the blazing building, the fire chief crawled through dense smoke until he found the baby. Most of the house was in flames

He succeeded in reaching a window and tossed the baby to one of his firemen. He barely succeeded in getting out of the building.

Announcing the award, the secretary of state's office said Chief Dey suffered severe cuts and carried out the rescue at "considerable risk."

IN A MOVE designed to end the government crisis precipitated by Communist military advances, Sun Fo (above), son of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic, became premier of Nationalist China while the battle for Suchow and the heart of China was raging. Sun Fo replaces Wong Wen-Hao, who resigned two weeks ago. It was disclosed by President Chiang Kai-shek, who nominated Sun Fo, that one of his closest aides, Chen Pu-Lei, secretary-general of the Kuomintang (Nationalist party), committed suicide on Nov. 13.

Fog Postpones Liner Sailing

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Nov. 30 (AP). Fog Monday caused the sixth postponement of the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth's departure for New York.

The giant ship has been idling here since Nov. 17 because of the United States dockworkers' strike and now because of weather.

Sixteen hundred passengers, most of whom have been on board since a week ago Saturday, received the news of the delay with resignation.

From the Baltic to the Mediterranean, Europe groped its way through dense murk which also has covered large sections of Britain for eight consecutive days.

The bad weather again curtailed the western allies' air lift to Berlin. Traffic into British-operated Gatow airport in Berlin stopped because the RAF's western supply bases were closed in.

The United States Army's Tempelhof field in the former German capital remained open, however, receiving flights from Frankfurt and Wiesbaden.

Twelve big ships were fog-bound in Liverpool Bay and shipping on North Sea Baltic ports and on the River Elbe was at a standstill.

Teachers Report Grade 13 Too Heavy For Students

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—Because it is not meeting present-day needs, the high school curriculum needs revision. This was expressed at a conference of 35 teachers, from all over Ontario, at the Ontario College of Education here Saturday. The teachers, each a chairman of a committee studying a particular subject, reperesented the Ontario Secondary School Teacher's Federation and the Ontario Educational Association.

Stress was laid on what they called the pupil load in Grade 13. Teachers are dissatisfied with the amount of work forced on Grade 13 pupils. They believe it is too much for them to absorb. This is backed up by a high percentage of principals, teachers and students questioned in a survey.

Three alternative were suggested: Reducing the number of subjects in that year, reducing the content of those subjects, or extending the upper school course to two years. It was thought the type of work in the earlier grades affected the studies in the final year.

Because of the importance of science in modern civilization, a complete revision of this subject was recommended by J. S. Calvert of Sault Ste. Marie. The various courses should be brought up to date, to include such things as atomic energy, electronics, soil conservation, wildlife and other natural resources, he said.

Mosts of the science textbooks were severely criticized as being out of date, uninteresting and extremely inadequate. Because of the length of the course and shortage of time in Grade 13, students are merely made to absorb large quantities of factual detail, complained Calvert. "We are turning out mere science encyclopaedias, and poor ones at that, and largely overlook the cultural value of the subject," he said.

Study of French.

The study of French was criticized because it didn't teach children to speak the language. Ian Ferguson of Owen Sound moved that the Department of Education insist that all schools in the province use the direct or oral method of teaching French. This could be done, he said, by cuttting down grammar, by making record, films and radio programs available to beginners, and by including a test in dictation in the departmental examination.

"The study of home economics is vital to every girl, but they aren't all give the opportunity to study it," objected Verna Nichol of Edith L. Groves School. "This is because only a few schools have rooms equipped to teach it. Besides, there is no authorized textbook."

Because so many students have to start work before completing even lower school, it was recommended the Grade Nine Guidance Course include a study of problems of the worker on the job, such as handling of a pay cheque, trade unions, income tax, workmen's compensation, further education and use of leisure time.

A great deal of discontent centred on the teaching of art. Teachers complained there is no proper set-up and equipment for it, and teachers are not well qualified. Alice McNair of Humberside CI recommended art be taught in every year, and be made an optional requirement to university.

Seek Approval Of New Site For City Hall

Approval of the National Trust Compay, Toronto, of the proposed city hall site, opposite Confederation Square, was sought today in a letter written by City Clerk Outram on the instructions of the council.

National Trust are the executors of the estate of the late W. G. Morrow whose bequest to the city provides the funds for the building of the proposed municipal headquarters in the block bounded by George, McDonnel, Water and Murray Sts.

Mr. W. H. Bosley, Toronto realtor, has estimated that the cost of private property in that block will be around $175,000.

Council has asked City Solicitor Huycke to prepare a bylaw authorizing expropriation of the properties in that George-Murray block. That action is expected to stop any further realty deals in that mid-town area. It has also been decided that the council will not proceed with the acquiring of the individual properties until February 1st, 1950.

Consideration has also been given to the financing of ultimate purchase. It is not an immediate problem, but it has been suggested as one method of raising money that the city could borrow on its market property asset.

Council opinion is that National Trust has been favorably impressed by the Public Library block site. They have left decision entirely to the city, but representatives have been here several times and expressed interest in that location.

There were no injuries. PC Harold Mesley investigated.

VALUABLE CARGO of cement was too much for the transport shown above which broke down on Lansdowne St., west of the Exhibition Park gates, on Friday. The weight appears to have broken the back of the trailer and it is safe to assume that some builder, as well as the truck owner, is wringing his hands over the delay. Strangely enough police have had no word from the owner of the truck.

Council Frowns On Wrecker Locating In Arndon Area

Thomas Hughes is being ordered by the Council to remove by the end of this week any indications of setting up in the car-wrecking business on the west side of Monaghan Road in the vicinity of the Arndon housing subdivision.

Mayor W. G. Ovens, Ald. Gordon Armstrong and other members reported numerous telephone calls from citizens who have bought houses in that area. They were complaining about the prospect of a car-salvage blight falling upon their property investments.

It was said that Mr. Hughes had for years been a car-wrecker at Monaghan Rd. and Lansdowne St. and that is ugly scatter of rusted tin and automobile debris had been too long tolerated by the township of North Monaghan.

The Arndon residents reported that apparently Mr. Hughes intended to transfer his operations down Monaghan Rd. to their vicinity.

To Be Improved

The council and the city planning commission recognize Monaghan Rd. as a new industrial and residential section. Indefinite plans contemplate improvement of that street with concrete sidewalks and street widening. Possibly an overhead bridge may be built at the C.N.R.

"Somewhere in the swamp down Erskine Ave." was suggested as a possible location for Mr. Hughes, but opinion of the council in board of works was to the effect that they were opposed to a car-wrecker anywhere in the city.

The resolution promised action to protect Monaghan Rd. properties and the future development of that area.

"Citizens telephoned me," said Mayor Ovens, "that Mr. Hughes had moved a couple of shacks and several old cars to that south section of Monaghan Rd. and I asked the police to stop operations at once."

"I don't think we should permit a car-wrecker in the city at all," said Ald. Doug Miller.

"People have been telephoning me," Ald. Gordon Armstrong reported, "and I think the council should be definite and firm. We should set a time limit and tell Mr. Hughes that he has to get everything off that place. I'd suggest by the end of the week. Citizens have spent a lot of money on new homes, and they are entitled to every consideration we can give them."

Reeve Cathcart Served 8 Years

Reeve Harold Cathcart of Cavan township is terminating eight years in the municipal service of his municipality, five of them as a member of the council of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham.

Mr. Cathcart was three years a councillor when he was promoted to the deputy-reeveship for two years, and then became head of the council three years ago. He has also been three years on the counties road commission.

At the township nominations in Millbrook Monday, Mr. Cathcart announced that he could not consider remaining in municipal work. His health has been uncertain at times, and his many friends understood another reason that Mrs. Cathcart had been seriously ill in Toronto.

Reeve Cathcart received fine compliments from Cavan citizens at the nominations meeting, and his friends throughout the city and district will appreciate the honors which have come to him from his neighbors. He has been faithful to his duties as a representative of the ratepayers of Cavan and he has always been friendly and courteous.

Mr. Cathcart is being succeeded by Robert Armstrong, another of the Cavan men widely known in Peterborough. Reeve-elect Armstrong has a district reputation as a progressive farmer, specializing as a grain and seed grower.

Lions Entertain 83 Children

Fun was had by all at the Lion's Club Father and Son Night at the Kawartha Club Monday evening. Children from 1½ to seventeen years attended this "do." In all 83 youngsters played games and saw movies from 6.30 to 11.00.

Every Lion member had to bring at least one child. If the Lion member hadn't any children, he had to take a neighbor's child. Some Lions had at least four children with them.

Prizes were in great demand and there was no scarcity of them. Some of the prizes were an electric record player, two wrist watches, set of roller skates for a boy and a set for a girl. Jack Duncan's little boy won the record player.

Toys and comic books were given to each boy and girl when they left.

Besides the games and movies a magician, Constable Chambers of the Provincial Police, thrilled the children and members of the Club with his tricks.

Master of ceremonies for the night was Mr. Jack Dane, decreational director of Peterborough, who is also a member of the Lions Club.

Police Offered $200 A Year Pay Increase

An offer of a straight $200-a-year increase for members of the Peterborough Police Department was made by the Police Commission at a special meeting Monday afternoon. If the offer is not acceptable to the members of the Department, the Commission has suggested that a Board of Arbitrator be set up to decide the issue. A committee of the Police Association has already suggested an increase of $1-a-day. A special meeting of the police membership will be held soon to decide on their course of action.

The brief submitted by the police bases its request on comparison of wage scales in Ontario cities of comparable size. The police maintain that their wage increases over the past decade have not kept pace with the mounting cost-of-living.

PC Leo Murphy, who headed the delegation which met the Commission, said that the $200 offer made had been "thoroughly considered by all members of the department" and that "it felt that it would not be fully satisfactory." He asked what view the Commission would take to a $1 increase for each working day.

Questioned on the size of the increase asked, he said: "We have had to make provision for the coming year and possible increases again. We do not want to be going into the hole from payday to payday as we have this year."

Previously, a brief presented to the Commission had quoted figures which showed that police officers, figuring their salaries on an hourly basis, made about 90 cents an hour. This, they said, was far below the rates paid for factory workers in Peterborough.

Judge Sheldon L. Smoke, a member of the Commission, said that he felt that the $200 offer was "as much as could be reasonably given," and said that the increase to the present salary schedule would give the Peterborough force earnings on a par with a number of other cities of such a size. Present salaries on the city force are: 1st class constable, $2329; 2nd class, $2229; 3rd class, $2079; 4th class, $1979.

100 Safety Men Attend IAPA Meeting In Lindsay

More than 100 plant managers, superintendents, foremen and key men from industry in the Peterborough - Lindsay district attended a meeting of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association. The dinner meeting was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay.

C. G. Cameron, Toronto, medical aid officer for the Workmen's Compensation Board, spoke to the group on the constant hazard of accidents in industry. Title of his address was "What Would You Do If. . .?" He reviewed the cases of many workers who have received injuries — many of them permanent—because of carelessness or poor industrial practices.

The board has about 50 paraplegics as well as some cases that are helpless without an attendant which has to be provided.

Officials of the local Association were pleased to see the large turnout of industrial representatives and said it was an indication that firms in the Peterborough-Lindsay area were becoming even more safety conscious.

L. H. Ingram, vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co., and who this year is president of the IAPA for Ontario, hold office during a period when two firms in this city—Western Clock Co. and Quaker Oats Co.—have had more than 1,000,000 man hours free from accident.

The speaker was introduced by T. A. Lister, safety engineer of CGE, and thanked by R. L. Scott, superintendent of Brinton Carpet. Harry A. Baptie was in the chair.

P. A. Schreiber, Toronto, secretary of the IAPA, thanked the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church who had prepared the dinner.

Jumped Bail Given 4 Months

Thomas Cook's explanation that "it was all a misunderstanding" over his non-appearance on another charge more than a year ago was not quite believed by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in court today. He sentenced Cook to four months in Reformatory for jumping bail. Cook pleaded not guilty to the charge. The accused lives near Hastings.

Malcolm Cook, 445 Albertus St., brother of the accused, testified that Thomas had been bailed for $2,000 to await trial at the General Sessions on June 2, 1947, for theft of drugs and stamps at Hastings. The witness had signed the bail bond in December 1946, he said, and he had been unable to locate his brother at the time set for the trial six months later.

The accused's own evidence was that he was under the impression that the trial date was July 2, not June 2. He said that he had returned to the district late in June to appear in July. Then, he said he had gone up north in the province where he was unable to get out and return to Peterborough for the December sittings. He said the lumber camp he was at was closed off with the freeze-up.

"I know that pioneer life up that way is pretty rugged," said his worship, "but I was under the impression that conditions had improved somewhat in the past generation."

"It's the same way this year, though, sir," the accused assured him.

"I simply made a mistake—I certainly had no intention of breaking the bond," Cook argued.

Better Organization Urged By Gardiner

MOOSE JAW, Nov. 29.—(CP).—Better organization in eight Saskatchewan Federal constituencies was urged Monday for the Saskatchewan Liberal party by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

He predicted election of 12 or more Liberal candidates in Saskatchewan would ensure such a Federal government.

To Operate 12 City Rinks Instead of 17; Will Effect Hydro Saving

In order to co-operate with the Utilities Commission, the number of city rinks operated this season will be reduced to 12, according to Armar Butcher, parks superintendent. There were 17 last winter, but two were to be discontinued anyway this year as they weren't used enough. Each rink will have a caretaker who acts also as supervisor, appointed by Mr. Butcher. Workmen today started putting up the rink sides.

Three rinks will be located at Riverside, two for hockey and one for skating. The Inverlea rink will be used on alternate days for skating and for hockey. Two rinks will be at McDonnel and Stewart Streets, one for hockey and one for skating. Another will be placed either at the Bonner-Worth or on Bonaccord St., with hockey and skating on alternate days. Turner Park will have one for skating and another for hockey. The same applies to the two at King Edward Park. The Confederation School rink will be for hockey and skating on alternate days. The recreation group in the St. John's School area will have its own rink with the parks' workmen aiding.

Lower Down Payment Sought On New Home

EDMONTON, Nov. 30.—(CP).—The National House Builders' Association is seeking to have the Dominion Government arrange for lower down-payments from persons wishing to purchase homes.

George Prudham of Edmonton, NHBA president, today released copies of letters sent to Reconstruction Minister Winters and to provincial premiers.

The letter to Mr. Winters submitted:

1. That in order to produce the maximum number of houses in 1949, there should be close co-operation between all builders and all levels of government from municipal to federal;

2. That a 10-per-cent down-payment would result in maximum production by builders;

3. That housing should be considered at the Dominion-provincial conference scheduled for next month;

4. That the federal government should consider the advisability of calling a conference of representatives of all provinces to discuss ways and means of obtaining maximum house production and easier financing of new homes.

LT.-GEN. SHIZUO YOKOYAMA of the former Japanese Imperial Army is arguing a point of law as he is arraigned before a Philippine war crimes commission in Manila. He is charged with the killing of 35,000 Filipino non-combatants including the wife and children of President Quirmo.

OPEN WINTER?

Old-timers agree this is one of the latest autumns in recent years. City dwellers are just closing their cottages now in some places. There has been only a light snowfall so far. The sunny days are encouraging particularly to the housewife who has her eye on the fuel-bin.

THE CHANGING TIMES

Wash-day is gradually changing from Monday to Sunday. Evidence of this is seen on the clothes-lines when one goes for a Sunday ride. Could it be that these public-spirited citizens are trying to help ease the Hydro shortage?

APPLIANCES SELL WELL

With Hydro power coming to a section running east from Apsley to Coe Hill, a new field has been opened for salesmen of electric appliances. The flat iron and the hand toaster are but a few utilitarian articles soon to vanish in many farm houses of this area.

SOURCE UNKNOWN

Where there's smoke there's fire, says the old adage. But sometimes it's not so easy to find that fire. On Monday noon smoke was detected at the residence of W. Mann, Park Hill Rd. and an alarm was sent in to the Fire Dept. The firemen responded promptly to the call but were unable to trace the source of the smoke. The only other call on Monday was to the residence of W. Hubbel where a chimney fire was reported.

CCF Gains Seat In By-Election, Loses Second

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 30 —(CP)— British Columbia's C.C.F. party today had one riding, lost in the 1945 provincial election, back in the fold but failed in an attempt to capture another from Coalition Government forces in two B.C. by-elections Monday.

The C.C.F.'s narrow - margin victory in the Rossland-Trail constituency was the first by-election setback for the Liberal-Progressive Conservative Coalition since 1945.

With two-way fights in both heavy-voted contests, the Coalitionists took the South Okanagan riding in an almost equally-close race with the C.C.F. as at Rossland-Trail.

Neither of the elected candidates has run for political office before.

Robert Browne-Clayton, who retained South Okhanagan for the Coalition is a 31-year-old fruit rancher who served as a lieutenant with Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the European theatre during the Second World War.

James Quinn, the successful C.C.F. candidate at Rossland-Trail, is a 52-year-old shop steward and first aid attendant. Scottish-born, he came here from Fleming, Sask., in 1929.

A Record Vote

Electors tallied up a record vote despite the threat of inclement weather. With an eligible electorate of 25,000 in the two constituencies, about 18,000 turned out to cast ballots, nearly 6,000 votes more than in the 1945 general election.

Premier Byron Johnson, who described the by-elections as "fights....clean and straightforward," said the increased number of voters was the "unknown factor."

Mr. Browne-Clayton polled 4,-918 votes to defeat Bruce Woodsworth, 34-year-old Winnipeg-born school teacher. Mr. Woodsworth, son of the late J. S. Woodsworth, founder of the C.C.F. party, polled 4,220.

With only one poll to be heard from of 28, Mr. Quinn had 4,743 votes against 4,471 for the Coalition candidate, Alexander Turnbull.

Standing in the 48-member B.C. legislature now is:

Coalition 36; C.C.F. 11 and Labor 1.

Russian Academy Breaks Relations With England

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Moscow's Academy of Science has broken off correspondence with the Royal Society, Sir Robert Robinson, society president, announced today.

Termination of what Sir Robert described as a long scientific contact came after Sir Henry Dale, president of the Royal Society from 1940 to 1945, resigned his honorary membership in the Soviet organization.

Sir Henry said he resigned in protest against the dismissal and disappearance of N. I. Vavilov, former director of the Lenin Academy of Genetics, and his replacement by T. D. Lysenko.

Sir Robert told the Royal Society's 286th anniversary meeting that reports from Russia had "rudely disturbed our peace of mind."

"I refer to the report that eminent Russian biologists have been constrained to subscribe to interpretations of the data in the field of genetics which they had previously rejected, or perhaps had thought unworthy of serious consideration," he said.

Sir Robert said the British scientists might learn a lesson from the Russian situation.

"We may observe that governments are not infallible yet must be obeyed. This reflection should make us more than ever alert to preserve intact the prized freedom of science in our own domain.

THEY HAD TO WIN—One of the reasons Calgary Stampeders turned in such a spectacular victory over Ottawa in the Grey Cup football final Saturday was little Robert Rowe, shown here with his mother. Robert, a healthy seven-pounder, was born a few hours before Daddy Paul Rowe helped the Stampeders take their first Dominion title. November 27 will always be remembered by the Rowe family. Not only did Paul become a father, he helped the Stamps win the crown and played his last game of football. His other son, Barrie, was born on the same date two years ago.

Eire Squabbling About Efficiency Of Armed Forces

By MICHAEL O'MARA.

DUBLIN, Nov. 30 — (CP) — The governments of Eire and Northern Ireland are frequently at loggerheads. One recent squabble was about the efficiency of Eireann armed forces.

J. E. Warnock, Northern Ireland Minister for Home Affairs, told a Belfast gathering that it did not matter "a row of pins" whether Eire joined Western Union—because she had no contribution to make.

Eire's "two or three motorboats her two or three antique aircraft, her insignificant, ill-equipped, ill-trained army would have no effect on Western military strength" in time of war.

That jolted Dr. Thomas O'Higgins, Eire Minister for Defence, into lusty reply. Addressing a Dublin meeting the same week, he snapped that Warnock's "very provocative and offensive references" were "as unjust as they are inaccurate and based on complete ignorance of facts."

The army of Eire might be small, but it was efficient. Its equipment was "the best Britain could supply." Many of its officers had been trained at Sandhurst and West Point.

More Shipping Wanted

Meantime, Eire's government wants to build up the strength of its merchant marine.

Industry Minister Morrisey told the newly-formed Irish Maritime Board that the country would be "foolish if she failed to learn a lesson from the emergency and should strive to have a merchant fleet at least sufficient to import the minimum requirements of essential goods."

Success Story

Here's how Groarke—formerly in service to the late Lord O'Brien of Kilfenora, Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, and to the late Count John McCormack, world-famous tenor — made the small fortune.

Many years ago he received £80 compensation from the old Midland Great Western Railway Company following an accident. After that it was simple. He just played the stock market.

CANADIAN WHEAT produces flour renowned the world over and with the closing of the Great Lakes shipping season only a few weeks away, rail and water transportation systems are working to capacity to move millions of bushels from western grain fields to Atlantic seaports. Golden product of western fields, at left, pours into elevator bin. In early December the 1,000-mile Great Lakes water route freezes up. With this deadline to meet, grain boats are trying to complete as many trips as possible from the Lake Superior ports of Fort William and Port Arthur to elevators at Port Colborne, right, on Lake Erie, which dwarf the freighter unloading western wheat.

Jolliffe Urges Power Rationing

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP).—E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF Leader, suggested in a broadcast address on Monday night that the Ontario Hydro Commission consider replacing present power interruptions with a consumer rationing plan to meet the power shortage.

"Each class of consumers would have to be allotted a quota of power on a fair and reasonable basis," he said in an address over a CBC Ontario network. The needs of farmers, of merchants, and of household consumers are all different, and each group would have to be dealt with fairly.

"But when quotas had been set, each individual consumer could be told how much power on his meter would be his monthly allotment. If he went over the amount, he would be charged a prohibitive price."

Mr. Jolliffe also suggested that the Ontario Hydro Commission seek advice on construction of steam-generating plants from British experts, that it review and accelerate the construction of new Hydro-Electric plants, particularly on the Ottawa River, and that power export contracts be renegotiated to reduce flow of Ontario power to the United States.

He added that when the Ontario Legislature meets he intends to move that a select committee of the House be appointed to investigate the Hydro situation —"to explore every possible remedy."

5000 Cheer Queen Elizabeth At Command Performance

LONDON, Nov. 30 — (CP)—London society donned its best post-war finery Monday night and went to a show with members of the Royal family—to a command performance at the Empire Theatre in Leicester Square.

Cordoned crowds, noisy but not as big as expected, screamed and cheered as evening-gowned film celebrities—British and American—arrived. Once or twice they broke through police lines and rushed cars.

A special cheer went up for Queen Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and the Duke of Edinburgh as they drove up in the maroon-colored royal sedan.

"We want Philip! We want Philip!" chorused the crowd, mostly 'teen-agers.

Cheer Queen

Inside the palatial movie house an audience of 5,000 rose to their feet and cheered the Queen when she appeared in the royal box. Only the playing of the National Anthem stopped the applause, which was interpreted as an expression of sympathy with the royal family in the King's illness.

The royal family occupied the flower-bedecked royal box. They saw the film "Scott of the Antarctic," a moving but somewhat documentary-like technicolor of Capt. Robert Scott's tragic march across 1,800 miles of Antarctic ice to the south pole in 1910.

Patricia Neal, as the youngest American star, told the Queen from the stage, that the players were deeply distressed by the illness of the King and wished him speedy recovery. The Sir Lawrence Olivier read a message from His Majesty sending best wishes and regretting his inability to attend.

As the royal family left they were introduced to the stars and survivors of the Scott expedition.

Has Chance To Recover

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP) — Merlin Hopkins who was riddled with shotgun pellets Thursday night at a farmhouse party near Uxbridge is in fair condition and has a chance to recover, hospital officials said today. His brother, Earl Hopkins, 27, is charged with attempted murder as a result of the shooting which police said began with an argument over a woman.

Committed For Trial

CALGARY, Nov. 30.—(CP).—Evelyn Paquette, 30-year-old Calgary waitress, Monday was committed for trial on a charge of murdering her fiance, Albert Jensen, 43, lumber camp cook, in an east Calgary cafe brawl Nov. 2. Crown witnesses testified that the stocky, black-haired woman struck Jensen over the head with a wine bottle after he had attempted to choke her.

Freighters Start Last Grain Rush

By The Canadian Press

Great Lakes freighters today start the last grain rush of the season in an effort to clear from Lakehead ports with their golden cargoes before higher insurance rates go into effect.

The rates change at midnight but, by that time, upwards of 40 grain-carriers likely will have nosed out from the great elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur and headed southwest across Lake Superior towards the Lower Lakes.

The annual race to clear the Lakehead before summer insurance rates end makes the first step in the closing of navigation for this busy shipping season of 1948. Insurance charges increase progressively, starting tomorrow, and are cancelled about Dec. 12. After that shipping ends for the year unless special rates are authorized for vessels that fail to meet the deadline.

It is still too early to estimate the tonnage of grain and ore the busy freighters have hustled eastward down Canada's inland waterway since the ice went out last April. But some idea of the carrying capacity of the lake fleet can be gained from predictions that ships clearing from the Lakehead Monday and today would carry altogether more than 10,000,000 bushels of grain destined for eastern Canadian and United States ports.

Use Cellophane

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—(CP).—Surgeons are using cellophane in some operations on leg and arm joints, the convention of the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapy was told Monday by Dr. J. E. Bateman, orthopaedic surgeeon in the Department of Veterans' Affairs. Dr. Bateman said surgeons sometimes use cellophane to prevent muscles or tendons forming adhesions after an operation.

SHOT IN LEG

OTTAWA.—Roger Laberge, 24, of Hull, Que., is in hospital with serious injuries suffered when he was accidentally shot in the leg by his brother Rolland, during a hunting trip. The accident occurred in dense bushland, 30 miles noth of Ottawa.

Student Nurses Bazaar, Tea Nets $170 for Welfare Use

Student Nurses of the Civic Hospital made a net profit of slightly more than $170 from the tea and bazaar held in Argyle St. nurses' residence Monday evening. The girls did all the work with the exception of a few donations from friends. They also prepared the dainty refreshments. Miss Marian Beatty was bazaar convener and Miss Joan Plunkett had charge of the tea room.

Guests were received at the door by Miss Sally Humphreys of the senior class, Miss Nancy Spring, intermediate class, and Miss Beverly Pringle, a preliminary student. They were then given a jolly greeting and hearty handshake from Santa Claus who was hovering near a Christmas tree, laden with glittery decorations, but no presents yet.

Beautifully styled knitted things for babies on sale showed a predominance of pink—perhaps because they had been made by single girls. There were also many very useful household gadgets like laundry bags for hankies, covered boxes to hold knitting or sewing, hangers for pot holders and covered hangers. There was also a table of home cooking, one of pound bags of cookies, and another where small Christmas cakes were for sale, but these quickly disappeared. So did the home-made candy which the girls had made, thinking they had more than plenty on hand. Salesladies on hand were Misses Jean Werry, Beverley Palmer, Jean Taylor and Agnes Bolar.

A fish pond where every angler gets a bite was a lure to the sporting instinct of the guests, particularly because there was no indication of what one might catch. Misses Mary Trumpour and Dorothy Brenton were behind the screen.

Highlight of the evening was the draw on a three tier Christmas cake that was iced and prettily decorated. Sale of tickets was in charge of "chefs" Misses Beth McGee and Betty Barr, and Santa Claus drew the one purchased by Miss L. Dagnais, a student nurse. There was also a turkey, weighing 15 pounds offered for the price of a small ticket, and Mr. G. Dunford, Stewart St. became the owner. Draw tickets had been on sale for several weeks and proceeds had reached a nice total.

Tea was served in a downstairs classroom where a long table had been laid with white linen and centred with a bouquet of mauve and yellow giant 'mums, flanked with double candelabra holding matching tapers. Pourers were each presented with a corsage of white carnations and were Miss A. L. Thomson, Miss C. Wilson, Miss M. Pickens and Miss M. Robson. Quartette tables with dainty covers were arranged for convenience of guests.

Students serving were Misses Marcia Flowers, Doreen Seeney, Lillian Coones, Anita Davis, Patricia Weston, Mary Jane Collins, Joan Smith and Jean Werry.

Recorded classics were played during the tea hours with Miss Jean Nelson in attendance. Miss Isabel Everson was at the treasurer's table. Santa Claus removed his cap and whiskers after the tea and appeared as Miss Stella Wilkinson.

One third of the proceeds from this tea will be donated to a charity fund, and the balance put into some project which the student body will decide on at a later meeting.

Hairdressing Tea Provides 3 New Hair-dos

Members of Alpha Theta and Exemplar Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi of Nu Phi Mu Sorority entertained about 50 friends at a "hairdressing tea" Monday evening. Miss Mildred McIntyre, president of Alpha Theta, welcomed the guests and about 60 members in the recreation room of the YWCA. Miss Barbara Deyell introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. Jo Donoghue, hairdresser.

Mrs. Donoghue had chosen her models to show that women of every age can wear the cap cut. Miss Lynn Curtin was the junior model, Miss Donna Hawson the teen-age model and Miss Rose Monahan the career girl. Miss Pat Hartt modelled the glamor shortie cut with and without a hair piece. Misses Elaine Savigny, Patricia Schoales and Mel Traviss each had their hair cut in the new short style, then set, dried and combed during the evening. Mrs. W. Collison and Miss Flora Metcalfe modelled "caprice" coiffures with and without additional hair pieces.

Emphasis was placed particularly on the importance of proper cutting and shaping of the hair prior to a permanent wave in order to have an attractive hair style. Mrs. Donoghue also gave hints on care of the hair before and after permanent waving.

Miss Myrtle McKeown assisted Mrs. Donoghue with the hair setting. Make-up was done by Mrs. W. Jones and Mrs. V. Castle.

Miss Margaret Preston drew the winning ticket on a cold wave permanent given by Mrs. Donoghue as a door prize. This was won by Mrs. R. P. Wellman. Door attendants were Miss Margaret Wyllie and Mrs. E. Brown.

Miss Isabel Birdsall expressed thanks to Mrs. Donoghue and presented her with a cascade of roses.

Tea and cookies were served by the social committee.

Mary M. Young Bride Of Joseph Traynor

Standards of chrysanthemums and carnations decorated the altar in St. Mary's Church, Young's Point, Saturday for the marriage of Mary Margaret Young, daughter, of Mrs. Young and the late Francis J. Young to Joseph Ambrose Traynor, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Traynor. The Rev. Dr. J. V. Masterson performed the ceremony. Mrs. Geraldine Johnston played the wedding music and the choir sang "On this day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Victor Young. Her choice for her wedding was a gown of white slipper satin with full skirt and vee neckline. Lily of the valley held her finger tip veil. Her mittens were of white mesh and she carried a nosegay of white carnations and red roses.

Her only attendant was her cousin, Mrs. O. Anderson as matron of honor, attired in an orchid moire taffeta gown with matching mittens. A shoulder veil in the same shade was held in place with a bandeau of net and flowers. Her nosegay was of pink carnations and yellow 'mums.

The bride's brother, Mr. Cyril Young, attended the groom. Ushers were Mr. Jack Young, Young's Point and Mr. Jack Douglas, Niagara Falls, NY, both cousins of the bride.

After the service a reception was held at the bride's home. Mrs. Young received the guests wearing a grey crepe dress with satin trim, a matching grey hat and corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Traynor will live near Young's Point.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

HAVE RESPECT FOR ELDERLY PEOPLE

This swift-moving, modern life holds many handicaps for elderly people. Crowded streets, stores, transportation! Here's a good opportunity to lend a friendly hand... by guiding an old lady or gentleman across a busy intersection . . . giving up our seat on the 'bus! The reward will be generous. A grateful smile . . . a happy lift from an unselfish act. You will be doing one of the "little things" that make for "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Of Interest to Women

Tortured by Compliments Widower Pays Former Wife

DEAR MISS DIX I am engaged to marry a widower with whom I am very much in love with and whose wife died two years ago. My only unhappiness is caused by his unending talk about his former wife. Whenever we begin discussing our future life together, he always drags in his deceased wife and this embarrasses me greatly. It is particularly distasteful to me when he eulogizes her before my friends. Even when my fiance pays me a compliment, he will ruin it all by saying how much I am like his dear departed Maria

Dorothy Dix

Please tell me how to stop this without hurting his feelings.

JEALOUS

ANSWER: The most curious thing about husbands is that while their wives are alive they generally take the ladies for granted and make no ballyhoo about them, but let Friend Wife die and her husband immediately canonizes her and holds her up as a paragon of all the virtues and a model for all other women to follow. Whether this is a case of blessing brightening as they fade, or the pricking of the widower's conscience, nobody knows. It is just a matter of fact that the only perfect wives are dead ones.

Now it is a matter of common knowledge that widowers are the marryingest class of men that there is, and when the average man loses his wife he isn't happy until he gets another one. This is okay for, as the Bible tells us, it is not good for man to be alone. Also, as is well known, widowers are God's gift to single women, for they are house-broken and make the best of husbands.

Deceased Was Miracle Worker

All would be well except that so many widowers wreck their second marriages by continually holding up their Number One wives for their Number Two's guidance. According to them, the deceased Mary Jane was a miracle worker who could run a house without spending money, who was a marvelous cook, who never needed to buy new clothes, and who spent her whole life catering to her lord and master.

Dumbness in a man can go no further than throwing his first wife in his second wife's teeth and expecting her to like it. Yet wise men do it, and why intelligent men do not know that no second wife wants to be haunted and tortured by her predecessor's ghost, nobody knows.

The only woman who ever stopped her husband from flaunting his first wife in her face was one who was found bitterly weeping one day. When her husband asked her why the tears, she replied: "I am lamenting your first wife's death. Nobody regrets it as much as I do?"

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am not like other girls. If I know a boys likes me, I do everything I can to insult him and make him mad; but if I don't think he likes me, I'm crazy about him. There is one boy I tried this trick on, but it didn't work. He has been gone three months now and I haven't heard a word from him. I wrote him an abusive letter, thinking I could make him jealous; but he just ignored it.

How can I get him back?

A HEARTBROKEN FOOL

ANSWER: I doubt that you will ever be able to get this boy back, no matter how cleverly you set your traps, for you have shown him how little and mean and selfish and cruel you are, and there is nothing about you that makes him want you.

But the experience may be valuable to you, for it will teach you that just a pretty face and an arrogant manner are not enough to attract people to you. Look about you and see how many plain looking girls make fine marriages. It is because men saw goodness and sweetness in their faces.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I always have been close to each other and never have kept anything from each other until recently when he joined the Mason's Lodge. He has taken his first degree and will not tell me anything about what goes on. Everything is secret. Why can he not tell me about it? It is eating my heart out.

A PREPLEXED WIFE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Where have you been all your life that you have not known that every man who joins the Masonic Lodge takes a solemn oath not to reveal the secrets of the organization? If he went about blabbing about what occured at their meeting, he would forfeit the respect of all decent men.

Instead of nagging your husband about what goes on at the meetings, be satisfied to know that he belongs to one of the noblest and most altruistic organizations in the world.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, December 1

The prospects are excellent for porgress in exceptional ways or through the astute use of unusual gifts or talents, in which the higher forces or faculties may be the driving force. Intuition, imagination, idealism or inspiration may be the means of putting over novel expressions in art, literature, drama, speaking, or in the demonstration of charm and beauty in purely personal relations. Nevertheless, there may be disposition to splurge or overplay the part, with loss of regret through extravagance or emotional indugences. With brakes on success.

✧ ✧ ✧

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of exceptional experience or adventures in the higher expressions of faculties, skills, talents and inclinations of a subtle or unique quality. Imagination or fancy may play a part, urged on by an emotional or dramatic driver for the unusual. And this to a degree beyond the practical, with a lavish or unjustifiable inclination to waste funds, substance, and energies. With an eye to thrift and moderation in all expressions there may be singular rewards, with subtle pleasures and enjoyments of spiritual aspect.

A child born on this day may be richly endowed with talents and skills of an exceptional nature, imbued by poetry, music, art, literature and drama. In its inspirational quest, it may be prone to lavish its energies and its funds.

Ottawa Sponsors Conference Of Pulp Industry

OTTAWA, Nov. 30 — (CP).— The Canadian Government is sponsoring a conference of pulp-producing countries to be held under the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Resources Minister Mackinnon annonucd Monday.

Mr. Mackinnon said delegates from 19 countries are expected, with observers from other countries attending as well. The conference will be held in Montreal next March.

It appeared that a study of conservation policies and future market prospects would be foremost among the delegates' discussions. Mr. Mackinnon, in a statement explaining the government's purpose in sponsoring the meeting, said it is important that pulpwood industries should be planned "with due regard to the permanent capacity of the forests to yield the necessary raw materials."

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association will take an active part in the work of the conference, he added.

"The main purpose of the meeting will be to give experts.... an opportunity to review world position....and to decide whether any steps are needed to achieve, both for the immediate and the more distant future, the necessary equilibrium between supplies and requirements," his announcement added.

He said it is known that new pulpmills are under construction or are planned in several countries. This is "an obviously desirable development," but raises the question of both forest capacity and future markets.

Robt. Armstrong Acclaimed Reeve Of Cavan

MILLBROOK, Nov. 30—(ENS)—Robert Armstrong was elected reeve of Cavan township by acclamation at the ratepayers' nominations meeting in the local town hall Monday afternoon. He was proposed by Harold Cathcart ad H. Tate.

Mr. Cathcart also was nominated for the reeveship by Robt. Armstrong and Delbert Olan. Reeve for the last three years, Mr. Cathcart said that circumstances definitely precluded him from entering the municipal field again.

The meeting also gave an acclamation to Delbert Olan as deputy reeve. He was proposed by T. R. Graham and T. W. McCamus.

Mr. Olan is the senior member of the council.

Two others were named for the deputy position. They were: Lloyd Hooton by Joseph Thorn and B. Foster; and Richard Earle by Rae Wood and William Seymour. As present members of the council, they declined to oppose Mr. Olan, but are among the six candidates for the three council seats.

The six who qualified were:

Joseph Thorn, nominated by L. Hibbard and B. Foster.

Sidney Boyles by J. Thorn and L. Hibbard.

Richard Earle by Wm. White and J. H. Burns.

Harold Bradburn by W. J. Finnie and Fred McIndoo.

Lloyd Hooton by H. Lowes and Harry Bland.

J. H. McKnight by Eric Fallis and Russell Bonner.

Mr. McKnight has been a school trustee for 27 years. For 24 years he was trustee and secretary of Fallis Line School, and the last three years as trustee and chairman of the trustee board of South Cavan school area. With that long service in township school administration behind him Mr. McKnight decided to accept nomination for the council.

Two trustees were elected by acclamation for North Cavan School area. They are Fred McIndoo, proposed by Carman Seymour and Rae Wood; Gordon Staples, by Robt. Armstrong and Richard Earle.

The South Cavan school area has a contest on its hands. Three accepted nomination for the two vacant places. They are: Harvey Aiken by Eric Fallis and M. Weatherilt; Russell Bonner by L. Henderson and Eric Fallis; Dick Hutchinson, by Herbert Patton and John McKnight.

Mr. McKnight and H. C. Argue were also nominated, but both withdrew.

The meeting crowded the town hall beyond its seating capacity. Mr. George Hooton, a former Warden of the united counties, said the large attendance showed a healthy public spirit among Cavan ratepayers. He was appointed chairman of the general meeting following the nominations. No controversial issues arose in the discussion which ranged over the township municipal and educational affairs.

Toronto Voters Decide About 2-Year Term

TORONTO, Nov. 30 — (CP)— Toronto voters will decide whether to elect their city councillors and controllers for a two-year term. City Council early to-day voted to send a by-law—providing for a two-year term—to the voters at the municipal elections January 1.

A similar by-law was defeated last year by a vote of 51,405 to 48,547. Under the by-law, members of the Board of Education would also be given two-year terms. If approved, the scheme will take effect in 1949.

Try To Locate Mother

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 30.—(CP).—The Oxford county Children's Aid Society is making "every effort" to locate the mother of a four-year-old child left in Ingersoll hospital since Nov. 4. R. G. Likely Sign Union Terms Within Week

OTTAWA, Nov. 30 — (CP)— Signing of the terms under which Newfoundland will join Canada as a 10th province likely will take place some time next week.

Representatives of the two countries held two meetings behind closed doors Monday to continue study of a draft of the union terms. No announcement was made following the meetings.

Prime Minister St. Laurent told newspapermen that "we are studying the details of the terms and it is quite lengthy."

From other sources it was learned that the delegations are making a thorough examination of a 17-page foolscap document which contains the detailed terms. The document will form part of the bill which will be submitted to parliament for approval.

Originally, it was expected that the final terms would be signed Dec. 2, but study of the draft has taken longer than expected. One source said that both sides are satisfied with the terms outlined in broad language.

However, the Newfoundlanders are said to be insisting that the terms be so legally drafted as to be incapable of misinterpretation by the present government or any other government. Discussions on the proper legal phraseology for each clause is said to be responsible for the prolonged meetings.

Fur Dealers Warned Guard That Licence

TORONTO, Nov. 30 (CP). — Hon. H. R. Scott, Minister of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, announced today that fur dealers charged and found guilty of infractions of conditions of their licence may have the licence reinstated by depositing a bond with the department as a guarantee of good faith.

Any repetition of infraction will impose additional penalty on the offender with decreasing prospect of having his licence reinstated.

ON WAY TO RECOVERY

ATHENS, Nov. 30 — (AP). — Doctors attending 88-year-old Premier Themistokles Sophoulis of Greece said to-day he is on the way to full recovery. He suffered two severe heart attacks last week. To-day's bulletin said Sophoulis is eating solid food, and the use of medicine has been reduced to a minimum.

EVERY MOTHER NEEDS some time out of the home for recreation, but if there is a child that needs to be looked after she is faced with the problem of getting a baby-sitter. Considerate husbands occasionally look after the baby while mother goes out to do a bit of shopping or attend some meeting. One thing to remember when you begin with a baby-sitter is to have her arrive early enough to become acquainted with your child before you leave. If the child at left awakened to find herself in the arms of a stranger, she would become alarmed and upset. Explain to your child that the baby-sitter has sole authority in your absence. If your youngster is as young as the one at right, write down for the baby-sitter the doctor's telephone number and the number where she can reach you in case of an emergency. Above all, remember to hire someone whom you know personally or has been recommended to you to ensure dependability. If these simple rules are followed, the mother will be able to get some recreation and be a better companion to her child.

Want Broader Defence Pact

PARIS, Nov. 30. — (AP).— French diplomats said today the countries of the Western European Union want the projected North Atlantic defence pact to be a political, social and cultural treaty as well.

The envoys are awaiting a call from the United States State Department to begin the semi-final stage of negotiations, expected to end by Dec. 31 with a full-scale draft treaty.

Canadian officials also will sit in at the Washington negotiations.

The western European powers completed drafting the "working principles" of their version of the alliance in confidential talks in London that ended last week.

The French diplomats said the final phase of the seven-power treaty is likely to be held in Washington in January with foreign ministers of the countries involved participating. By the time the talks end there may be more than seven countries involved, they added.

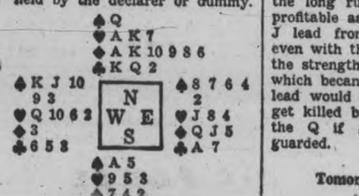
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

SINGLETONS DO COUNT

MANY pretty good estimators of a hand's value treat a singleton king or queen as if it be worth nothing or close to nothing. When they do that in considering the merits of a No Trump contract, they are reckoning without their host. If such a player will think just a moment, he will realize that against No Trump contracts all good players are prepared to lead away from honors in order to increase the chances of setting up their long suits. When that is done, there is a good possibility that the first trick in the suit may be taken by an unguarded honor held by the declarer or dummy.



(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	2♦	Pass	3♣
Pass	3♦	Pass	3 NT

Yes, 5-Diamonds or 5-Clubs can be made on that deal, with the loss of one trick in each minor, but the peope who reached that contract in the duplicate were beaten by this pair with its risky No Trump game which produced 30 more points when an extra trick was taken.

West made the natural lead of his spade J, which the singleton Q won. South gave up a club to the A, won the next spade with his A and ran eight more tricks to score four-odd. But without that spade Q, he would have been ruined.

After the deal, North said he debated with himself about opening with 1-Diamond or 2-Diamonds, and decided it was so close the singleton Q made the difference. If in place of it he had held a lower card, even the spade J, he would have bid only one, he said.

Truly enough, the lead of the spade K would have beaten that contract, but it would have been a gambling thing to do, and in the long run would not prove profitable as often as would the J lead from that combination, even with the heavy majority of the strength shown by the hand which became the dummy. That lead would have been likely to get killed by the A and set up the Q if South had it once guarded.

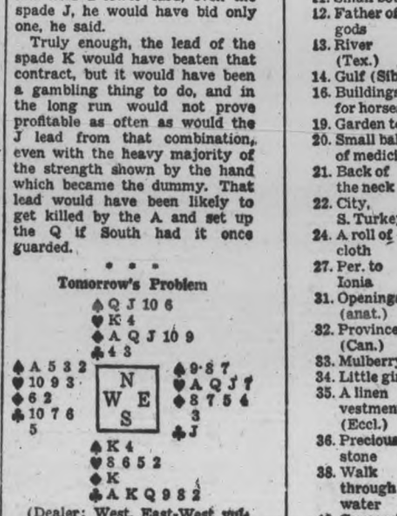
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

What tactics in bidding and play might steal a game for South on this rubber deal?

MacNAUGHTON—In loving memory of a dear son, Roland, who passed away two years ago, also a loving husband three months later.

They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to fight it,
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose them
No one will ever know.

—Sadly missed by the family.

SMITH—In loving memory of Fred Smith, who died November 30, 1936.

Robs Milk Bottles

WARKWORTH, Nov. 30 (ENS) —A sneak thief made a thorough round of parts of this village Saturday, removing money from milk bottles left on doorsteps. The thefts took place in daylight and the man responsible was spotted. He was seen by Mrs. Julia Duncan, who lost two dollars to this zestful collecting urge.

Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings was notified. By the time he arrived, however, the non-delivering milk man had apparently concluded his route for the day and was nowhere to be seen.

3 Teen-agers Given Lecture By Magistrate

LINDSAY, Nov. 30 (Staff). — "The Three Musketeers" was what Magistrate E. A. Gee termed them. They were three Lindsay boys who stood sheepishly before the court while the grey-haired cadi gave them a tongue-lashing on the evils of minors carrying firearms. Two of them were 14 years old and the third member of the party was 15. One carried his right arm in a sling—a memento of an ill-fated jaunt the three had into the woods some time ago.

They all pleaded guilty to carrying guns without licences and were fined $10 and $3.50 costs each.

"You're lucky that you are able to stand here and that you're not in an undertaker's hand," his worship sternly told the boys.

The story came out as Provincial Constable William Milton of Lindsay gave evidence. The boys contributed information, too. The three had obtained guns and gun licences by telling the registrar that they were 16 years old. The weapons were two .22-calibre rifles and a 12-gauge shotgun.

They leaned their guns against a stump to rest.

"I must have jarred the trigger with my finger when I was moving it," explained one of the 14-year-olds. The shotgun had discharged, struck him in the arm and chest. The injury had sent him to hospital and he had just recently been able to return to school, with his arm in the sling.

"This could have been much more serious. I hope you have learned a lesson," Magistrate Gee said.

Crown Opposes Bail For Accused

LINDSAY, Nov. 30 (Staff). — John Carr of Bobcaygeon is back in jail. And, as Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan of Lindsay insisted, he will not be out on bail but will wait there for trial. The accused appeared in Lindsay court Monday charged with theft of a car and drunk driving.

The alleged offences took place in Lindsay on Saturday, Mr. Jordan explained. This was while the accused was out on bail on another charge — which happens to be theft of another car, plus robbery with violence.

Defence counsel I. F. Weldon asked for a week's remand..

" . . . And without bail," added the Crown Attorney.

THE BRANDING IRON is coming back into its own in Saskatchewan but its a different iron than the red-hot metal the cowhands heated over an open fire to mark cattle on the vast western rangelands. It uses acid rather than heat to stamp its brand on the animals. It's an iron that carries only one marking—a three-inch high letter "B" which is "burned" on the cheek of the cow, as shown here. The branding iron and it's letter "B" is one of the weapons being used by the province in its fight to cut bang's disease in cattle to a minimum. The new branding iron is used by a veterinarian.

Colonial Office Shocked At Ignorance

LONDON, Nov. 30—(CP)—The Colonial Office, shocked at the recently-disclosed ignorance of Britons about their age-old empire, has launched a campaign to teach them the facts.

What alarmed the Colonial Office into hasty action was the findings of a recent government social survey which showed that 50 per cent of the people questioned could not name a single British colony.

Even more surprising were these survey findings:

Three per cent of those questioned thought the United States was a British colony; about one-third thought that the colonies paid taxes to Britain and 75 per cent could not describe the difference between a colony and a dominion or commonwealth country.

Most British newspapers, including the empire-minded London Daily Express, just printed these findings on inside pages and refraied from editorial comment. But the Yorkshire Post found it most alarming and embarrassing and commented:

"If these answers truly reflect the abysmal ignorance of even a small section of our people it is high time indeed that the colonial office undertook an educational campaign . . ."

K. W. Blackburne, director of information services for the colonial office, said:

"We feel this ignorance is extremely dangerous. We do need the empire most terribly badly. As long as people are ignorant we shall not get the goodwill of the colonial people."

A booklet called "Britain and the colonies," published for the Colonial Office, will be sent to all schools and educations and youth organizations in Britain.

Bicyclist Struck During Rainstorm

Wet pavement and poor visibility is believed to have been the chief cause for an accident involving a truck and a bicyclist.

G. Nichols, of Bridgenorth, was driving his truck west on McDonnel Ave. and when he started across the intersection at Stewart St. he collided with a northbound cyclist, Herbert Foster, RR 1, Peterborough.

The impact knocked Foster down, but when Nichols stopped his truck to investigate Foster insisted that he was not injured. Nichols placed the slightly damaged bicycle in the rear of his truck and drove Foster home.

Police report that it was raining hard at the time and visibility was poor.

Two Chiang Army Groups Trying To Establish Defence To Save Nanking

Warn Diplomats Capital No Longer Safe; Generalissimo Preparing To Assume Personal Command Of Defences

NANKING, Dec. 1—(AP).—Two Nationalist army groups were reported today desperately trying to establish a new defence line to save this jittery capital from advancing Chinese Communists. Diplomats expect to hear from the Government—perhaps within 74 hours—that Nanking is no longer safe for them. Despite Government denials, it was learned reliably that such a warning is being prepared.

(The New York Times said today in a Nanking dispatch that Chiang Kai-Shek was reported preparing to assume personal command of Nanking's defence, even as the Government discussed plans to take refuge elsewhere.

(The Times said Chiang was said to be determined to hold the city for three months, even if the Communists reached Pukow, on the opposite side of the Yangtze River.)

These developments came as the Government abruptly cut its air link with isolated Suchow some 200 miles northwest of Nanking and deployed its forces for a battle to save the nation's capital city.

New Defence Line

A new defence line was reported under construction on the southern bank of the Huai River, athwart the approaches to the lower Yangtze valley and 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

The line is anchored to Pengpu, on the rail line midway between Nanking and Suchow, and is being manned by the bulk of some 85,000 troops in the 6th and 8th Army Groups.

Those groups are the last major Nationalist force standing between Communist armies and Nanking.

The Government's 12th Army Group, of some 140,000 troops, was reported still tightly encircled by seven Communist columns about 50 miles south of Suchow, in the Suhsien sector.

Three other Communist columns were reported massed about 25 miles south of Suchow to block the southward movement of the Suchow garrison. The garrison, of some 250,000 men, was reported abandoning Suchow, in an attempt to rescue the trapped 12th Army Group.

Magistrate Helps Identify Amnesia Victim

BRANTFORD, Dec. 1—(CP).—A chance remark in police court here today led to identifications of a woman suffering from amnesia. "I've seen you before," she told Magistrate R. J. Gillen when arraigned on a technical charge of vagrancy.

"So have I seen you," replied His Worship.

After several more questions, she was identified as Mrs. Dorothy Madsen, Toronto. "Had she not recalled seeing me in the past, I probably wouldn't have recalled her either," the Magistrate said later.

Positive identification followed at the home of Joseph Lalonde, a relative named by the Magistrate who in past years had known Mrs. Madsen's parents, living now, in Toronto.

Mrs. Madsen walked into the police station here early Monday morning asking the name of city she was in.

"Brantford. Why" Acting-Sergeant Charlie Wagar asked her.

"I'm lost."

"What's your name?"

"I don't know."

She then told Detective Carl Sudden and Deputy Chief Constable George Kerr of a hitch-hike ride with a transport driver from Hamilton.

She recalled having "a bite to eat" in Orangeville the night before

Gardiner Heads Food Delegation

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 — (CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner shortly will head a delegation to Britain to negotiate new food contracts, it was learned today.

The minister is expected to fly to the old country soon after next week's annual Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference here. He may be accompanied by J. G. Taggart, director-in-chief of agricultural services in his department.

Chief item in the discussions will be the negotiation of a new price for the 140,000,000 bushels Britain will take from Canada's 1949 wheat crop. This is to be fixed by Dec. 31 under the U.K.-Canada agreement.

The British price for the current year's crop was $2 a bushel.

Comb Second-Hand Shops For Some Clue To Gunman

DETROIT, Dec. 1 (AP)—Salvage stores and second-hand shops today were investigated for clues to a gunman who shot and wounded Anthony (Tony) Maiullo.

The 62-year-old colorful criminal lawyer of the prohibition era was shot in the vestibule of his lavish home on Chicago Boulevard Tuesday night by an intruder who dropped a marine corps winter dress cap in his flight.

Police found the cap on the lawn. It bore no insignia, indicating it had been purchased at a store.

Maiullo was shot in the groin. Hospital authorities said his wound was severe but that he would recover.

The Italian-born lawyer, best known for his defence of prohibition-era gangsters, said he did not recognize his assailant and knew of no reason for the act.

Police were told that the intruder, grey-haired, tall and about 55 years old, fired deliberately at Maiullo with a .45 revolver concealed in a paper bag.

First he made reference to a name sounding like "Tasco," declaring the latter "sent me here.' Then, remarking, "you're a fine man," he fired.

The gunman ran off before members of the Maiullo family could intervene.

Police posted a guard at Maiullo's hospital room and at the home.

Directors named at the association's annual convention here include Kenneth Kingston, Belleville, Bert Jones, Tweed, Arthur Reid, Campbellford, Earl McNeil, Moscow, and Stan Thompson, of Madoc.

Fifth Day Of Fog

LONDON, Dec. 1—(AP).—The heaviest fog in a generation blanketed western Europe for the fifth consecutive day today. Traffic hazards and accidents in a dozen mist-swathed countries increased hourly. Planes were grounded and bus, train and streetcar schedules disrupted. Southampton was an exception, however. The fog lifted and sunlight gleamed through the clouds.

Western Powers Threaten Berlin Counter-Move

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(AP).— The three big western powers have warned they may act to counter Russian attacks on their position in Berlin.

The warning was expressed in a joint note handed to Juan A. Bramuglia, outgoing president of the United Nations Security Council, soon after the Communists split Berlin Tuesday by naming their own rump government.

The note was made public today.

Britain, France and the United States declared they could not stand idly by while the Russians intensified their blockade and attempts to force the western Allies out of the city.

Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister, has sparked neutral efforts in the Security Council to settle the Berlin deadlock.

The western powers accepted Bramuglia's latest procedure for studying a possible solution of the Berlin crisis. But they said they did so with the condition that recent events in Berlin must be considered in attempting a settlement.

"The three western powers cannot agree that they should be bound to submit to all Soviet measures which add to and intensify the Soviet blockade or which interfere with the city administration, while the Soviet remains uncommitted to any restraint," the note declared.

The note gave no hint of what counter-action the western powers might take and delegation officials had no comment on possible steps.

Take Over City Hall

BERLIN, Dec. 1. —(AP). — Communists today took over complete control of the Berlin City Hall, which lies in the Soviet sector.

Russian-controlled German police barred the Acting Mayor of the legally-elected anti-Communist government of Berlin from his office in the City Hall.

This display of force followed up the putsch Tuesday in which Berlin Communists named their own rump city administration.

The Acting Mayor is Ferdinand Friedensburg, a Christian Democrat. Five officers of the Russian-controlled police stopped him at the door when he sought to enter his office at the City Hall.

The police in the Russian sector are headed by Moscow-trained Paul Markgraf, who has refused to accept his dismissal order by the anti-Communist government.

The Communist regime, chosen at a hand-picked convention in a theatre in the Soviet sector, is headed by Friedrich Ebert, 54, son of Germany's first president of the Weimar republic after the First World War.

Jealousy Believed Motive For Shooting

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — (CP)— Jealousy is believed to be the motive for a shooting in an east-central apartment today in which a woman was wounded in the leg, police said.

Earlier, police thought the incident was the upshot of rivalry between dope gangs in Toronto. Later they said this theory had been virtually discarded.

Vern Epter, 41, was arrested and charged with shooting with intent to maim. Victims of the fight were Ruby Swacuk, 23, shot through the leg, and Harold Hayes, 38, slugged over the head with a gun. Hayes was being X-rayed for possible skull fracture.

House Afire As Parents Work In Barn

Throw Little Girl Out Of Window But Help Too Late

By Canadian Press

Five small children died Tuesday in fires which destroyed their homes. Two were burned in a farmhouse near North Bay and three others near Perth in New Brunswick.

At North Bay the dead are Gaetane Beaudry, three, and her brother, Aime, four, children of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Beaudry. A third child, Jean Claude, five, was carried to safety.

Police investigating the fire said it might have been started by the youngsters knocking over an oil lamp while playing. The children had been put to bed but might have got up to play when their parents left the house.

The parents were in the milking house when they saw flames shooting from the windows of their two-storey farmhouse in MacPherson Township. Emile Vincent, who lived across the road from the Beaudrys, assisted the parents in their rescue efforts.

The little girl, Gaetane, found unconscious from burns in a ground-floor bedroom, was thrown through a window of the flaming building by rescuers but died shortly afterward.

The body of the boy, Aime, still was in the charred ruins of the farmhouse early today. Only the foundation remained.

Provincial police from Sturgeon Falls visited the scene Tuesday night. They planned to search the ruins for the boy's body today and to complete their investigations.

3 Girls Die

PERTH, N.B., Dec. 1 —(CP)— Three small girls were burned to death Tuesday in their Victoria county home at Berwick, 12 miles from here. The victims, daughters of Mrs. Rita Gee, were Mavis Roberta, 4; Vaida May, 3, and Charlene Christine, 2.

The fire apparently started from a stove in the two-room, one-storey building, and spread so quickly the children were overcome before they could reach the door.

Mrs. Gee had left the house for a brief visit to her mother, living nearby. A few minutes later a motorist noticed the fire and gave an alarm. Two men who tried to reach the children were driven back by flames and smoke.

The children's father, Bernard Gee, was killed in a highway accident last year. Surviving, in addition to the mother, are one sister and three brothers, who were at school.

Touches Electric Wire Has Narrow Escape

BRANTFORD, Dec 1 — (CP)— Roy Walton, 49, escaped serious injury this morning when he touched an electric wire carrying 550 volts at the G. F. Stern and Sons chemical plant.

The current passed through him only momentarily when a fellow workman inadvertently pulled the switch, noticed the flash and immediately cut the current.

Artificial respiration was applied by plant employees until firemen arrived with an inhalator. Oxygen was given for 20 minutes and later, at the hospital, Dr. Stuart Barber said he believed Walton would be discharged "within 24 hours."

HOLDOUTS EVICTED—Eviction from their tent of the last two holdouts finally closed the Japanese relocation camp at Moose Jaw. On orders from Regina, RCMP persuaded Pomijiro Naka, left, 65, and Suekichi Miyagawa, right, 57, to leave their tiny shelter in which they are shown. They have been living in the tent since the camp proper was closed last August. The two Japs who were BC residents before the war are being returned to British Columbia.

Can See No Hope Of Saving China From Reds

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—(CP). — Father Oscar Doyon of Cornwall, just returned from besieged Suchow, outpost of Nanking, said today it is only a matter of time before that whole section of China is in Communist hands.

Father Doyon, Jesuit missionary, said lack of co-operation among Chinese Nationalist generals, corruption within the Nationalist ranks and lack of fighting spirit were blamed for great Communist advances in North China.

Father Doyon escaped by plane with 10 other priests Nov. 14 while bursts from Communist army shells lighted the sky.

He did not think increased American and British aid could swing the tide in favor of the Nationalists.

Can't Use Equipment

Half of the fighting equipment sent into the army cannot be used because the troops do not know how to handle it. The guns and other weapons are pulled up to the fighting front, then left for the Communists to take after the Nationalists have abandoned hem.

At present, said Father Doyon, the Nationalists are better equipped but they do not know what to do with the aid that has been given them.

"I have been told by Nationalist troops themselves that if one good American officer were to come in and take over, the men would rally behind him and really put up a battle."

The best troops in China at present are those trained in India "but there are so few of them they have little effect on the general fighting."

Heading For Scrapheap

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(AP).—The Cunard White Star Line's 45,000-ton passenger ship Aquitania seems headed for the scrapheap. Officials of the line said today the 34-year-old ship will make two more trips between Southampton and Halifax carrying emigrants to Canada. After she returns to Southampton about Jan. 20 from her last emigrant ship trip "she may be scrapped, but no plans have been announced," a Cunard official said tonight.

Crown Withdraws Charge Of Mischief Against Stuart

KITCHENER, Dec. 1—(CP).—A charge of public mischief which has hung over William Stuart's head since late in September was withdrawn in police court today at the request of Crown Attorney W. P. Clement. The charge was laid while police were probing the disappearance of Mrs. Emma Pohl, Kitchener housewife, whose semi-nude body was later found in a thicket near Plattsville.

In asking that the charge be withdrawn Crown Attorney Clement said that "in view of what has transpired in the last few week and the information brought to light at an inquest held in the matter in a neighboring county, I do not see any point in proceeding with the charge.

"Nothing would be gained. Even if Stuart were convicted of offence with which he is charged the penalty would not be greater than that already suffered. In view of this, I am asking the court permission to withdraw the charge."

Stuart was in the Waterloo county jail for six weeks before he was granted bail of $4,000 property bond. He was released on bond two weeks ago.

Paul A. Dufresne of Galt, counsel for Stuart, congratulated the Crown on the withdrawal action. He said he was satisfied that in any event there would not have been a conviction on the public mischief charge.

The Galt lawyer said prior to today's court appearance that he would appeal any conviction on the mischief charge.

Accompanied by his mother, who recently returned from England, Stuart sat in the rear of the court while his case was being discussed.

Magistrate H. R. Polson in allowing the withdrawal made no comment.

Seven-Year Gap In Man's Life

SALTASH, Cornwall, England, Dec. 1.—(CP).—Ted Williams, 29-year-old Saltash man, today told of a gap in his life covering seven years and 3,000 miles, from his disappearance during the blitz in Weymouth, Dorset, in 1941, to his awakening in hospital at Bracebridge, Ont., in April, 1948.

Williams, serving with the Royal Engineers in Weymouth, was reported "missing believed killed" after an air raid in May, 1941.

Eight months ago he woke up in Bracebridge hospital where he was told he had been picked up injured near a railway line.

"I remembered my name and my life before the raid but all memory of the last seven years had disappeared," said the pale, haggard Williams. "I had no identity papers, just a little money and only the clothes in which I had been found injured.

Williams said that after leaving hospital he took a job with a firm of railway bridge contractors, hoping to save enough money for passage home. Later he worked his passage to London.

Police Lay 50 Charges Against Boys

Gang Of Youths Strip Cars In Two Blocks; Active During Month

TORONTO, Dec. 1 (CP)—Fifty charges, ranging from theft of a bunch of grapes to arson, were laid against six Toronto teen-age boys arrested today.

More charges will be laid as soon as police can find owners of all the articles they recovered in making the arrests.

All factory workers except one who is a printer's apprentice, the boys live in the same house on Gould Street.

Police said they have been watching for an apparently well-organized gang of youths for a month. They say the crime campaign started in suburban Etobicoke township and spread eastward across the city.

A 15-year-old ward of the York Township Children's Aid Society, and William Vanderhat, 16, former inmate of the Bowmanville Industrial School, have been named by police as leaders of the six-member gang.

Police said gang members were either orphans or homeless because of parents' separation.

Raided Cars

The arrests were made late Tuesday night and early today following reports that two blocks of automobiles were raided in the downtown district. Concert goers, visitors at St. Michael's Hospital and worshippers at St. Michael's Cathedral stormed a nearby police station with heated complaints that their cars had been entered and anything moveable inside was removed.

Police found two youths loitering around the block and when they couldn't account for articles in their possession they were arrested.

A few hours' wait in the rooming house where the boys stayed netted police four other suspects.

An assortment of radios, cameras, clothes, flashlights and other automobile accessories were found in the room.

Police blame the gang for many small crimes throughout the city during the last month. All are charged with breaking into a ticket booth of a bathing pavilion near the Humber river. One youth is faced with an arson count when police say he set fire to the building to cover evidence of the break-in.

A seventh youth, believed implicated in the gang's activities was arrested for theft of a woman's purse.

Widow Loses 18-Year Battle

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—(CP).—A widow today lost an 18-year legal battle to collect $8,283 she said was owing her husband's estate.

The Appeal Court of Ontario ruled Mrs. Wiliamina Luna had failed to establish her right to sue in Ontario. She was appointed administratrix of her husband's estate by the Surrogate Court of Essex County, N.Y. She brought action in Ontario courts to collect the amount of two promissory notes.

She was upheld by Mr. Justtice Gale in a suit last June but the decision was reversed by the Appeal Court of Ontario which said an administrator appointed by foreign courts cannot sue in Ontario until administration papers are issued here.

Express Hits Freight Five Trainmen Hurt

BALTIMORE, Dec. 1 —(AP)— The Baltimore and Ohio's Chicago Express sideswiped a New York Central freight train at Niles Junction, O., Tuesday night, injuring five trainmen, officials reported.

Three front cars of the 11-car passenger Diesel train were derailed, but no passengers were injured. The derailed cars were the express car, mail car and front diner.

Has 68 Wounds

MONTREAL, Dec. 1 (CP). — Police investigating the 68-wound slaying of Thomas Kacvinsky, a 66-year-old St. James Street cafe chef, said to-day the killer evidently got away with little money. The cash register in the restaurant was tampered with, but the killer was unable to open it. In Kacvinsky's rooms above the restaurant police found $4.30 untouched.

Says 90 PC Cancer Cases Curable, Caught In Time

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 1 (CP)— Russell T. Kelley, Ontario Health Minister, said today that 90 per cent of cases of a certain type of cancer could be cured if caught in time. If not, the disease could be fatal in 80 per cent of the cases.

Addressing the annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers Association, Mr. Kelley said avoidance of over-exertion would prevent many deaths from heart failure. It was admitted little was known of the cause of poliomyslitis but cleanliness was important as a preventative.

Outlining the $36,000,000 provincial health program this year, the minister said mental hospitals now were "terribly" overcrowded. Of the 17,585 inmates, most would be cured in two years.

A. L. Gibson of Kemptville Agricultural School, said a convenient form of packaging cheese was needed if the industry was to survive.

Under the present system of cheese distribution in Britain, identity of Canadian cheese was lost. This was because the small ration permitted only small packages. Cheese sold there for 20 cents a pound, butter for 27. Both were subsidized by the government.

Mr. Gibson, who made a tour of Britain this summer, said manufacture of farm cheese there was rapidly disappearing because it was not profitable.

Mr. Kelley said cheese manufacturers should start a selling campaign to acquaint the public with "the splendid food value" of cheese.

L. E. Lackner, director of dairying, said cheese factories must operate the year round if they wished to retain patrons. One of the great weaknesses of the industry was that factories operate only six or seven months in the year

Many Centres Order Halt To Power Cuts

TORONTO, Dec. 1 (CP)—The situation looked brighter today in many of Southern Ontario's power-short communities as local Hydro Commissions lifted cutoffs in response to the recent five-per-cent boost in Hydro quotas.

But the reduction in cutoffs did not signify a return to normal power supplies, officials said.

Many local commissions said the lifting of cutoffs was "temporary"—the Ontario Commission can still pull switches on communities who consistently use more than their daily quota.

Ontario Hydro Commission officials warned that voluntary power saving should continue "to guard against the return of the dark days of power cutoffs."

Although recent heavy rains in the Ottawa and Gatineau watersheds brought increased power from both Ontario and Quebec generators and boosted Hydro quotas a total of 10 per cent in the past week, Ontario officials said below-normal water levels still made the situation "critical".

Some Ontario communities — St. Thomas, Pembroke, Brantford Kingston and others—abolished cutoffs completely. Others decided to continue with fewer or shorter power interruptions.

Must Co-operate

Bert Merson, an official of the Toronto Hydro Commission, said that with continued consumer co-operation the city might be able to get through the winter with only 30 minutes of power cuts on week-days. Before quota increases were made last week Toronto's power was cut off for three hours daily.

E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario leader of the CCF Party, termed the present system of cutoffs and blackouts "half-baked," and called for planning rationing of Hydro.

In a speech at the University of Western Ontario, Mr. Jolliffe reiterated that the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission build steam generating plants, using British experts as technical advisers. The plants could be powered by Nova Scotia coal, he said.

Ontario Lamb Wins Chicago Laurels

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (CP)—Canada set out today to add more crowns to the livestock championship already garnered in the 49th international livestock show here.

A snow-white Canadian lamb—a breeding Southdown—owned by Don Head Farms of Richmond Hill, Ont., Tuesday outclassed 14 other Canadian and American entries in fine wooling open carcass class to win the title of championship ewe of the show.

"Old Gold," 1,200-pound animal entered by C. E. Yoder and Sons of Muscantine, Iowa, was placed ahead of more than 400 competitors for the grand champion steer title.

A Chester white, sleek and pink-skinned, was chosen grand champion barrow. The 300-pound animal, a previous winner in the heavyweight barrow class, was shown by Tip Top Farms of Flora, Inda. Donald Brown, 28, a co-owner of Tip Top Farms, showed the animal named Tip Top Farm's 48 Model.

Inflation Costs Consumer Billion Dollars This Year

OTTAWA, Dec. 1—(CP).—Inflation will cost Canadian consumers around $1,000,000,000 this year. That sum — roughly $200 per wage-earner—is what the rising cost of living will slice from their purchasing power. Though personal income will be at an all-time high — well over $1,000,000,000 more than the previous peak in 1947—government economists calculate Canadians won't be able to buy any more with it than they did with last year's earnings.

Higher costs of goods and services, they say, mean that the mass buying power of the Dominion public has been just about the same this year as last.

As estimated by the economics division of the Department of Agriculture, gross personal income this year is likely to be about 11 or 12 per cent above the record $10,279,000,000 of last year

Allowing for direct taxes, the 'disposable" income of the consumer—what he has to spend—is figured at around $10,727,000,000.

That is about $1,234,000,000 above the 1947 spendable income.

But, says the division, "it is expected that the increase in the cost of living during 1948 will result in little change in aggregate purchasing power."

Another government department—the Bureau of Statistics—points out that direct taxes are still taking a far bigger chunk out of income than before the war, though this has been reduced slightly from last year.

The government's current cut on personal income is between seven and eight per cent, as compared with three in the late thirties and 1½ in 1926-29.

Robinson Prepared To Contest Mayoralty

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 1—(CP)—Ald. Fred O. Robinson, CCF member of the Ontario legislature for Port Arthur, said Tuesday he will run as a candidate for mayor of Port Arthur at the Jan. 3 civic elections. He is completing his third term on the city council.

Mr. Robinson defeated C. W. Cox, present mayor, in the Port Arthur riding in the provincial elections of 1943 and 1945. He was re-elected last summer when Mayor Cox ran successfully for member in the Fort William riding.

Mayor Cox is contesting the Fort William mayoralty in the Dec. 6 civic elections there and also plans to stand for re-election here.

Girl, 18 Suing; Struck By Car

In the Supreme Court to-day Marguerite L. Buck, 18, of 134 Morrow Street, entered a suit for damages against Earl G. Mitchell of Smith Township, as a result of injuries received in a car accident near the Aragon Club more than a year ago.

Miss Buck is claiming compensation for injuries received, hospital and doctor bills incurred, and sundry expenses.

According to the plaintiff, on September 7, 1947, she was walking on a dirt path on the north side of No. 7 Highway between the Club Aragon and the Locks Bridge when she was struck by a car.

She was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she was given medical treatment by Dr. J. M. O'Brien. She described her injuries as a dislocated left knee, facial cuts, a cut on the top of the head, a sore back, and a bruised nose.

As a result of this accident, Miss Buck stated, she has occasional backaches, headaches, stiffness in her left knee, and difficulty in breathing. And although this happened more than a year ago, she said she is still underweight.

Apart from loss of wages while she was absent from work for six weeks, Miss Buck said the injuries had forced her to change her office job. Because of her back and the fact she is no longer able to stoop continually she was forced to give up her job as a filing clerk for other clerical employment.

In his cross-examination A. J. Sneath, KC, solicitor for the defendant, pointed out discrepancies in her statements at the examination for discovery with those given in the witness box.

According to Miss Buck's statements at the examination, he said, her injuries had been cleared up. And he wanted to know how her escort, who was walking behind her and nearer to the road, according to her testimony, was not struck also.

W. J. Arthur Fair represented the plaintiff.

The case will continue this afternoon, with Mr. Justice Gen-est presiding.

Says Generalissimo Betrays Democracy

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1—(CP)—Ping-ti Ho, lecturer in Chinese history at the University of British Columbia, charged Tuesday that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has betrayed the principles of Chinese democracy.

Mr. Ho was speaking in a student panel on "the struggle in China."

'Since 1927," he said, "Chiang Kai-Shek has identified himself and his party with capitalists and bankers. He has betrayed the principles of Sun Yat-Sen, the father of Chinese democracy."

He said Cniang had played the role of 'a real statesman up to 1936 in revivifying the country economically." His ignorance of financial problems led him to rely on his brother-in-law, H. H. Kung, a banker with a private fortune estimated at more than $200,000,000 United States dollars.

"After 1940, China was ruined by the small group of vested interests represented by H. H. Kung and T. V. Soong."

Police Study 9,000 Divorces

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 —(AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan moved today to inquire into some 9,000 Manhattan divorces after smashing an alleged ring charged with faking adultery evidence.

Adultery is the only ground for divorce in New York State.

Charges in the cases described staged bedroom scenes and hotel dates, pre-arranged raids and paid-for testimony.

Hogan said trumped-up evidence has figured in "hundreds of divorce cases" and that "at least 10 attorneys, perhaps more" are involved.

Arresting Monday night were Luther Georges, 61, and Barnet Muffs, 48, both lawyers, and a clerk in Muffs' office, Harry Ulanoff, 50.

Earlier, police picked up Max Zuckerman, 53, a private detective described as the key figure in the alleged ring; Mrs. Sara B. Ellis, a 20-year-old housewife and mother and Samuel Schneiderman, 57, a pier watchman.

Find Borrowings Much Greater

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 —(CP)—The public's borrowings from moneylenders and loan companies now are nearly four times as great as they were in 1940, the prices commission was told Tuesday.

H. A. Urquhart, federal administrator of the Small Loans Act, presented figures to the commission showing that 149,637 small loans totalling $20,414,226 were made in 1940.

By 1947, however, the number of loans had climbed to 456,593 and the amount of money they represented had increased to $78,463,393. The rate of increase was fairly moderate until the end of the war when it began to mount rapidly.

Western Oils Slide But Industrials Up

TORONTO, Dec. 1.— (CP).—Western oils dipped downhill following news that Imperial Oil had cut their price for crude oil. Industrials and base metals bounced ahead and golds held steady as most of the trading centred in the western oil list.

Atlantic Oil and Central Leduc showed small advances and Home Oil, Calgary and Edmonton and Anglo-Canadian were well on their way to recovering steep early declines. Pacific Petroleum levelled off as action was brisk in the group.

Base Metals showed firmness led by Smelters, on a two-point gain, and International Nickel. Waite Amulet, Pend Oreille and Golden Manitou also tightened.

Refining oils in the industrials reflected the tightening in the western oils list. Imperial partially recovered an opening loss and was down ⅛. Algoma Steel, Ford A. Fanny Farmer and International Paper were strong.

No Secret Session

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(Reuters).—Prime Minister Attlee today turned down a suggestion that there should be a secret session of Parliament to discuss Britain's defences. The suggestion was made by Opposition Leader Winston Churchill in a recent debate. "While in wartime such debates were useful, I do not think we should be well advised to hold them in times of peace," Attlee told the House of Commons.

Rigid Russian Stand Prevents UN Solution

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — (CP)— The "rigid and inflexible position" of Russia and her eastern satellites is preventing the solution of many of the problems facing the United Nations, Transport Minister Chevrier said today.

Mr. Chevrier, who for a time headed the Canadian delegation to the current United Nations meetings in Paris, said the western delegates had attempted to meet Russia on any common ground.

Despite this, he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Exporters' Association, the Russians "returned to the familiar charge that everyone else in the world was preparing for war against them and that the nations of the west were controlled by irresponsible and provocative war-mongers."

The western powers were prepared to reduce armaments provided they had some assurance that Russia would do likwise. It was on the issue of disarmament that the Soviet strategy at the Unied Nations became clear.

The break-in was discovered by Leslie Edwards, the hotel owner.

Cattle Export Aggravates Fat Shortage

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 (CP)—Shortage of animal fats in Canada is being aggravated by the heavy shipment of Canadian cattle into the United States market, the government's latest statistical review notes.

To offset the shortage, a government spokesman discloses, Canada has been forced to ask the United States for an allocation of inedible tallow and grease and soybean oil.

The request so far has been met with an allocation of 8,800,000 pounds of tallow and grease to be used in the manufacture of soap, which the spokesman said, "will make Canadian soap manufacturers very happy."

No word has as yet been received as to what allocation Canada will receive of soybean oil.

Dollar Setback

The allocations will mean that Canada will find some of the American dollars received for cattle exports going back to the U.S. to pay for the cattle by-products.

Altogether Canada exported in September $15,000,000 worth of cattle and another $7,500,000 worth of fresh beef and veal to the U.S. the statistical review says the heavy export of beef cattle to the U.S. is continuing—more than 205,000 head in the period Aug. 16-Nov. 17.

The result will be, says the review, that Canadian beef-eaters may find a reduction especially of the best grades of beef. Added to that will be a continued high price of beef products.

"But it is worth pointing out," adds the review, "that the export of cattle involves more than meat alone."

It also includes a number of important by - products such as hides, animal fats, protein feeds and certain specialized products needed in the pharmacteutical and fertilizers.

Judge Orders Case Laid Over

COBOURG, Dec. 1 — (ENS) — The $8,000 damage action brought by Mrs. Edith Waite of Cobourg against Chief of Police W. J. Carey, alleging false arrest and committal to a mental institution did not proceed yesterday as scheduled in Supreme Court. Listed at the spring assizes this year, the action did not go on and was set down for the non-jury sittings this week. However, plaintiff, who is conducting her own case, asked the court to lay the matter over for a jury hearing.

"You want your case, as is your statutory right, to be tried as a jury action?" Mr. Justice Schroeder asked.

Mrs. Waite said she wanted it tried by jury.

"Then I set this case down peremptorily for the next jury sittings," His Lordship said. 'It is traversed to the next court and at that time this action must proceed. There must be no more dilly-dallying about this any further and no more delay."

Holding up a large bundle of documents filed with the pleadings, His Lordship said that he didn't care to use the term he had in mind to describe them.

'You must comply with the rules. I would direct you to file a proper record and you would be very wise to consult a solicitor," Mr. Justice Schroeder said.

Mr. Standish of Peterborough, defense counsel, asked that the court direct that he could bring in a motion relative to the case before it went to trial but His Lordship suggested that any motion must be filed and the motion argued before a judge.

Mr. Justice Schroeder ruled that the defendant receive casts for one day in court.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE: "Is it possible to get a birth certificate for one born in Scotland about 50 years ago? Person is not sure of year or place."

Says the Registrar General's Office, write to the Registrar General, New Register, Edinburgh, Scotland for information. Print your name and address clearly and give all possible details. Scottish thoroughness should do the rest.

BIRTH REGISTRATION: "I want to find out my age. I have sent to the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, but they have no record of me. Where can I now look for details?"

All births delivered by doctors since 1896 are registered in Toronto. If you were delivered by a mid-wife, it may possibly be your birth was not officially recorded.

Say the registation folks, you might find an old baptismal record or a school record (you would be in the daily register in your local school with you age). As a last resort, you might write to Ottawa Census Division. Census was taken each ten years.

FRESH MILK: "Is it true that milk left in the sunlight loses all its value?"

Not quite! Two hours exposure of a quart bottle to winter sunshine destroys two-thirds of its riboflavin content (the growth vitamin). Longer exposure destroys all the riboflavin. It's like burning dollar bills, isn't it, or running off the hot water.

VICTORY BONDS: "Have any Victory Bonds been redeemed? If so, which?"

No Victory Bonds have to date been called. Government Bonds called November 1st and November 15th, 1948, were Series R-8, due in 1958 and Series F-3, due in 1951.

TOURIST LODGE: "I shall be running a tourist lodge next summer and need help. Is there a course I can take? Any books available?"

The Ontario Tourist Department has issued a book of recipes and suggestions for tourist lodge owners, called "A Hundred to Dinner." It's available on request. It's good, too. Another book is "Quantity Food Service Recipes" ($4.95), available at Eaton's and Simpson's. Another excellent book is Duncan Hines' "Adventures in Good Cooking." Based on his early experience across the continent, it's filled with choice recipes.

It Is Cheaper To Live In The Country

One of the advantages of country life is that taxes are lower than in towns. In general, the bigger the place in which you live, the more money you pay to local tax-gatherers. For instance, last year the people of Toronto paid, every man, woman and child of them, an average of 51.32 dollars in municipal tax. In Hamilton the per capita charge was $40.26. Peterborough's per capita tax levy was $33.72. Lakefield people, on the other hand, paid only $20.91 and the folk in Harvey township $14.11.

* * *

It is interesting to know what people in various villages and townships in the area of Peterborough paid last year, and compare their levies with the averages for Ontario. The tax levy, for every person, in Ontario cities averaged $44.23, in towns $28.76, in villages $27.39, in townships $25.99. The levies in Peterborough and in towns and villages near to Peterborough were almost without exception considerably lower than the Ontario averages. Here is a list:

Place	Per capita levy
Peterborough	$33.73
Lindsay	25.60
Hastings	23.88
Port Perry	22.65
Tweed	22.21
Madoc	21.66
Millbrook	21.30
Lakefield	20.91
Omemee	20.70
Campbellford	19.39
Bobcaygeon	18.48
Norwood	18.47
Marmora	18.00
Havelock	14.12
Bancroft	13.03
Fenelon Falls	12.66

The levies vary from village to village because the services provided vary. Some have good High Schools, fire-fighting equipment, new municipal buildings, [illegible] others have not.

* * *

Here are samples of the per capita taxes paid in townships of the district: South Monaghan, $42.93; Cavan, $32.75; Dummer, $28.48; Asphodel, $27.18; Douro, $25.33; North Monaghan, $24.39; Smith, $22.22; Otonabee, $21.34; Harvey, $14.11; Chandos, $9.52. South Monaghan and Cavan are in Durham and Northumberland united counties; the other townships are in Peterborough county.

* * *

Per capita rates do not tell the whole truth about taxation situations although they are as good guides as mill rates. For instance, every man, woman and child in Peterborough did not pay $33.73 last year in municipal taxes, for in Peterborough half the property taxes are paid by business and industry. We have two comments on the Peterborough rate. One is that the citizens really get a lot of service—from garbage collection to police and parks—for their $33.73. The other is that people from villages and townships in the district, with their relatively low levies, have the use of city services like the Civic Hospital. They can have little objection to a dollar or two being added to their taxes to help Peterborough citizens to pay for such a service. The new Civic Hospital is being built for all the district, not for the sole use of residents of the city.

Revolt In The Ottawa Valley

The meek may inherit the earth, but not a democratic one, for too much meekness destroys democratic institutions. We therefore salute two democrats in the Ottawa Valley who are not meek. They have taken individual stands, stuck out their necks and their fists and are prepared, to wage one-man battles — to the last cent of the luxury tax on jewellery in Pembroke, or to the last flicker of Hydro electricity in Winchester.

The Pembroke tilter against federal windmills is a jeweller who is refusing to collect or pay the luxury tax on jewellery. He says he will sell jewellery tax-free in his store until various government departments hear his grievances. His quarrel with Ottawa seems to be about something other than the tax on jewellery, but the encouraging fact is that he, one democrat, is prepared to fight the great phalanx of Government departments. David against Goliath, with a five-carat stone in his sling (tax: 99 cents.)

The Winchester champion is no less a person than the reeve of the town. He is also the manager of Winchester's Hydro Commission. He is battling the power of Niagara, Des Joachims and the Ontario Hydro Commission. Winchester has been running over its power quota. It adopted its own cut-off periods which displeased a local creamery. The creamery appealed to someone in Toronto and the bosses in Toronto ordered the Winchester manager to keep the power flowing to the creamery. The second time this happened the Reeve dug in his heels. If there was power for the creamery there was power for all. Anyway he was not going to be dictated to. So he did not cut the power off in Winchester at all last week, despite the town's being over the quota and three orders from the central Hydro Commission. He says that he is not going to cut power again until the Ontario Commission at Toronto quits meddling in Winchester's black-out schedules. More power to him! Canada needs village Hampdens.

By-Products Of The Strike

The strike of the longshoremen along the American Atlantic seaboard ended after sixteen days. As we have already mentioned on this page, one by-product of the strike was a bonanza for Halifax. Seldom in peacetime has Halifax's harbour been as busy. There were other by-products less pleasant or fortunate. Canadian trans-Atlantic mails were impeded, Canadians travelling to or from Europe were seriously inconvenienced and the normal commercial flow was disrupted.

The effects were more serious in the United States. Emigrants with little money were left high and dry. E.R.P. goods, Red Cross relief, Christmas packages for a dozen European countries were delayed, and if the strike had continued, might not have reached their destinations. In October the New York Post Office shipped out 675,000 bags of foreign mail. In the November half-month of the strike, only 150,000 bags moved. The Italian liner Saturnia sailed from Europe with 1,621 mail sacks, reached New York, and began the return voyage with the 1,621 mail sacks undelivered, because they could not be unloaded. The sacks contained mail, some of it no doubt of urgent importance, for thousands of American citizens.

As we have often said in these columns, strikes affect the lives and disregard the rights of hosts of people in ways [illegible]

Bright Orillia

The town of Orillia is beaming brightly these Hydro-dark days. It has its own power plant and operates independently of the Ontario Hydro Commission. The Orillia Packet and Times is excusably elated, pointing out that not only is Orillia not short of power but is selling a substantial amount of diesel-generated power to the Ontario Commission. During the last two years the Orillia authorities realized that their present facilities would be insufficient, so are building a new water-power development station. Meanwhile, to bridge the interval between the time when the new plant will be in operation and the present days of need, a diesel-generator plant was set up at a cost of $250,000. This will later be an emergency source of power, and is now providing a 3,000 h.p. reserve which the Ontario Commission is pleased to buy when Orillia does not use it.

We need not go so far from home to see a bright town. Campbellford has its own power station outside the provincial system. There is no black-out there either.

We commend Orillia and Campbellford to the notice of the Ontario Commission and ex-Premier Drew. These towns have either planned better or not suffered the lack of rain which, according to Mr. Drew, has crippled the Hydro system. While the large power development along the Ottawa and St. Lawrence move gradually to completion by 1950-55, could the Ontario authorities not investigate the possibilities of quick, smaller developments on the Trent, in the Lake Simcoe area, and even here on the Otonabee?

NOTE AND COMMENT

We read of a rugby player who "ran around his own end". Something like that undulant walk affected by ushers at fashionable weddings, we presume.

Toronto schools are to have "family life courses", as the name "sex education" was considered indelicate. Approached in that spirit it should soon be possible to give these courses without any reference to sex whatever, thereby making them completely useless to high school youngsters, who very properly expect to be treated as reasonable people.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Meeting A Train

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

"ALL the world's a stage"—and no part of it more so than a railway station. What a theatrical business railroading is and always has been! Standing on the platform the other night waiting for the Montreal train I felt like a spectator at curtain-up. There was the "Set": huge curves and great shadows, in the boldest tradition of modern stage design; background music of distant shunting, the rustle of rain on the roof, the wail of whistle and the slow clanging of bell—sad music that seemed to have centuries of partings in it; people making dark, dramatic groups, bunched like conspirators or pacing to and fro like men with mighty problems on their mind.

Suddenly the sound of the arriving train. A dazzling Argus-eye glaring out of the darkness, making all around black. Hiss and clank, and the glimmer of wet steel as surrounding lights are reflected from the sides of the rain-drenched monster. The huge thing grunts to a stop. Now the head-light is beyond the eye and seems to probe rather feebly into the dark night, threaded with the rain's yellow silk. The main drama begins:—search — reunion — solitary homecoming — journey's end and lovers' meeting — the start of a new life.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE driver leans from his high cabin with a quiet, professional air. Long years have toned down his style to the gentleness of actors on our well-mannered contemporary stage. No "hamming" here, like those fellows slinging out mail-bags. No Walt Disney stuff like the drivers of the electric trolleys, dashing in and out of the throng with their hen-and-chickens trail of cars. A half-smile, a hint of a hand-wave says everything: the pride of the master technician, the composure of the man who has seen cities and enlarged his horizon.

ACROSS the platform a train is waiting to move out. People crowd round the little iron step in noisy groups, managing to talk of one thing while thinking of ten others. In half an hour none will have any idea what was said or answered. There is confetti about and the laughter that goes with it. Someone notices the platform-gates being drawn wide open and is suddenly silent. The silence spreads as a convoy of paraplegics wheel their shining chairs with the skill of circus performers through a maze of luggage. There is a drawing aside, as when royalty goes by, or death. The paraplegics throw jokes to each other. Now they hold the centre of the stage. They know that they have a part to play; to let their inner feelings be seen would be to hurl accusations against those who stand round, against the whole world, against Fate, against God.

The engine-driver has climbed down from the cabin and stands beside his mate. They are quite still, like men gathered in a factory for an announcement of some special importance. The long thin nose of the engineer's oil-can droops downward like the beak of a dead bird. After a moment the driver gives an almost imperceptible nod to one of the disabled men, who makes a tiny amused grimace back. It is the only piece of business not in his part. It is the whisper between experienced performers on stage, the [illegible] aside on the audience or on life.

✧ ✧ ✧

POETS were quick to respond to the drama of the railroad, and notably Canadian poets. For Pratt the locomotive itself exerts the chief fascination.

"No ancient poet ever saw
Just such a monster as could draw
The Olympian tonnage of a load
Like this along an iron road."
("The 6000").

Patrick Anderson, in his poem on Canada, catches the melancholy of that most Canadian of all sounds—the train-whistle:

"The foghorns swell your pillow and the train's Desperate sister whistle sobs for land."

In her poem "Station" Anne Marriott emphasizes the drabness of the surface to bring out the tensions underneath.

"This impersonal gray-slabbed building
With impersonal men's faces striped behind wickets
Thick and impervious holds summit emotions
Like radium in a lead tube."

Across the border Hawthorne conjures up "The Celestial Railroad", and Walt Whitman gives a shout of delight at the speed and power of man's new creation, plunging through winter weather. In a quieter mood the lonely Edwin Arnot Robinson observes: "I cannot find the poetry of motion in a social dance. But I can see lots of it in a locomotive going about a mile a minute." To round off this little anthology of the iron horse, let us go over to England and listen how dramatically Stephen Spender sends an Express out on its journey:

"After the first powerful plain manifesto
The black statement of pistons, without more fuss
But gliding like a queen, she leaves the station.
Without bowing and with restrained unconcern
She passes the houses which humbly crowd outside...."

✧ ✧ ✧

THE person I went to meet never came. I stood at length on the deserted platform alone. Almost the only sound now was the suther of wind and rain, into which the locomotive threw from time to time a deep sigh, as if dreaming of distant cities. I felt like the old servant at the end of Chekhov's play "The Cherry Orchard", after the family have all gone, leaving him alone in the empty house. Does Canada need a national theatre? She has one in every railroad station.

Rugged Individualist

Many Americans detected a new self-confidence in President Truman from the news of his Key West vacation. For Mr. Truman didn't fish. All presidents are supposed to fish while in office, just as they are supposed to join Indian tribes while campaigning for same. It is the form of recreation that the public expects and demands of its chief executive — whether he likes it, as Herbert Hoover did, or loathes it with Cal Coolidge's loathing.

Journalism Of Long Ago

(W. J. HEALY IN WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

(The Toronto Evening Telegram was sold last Thursday to George C. McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, fulfilling the terms of the will of its founder, John Ross Robertson, calling for its sale, the proceeds to go to the Hospital for Sick children in Toronto, which he had created years before his death in 1918.)

OF the survivors of the staff three score years ago of the Evening Telegram, there can hardly be many left. One of them is Rt. Hon. Thomas White, K.C.M.G., who became Minister of Finance in 1911, and was acting Prime Minister while Sir Robert Borden was in Paris for the making of the Treaty of Versailles. He and I were fellow-students at the University of Toronto, and in 1887 we both got jobs as reporters on the Telegram.

✧ ✧ ✧

In a letter to me about the sale of the Telegram Sir Thomas writes: "How I wish I could have a good long talk with you about the days in that quiet, peaceful mid-Victorian time long ago when you and I, as reporters for scant pay—writing, for extra dollars, articles in prose and verse for the Saturday edition—helped to lay the foundations for the Telegram's success!"

To think of comparing a newspaper plant then with a newspaper plant now is like thinking of an ox-drawn Red River cart in comparison with a passenger air plane as a means of travel. Type-setting was still by hand, and the printing was done by hand-fed flat presses. The Telegram was the first in Toronto to have a press which poured out papers at one end from a roll of newsprint at the other—a pygmy in comparison with the presses of today, but a thing of wonder to the people of Toronto, who could view it through the plate glass windows of the press-room.

Years before Hearst's millionaire father bought the New York Journal for him and he began putting out "extras", the Telegram introduced "extras" in Toronto for news of sensational interest.

Of one of those "extras" Sir Thomas writes: "I remember very vividly and have often called to mind how you and I signalled the news of one of Hanlan's great victories.... By the way, I have not been able to find in the Encyclopaedia Britannica article on Oarsmanship any mention of Ned, who was really the father of modern professional sculling. How he did appeal to the youth of Ontario in those far-off, peaceful and happier days!"

✧ ✧ ✧

THAT signalling was on the day Ned Hanlan won the British championship. The Telegram had an "extra" all ready to begin pouring off the press, and had arranged for a cable flash. Tom was stationed at the telegraph office on Wellington street, and I was at the corner of Wellington and Bay. The moment the flash arrived, Tom signalled to me and I signalled to John Ross Robertson, who was standing in the middle of Bay street, at the corner of King, where the Telegram building then stood. He signalled to the pressroom foreman, who had his hand on the lever to start the press, and in a matter of seconds the newsboys were shouting "Tely Extra! All about Hanlan's win!"

Hanlan became famous first by winning the American championship on Schuylkill river at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876. I remember seeing, as a schoolboy, his sculls displayed in front of Gus Thomas' English Chop House on King street, soon after that victory, one on either side of a large turtle imported from New York, which was stood on end and fastened helpless, with a sign over it: "Turtle Soup Tomorrow".

Hanlan went round the world, outrowing every oarsman who raced against him, and brought the world championship to Toronto. No other man has ever made the name of Toronto known to the world as he did. Rowing was the only international sport in his time.

Pugilism was against the law in every English-speaking country and many others. There were famous prize-fighters, but they fought surreptitiously in barns, on barges, or in fields. Modern boxing had yet to be developed. Newspaper sports pages were a thing of the future. As for the Encyclopaedia Britannica article referred to by Sir Thomas White, it is meagre, incomplete and singularly ill done.

Unconsidered Trifles

Mrs. Updike considers herself a tower of intellect. At least she did, until she had a rather unfortunate exchange with her daughter, Betty, the other day.

"You young people depend too much on outward aids," Mrs. U. complained. "Take all the rouge you dab on your face. It's unnecessary! Now, I can use the power of thought, and simply think a flow of colour to my cheeks!

"My heavens, mother," Betty cried. "I'm glad I don't have such thoughts as that!"

✧ ✧ ✧

A shopkeeper was sent a telegram informing him that his ticket had won £30,000 in a big sweepstake. He happened to be at home nursing heart trouble, and his wife opened the telegram. Fearing that the sudden news might cause a fatal shock to her husband, she asked the family doctor to dinner and requested him to impart the good tidings with professional tact. After dinner the doctor drew his patient to one side.

"How's business?" the doctor began.

"It could be better, I could use a few hundred pounds," said the shopkeeper.

"Well," smiled the doctor, "you have a sweepstake ticket. What would you do if you won five hundred pounds?"

"Nobody ever wins," the man answered with a sigh. "But if I won I would send my family to the seaside and pay my debts."

"And if you won a thousand pounds?"

"Well — I would probably enlarge my store."

"Suppose you won ten thousand pounds?"

"I would buy a house in town and one in the country."

"What would you do if you won thirty thousand?"

The man looked up. "Doctor," he said solemnly, "I swear I would give you half of it."

The doctor gasped, opened his mouth, and dropped dead.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Doubtless thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer; thy name is from everlasting. (Isa. 63: 16.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word....

As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. (Isa. 66: 5, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day:... I will feed them in good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God. (Ezek. 34: 12, 14, 15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world. (I John 4: 16, 17.)

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. (Ps. 100: 3.)

He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. (Rev. 3: 1-5.)

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Those fans from the foothills who invaded Toronto last weekend to cheer Calgary Stampeders to the Dominion grid title did sports a lot of good. A real shot in the arm. They painted up an athletic event so brightly that the color caught the fancy of folks all across the country. Let's hope such colorful spectacles become more common. We in Canada are a rather cold and stolid nation, one not given to undue excitement—or the showing thereof—often. We have poker faces and we sit on our hands. Except on rare occasions. But the Calgary folks stampeded into Toronto and took over on Saturday and everyone enjoyed it hugely. Except perhaps tired train conductors, harrassed hotel clerks, and such like.

* * * * * *

Wearing 10-gallon hats, red, pink and blue shirts, cowboy handkerchiefs about the necks, they roared into town. Did a square dance in the Union Station, took over the staid Royal York's main floor, paraded about town, whooped and hollered—in fact, had themselves a heck of a time. Before, during and definitely after the big game. Reams of copy went out concerning the goings-on, radios blared forth the news that the Stampeders and their followers were in town, the Mayor gave them a reception, everybody chuckled and everybody loved it. It was a colorful occasion.

The Yanks Enjoy Fun

Over in the States they frequently go all out over sports' events. They become giant-sized spectacles. Those big Saturday football games drip with color as parades, bands, cheer sections, fireworks, et all, add to the gaiety. The paid customer feels he has had his money's worth. Same thing with a world series game. Lots of color even at boxing matches, and not all gore, either! Even in England, folks at athletic events enjoy their fun more than the average Canadian crowd. Yeah, we're all for those extras added to the games—they all lend color and fun to the affair. Let's loosen our girdles at local games, too, and have ourselves a time.

* * * * * *

Jack Dugan was in town the other day and was telling Fred Scates that he'd had 17 fights since he went pro in the States, most of them in New York. Won 15 and drew twice, so he's doing okay in the moneyed mitt ranks as a middleweight. Jack won the Canadian amateur middle title while still living here before he turned professional. A mighty classy boxer, he is not likely to suffer any ring injuries, have plenty of speed, science and a pretty fair wallop. He boxes again on Dec. 13 in Rochester and then has a layoff till after the first of the year. He tells fight announcers he's from Peterborough but they bill him as from Toronto, that town being better known over there.

Speaking Of Cricket

Annual meeting of the Peterborough-Whitaker Cricket Club the other evening saw most of the officers returned. With Gordon Monkman again president and Frank Dyer named team captain for the 19th consecutive year. The club decided to join the Toronto District Council League next year, quite a departure. But the P-W team, which was good enough this year to win the Ontario county championship, has trouble getting enough matches. It is hoped that, despite the frequent and expensive trips to Toronto next year, they will have plenty of competition. The club was strengthened the past season with the arrival of good cricketers here from the Old Country and it may be even stronger in 1949.

Brintons made the big noise this week in the Girls' Bowling League, and 'twas quite some racket at that. They splattered the pins seven ways for Sunday for top team triple with a right respectable count of 3276, and their 1156 singleton led the way, also. Besides that, M. Sanderson of this team took high three for individuals with a 950—highest mark of the season so far — as well as leading single of 376. Swell bowling, what? J. Castle won the blind score count for the Outboard Marines. There were three clean sweeps [illegible] competition, the results being listed elsewhere today.

Roxburgh of Simcoe first vice-president, and Stew McTavish of Oshawa second. George S. Dudley of Midland is treasurer, while the perennial Bill Hewitt goes back as secretary. Executive committee returned by acclamation comprises: Roy Reynolds of Chatham, Tory Gregg of Wingham, Frank Buckland of Peterborough, and E. D. Brill of Guelph. These officers will be installed at the 59th annual OHA meeting in Toronto's Royal York Hotel at 10 a.m. next Saturday. Local and district clubs will be represented at the session. Shortly after this week-end, groupings will be announced.

P-W Cricketers To Enter Toronto League

By C. H. IRESON

The Peterborough - Whitaker Cricket Club will seek entry next spring in the Toronto District Council League, it was decided at the club's annual meeting here Monday. It was felt more matches and keener competition would be supplied in league play rather than infrequent exhibitions, and county playoffs, the local club winning the Ontario county championship the past year.

President Gordon Monkman presided at the enthusiastic meeting, which included: F. Dyer, A. H. Radford, F. C. Roberts, B. Roberts, R. Harvey, J. Wild, I. Morrison, W. Wright, F. Booth, S. Jennings, W. Dyer, W. Evans, W. Freeman, R. Rollwagon and C. H. Ireson.

The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Dr. E. A. Hammond; honorary vice-presidents, G. K. Fraser, M.P., Hon. Harold Scott, M.P.P., G. Langley, G. Whitaker, R. Whitaker and A. J. Whitely; president, Gordon Monkman; vice-president, J. Wild; secretary-treasurer, A. H. Radford; captain, Frank Dyer (his 19th consecutive year); vice-captain, S. Jennings; chairman grounds, transportation and equipment, R. Harvey; chairman entertainment, F. C. Roberts; auditors, W. R. Wright and F. Booth.

Credit Balance

The secretary's report showed a credit balance and it was decided that members' subscriptions would be $5, with juniors $3. The constitution of the club was discussed and some small alterations made. Three newcomers were introduced: W. Evans, W. Freeman and E. Tomset. F. Booth, on behalf of the past season's new players, thanked the club for the welcome and good feeling shown them. Only four matches were played at the Oval last season, but the team travelled more than 1,000 miles to play eight other matches.

The club's record for 1948 showed four matches won, four drawn and five lost. The team got off to a poor start, but finished strongly and turned out one of the best teams from here in years. On Labor Day, the cricketers defeated Wentworth County by nine wickets in the final match for the R. C. Mathews Trophy for the Ontario County championship, previously beat Carleton County in Ottawa.

While full reports were previously published, it might be fit to review a few points. In batting, F. Booth scored 175 runs, average 29-16; W. R. Wright, 216 runs, average 21-60; and H. Pyle, 104 runs, average 20-80. It is a long time since three local players passed the 20 mark. In bowling, the same names appear with the list headed by H. Pyle, 29 wickets, average 5-31; F. Dyer, 39, average 8-20; F. Booth, 11, average 8-66; W. Wright, 15, average 12-93.

RE-ELECTED—Frank Buckland of Peterborough has been re-elected by acclamation to the OHA executive and will be installed with other officers Saturday at the annual OHA meeting in Toronto.

Remember When...

By The Canadian Press

With a pulverizing display of power Toronto Argonauts buried Winnipeg Blue Bombers under a 35-0 count three years ago today to capture the Canadian football championship. The game—17th meeting between East and West in a national final—was played before 19,000 shivering spectators at Varsity Stadium, Toronto.

With a population almost hitting the million mark, and with daily baseball attendof from 35,000 to 40,000, Latin-America's most baseball-minded capital believes it is sufficiently fit to make the bid. Teepees Take OHA Lead, Whip Windsor

By The Canadian Press

St. Catharines Teepees jumped into the lead in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior circuit Tuesday night. But they'll have to fight for their leadership again tonight against the team they beat for it.

Teepees beat Windsor Spitfires 6-4 to break a first-place dead-lock.

In the only other OHA game Tuesday night, Oshawa Generals went into a fourth-place tie with Stratford Kroehlers by beating Galt Rockets 4-1.

Senior clubs were idle but get back to the wars tonight. The first-place Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen play third-place Toronto Marlboros in Toronto and Stratford Indians, languishing in the cellar, visit the second-place Hamilton Tigers.

3 Junior Games

Three junior games are scheduled. Galt Rockets are out for revenge in Oshawa, third-place Barrie Flyers are at home to Guelph Biltmores and St. Catharines and Windsor resume their feud in Windsor.

Bill Buschlen and Gerry Toppazzini each fired two goals as Teepees dropped into a 1-0 deficit in the first period, whipped in three in the middle period and held even with Spitfires in the final. Ron Telford got a goal and an assist, Bill Altoft a goal and Marcel Clements two assists.

For the Spitfires it was the Giesebrecht brothers. Bert got two goals and an assist and Bruce got a goal and an assist to lead Windsor while Doug McKay got the other goal.

Jake Jankowski scored in the first and third periods to lead the Generals to their victory over Galt with Gamble and Stephens each scoring once. Goalie Sendry seemed well on his way to a shutout until Joe Horvath scored from a scramble early in the final period.

Campbellford Boy Is Rated Canada's Top Junior Athlete

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 1. — (ENS).—George Lynch, who was recently awarded the Viscount Alexander Trophy as the outstanding junior athlete in Canada for 1948, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Lynch of Campbellford. "Lynch's unfailing determination and willingness to follow training and coaching instruction to the exact letter is the reason why he has completely dominated his field since 1946 when he first began to run," is the comment of his coach, Lloyd "Ace" Percival.

His record includes winning 39 city, provincial, national and international championships and the breaking of 18 records. He won the United States' national boys' mile at Cleveland in 1947 and at the indoor national interscholastic championship at Madison Square Gardens he won his section of the mile event against the best runners in the United States. Last May at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, during the district intermediate track and field meet he won the three mile race in 15:34. This is the fastest time ever recorded by an interscholastic runner for a three-mile event.

George is a member of the now famous "Sports College Track and Field Testing Group" formed to demonstrate what young Canadians can do whey they follow the latest training methods. Though he concentrates on track, he is also good at other sports. He has received several scholarship offers from prominent United States' universities but as yet he has made no moves to accept. His greatest fans are his parents, who have never missed a track meet in which he has competed.

The nights for playing would be Monday, Wednesday and Friday, providing the hall was available. A discussion as to the advisability of joining a league resulted in the decision that it was not advisable to join this year.

Bud O'Connor Comes Back But Rangers Bow To Hawks

By The Canadian Press

Buddy O'Connor came back to the New York Rangers Tuesday night. But his return didn't help the floundering Rangers or the battered O'Connor.

O'Connor got two stitches in the head and the Rangers took a 4-2 defeat from the Chicago Black Hawks.

Chicago's win in the National Hockey League's only scheduled game put the Hawks in a fourth-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs, one point back of Montreal Canadiens. It left Rangers five points behind in the cellar.

It was the first game this year for O'Connor, runner-up in the league's scoring race last season. He was injured in a pre-season auto crash.

The two stitches went in after he was hit on the head by a puck in the warm-up before the game.

In tonight's games, second-place Detroit Red Wings — reinforced by the return of high-scoring centre Ted Lindsay who has been out of action with a broken foot—are at home to Toronto. Chicago moves on to Boston to meet the first-place Bruins.

Scores Both Goals

Edgar Laprade scored both Rangers' goals, aided each time by Ed Kullman. For the Hawks it was Doug Bentley, Jim Conacher, Gaye Stewart and Bep Guidolin, with Jim Conacher earning an assist on Stewart's first-period goal.

Both Toronto and Detroit announced Tuesday night they were bringing n from the minors for tonight e.

Leafs called up Ray Ceresino from Pittsburgh Hornets to fill in for utility man Joe Klukay, out for a rest with a bad ankle.

Detroit brought defenceman Lee Fogolin from Indianapolis Caps to bolster the Red Wings' back-stopping staff. The 22-year-old former Galt junior played two games with Red Wings in the Stanley Cup finals.

Ceresino played with the junior Oshawa Generals last year after a transfer squabble lasting half the season. He wanted to play with Port Arthur Bruins — who went on to win the Memorial Cup —but couldn't get a release from Oshawa.

Detroit coach Tommy Ivan breathed easier with the return of Lindsay, flashy centre from Kirkland Lake. Red Wings won only two of the five games they played since the injury to the only unanimous choice for the NHL all-star team last year.

'I never knew one man could make such a difference to a team," Ivan said.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Boston and Chicago continue to dominate the National League scoring list. Jimmy Conacher of the Hawks Tuesday night picked up a goal and an assist to move into a second-place tie with team-mate Doug Bentley, two points behind leader Grant Warwick of Boston, who has chalked up 20 points. Roy Conacher, Chicago winger, garnered one assist to climb into a tie with Ted Kennedy of Toronto for third place: each has 16 points.

Groucho Marx Discards Old Moustache

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 1 (AP)—Another landmark has vanished from the Hollywood scene — Groucho Marx's painted moustache.

The famed swath of grease has disappeared from Groucho's pan. In its place is a home-grown Anthony Eden-like brush with which the comic appears quite happy.

"It might open new possibilities for me," he commented. "Who knows — next season I might play 'Othello.'"

The old grease moustache helped to bring him fame, but it became a monster to Groucho's ambitions to play fairly legitimate roles, he said.

"I could not play with real actors when I had it on," he complained. "I gave an unreal quality to any scene I would be in."

Groucho's enthusiasm for the new brush stems from the fact that he does not like making the Marx brothers pictures. Ask him how he feels about them and you get a reaction that makes you believe he was properly tagged:

"They are murder. You go through a lot of strenuous physical labor and spend all your time worrying about new routines and writing half the dialogue."

Then ask him about his pictures alone, such as his current "It's Only Money."

"It's burglary. I almost feel ashamed to take the money. You are handed a script and all you have to do is read the lines."

Thisa and Data

Ida Lupino will probably stay at her husband's studio, Columbia, after "Greed." The deal for "Mrs. Mike" is still 'way up in the air....

Dan Dailey is eager to do a Palladium stint in London. He only has to do three pictures for 20th-Fox before he can go.

Barry Fitzgerald will tour Europe as well as Eire next summer....

Bob Hope, who is making his own production, "Easy Does It," pulled his bicycle up beside Cecil B. DeMille, and cracked: "Come up and see us shooting; we are using your old sets."

AN UNDERSTANDABLY exuberant Navy football team poses, bruises and all, in its dressing room after staging the upset of the year by holding Army's highly rated team to a 21-21 tie. The tie helped redeem one of the worst Navy seasons in the academy's history. Holding the sign, proclaiming that "it can be done" are, seated, left to right: Manager Bob Goodman, Randlett Lawrense, Coach George Sauer and Scott Emerson. The annual service classic drew 103,000 to Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

30,000 Fans Welcome Stamps Home

CALGARY, Dec. 1. — (CP) — Calgary Stampeders — and the Grey Cup—will come home today to the greatest sports ovation in the history of this foothills city.

The roar of more than 30,000 madly-cheering fans and a civic reception will climax the new Dominion football champions' triumphal home-coming from Toronto.

Huge banners recording "Calgary 12, Ottawa 7"—the score of Calgary's first victory in the annual gridiron classic—and "welcome Stampeders" fluttered in a crisp, wintery breeze as fans began to assemble in the C P.R. station hours before the scheduled 1 p.m. MST arrival of Stampeders special train.

Coach Les Lear and his swashbuckling cowboys will be paraded through downtown streets in open cars to the accompaniment of victory marches played by brass and pipe bands.

Following the parade, the players will be officially welcomed back to the city by Mayor J. C. Watson and other civic officials.

The homecoming climaxed the tumultuous ovations accorded the gridiron heroes throughout the return trip from Toronto.

At every stop of the special train carrying Stampeders and their cowboy-garbed supporters, hundreds of western fans turned out to cheer the new champions on their way.

Fort William, Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Man., Brandon, Man., Regina and Medicine Hat, Alta., all tendered civic congratulations to the club that captured the imaginations of all Canada with their spectacular uphill fight to Canada's gridiron title.

Stampeders will be feted by the city again Friday when an official civic banquet will be given in their honor. Each player will be presented with an engraved gold belt buckle and belt.

Forgery Charges

RENFREW, Dec. 1 — (CP)—Two Ontario youths appeared in Renfrew court Tuesday on charges of forgery after Renfrew storekeepers had handed over cash for eight bogus cheques. Henry Sharter, 16, of Ottawa and Robert Blanchette, 17, of Sudbury were picked up by police in a local poolroom after the Renfrew Board of Trade employed a loud-speaker truck to warn all businessmen to be on the alert for strangers trying to cash cheques. Their case will be heard next week.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Clarence S. Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Tuesday in New York there was no ulterior motive behind his recent ban on fraternization among players of different national league teams.

"It's just good sense," he said, that participants in a game involving "so much violent body-contact" should not appear too friendly in public. What would the average spectator think, he asked, if after watching a knock-down, drag-out fight he then saw some of the opposing fighters engaged in friendly conversation or dining.

He said the ruling applied on the ice and in any other public place.

Ottawa Rough Riders—and future losers in the East-West football final—will receive a cup. At a reception today the Riders will be presented with the Condolence Cup, awarded by the Ottawa Men's Press Club. Calgary Stampeders defeated Ottawa 12-7 at Toronto Saturday to win the Grey Cup. The Condolence Cup will be presented annually to the loser in the Grey Cup competition.

Mayor J. C. Watson said Tuesday at Calgary he had received a telegram from Premier Kennedy of Ontario, congratulating Calgary on Stampeders' Grey Cup victory at Toronto Saturday. The telegram said in part: "The visit of your fine football team and those who accompanied them was most impressive and I am sure did much toward a better friendship between West and East and a greater spirit of unity among us all."

At Hamilton, Jake Gaudaur, Hamilton Tigers football player, said Tuesday he was "in the dark" about a challenge for the world's professional sculling title entered in his name. His name was suggested by Bobby Pearce, famed Canadian sculler who retired as undefeated world's champion, as a possible challenger for the crown won last week by Australia's Evans Paddon. Gaudaur is a former rowing star and son of former Canadian sculling champion Jacob Gaudaur.

Bolanos Running Out Of Opponents

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1 (AP)—Enrique Bolanos, lightweight boxing pride of Mexico, finds himself practically out of opponents to-day except for his No. 1 quarry, champion Ike Williams.

The handsome contender took care of an outstanding foe, Tommy Campbell of Rock Island, Ill., in vicious style Tuesday night, winning a unanimous 12-round decision and retaining his California lightweight title. Each weghed 134¼ pounds.

Bolanos' manager, George Parnassus, said his fighter's ambition is for a third match with Williams, and negotiations for a bout may be renewed even to-day. Williams stopped Bolanos two years ago and won a split decision in 15 rounds last May.

Canadians Make Mark At Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.— (CP).—It's the man with the hoe and the halter who puts Canada on the front pages of Chicago newspapers these days.

The Canadian farmer and stockman, as in past years, is making his mark in Chicago's famed International livestock Exposition and Grain and Hay Show, at the same time bringing the Dominion a flare of publicity in Chicago's cosmopolitan newspapers.

The eye-catching names of "Canada" and "Canadian" appear [illegible] pages during the eighth-day run of the exposition, now in progress, as Canuck competitors turn up with champion and first-place awards.

As for the United States exhibitors themselves, they have cultivated a healthy respect for the farmer from the north. Canadians have captured the world wheat crown every year since 1929 — S. J. Allsop of Red Deer, Alta., did it again last week-end —and are equally regular in winning the oats kingship.

While Canadians falter somewhat in competition against corn-fed American animals, they still manage to achieve high-place rankings in the livestock contests, notably with sheep.

Higher Prices Slow Buying For Yule Gifts This Year

By The Canadian Press

Canadian Christmas shoppers will be taking long, careful looks at the bargain counters this year.

They'll probably spend just as much as they did in the booming war years, a Canadian Press survey showed. But today's higher prices mean fewer gifts for friends and relatives.

Stores are jammed with the biggest and fanciest selection of gifts in history. But most merchants agreed they would be tougher to sell than last year.

Merchants said they expected dollar volume would equal that of any other post-war Christmas spending spree. Although months ago many of them feared a retail [illegible] it now, they said.

Only in the two biggest cities—Toronto and Montreal — were sales well behind expectations. Retailers said, however, a few heavy snow falls would send droves of people on shopping expeditions.

Shopping Early

In Western Canada, the lack of snow had many people doing their Christmas shopping early. With rural roads still free of snow and a good crop harvested, Saskatoon reported sales ahead of last year.

Briefly, this was the picture today:

1. If anyone suffered from high prices, it probably won't be the kiddies. Toy counters expect their biggest season in years. They reported less demand for military toys; more for electric trains, construction sets, dolls and mechanical toys.

2. Few items are scarce. The hard-to-find presents include washing machines, refrigerators and articles manufactured in the United States and imported on a [illegible] basis.

3. So far people don't expect a cold winter. During the mild fall there hasn't been a rush for winter clothing.

4. Fewer people are buying luxury items and apparently plan practical presents.

5. Only a few articles have dropped in price since last Christmas. Others have gone up as much as 25 per cent.

Council Cuts Rent On CWAC Apartments

KITCHENER, Dec. 1 — (CP) —City council reduced the rent of a number of individually-heated apartments at the former CWAC training centre Monday night by 25 per cent.

However, while the rents are slashed the tenants must in future supply their own heat.

Up to the present time the city, which operates the huts, has been providing the fuel and the tenants have done their own firing.

As a result council felt that the tenants were not as careful with the fuel as they should be. It was pointed out that it has taken an average of eight tons per season to heat each apartment not served by the central heating plant. It is felt that now the tenants have to buy their own coal it will save the city close to $2,000 per year.

A Good Attempt

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 1.—(CP).—London Little Theatre's studio was given praise for "a pretty good attempt at a difficult play," by adjudicator Richard Burbage after its performance of "Uncle Vanya" by Tchekov Tuesday night. The play entered for preliminary adjudication for the western Ontario regional drama festival was directed by Mardon Miller. The presentation marked one of the few occasions on which Tchekov has been played by the London Little Theatre.

Settlement Of Two Wage Disputes Is Announced

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 — (CP) — Settlement of two wage disputes involving ship officers and seven shipping companies on the east and west coasts was annouced Tuesday by Labor Minister Mitchell.

In both cases, the officers' unions dropped demands for general wage increases.

On the west coast, the dispute was between the Canadian Communications Association (CCL) and Canadian Union Line, Canadian Transport Company, Kerr-Silver Lines (Canada), Vancouver-Oriental Line, Johnson-Walton Steamships and Western Canada Steamship Company. The union represents radio officers.

In the east, disputants were the Canadian Merchant Service Guild (TLC), representing deck officers, National Association of Marine Engineers (TLC) and the Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships, Ltd.

C.N.S. vessels involved were the "Lady" liners and smaller craft. The western companies operate dry-cargo deep-sea vessels from British Columbia ports.

On the Pacific, the union asked for an increase of $33 a month in basic wages and $2 a month in overtime allowances, along with minor concessions.

Sign Contract

After conciliation proceedings, it signed last week for a contract on the old basis except for addition of a clause providing that work on six specified holidays at sea will be confined to work normally done on Sundays, and that time off will be granted when radio officers are required to work these days in port.

At a single conciliation conference, the minister's announcement said, the eastern officers also agreed to drop demands for a general wage increase.

They settled for a number of concessions including a $2-a-night increase in pay for all-night duty in home ports; an increase from 21 to 30 days in annual leave; increases from $3 to $3.50 in subsistence and lodging allowances for men on standby wages, and adjustments for sick leave and loss of personal effects through shipwreck.

Honor Wolf Cub For Saving Life

On Sunday, Feb. 1, 1948, Cub St. Onge and his young friend, Maurice Paliwada, were playing on the ice floes in the Detroit river. When the ice cracked and gave way beneath his friend, plunging him into the icy water, Gordon, without thought of personal danger, ran out on the shell ice, grabbed Maurice by the coat collar, and with considerable difficulty dragged him to shore.

Gordon showed a wonderful presence of mind and remarkable bravery on the tricky ice floes and in the freezing water to save his friend's life. It required courage and determination to keep his hold on Maurice and get him to shore without assistance. His action is even more commendable because of his youth and the fact that his life was endangered by large ice floes and the risk of drowning in the freezing water.

Because of his gallantry with considerable risk, he is presented for decoration.

- For several years we have been working to get a Memorial Centre . . . there have been many obstacles which have confronted us. To see if these can be overcome I am offering myself as a candidate for Alderman so that we can complete the job.
- I am also interested in a careful study of City Management for a more efficient handling of the city's $1,000,000 business.
- For more efficient handling of this money, seriou consideration should be given to the appointment of City Purchasing Agent to co-ordinate in one office all purchases of supplies and services.
- I am particularly interested, too, in Labor's cause, because at 18 I was secretary of my union in England, and at 19 was a delegate to the Yorkshire District Council, representing the Shop Assistants, Warehousemen and Clerks' Union. As proof of my interest I was the first person in Peterborough to shorten working hours in retail outlets by closing the stores which I managed, at 7 o'clock Saturday evenings and later at 6 o'clock.

Canada Faces New Wheat Pact Likely Cancel Contract With U.K.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—(CP). — Prospects of a new international wheat pact today appeared to have gained momentum but is consummation likely will end a close affiliation between Canadian farmers and British consumers.

In Washington a United States government official says the next step towards a new 36-nation wheat agreement may be taken at a meeting there this week.

In Ottawa a government wheat and trade expert says once the agreement is signed, it likely will absorb Canada's wheat pact with the United Kingdom.

Once the wheat agreement was signed and brought into effect, it was expected to nullify Canada's 1949 contract with the U.K. for 140,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Britain would place her wheat order with the international group of which Canada, the United States and Australia would be the suppliers.

No Adverse Affect

Since Canada would be the major contributor to the world wheat pool, cancellation of the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement would have little adverse affect on Canadian wheat sales.

The government wheat expert points out that in the March agreement Canada was expected to contribute 230,000,000 bushels of the total 500,000,000 bushels to be supplied by Canada, the United States and Australia.

This year Canada would have a wheat crop of about 370,000,000 bushels. Her commitments with the U.K. call for export of 140,000,000 bushels in 1949, leaving 90,000,000 bushels available for shipment to other nations.

Should the Anglo-Canadian wheat pact be cancelled, it would leave Canada the exact amount—230,000,000 bushels—she may be called on to supply under the international agreement.

ESCAPING THE VIGILANT EYES of Russian-spponsored police, these residents of Berlin are returning to their homes in the western sectors, after smuggling bags of potatoes and coal from the Russian zone of Germany. They are waiting for a train at Spandau West, in the British sector of Berlin.

Belmont District Church Re-opened After 17 Years

HAVELOCK, Dec. 1 — (ENS) —Victoria United Church at Belmont Lake was opened and rededicated on Sunday after having been closed for renovations. The service of re-dedication, for which was attended by members of the Victoria and Havelock United churches, was conducted by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh.

Mr. Vanderburgh's subject for his sermon was "The Challenge of the Christian Church. He reminded his listeners that the Church was not a building but a world fellowship. The spirit which joined people together in the work of universal church. He spoke about the growth of the church through the years and the need for Christian education. "If we carry on carelessly, without giving Christian learning to our children, we have only a 50-50 chance of Canada not becoming a pagan nation," he declared. "If the church does not live up to its Christian fellowship it will automatically kill itself. You and I form the Church of Jesus, working together to bring the Brotherhood of Christ to the ends of the earth. He needs you and me and let us, therefore, go forward toward higher purposes unafraid," he concluded.

Congratulations were conveyed to the congregation by Mrs. Gall of Havelock, whose husband, the late Rev. C. J. Gall, was minister on the Cordova-Belmont mission during 1911 and 1912. Mrs. Gall recalled that she had organized the Ladies Aid Society at Victoria Church and was glad to see several of the women who had attended the first Aid Society meeting, in the congregation.

The senior choir of Havelock United Church, under the leadership of Mrs. R. Campney, sang two anthems.

Ten Baptized

During the service two adults and eight children were baptized. They were: Miss Norma Fraser and Mrs. James Scott (nee Reta Dafoe); Donald Glenn Gordon, Dorothy Harriet Gordon, Marilyn Elaine Gordon, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon; Larry John King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle King; Ann Karen Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barker; James Earl Toms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Toms; William James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, and Marjorie Joan Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Patterson. All were direct descendants of the pioneers of the early congregation of Victoria church.

Mrs. Arthur King, secretary-treasurer of the finance committee, said the receipts, amounting to $590.41, were donations from friends at Victoria and Havelock. The cost of the renovations was $302.69, of which only $52.50 was paid for labor, the major part of the work being done by volunteers. The balance of $287.72 was augmented by $63.93 which was collected at the service. The organ used at the service was a gift from Mrs. William Hamilton, Havelock. The pulpit Bible was donated by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pace, of Havelock. Other donations were also received.

Plan More Work

More work on the church is planned for next spring. The outside of the building is to be painted, installation of electric lights and renovation of the cemetery, are other items. Although no minister has yet been appointed, the congregtaion is looking forward to arrangements being made for services during the summer.

At the close of the service the finance committee, which was in charge of the work of renovation was appointed a board of stewards for 1949. Members are: Mrs. Arthur King, Murray Fraser, Earl Dafoe, Everett Toms, William Harris and Arthur King.

Victoria Church, formerly Methodist is a symbol of the desire of this community back in 1893 to establish in its midst the element of the church and its influence and helpfulness in the district has been beyond calculation. It was one of the appointments in what was known as the Cordova - Belmont Mission of the United Church of Canada and was closed in 1931 with the other appointments on the charge on account of amalgamation of fields and the population in the area. The minister at that time was Rev. Ralph Spencer, a former Havelock boy. The other appointments included in this charge were Rush Point, Cordova Mines, Vansickle and Blairton. The Rush Point appointment continued to carry on its Sunday School and Young People's work. The Cordova Church has been joined to the Marmora charge. The Blairton church is closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pollock, (Elvie Covert) of Havelock, have the honor of being the only couple to be married in the Victoria Church. In the congregation on Sunday evening were the following members who worked in the church in the early days: Mrs. James Freeman who served many years as a Sunday School teacher and organist. Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sanders, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dafoe. Mr. Simpson was Sunday School superintendent and church treasurer. Mrs. Marcenna Rylot served as organist for the Sunday School when only a small girl, later taking over the church organ. Mrs. William Stevenson also a former church organist was present.

Messrs William and George Sanders, 85 years and 87 years respectively of Havelock are charter members of Victoria and helped in the building of it, also Mrs. E. J. Harris resides here, her son W. Harris being a member of the Board of Stewards for 1949.

Kawartha Group Reorganizes, Names Officers

Two movies, "Portage" and 'Land for Pioneers," opened the re-organization meeting of the Kawartha Game and Fish Conservation on Tuesday night. "Land for Pioneers" was a movie demonstrating the challenge of the west in the past, present and future. The second movie, "Portage," dealt mainly with the manufacture of a birch-bark canoe.

Wallace Harvey made the motion to re-organize the Association. This was seconded by J. A. McKone. The motion carried. It was agreed to have the old executive carry on until membership has been boosted. They are: President, F. Marshall; vice-president, M. Clysdale; secretary-treasurer Douglas Barringer and A. Parker, H. Rehill, K. Hoard and L. Hale are on the executive council.

Mr. Marshall said the Association has four main objects, to sponsor and support the enactment of laws and regulations for the protection and restoration of wild life, forests, streams and lakes and to promote their observance; secondly to protect and conserve soil, forest, fish and wild life, to maintain and improve the habitat of all wild life. Highway Mishaps Show 42.1 Per Cent Gain Over 1947 Total, In Peterborough District

The five counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton, Durham and Northumberland had the second largest increase in motor vehicles accidents in Ontario in the first nine months of this year compared with the corresponding period last year. The 1948 total of 672 was 42.1 per cent higher than the 1947 figure of 473. This is announced by the Accident and Statistical Division, Motor Vehicle Branch of the Department of Highways.

The total number of accidents in Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac and Prince Edward was higher both years than in the five counties to the west of the area, but there was was only a 12.1 per cent raise from 726 in 1947 to 814 this year.

Of the 15,075 accidents reported in the entire province during the first nine months of 1948, 451, one less than last year, were fatal; in 7,337 incidents, personal injuries were sustaied and accidents in which only property was damaged numbered 10,799.

The damage caused in road accidents in Ontario during the first nine months of this year is estimated at $4,686,730, compared with $3,446,950 last year.

F and G Ass'n Endorses Open Pickerel Season May 1

Peterborough Fish and Game Association on Tuesday night went on record as favoring an earlier opening of the pickerel season. William Joiner and Ernest Guppy moved that the pickerel season open with the trout season on May 1 and that fishing from an anchored boat be permitted from that date forward. It passed by a large majority.

An earlier motion on pickerel fishing by Charles Ross and Jack Hicks was defeated. It requested the Department to open the pickerel on May 1 and leave it open to Dec. 31 with the exception of the month of June. The motion also proposed that no boat fishing of any kind be permitted until July 1 and that it should end Oct. 15.

"If there is no fishing in June it will give the bass a chance to spawn," said Mr. Ross.

"Delete that part of your motion about the December closing and I'll support it," said Jack Baldwin.

But Mr. Ross contended that the season did not open soon enough and closed too early.

"What about the 'lunge if you allow this to go through?" asked one member.

"It's the pickerel that are eating your 'lunge up; that's why 'lunge are getting scarcer," was the reply.

After a short but spirited debate in which Mr. Ross refused to modify his motion, the full motion was decisively defeated.

A letter was received from A. B. Wheatley, district forester at Lindsay, explaining why there was no prosecution of the hunter who killed a moose in the Lake Ketchecum region. The letter stated that the moose was shot by mistake, and as the incident was promptly reported it was felt [illegible] no sense in penalizing the hunter.

Some Elk Shot?

"I think that shows good judgment," said Robert McCabe, president of the association.

Considerable discussion followed on the question of whether there had been any elk shot during the past deer hunt.

"I believe that when the truth is known there were no elk seen," stated Mr. McCabe.

None of the members contradicted this through personal experience but several related second-hand reports of seeing some. It was finally decided to make further enquiries from the game wardens to determine if any elk were shot.

As a safeguard against shooting elk and moose Charles Ross and William Joiner moved that signs be posted on highways and roads warning hunters of their presence in certain areas. And it was suggested further that game wardens before the hunt could visit hunting camps giving this information.

A letter has been sent to the Department asking that an organized wolf hunt be allowed in the Game Preserve under the auspices of the Fish and Game Association. The hunt which would be under strict supervision, and it is believed it would help to eliminate the wolf menace which had been reported this year.

Charles Kingan said it would be a good idea if the Department allowed a few expert trappers to trap wolves after the deer season, in areas where the wolves are thick.

Art Tighe and Jack Hines moved that a more efficient check-off during the deer hunting season be maintained at both the Buckhorn and Burleigh ends of the Oregon Trail. They also said that there should be better supervision of the use of dogs used for deer running.

A nominating committee of four was set up to bring in a slate of officers for the new year. They were Fred Goodfellow, Charles Kingan, Garnet Dunford and William Joiner. The election will be held in December.

Jack Baldwin, secretary-treasurer of the association, said he would have to relinquish his office this year because of the press of business.

1949 Appeal Likely To Be Set At $70,000

An increase in the amount of money to be sought in the Red Cross and Community Chest campaign next February was forecast at the annual meeting of the officers held this week.

Last winter the appeal was for $60,000 and the drive will produce $65,778 before the year ends. Even with this amount the executive found it necessary to use $10,000 from the contingency fund of $25,000 which was established during the boom years of the war. It was tentatively mentioned the appeal in 1949 would be for $70,000, because of an anticipated increase in demands.

Requests to become agency members of the Fund were received from three sources. St. John Ambulance Association, House of Providence and the Anson House.

James Hamilton speaking to the enquiries said the Anson House Board went $700 behind in 1948, and had to take this sum from a reserve fund. He voiced sympathy with the people who are operating such institutions because of the substantial increase in the costs of essential commodities.

James Dutton said old people are the forgotten group in this civilization, and he urged that every consideration be given to these appeals, particularly because old age pensioners in such places are not eligible for a cost of living bonus as are other pensioners living with relatives or in their own homes.

On motion of W. A. Richardson and Gordon S. Matthews all three appeals were referred to the executive committee with a suggestion that all three be sent copies of the bylaws so that each may ascertain if it can qualify as an agency member.

Ross Dobbin, chairman of the fund and the other officers were re-elected in block for another term. Chris Hughes and Mrs. J. H. Vernor are vice-presidents, Ernie Wolff is secretary and Thomas MacKay, treasurer. Ed. Humpage was re-appointed auditor.

The budget committee was also re-elected and includes W. A. Richardson, J. E. Girven, John R. Corkery, Ian McRae and Mrs. J. H. Vernor. The Steering Committee consists of Ross Dobbin, Ian McRae, Gordon S. Matthews, H. L. Garner, Mrs. W. L. Fanning and W. C. Hughes.

Chairman Ross Dobbin in a summary of activities to the annual meeting said the fund was organized in 1941 and the annual appeal for funds is made on behalf of 11 agencies. During those eight years the public has been asked for $465,000 and have responded with more than half a million dollars.

"In 1948 the campaign objective was $60,000 although a preliminary survey indicated $70,000 would be required. $65,000 was subscribed of which $62,000 has been paid in, the balance promised for December. Grants to member agencies in 1947 were $61,875, and in 1948 the sums paid totalled $70,705 an increase of 11 per cent," he said.

PINKERTON PERHAPS?

A flurry of repressed excitement ran through a group of people in a city bank on Tuesday afternoon. It was nearly closing time and two long lines were heading for the tellers to make last minute transactions. Then a woman appeared at the end of one of the lines and took her place. As soon as she noticed the lady, a teller briskly indicated to her, said "I'll get it now." While the other customer waited wonderingly, the teller went into the bank's steel vault and came out a moment later with the precious deposit which had been left at the bank — a bunch of celery. —RB.

Raise City Hydro Quota Must Still Save Power

Peterborough electric power quota has been increased 5 per cent by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, from 229,700 to 252,670 kwh. The average for Monday-Tuesday was 201,000 kwh, and the whole Peterborough statement is favorable.

It has been suggested that this slight advantage should not be noticed by the domestic and commercial power consumers. The first need of the community is power for industry. The people and the stores and offices have been getting along satisfactorily under the restrictions which the power shortage imposed, but if they began to spread themselves with lights and extravagant use of gadgets, there would be no improvement and gain on the factory front where the power is essential.

Utilities Commission yesterday were grateful for the co-operation they have received from the power consumers of the city, in the three brackets, commercial, industrial and domestic. There was no blackout, no interruption, and by the effective response of everybody, the power shortage did not cause any serious inconvenience here.

The quota increase of 22,970 kwh does not invited any extravagant response, just to repeat the proposal, which does not come from the Utilities, first thought should be given to the power needs of industry. December is going to shorten the period of sunlight, and the extra power allowed in the quota may be needed during the next two months.

The Chamber has urged "all voters to support it."

Garbage Litters Roadside Beyond City Limits; Residents Voice Complaints

Garbage is not a nice sight anywhere. And when it is thrown beside a highway, it looks even worse. Some suburban residents near Peterborough have been complaining that this habit is getting beyond the casual stage in some parts of Douro and Otonabee townships. Although the offenders are few, the complainants protest that even a couple of persons doing this make the countryside look bad. The effects on the nose are not too pleasant, either, they add, if one happens to live near these unofficial dumps.

Both townships have bylaws which forbid this irregular dumping practice through the area. Township officials also point out that the Act is prohibited by provincial regulations governing public health. The Highways Department is yet another organization which would clamp down on violators.

Thomas Weir, clerk of Otonabee, said there have been no court action taken yet on the matter.

"There have been some warnings given out, when we found out who were to blame for the messes," he said. A fine up to $25 is allowed in the bylaw of the township.

"There are some who dump right in the village of Keene," Mr. Weir said.

"Every year we send up a bulldozer to push the collection back and cover it up."

He said that the incidents of such illegal dumping were few and that, in most cases, those doing it co-operated when the ill-effects of their act was pointed out.

J. J. Coughlin, clerk of Douro, said that no cases of this nature in that township had been brought to his attention.

City Clerk E. A. Outram expressed the opinion that few of the dumpers would be city residents.

"There would be no need for them to do this," he said, saying that Peterborough's garbage collection system—twice a week—was rated as one of the best in the province. Besides the regular routes and the city incinerator, there is the city dump in Monaghan, south of Lansdowne St., just outside the city limits. This is used by many industries and households for material which has not been picked up by the city collectors.

Principal areas where complaints have been received are: the road cutting southwest from Highway No. 7 A towards the Patterson gravel pit; Sherbrooke Street West; the rifle range line in Otonabee; and the road leading north from the Douro-Otonabee boundary to the canal, one mile east of the city.

Cut Blackout At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 1 (Staff)—There was no "hour of darkness" in this village Tuesday night for the first time in about a month. The customary 60-minute power cut, which had been instituted to aid the hydro-conservation program, was lifted. How long the removal of the hour's blackout will be kept is not known, and is dependent on the general situation of available power.

"It would not be correct to say the cuts are off permanently," said Reeve William C. Grant.

"We cannot say for certain how long it will apply. The whole question depends on how much power there is to distribute."

Gallantry Award Given Boy Scout

On Sunday, June 29th, 1947, Rover Scout Henri Chabot and his three uncles went bathing in the Eaton river. One of his uncles, Armand, who was unable to swim, went in beyond his depth and began to struggle and flounder in the water. Henri, who could swim, went immediately to his aid, while his other two uncles went for help. Although alone and not skilful at diving or swimming under water, Henri dove 10 or 12 times in the muddy water until he recovered the inanimate body of his uncle. He dragged him to shore and applied artificial respiration. When help came, although his uncle had not regained consciousness, he was breathing strongly. Unfortunately Armand Chabot died of complications three days later. For doing exceptionally well in a case of emergency though without special risk to himself, he is presented for decoration.

ROVER SCOUT HENRI CHABOT, 17, of the First Sherbrooke (La Federation) Troop, Quebec, was presented with a Boy Scout Gallantry Award at Government House, Ottawa, today. This marked the first Group Investiture of Boy Scout Gallantry Award recipients at Government House by their Chief Scout, His Excellency Viscount Alexander of Tunis, K.G.

3-Way Battles For Mayoralty

By The Canadian Press

Three-way mayoralty fights are under way in Ottawa and in Chatham while Niagara Falls has a fight between its present mayor and a lone opponent.

The announcement by Mayor Stanley Lewis, 60, of Ottawa, that he was resigning after 12 years in office touched off a scramble to pick his successor. Three members of the Ottawa Board of Control—E. A. Bourque, G. M. Geldert and G. W. Goodwin—qualified Tuesday for the contest.

Qualifications in Chatham left W. George Kerr and A. T. Groombridge in the running against Mayor Ralph D. Steele.

At Niagara Falls, Franklin J. Miller is opposing Mayor William L. Houck.

Meanwhile, it was announced that two political opponents in the 1945 will meet again in the Fort William mayoralty contest. Ald. Fred O. Robinson, CCF member of the legislature, says he plans to oppose the bid of Mayor C. W. Cox of Port Arthur who has announced he will seek the mayoralty of both lakehead cities. Mr. Robinson defeated Mr. Cox in both the provincial elections in which he ran against him.

Committed For Trial

WINNIPEG, Dec. 1 — (CP)—Lillian Krueger, 28, Tuesday was committed for trial on a charge of murdering her infant daughter through neglect Nov. 5. A witness testified he had found the newborn baby lying beside a garbage can at the rear of Miss Krueger's residence.

Rag Apple Achilles Daisy Struts Her Stuff Before 500 Guests At Banquet In Her Honor

KITCHENER, Dec. 1 — Rag Apple Achilles Daisy strutted her stuff today before 500 dinner guests in her first public appearance since she copped the world championship Holstein title for milk production.

She and her owner, W. Albert Seiling of Elmira, were jointly honored at a town-and-country dinner sponsored by the Kitchener Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Waterloo County livestock breeders. The event was held at the market building.

C. D. Graham, deputy minister of agriculture, offered the congratulations of all Ontario to Mr. Seiling for his part in bringing a world record in milk and butter fat production to Waterloo County.

Comfortable in a modern stanchion in a corner of the market's main floor was Daisy herself, blushing mildly over all the nice things said about her and her owner. She punctuated some of the high points of the speeches with enthusiastic moos. Great bouquets of white mums stood in the vases before the honored animal.

Responding to the presentation of a silver-mounted cane by Angus Weber, on behalf of the Waterloo Holstein Breeders' tAssociation, Mr Seiling said he wanted to share the honor of the achievement with his herdsman, Douglas Fries, and the original breeder, William Smith of Smith Haven Farm, Woodstock

Rag Apple Achilles Daisy (call me Daisy) apparently sensed the presence of international guests including several from South America. At the conclusion of grace, Daisy brought in a "moo" to amen.

Solemn Service Enthrones Luxton As Bishop of Huron

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 1.—(CP).—George R. Luxton today started his career as the sixth English Bishop of Huron, having been consecrated and enthroned amid the pomp and circumstances of the ancient ceremonies of the Church of England.

He was led to the Bishop's throne in St. Paul's Cathedral Tuesday after kneeling before Bishop R. J. Renison of Moosonee, acting metropolitan of Ontario, in the solemn service of concentration.

The pageantry of the enthronement started when the new bishop, his arrival having been announced by a fanfare of trumpets, knocked three times on the west door of the cathedral. It ended when Bishop Luxton, invester with his pastoral staff, ring and pectoral cross, led a procession of bishops, clergy and laity out of the great cathedral.

Fellow church men in gowns and surplices marched in processional with the 41-year-old clergyman chosen at a special meeting of Huron Synod Oct. 19 to succeed the late Archbishop Seager. The enthronement was the first in St. Paul's in more than 40 years.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "Canada Unlimited"

When Jacques Cartier arrived in Canada in 1534, he found the Indians living in strange-looking tepees made of branches and skins.

In 1608, Samuel de Champlain's fort was made of wood, surrounded by a stockade. The buildings that followed were made of great hewn beams, chinked with mortar.

In 1639, in Sillery, Quebec, the erection of a two-storey, stone building was an ambitious project—but by 1750, most buildings were of stone, with windows of oiled paper.

Style in early Canada brought wood again into the building picture. Soon frame houses appeared, and gaily stood out from their drab stone neighbours.

Brick began to replace stone around 1800 in new buildings, and today many houses are of warm, substantial brick construction.

Today we have "solar" houses, of shiny, light aluminum, The opportunity for new ideas in construction are boundless — because there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Must Uphold Belief

Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of all Canada, said in the sermon that it was important to uphold belief in the church as a power which will go forward triumphant, come what may.

"Such a view of the church and her ministry is important to uphold in these days when secularism spurns conceptions of Divine origin," he said.

Archbishop Kingston said the new Bishop's past work had been "well done." He had served four years as Dean of Huron and as Rector of St. Paul's Cathedral and had ministered faithfully to those committed to this charge.

Of the Divine origin and nature of the church, Archbishop Kingston said:

"This is an important conviction for the people and for the Bishop himself. It is important for the people because it gives them a definite and helpful view of the nature of the church and of the ministry. It is important for the Bishop because it gives him strength and confidence in time of need."

US Prison Record So Good Canadian Judge Frees Man

WINNIPEG, Dec. 1 (CP) — A man who shot himself out of a police ambush in near-by St. Boniface 10 years ago, and shortly afterward was sentenced to 14 years in a United States penitentiary for a hold-up attempt at New Orleans, today was given a new lease on life.

Returned to Canada this year to face a charge of shooting at three Winnipeg policemen Nov. 3, 1938, Walter Arthur Hayes pleaded guilty at his speedy trial. After listening to letters forwarded by penitentiary authorities at Louisiana, Judge A. R. Masconnell today suspended sentence for two years.

One of the letters from the warden of the prison where Hayes had spent approximately nine years spoke of him in glowing terms. It said he had become an expert diesel and electric engineer mainly through study and hard work, and for three years had been a trusty, doing a responsible job in the prison.

A second letter from the Louisiana parole officer said that Hayes was felt to be a trustworthy, conscientious prisoner of superior intelligence and possessed a great mechanical aptitude. It recommended probation, as otherwise the long years of constructive work in the United States prison would be lost.

Judge Macdonnell said the charge was one of the most serious that could be laid against a man and ordinarily a heavy sentence would be imposed. If authorities in the United States could write letters speaking so highly of the accused, however, there must be something of great weight attached to it.

18-Month Sentence

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 1 (CP).—Robert Harrison, formerly of Brockville, was sentenced to 18 months in reformatory Tuesday on a charge of theft at Nipigon last Sunday. He pleaded guilty to the charge, that of stealing a suitcase and $100 in cash.

ARMY SCHOOL—In a former detention barracks, children of men serving at the Barriefield army camp are learning their three R's. Prior to opening of seven such schools across Canada, from Calgary to Petawawa and as far north as Churchill, Man., the army was faced with the problem of how the 960 children of married soldiers would receive their education. This Canadian Army photo shows children taking a grade two lesson from teacher Mrs. F. M. Clarke.

Takes Children To Hamilton

TORONTO, Dec. 1.—(CP). — Alfred Provo of Hamilton, who early Tuesday recovered his two children, Bill and Barbara Ann, abandoned last Friday in a downtown Toronto store, learned Tuesday that the youngsters will go back with him to Hamilton today.

Provo, 37, said that his wife left Hamilton last Friday with three of their four children, intending to find employment in Toronto after being cramped into crowded rooms in Hamilton Since Friday the two children have been cared for in a Toronto infants' home.

He was told Tuesday that arrangements had been made for the children to be cared for by the Hamilton Children's Aid Society.

He still has no information about the whereabouts of his wife, expecting their fifth child in three months, and their five-year old son, Edward.

Meanwhile, offers of help came in Tuesday for the worried father, who blames financial troubles and crowded living quarters for the breaking-up of his family. Strangers have sent cheques to help him find his wife and child, and to help him obtain more suitable living accommodation. The oldest child, eight-year-old Louise, is living in a Hamilton boarding house.

Believe Britain Reluctant To Signing Wheat Pact

By JUNE BAINBRIDGE

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(Reuters). —Grain traders here believe that Britain's Food Ministry will back any concrete proposal to discuss a new international wheat agreement—but would be extremely reluctant to sign such an agreement.

They also speculate that Argentina and Russia will not likely accept invitations to such discussions, and they consider Australia probably the only member of the old international wheat council whole-heartedly in favor of a new agreement.

President Truman's recent statement in Washington that he believes a new international wheat agreement should be sought caused no surprise in London. Everyone connected with the British grain trade had, in fact been expecting such a suggestion ever since the United States' elections.

After this year's agreement failed to materialize, Britain, with Canada and other signatories to the agreement, committed herself to holding such discussions if and when the preparatory council decided such discussions could profitably be held. But traders said today they believed Britain only ratified the 1948 agreement because the British authorities believed it to be politically desirable at that particular time. Even then Britain considered the agreement to be economically undesirable.

Australia, it was believed, although she would not have such a large wheat surplus this year as last, would continue to welcome an international agreement.

Asks Conservatives To 'Sell' Own Party

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — (CP)— Progressive Conservatives were urged Tuesday to "stop moaning about the socialists and the communists" and to pay more attention to "selling" their own party.

The admonition came from Mary Skeans of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Young Progressive Conservative Business Men's Club of Toronto, she said:

"When we have more people really enthusiastic about Conservatism than about socialism, we can stop worrying."

Premier Kennedy told a meeting Tuesday night of Toronto district young Progressive-Conservatives that a party "doesn't deserve to win" if it has only "a bill of goods to sell."

A party should have "members with ability, sincerity and a sense of responsibility," he told a group of more than 600, who met the premier and members of his cabinet.

Returning To England

EDMONTON, Dec. 1 — (CP)— Michael Townsend, navigator for Mrs. Richard Morrow-Tait on her attempted round-the-owrld flight, Tuesday left by plane for Montreal to return to England. Townsend and Mrs. Morrow-Tait were flown to Edmonton in a United States air force bomber when their light plane crashed about 230 miles southeast of Fairbanks, Alaska. Mrs. Morrow-Tait still plans to complete her world flight after she raises enough money to pay for repairs to her aircraft.

Fog Blankets Ottawa

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 — (CP)—A heavy blanket of smoke and fog Tuesday night rolled over the capital slowing up ground traffic and disrupting air line schedules. Both Colonial and Trans-Canada Air Lines rerouted their planes to Montreal and Toronto.

Rental Case Heard In January

MILTON, Dec. 1 — (CP).— A test case in which a landlord challenged the legality of Federal rental regulations was adjourned Tuesday until late January. Counsel will present their arguments when the hearing, an appeal before County Judge A. Cochrane, resumes on a date not yet fixed.

The landlord, Joseph Adams of Burlington, contended that rent control provisions enacted in wartime should no longer be held to be effective. He appealed against his conviction and $500 fine last July for charging $50 a month rent for a duplex on which Prices Board rentals officers had fixed a monthly rental of $37.

Defence Counsel Robert Reid demanded production of Orders-in-Council dealing with rent controls and a copy of a speech he said Finance Minister Abbott made last October stating that Canada's state of war emergency was at an end.

When Judge Cochrane refused to order the documents produced, Mr. Reid announced that he would seek a subpoena to compel Mr. Abbott to appear as a witness.

Scouts Share Honors At Investiture

By KAY REX.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 — (CP). — A 10-year-old Boy Scout from Windsor, and a couple of 'teen-age Scouts from Terrace, BC, and Sherbrooke, Que., will share honors with war heroes at an investiture to-day at Government House.

The Chief Scout for Canada — Viscount Alexander — will present the awards in the course of a ceremony which will see more than 100 high-ranking officers from the three armed services receive decorations ranging from the medal of the Commander of the British Empire to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The Silver Cross, one of the highest awards the Scout Association gives for bravery, goes to Cub Gordon St. Onge of Windsor, who last winter rescued another boy from drowning in the Detroit River.

A courageous effort to save the life of a younger brother when the family home went up in flames won the Silver Cross for 15-year-old Roy Clifford of Terrace.

Rover Scout Henri Chabot, 17, of Sherbrooke, will be decorated with the Gilt Cross for rescuing his uncle from drowning.

Six adults who have played important parts in Canadian Scouting also will receive awards —the Silver Wolf to H. J. Carmichael, St. Catharines, W. R. Creighton, Ottawa, and W. H. Miner, Granby, Que.; the Silver Acorn to R. D. F. Bourne, Hamilton, F. Foulds, Ottawa, R. T. Stanley, Toronto, and W. E. Hardiman, Winnipeg.

Others Decorated

At an investiture on Tuesday, journalists, scientists, and economic experts, who made outstanding contributions to Canada's war effort, were among those decorated.

The medal of the Order of the British Empire went to G. C. Monture, of the Mines and Resources Department, who served in the war as executive assistant to Metals Controller, Mr. Monture is a great-grandson of Captain Joseph Brant, the famous Mohawk Chief.

A prominent Canadian journalist, Ross Munro, received the OBE "for distinguished service" overseas while a war correspondent with the Canadian Press. Mr. Munro now is Parliamentary correspondent for Southam news service.

Two prominent atomic energy scientists from Chalf River, Ont., Dr. G. C. Laurence and Dr. B. W. Sargent, were also among those receiving the MBE Medal, both for meritorious service in the atomic energy field.

SOYBEAN KING—William R. Beattie of Staples, Ont., Shows some of the Lincoln soybeans which won him the title of "Soybean King" at the 49th International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago. The beans were picked from the run of his 40-acre field as it was being combined. In past years he has exhibited corn at both the Chicago show and the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

Canada's Basic Trade Worry To Keep Overseas Market

HALIFAX, Dec. 1 — (CP). — Canada's fundamental trade problem is preserving overseas markets for goods it cannot sell in North America, H. D. Burns, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia said to-day.

But he told the 117th annual meeting of the bank that European recovery was still the primary problem.

"Until the countries of Western Europe, working together and aided by this continent, succeed in establishing satisfactory and orderly economic conditions and a greater degree of political unity, there is little prospect that the Russian pressure will subside," he said.

General Manager H. L. Enman old the meeting that current loans had increased "only moderately" — from $192,000,000 to $201,000,000 — during the year because "banks and the business community in general have been increasingly careful to guard against the dangers of an over-extended credit position."

Mr. Burns said 1948 had been a year of "record-breaking" business activity.

He warned that the Canadian business structure now "is more vulnerable to any reaction that might occur in the United States and that we face difficult and perhaps increasing problems in overseas export markets."

Mr. Enman said that Banks' holdings of government securities had increased slightly during the year, in "marked contrast to developments in 1947 when the banks' holdings.... were sharply reduced."

Eaton's Buys Vancouver Store

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1.—(CP). —On Thursday morning 1,500 Vancouver department-store employees will troop back from their Wednesday holiday to do business at the same old stand but under a brand new boss.

Outwardly there will be no visible manifestations of the business deal, rumored to involve $15,000,000 or more, which saw the province-wide holdings of David Spencer Ltd. with its 3,000 employees pass into the hands of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd.

But the transaction marks the end of an empire, Tuesday Chris Spencer, 20-year-old patriarch of the 'family" chain, quietly confirmed the rumors that have been sliding along his polished counters for weeks.

Standing on a mezzanine balcony in the Hastings St. store, he told his assembled employees that the mounting pressure of war-bred taxes and succession duties made it impossible for his business to carry on.

He said he had considered offers from New York, Eastern Canada and the old country.

Describing the Eaton chain as also a "family store" he said: "I think you will consider the present course the natural one, and best for all concerned."

Northern Missions Badly Understaffed

TORONTO, Dec. 1.—(CP). — Anglican mission work in the Canadian north is threatened by a shortage of ministers and missionaries, Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Anglican Primate of all Canada, said Tuesday night.

"No other church in any country has such a proud page of history as that of the Church of England in the north and northwest," he told a St. Andrew's Day meeting at the Church of the Messiah. "But this work now is being threatened."

Archbishop Kingston said that, while he was in England to attend the recent Lambeth conference, he asked that 50 clergymen be sent from England to alleviate the shortage in Canada. His request was rejected by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York because England, too, has a clergy shortage.

Prices Of Homes Up

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — (CP)— Most home-hunters knew this already, but prices of houses in Ontario have increased in price since last year. But a poll of Ontario real-estate agents by the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards said prices of modern industrial plants, farms and summer residential properties remained steady.

THE GOLD MEDAL of the Nu Sigma Nu fraternity, presented only 14 times previously in the 66 years of the organization, was awarded to Dr. Charles H. Best of Toronto at the closing banquet of the annual convention in Montreal recently. Dr. Best was the speaker at the gathering attended by 50 delegates from the 42 chapters throughout North America. He gave a non-scientific talk on Canada, which he illustrated with paintings by himself and members of his family.

YWCA Supper Club Girls Model Appealing Fashions

Modelling for the first time Tuesday evening, ten members of the YWCA Teen and Twenty Supper Club presented a "March of Fashions" specially suited to the career girl's budget. The girls did exceptionally well and pleased an audience of 450 women gathered in the Kawartha Room, Empress Hotel. Lively commenting by Mrs. Maurice Holt, who didn't miss one trick of fashion appeal, brought the show to many who were unable to see much of the clothes except as the model came down the aisle. Versatility of Frank Hamon, pianist, was a great help to the models for he suited his tempo to each gait and his selection to the type of costume being shown. He also accompanied Miss Nicolette Humphrey, soloist, who entertained during intermission, and then teamed with Miss Dorothy Whatley to present a pleasing piano arrangement.

Sweetest of all the models were tiny tots, Wanda and Dianne Wesenberg, who appeared in three piece suits of navy and red. Their little flared skirts with wide shoulder straps and long sleeved boleros were of of fine English wool and they had silk blouses with short sleeves, and Peter Pan collars with decorative edging. Wanda wore a tam and Dianne a poke bonnet that were hand-made of soft Angora wool.

The new short hair styling that has been generally accepted and is expected to hold the lead for several years was presented by Miss Margaret Scollard. Her smooth dark hair had been expertly cut and shaped to her head and the ends were neatly turned upward. Mrs. Blanche Logan had the short dark hair in an updo that suggested glamorous evenings. Mrs. Helen Brazer and Mrs. Ada Merrett had arranged all models' hair in most becoming style at their beauty salon.

Make-up was done by Miss Mary McKee. Favors were received by the first 350 guests.

With Christmas gift planning uppermost in the mind, the show gave headline billing to fresh exquisite creations in lingerie. Chill weather housecoats came first with Miss Helen Strano wearing a tailored wool plaid with white braid finishing and fringe on the tie belt Another was in blue wool with Peter Pan collar and a rounded yoke, front and back, trimmed with plaid, as were the sleeves and pocket. This was most becoming to the blonde wearer, Miss Doris Dawson, and she completed the ensemble with cozy blue brushed wool slippers.

A hostess coat of black quilted slipper satin worn by Miss Mary Dodds highlighted very feminine gowns. It was lined with blue crepe and had pockets intricately shaped and puffed with an appliqued red rose emphasizing their half-moon shaped opening. For the travel-minded business girl there was a gown of corded bengaline in black with floral design which had a generous wrap-around, one pouch-style pocket and a deep frill around the bottom. Lounging costumes worn by Misses Joan Evans and Helen Hall were jackets of Chinese coral and gold brocade with black corded braid accents at the side closing, Chinese collars and wide sleeves, with tailored slacks of fine corded bengaline.

After displaying the lovely gowns that set many dreaming of Christmas morning, several of the models revealed they were already prepared for sleeping. They had chosen soft pink jersey pyjamas, fashioned with square neckline, edged with lace, that was also in three wide bands across the bodice and peplum; nighties in similar material with prettily detailed lace trim, and one of white satin, also with Val lace edging.

Twosomes for day and date wear were stunning blouses above skirts of black crepe, enhanced with slanting braid ruching, and black moire with all around frill, cascading at the back. A pink blouse with push-up sleeves had a deep yoke of imported lace that edged the sleeve frill. A chic Mandarin type blouse had rich gold braid on the neckline and sleeves and matching gold buttons as its only adornment, but had the distinctive appearance of careful detailing. Miss Helen Weddell was outstanding in this group, wearing a plaid skirt in beautiful shades of garnet, blue and winter white, pleated all around and at a graceful length. With it she wore a wool pullover and a garnet blazer with white cord braid. Charming for dating was the black blouse with eight rows of tiny pin tucks down each side and a row of lace at centre front which showed off rhinestone jewellery. The skirt of black crepe was tiered and full for dancing, and had a deep row of lace around the hemline.

A black satin basic dress that had the subtle simplicity, never out of fashion, was offered as a "great dollar stretcher." It was worn with rhinestone jewellery, but personal taste could make it look different for each occasion with addition of perhaps a gold belt and double snake chain. Then there was a striped jersey finger-length top with trim of covered buttons on the crepe flares worn with a slim black skirt.

Petite Mary Knox modelled a stunning two-piece dress of navy bengaline and white stripe, the slim smooth skirt one she could call upon for double duty with dainty blouses. The top had a semi-tailored front view with small collar and covered buttons down the centre and the sleeves long with a turnback cuff. The deep peplum was intricately pleated and puffed in bustle style at the back and topped off with a bow. A rust wool casual dress was shown with green alligator trim for contrast and the model wore green calf high heel sandals.

A natty dress of red gabardine with gold buttons on the notched openings that emphasized the Mandarin collar had particular appeal to the trim business girl. Importance of back interest in the fashion picture was stressed in a rustling taffeta teen dress that is available in bouquet colors, and has billowing full circled tiers for figure prettifying. A suit in forest green wool worn with leopard fabric shortie coat and matching cloche was striking and the outfit was complemented by a handbag made of green polished saddle hide with a leather lining that is so easy to wipe clean. Chic tailored lines were presented in a suit of red gabardine with intricate pocket detailing and covered buttons on the lined jacket and featuring the popular straight slit skirt. It was worn without a blouse to give an uncluttered neckline with which to wear a piece of costume jewellery.

Miss Pauline Trudeau modelled the Collegiate teener's favorite this winter — a wine wool coat with wing collar and full back. She also chose a black shoulder strap bag which would leave her arms free to carry books, and warm Jacquard wool gloves. Her chiffon velvet beret was dressy and had pheasant feather trim. Another favorite was the swing back polo cloth coat of beige with detachable hood lined with brown velvet and with it the model wore a pair of Sun Valley boots, with hearling lining showing on the turned-down cuff. Several winter coats shown had lavish fur collars. The untrimmed represented two popular styles, both in black —one with a half-belt at the back defining a tiny waistline and double-breasted at front with two rows of covered buttons, the other a chesterfield coat with straight back silhouette and pleat, and raglan sleeves.

Shoes were carefully selected to complete each ensemble, and hats, bags and gloves to complement were added to the outdoor costumes.

NEW STRAPLESS swim suit, delightfully feminine with its petal scallop top and its shirred front panel skirt.

Miss Ila B. Giles Honored For 25 Years' Service

Office and field staff of the Peterborough Division of the Confederation Life Insurance Company honored Miss Ila B. Giles upon completion of 25 years service with the company. She became a member of the Quarter Century Club, the first woman to do so in the Peterborough Division.

Miss Giles was guest of honor at a dinner held in the Empress Hotel Monday evening. She was presented with a silver tea service by Mr. D. L. MacDougall, general superintendent of agencies from head office, Toronto. A scroll and radio were presented on behalf of the field and office staffs by Mr. Maurice B. Pringle. There was also a bouquet of roses for Mrs. Giles, her mother, who was unable to be present.

Mr. Peter B. Mather, manager of the Peterborough Division, was chairman.

Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. D. L MacDougall, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mather, Mr. and Mrs J. M. Roger, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lowes, Mr. and Mrs G. O. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Giffen, Norwood; Mr. and Mrs R. A. Stewart; Miss Zella Bush, Miss Greta Giles, Mr., M. B. Pringle and Mr. W. E. Dixon.

ELEGANT DETAIL — Harmoniously handled detail is a major factor in this season's fashions, whether it is used on a simple sports dress or an after five frock. A transparent yoke of champagne colored net sets off a wide band of gold encrusted braiding and embroidery on this impressive dinner dress. A taut, fitted bodice flows into a rippling, pleated skirt, its fullness controlled by a wide, hip-swathing sash.

DOROTHY DIX

Vital Information Required Before Marriage Proposed

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: As I recently have become engaged to a very wonderful girl and would like to avoid any possible trouble in the future, I would like to know what questions I should ask her prior to our marriage. I shall greatly appreciate any information you can give me on the subject.

HORACE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Right you are, Son, for every man who gets married practically buys a pig in a poke.

No matter how long he has courted Angel Face nor how sure he is that he knows her like a book, he finds out that is she is a surprise package that he doesn't know how to handle. This is inevitable, for youngsters in love don't really try to find out anything about each other on the safe side of the altar. The only questions they ask are: "How much do you love me? Will you always love me?" And while that is valuable information, there are other questions that a man is wise to ask his prospective bride.

For instance, just as no prudent man would invest all of his capital in a house without finding out whether he was getting a clear title to it or not, so he should inquire of Little Sweetie whether she is always going to be Mama's spoiled little baby girl, or whether she is going to make the kind of a wife who is a real helpmeet to her husband. This is a $64-dollar question, for mothers alienate far more wives from their husbands than gigolos do.

Money Question Vital

Then comes the money question. Before a man asks a girl to marry him he should tell her exactly how much money he makes, and ask her if she is willing to live in a cold water flat, pinch pennies and wear basement bargains. If she thinks it would be a lark, let the wedding bells ring. Otherwise pass her up. A wife who loves luxuries better than she does her husband is a poor bet.

Be sure before you pop the question to get your girl friend's views on cooking. If she is allergic to the kitchen, change the subject under discussion from romance to the atomic bomb. No matter what other talents and virtues a woman may have, if she lacks the domestic instinct she is a failure as a wife. No man who comes home tired and hungry from a long, hard day's work wants to sit down to a meal that would give an ostrich stomach ulcers in a room that looks like a cyclone has passed through it.

So, Son, my earnest advice to you is never to get serious with a girl until you have dropped in on her for a family meal and seen if the floors are clean and the pie crust flakey. Wise is the guy who asks his sweetie for her recipe for mayonnaise before he asks for her hand in marriage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently I have been going with a married man and everything is all right, for he has told me over and over again that he has found in me the only girl he ever loved. He has a wife and three daughters. Two of them are married, and he says that as soon as he educates the single one he will get a divorce and marry me. But what worries me is that over a year ago he went into business with a young girl and she is with him constantly. She drives him everywhere he goes and I don't like for him to ride around with her so much.

Please advise.

PENNY

ANSWER: You say that your liaison with the married man is all right, but it is all wrong. You cannot possibly think that you are doing the right thing when you steal a woman's husband away from her and break up her home. Many and many a night the flouted wife must have wept herself to sleep. Many and many a time the daughters of the old roue must have writhed in shame as they saw the disgusting spectacle he was making of himself. And you think that is all right because you are enjoying dancing down the primrose path. But those who dance always have to pay the piper, and your day of settlement has come.

The new girl is taking your place and in a little while you will be the discarded woman who soaks her pillow with her tears. Doing wrong doesn't pay. Especially for women.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a beautiful baby four months old, but I am unhappy because my husband doesn't like her and gets angry with me if I ask him to hold her. What do you think of a man who doesn't like his own child?

MRS. V. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: He is just jealous. He can't stand having his nose put out of joint by a mere infant. Use a little tact in dealing with your problem. Don't try to force the child on her father. Just wait until the baby gets to the cute age and he will be crazy about her.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

From any druggist, get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Thus you make 16 ounces of a very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much cough syrup for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness very promptly.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, December 2

Although there may be an indomitable determination to concentrate the energies and resources upon distant goals, or to reach important objectives or promote cherished ambitions by main strength or sheer force of will and effort, there is danger of overdoing, not only in strength and substance but in counting upon promises and false values or cooperation. Some sudden reversal or crash may demand a revamping of plans, a change of tactics and practical policies for long-term realization.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, while inclined to marshall all the forces, resources and energies upon the launching of a cherished program for long-range fulfillment and substantial realization, yet the prospects are that a reorganization of plans or a radical change of tactics, brought about by an unforseen development or the failure of a promise of cooperation, or possibly the running out of funds, may have a sudden climax.

A child born on this day is well equipped with "what it takes" for a progressive career and fulfilled ambitions against sudden crashes or reversals.

JERICHO'S WALLS

Jericho was the first Canaanite city to be attacked by the Israelites, according to the account by Joshua in the Old Testament.

How Your Child May Be Inviting Colds

Due to being indoors more with less chance for play, many youngsters' bowels become less regular in winter and this condition often lowers resistance and invites colds and cold germs. To help prevent such colds, keep your child's bowels regular with Children's Own Tablets. These pleasant little tablets for youngsters 3 to 15 are a laxative and more. They also help sweeten the sour stomach that often goes with out-of-order bowels. Get Children's Own Tablets today and guard your child against unnecessary colds. 25¢ at druggists.

Shall never fade away.

NOTICE AND SYNOPSIS OF A PROPOSED MONEY BY-LAW RE PETERBOROUGH CIVIC HOSPITAL, TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTE OF THE RATEPAYERS AT THE ANNUAL CIVIC ELECTION, ON MONDAY, DECEMBER 6TH, 1948.

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough proposes to pass a Money By-law, Number 4737, entitled, 'A By-law Authorizing the Borrowing of $1,500,000.00 Upon Debentures for the Peterborough Civic Hospital.'"

THE BY-LAW RECITES AS FOLLOWS

"WHEREAS the Council of the City of Peterborough did pass By-law Number 4403 to provide the sum of $600,000.00 for the purpose of Constructing the Peterborough Civic Hospital."

"AND WHEREAS the sum of $600,000.00 and other moneys granted by the County of Peterborough, the Peterborough Utilities Commission, and the Peterborough City Trust was insufficient for the said purpose and it is necessary to raise a further sum of $1,500,000.00 to complete the Erection, Establishment, and Equipment of the said Peterborough Civic Hospital."

"AND WHEREAS it is expedient to borrow for the Erection, Establishment and Equipment of the Peterborough Civic Hospital and Ancillary Buildings, a sum not exceeding $1,500,000.00 upon the credit of the Corporation, to issue Debentures therefor bearing interest at the rate of Three and One-quarter (3¼%) per centum per annum payable semi-annually and to provide for the discount and expenses incidental to negotiation and sale of such Debentures."

THEREFORE, THE PURPOSE OF THE BY-LAW is to authorize the issuing of Debentures to complete the Erection, Establishment and Equipment of the said Peterborough Civic Hospital.

THE DEBENTURES, it is provided, will be repayable on the instalment plan during the period of twenty years and bear interest at the rate of Three and One-quarter (3¼) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

THE AMOUNT TO BE RAISED annually for the payment of the instalments and interest during the term of twenty years will be approximately $103,099.50.

TAKE NOTICE that the foregoing is a Synopsis of the Proposed By-law of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough to be submitted to the Votes of Electors qualified to Vote thereon, such Votes to be taken at the time of the Municipal Elections, on MONDAY, THE SIXTH DAY OF DECEMBER 1948, and at the same Hours at which Voting will take place for the Candidates for Election to the Council of the City of Peterborough.

AND THAT ON THE 3RD DAY OF DECEMBER, 1948, at the Hour of Three o'clock in the Afternoon, the Head of the Council or some Member of the Council, appointed for that purpose by resolution, shall attend at the City in the said Municipality for the purpose of appointing, and, if requested so to do, shall appoint by writing signed by him, Two Persons to attend at the final summing up of the Votes by the Clerk, and One Person to attend at each Polling Place on behalf of the persons interested in and promoting the proposed By-law, and a like number on behalf of the persons interested in and opposing the proposed By-law.

ON THE 7TH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1948 at the Hour of Eleven o'clock in the Forenoon, at the City Hall, in the said Municipality, the Clerk shall attend and sum up the Votes given for and against the proposed By-law.

AND TAKE NOTICE FURTHER that a Corporation (Company) entitled to appoint a Nominee to Vote on its behalf shall not later than the 10th Day before the day appointed for taking the Vote file with the Clerk of the Municipality an appointment in writing of a person to Vote as its Nominee and on its behalf as provided by Section 263, Sub-Section 4, of the Municipal Act.

AND TAKE NOTICE FURTHER that a Tenant who desires to Vote must deliver to the Clerk not later than the 10th Day before the day appointed for taking the Vote the Declaration provided for by Sub-Section 3 of Section 283 of the Municipal Act.

IF THE ASSENT of the Electors is obtained for the said By-law, this fact will be taken into consideration by the Municipal Council of the said Corporation at a Meeting thereof to be held at the expiration of Two Weeks after the result of the Voting has been declared.

Claims Police Invaded His Livingroom

James Heffernan of 438 Driscoll Terrace was fined $10 and $2.50 costs in police court today when Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, found him guilty of being drunk in public, despite the accused's argument that the police "took me right outa me own livingroom."

PC's Claire McGillen and George Shaw testified that they had gone to Heffernan's home on Nov. 3 after a call from the tenants there. They said they found him "in a very drunken condition" and PC McGillen advised him to go to bed and not go outside. He said the accused followed the officers out on the street and then they arrested him and took him to the police station.

"He said he could go anywhere we did," said PC Shaw.

". . . And he did, too," commented defence counsel Emmett Sheehy.

Asked about his drinking that day, the accused said he had "a glass of beer a couple of hours before the police arrived. Only drink before that had been "one glass" of wine about 11 a.m.

"And just a wine-glass, too, not a beer glass," added Heffernan, demonstrating the relative sizes of said glasses with his fingers. Asked if he had spent three months in jail before for being drunk, he admitted it and added: "That was when I slipped on a banana peel down here on Water Street."

Had he also been convicted of drunk driving, he was asked.

"Yes, that was when I burnt my fingers while I was driving," he explained to the court.

Milverton Job Major Feat In Engineering

OTTAWA, Dec. 1 — (CP). — A major engineering feat was accomplished in the salvaging of the freighter Milverton from the rocky St. Lawrence River ledge where she grounded in 1947 after a collision with the tanker Transake, a government official said Tuesday.

He said the freighter was practically broken in two as a result of the September 24, 1947, collision which took the lives of 12 members of the Milverton's crew.

The refloating of the vessel on Monday from a ledge near Morrisburg, Ont., was considered a "great feat of salvage because seldom has a vessel so badly damaged been taken out as a whole," he said.

The Department of Transport last August ordered removal of the vessel from the St. Lawrance River channel and work was undertaken almost immediately nuder the supervision of officials of Colonial Lines, owners of the ship.

Because of the condition of the ship, temporary bulkheads had to be installed. The salvagers found that they could not remove her cargo of 800 tons of coal so they resorted to pumps similar to those used to refloat the former French liner Normandie which sank in New York Harbor during the war.

It is not yet known here where the vessel will finally be taken for completion of the salvage work.

The Milverton now is tied up at Prescott.

Million- Dollar Questions Involved In Defence Pact

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Oec. 1 (CP)—Million-dollar questions are staring Canadians in the face these days as their government prepares to link them with an Atlantic defence alliance that marks a revolutionary step in national foreign policy.

Other than generalities, there have been no answers from official sources. The reason given is that the seven powers involved have promised not to give any information until decision has been reached, probably within the next few months.

Here are some of the questions:

1. How long will it last? There have been suggestions that the French favor 50 years, the British 25, the Americans 10 with qualified pledges of renewal. Canada has said nothing. A good bet: in effect, it will last as long as its reason for existence—the threat of Russia.

2. How tight will its commitments be? France has been after guarantees that the U.S. will use its full force against any country attacking a pact nation. The U.S. wants protection for its constitutional provision that Congress declares wars, might accept the principle of taking action against an aggressor while retaining the right to determine whether it goes to war. Traditional Canadian reserve may well argue for some similar degree of sovereign decision. In 1939, Canada's cabinet declared war, then called parliament and asked approval.

3. How much will it cost? Experts have been discussing the economic and financial implications but nobody has even guessed publicly.

4. What would Canada's major contribution be? An official quote: "It would be the task of the security system, once established, to agree upon a fair allocation of duties under which each country will undertake to do that share of the joint defence and production job it can do most efficiently."

5. How might it affect domestic policy? Informed sources see the chance of foreign objection to a Canadian defence policy which would take at least 10 months to get any sizeable force in the field. They also see some implications in these comparable annual per capita spendings on defence: U.S. $107; Britain $56; Holland $28; Canada $27; Belgium $12. It could mean heavier spending in millions of dollars, could raise the bogey of conscription. With poor recruiting for the forces, a hungry arms industry, Canada will probably plump for an arsenal role at first.

6. Will Canadian troops go abroad? Probably only senior officers to joint staffs. Only marked expansion of the forces would allow Canada to send anything but token strengths out of the country.

McCullagh Takes Control Of Paper

TORONTO, Dec. 1 — (CP)— George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, took control of the Evening Telegram today. He purchased the 72-year-old newspaper from the estate of its founder, John Ross Robertson, last Thursday for $3,610,000.

Mr. McCullagh's name, as president and publisher of the paper, replaced those of the five trustees of the John Ross Robertson estate on the editorial page masthead. The paper has been operated by the trustees since the death of Mr. Robertson in 1918.

A page one message to readers over Mr. McCullagh's signature said he was "wholly mindful" of the part the newspaper had played in moulding public opinion and contributing to the welfare of the community and the nation. realized that it represented a great trust.

The paper would be independent in politics but it "would not be worthy of itself or public confidence if it permitted a neutral or indifferent attitude to interfere with public duty." I would seek to give fair treatment to all parties in discussion of political issues. However, it would exercise its right to freedom of expression "in accordance with the interests of the community or the nation, as it sees them."

Finds Shanghai Thrown Off Foreign Touches

By JAMES D. WHITE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 1.—(AP). — They worry here about whether and when the Communists will take Shanghai. And, if that happens, what then?

If the Communists know Shanghai, they are worrying, too.

This is a city of 5,000,000 rugged individualists who are about as inclined to Communism as the New York Stock Exchange. Business careers begin here for impoverished young men or five or six years when they enter commerce with a tray of peanut brittle, millet cakes or a dozen tubes of face-blackening goo which United States Marines never got around to using in the war against Japan.

To whom they sell this stuff is a mystery, but it's for sale all over town. These commercial careers continue through various markets—black and otherwise—to the grave.

To one who last saw Shanghai hushed and sullen under Japanese occupation, the change in the city is astounding. Shanghai now is entirely Chinese with all foreign restraints thrown off.

The police tolerantly watch traffic so crowded and so undisciplined that pedestrians risk injury by simply obeying signals. There's another difference—traffic now moves on the right side of the street, or tends to. However, it is only a tendency—so no real harm is done in Chinese eyes. (Oriental traffic formerly moved on the left side of a street.)

The city is run down, but thoroughly Chinese — and it looks more crowded and busier than ever. Business may be highly inflated, but it is everywhere.

The one-time Paris of the Orident may become a second Moscow, but the Communists can be sure of one thing—it won't be easy.

Gets Seven Days For Drunk Driving

Found guilty of driving when drunk, Roland McCauley of Warsaw was sentenced to seven days in jail today. The accused pleaded not guilty but gave no evidence remarking he had nothing to say.

Provincial Constable Harry Cook testified that he had met the accused on Highway 28, north of the city. McCauley's car was being driven in an irregular manner all over the road he said and when chasing him the police cruiser had to go on the shoulder of the road to avoid a collision.

FRED WIGHT was discharged from his post of governor of the Durham - Northumberland Counties jail at Cobourg following differences of opinion regarding internal administration between himself and the Department of Reform Institutions. He was governor for 13 years.

King Intervenes To Save Historic Lion

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Dec. 1 (CP)—Intervention by the King has saved one of London's best-known statues—the historic Red Lion that stands atop an old brewery on the south side of the Thames, opposite Charing Cross.

For nearly 100 years the Lion has been a landmark. During the war many Londoners came to regard it almost as a mascot as it stood defiantly through every blitz.

Now the brewery is to be torn down. Its site will be included in gardens which the London County Council plans to develop in that area, and which will probably be opened in connection with the festival of Britain Exhibition of 1951.

Fate of the stone Lion was uncertain. The statue is so firmly rooted in concrete base that some contractors regarded its salvage as too expensive. However, the King's request that it be saved won instant approval from the LCC.

Council Surprised

His Majesty surprised the council by his knowledge of the brewery's decorations by enquiring at the same time about a second lion which he thought stood over an entrance. Sure enough, it was there.

The rooftop lion, which was set up in 1799, is to be preserved in the new LCC garden. The second lion, which is on a smaller scale, probably will be given to students of King's College, who said they would like it as a mascot.

LINDSAY, Dec. 1—Suddenly taken ill in the caboose of his train, CNR railroad conductor Bernard J. McEvoy, 57, collapsed and died at Lindsay on Monday. Shortly after arriving for duty he went to his train, in which he was taken ill. The CNR doctor, Dr. M. F. White, was called but on arrival he found Mr. McEvoy was dead.

NEW WASHING DISCOVERY WITH SUPER-WETTING ACTION

washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, EASIER than any soap on earth!

FAB's Super-Wetting Action means that when you wash with FAB, the FAB-and-water solution instantly penetrates materials . . . soaks them more thoroughly. FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—gets inside materials; pushes dirt out!

FAB means faster, cleaner, easier washing of dirtiest overalls, towels, work and play clothes . . . FAB brings extra-dirt-removing power for extra-dirty wash! FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—does away with clinging soap scum! Brings you whiter shirts, towels, and sheets!

Don't miss *FAB*ulous FAB . . . the only thing you'll need for everything you wash!

New scientific washing preparation by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet is a FABulous work saver for the dirtiest overalls, work shirts, children's clothes, towels, shirts...everything that's extra dirty!

FAB WASHES DIRTIEST CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP

FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—instantly penetrates materials; pushes out dirt. Washes grimiest overalls faster than soap! Makes tough dirt like the "line" on shirt collars disappear like magic! FAB leaves no soap scum to "gray" or "yellow" white wash . . . Wash is whiter, cleaner when washed with FAB!

FAB BRIGHTENS SOAP-DULLED COLORS!

Soap-dulled washables look *FAB*ulously brighter, fresher, and newer after being washed with FAB. That's because anything you've washed with soap is made duller and grayer looking by soap scum . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—removes that soap scum . . . leaves no film or scum of its own even in hardest water.

FAB WASHES CHEAPER... IN HARDEST WATER

Laboratory tests prove that cup for cup, in hard water, FAB washes up to twice as much family wash as soap. This economy is another *FAB*ulous miracle. Yes . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—is up to twice as economical as soap in hard water. You'll notice that all of FAB washes . . . Nothing is wasted in soap scum!

WHAT IS SUPER-WETTING ACTION?

See for yourself! Take a length of cotton sewing thread. Roll it into a ball. Drop it into a glass of water. It floats; does not become completely wet for a long time.

Now drop another little ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks, becomes completely soaked at once. This simple test shows you how FAB makes water wetter . . . instantly penetrates all washable materials faster . . . pushes dirt out! That's FAB's FABulous Super-Wetting Action . . . something no soap on earth can give you!

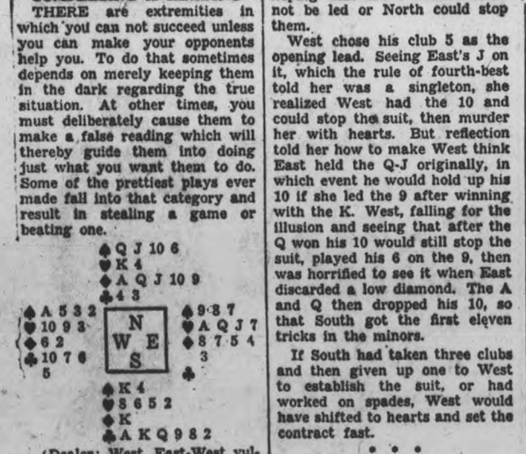
COMPELLING A READING

THERE are extremities in which you can not succeed unless you can make your opponents help you. To do that sometimes depends on merely keeping them in the dark regarding the true situation. At other times, you must deliberately cause them to make a false reading which will thereby guide them into doing just what you want them to do. Some of the prettiest plays ever made fall into that category and result in stealing a game or beating one.



(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	3 NT

Things had been going against South all evening. The opponents had just won the first game of the night's final rubber, and she was desperate. She wanted a game like nobody's business. So, when she heard North's diamond opener, she decided to keep her club suit concealed. If North's second bid had been 3-Diamonds, she would have bid 3-Hearts to head off a lead of that suit and steer it up to her spade K if possible. But when North's second bid was 3-Spades, she gambled on the No Trump anyway, hoping that either hearts would not be led or North could stop them.

West chose his club 5 as the opening lead. Seeing East's J on it, which the rule of fourth-best told her was a singleton, she realized West had the 10 and could stop the suit, then murder her with hearts. But reflection told her how to make West think East held the Q-J originally, in which event he would hold up his 10 if she led the 9 after winning with the K. West, falling for the illusion and seeing that after the Q won his 10 would still stop the suit, played his 6 on the 9, then was horrified to see it when East discarded a low diamond. The A and Q then dropped his 10, so that South got the first eleven tricks in the minors.

If South had taken three clubs and then given up one to West to establish the suit, or had worked on spades, West would have shifted to hearts and set the contract fast.

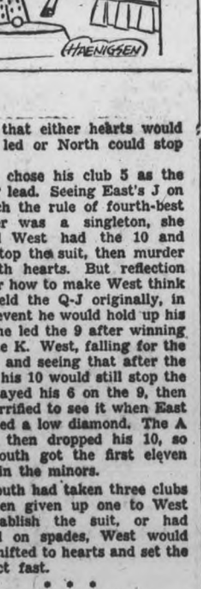
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

What is South's correct play for 3-No Trumps, if the spade J is led?

HALL HAS NEW UNION TO FIGHT REDS

Crew Rows 45 Miles As Ship Sinks

Fight Fire On Vessel For Four Hours; Land On NS Coast

SYDNEY, N.S., Dec. 2 (CP)—Six tough Newfoundlanders were safe here today after barely escaping with their lives from a burning coastal vessel 45 miles off the Cape Breton coast.

Recounting the experiences of his crew of five here today after rowing ashore from the burning ship, Capt. John Grandy, 47, of Grand Banks, Nfld., looked down at a gnarled pair of hands and said with a grin:

"That was a long, hard row but the only ill effects from our whole experience are sore hands."

Gathered around as he told the story of the burning of the 62-ton Trader M. and L. Lodge on her ill-fatted voyage from St. John's, Nfld., to Halifax were the members of his crew.

They were Mate Andrew Rideout of Bay Largert, Nfld., and four other Grand Banks men—Engineer George Patton, his son, Philip, George Harris and Garfield Rogers.

Can't Cope With Fire

The ship with a cargo of empty oil drums was about 45 miles from Scatarie Island off the southeast tip of Cape Breton when fire broke out in the vessel's lighting plant at 730 a.m. Wednesday.

Capt. Grandy said:

"We fought the flames and suffocating smoke until 11:30 a.m. By that time we could hardly stand on the decks they were so hot. The fire was out of control. we had left it too late to save our own personal effects. She's my ship and I didn't want to lose her without a fight. I felt like crying when I ordered abandon ship.

"The only thing we had time to do was pull the compass out of the binnacle and this is one thing that saved us. It was a fine day and we began to row in the direction of where I hoped to pick up the Scatarie light.

Sleet Obscures Stars

"We used the compass until darkness fell and then we steered by the stars but then the weather got dirty and we had rain, sleet, fog and bone-chilling wind. We hadn't had time to grab our heavy overcoats and we were all getting pretty sore and tired from the long shift at the oars.

"The weather had shut out the stars and about this time we began to wonder whether we had made a miscalculation. But just then through the heavy weather came the warming glimmer of the Scatarie light. We had hit it right on the nose.

"We rowed toward shore but realized the heavy seas made it impossible for a safe landing so we skirted Scatarie and made for a more sheltered mainland landing place. We finally touched at Main-a-Dieu.

"We had rowed more than 45 miles. We were dog tired, unhurt and thank God we had reached safety. It was 1:30 a.m. today when we stepped ashore."

COL. CHIANG WEI-KUO (standing on the ground), son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of China and chief of staff of the Chinese Nationalist Armored Corps, gives a tank corps commander final instructions before sending the tanks into action on the Suchow front. The main nationalist army has now abandoned Suchow and is under orders to relieve the 12th Army Group encircled by Red troops. Nanking is threatened by this encirclement.

Trail 3 Oshawa Men By Loot In Trip North

NORTH BAY, Dec. 2—(CP).—Three Oshawa men were in jail here today after Provincial Police, following a trail of a stolen car, rowboat and canoe and a series of break-ins, went up Lake Temagami Wednesday night by motorboat to arrest the trio.

Alec Marcenik 18, Louis Rundle 20 and Wilfred Spencer Wodd 21, were lodged in Nipissing district jail here pending arraignment on charges involving the series of thefts.

Police said the three were arrested in a cottage on the lake, and were surrounded by loot acquired in their trip up the lake. They evidently were planning to spend the winter there, police added.

Among other comforts, police said they found four motors, a skiff, a canoe, bedding and cigarettes at the cottage.

Presence of the three men in the cottage was reported by Maurice McKenzie, who met them on his way to his nearby trap lines.

The trail followed by police started about six miles from Lake Temagami, about 45 miles north of this Northern Ontario town. There a car, believed to have been stolen in Toronto, was found abandoned.

Police said after that they had found at least 14 cottages broken into.

Police say the alleged thieves portaged, entered a lumber camp, proceeded from there to Camp Couchiching, where about 12 cottags were entered, and finished their adventures at the cottage where they were arrested Wednesday night.

Not Planning Conscription Claxton Tells Canadians

OTTAWA, Dec. 2 (CP).—Canada is not considering peacetime conscription, Defence Minister Claxton said today. He was commenting on reports that Canada's obligations under the North Atlantic security pact might make it necessary for the Government to give renewed consideration to some form of compulsory service. At the same time, an External Affairs Department source said:

1. Consideration is being given to a South Pacific regional defence pact, similar to that being prepared for the North Atlantic nations, but Canada is not liable to be a participant.

2. It will be up to parliament to decide whether Canada should or should not give a commitment to the six other Atlantic pact nations that she will go to war immediately if one of them is attacked.

3. There is a possibility that the co-ordination in defences arising from the pact may allow a cut in the over-all defence costs of the seven powers, now running around $20,000,000,000 a year.

Mr. Claxton said October had seen 874 officers and men enter the three regular forces, the best month since December, 1947. The net gain was 600. In the same month, 2,247 men had joined the reserve forces, to make it their best recruiting month since the end of the war.

If enlistments continued at these rates, the forces would have nothing to worry about. Present strength of the three regular services is around 37,000 men.

The Minister, referring to the conscription reports, did not deal at any length with the reasons for not considering compulsory service other than to agree with published reports that it is considered the costs and other inequalities would be out of proportion.

Woman Injured Crossing Bridge

MONTREAL, Dec. 2.—(CP).—An unidentified woman, about 40 years old, was found early today by police semi-conscious and mutilated on Jacques Cartier bridge, spanning St. Lawrence between Montreal and St. Lambert.

Police said one of their officers stationed on St. Helen's Island, which is connected to the bridge near the centre, was attracted by the woman's screams.

The woman was rushed to a Montreal Hospital, where authorities said she is not expected to live.

Police said her purse was missing and they are of the opinion that she was brutally attacked.

Police said the woman suffered a fractured skull, both shoulders were broken and her jaw fractured in two places: Teeth and bits of hair were found scattered over the sidewalk.

Police discounted the possibility she was struck by a car. The sidewalk where she was found is 12 feet from the automobile roadway and separated from it by a tramway track and a high parapet.

32 Groups From TLC Join Set-up

Communist Influence Within Congress Under Consideration

MONTREAL, Dec. 2 —(CP)—Formation of an "anti-Communist" group of international unions known as "The Canadian Association of International Union Representatives" was announced here today.

Frank H. Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, said the group consists of 32 international unions affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Mr. Hall, who led an anti-Red faction at the T.L.C. convention in Victoria in October, announced in a press release that he had been elected chairman of the new group after a three-day session in Montreal.

He gave no details on the future plans of the organization.

"On the initiative and representations of the Canadian officers of these unions," he said, "the executive boards of the respective organizations and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor have the subject of Communism and Communist influence within the Trades and Labor Congress under enquiry and consideration.

Discuss It Soon

"Pending the outcome of these proceedings we do not care to elaborate on the subject. We expect to discuss it further with the A.F.L. council in the near future."

Other officers of the new organization besides Mr. Hall are: vice-chairman, Sam Finlay, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers; secretary, A. R. Johnstone, vice-president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union.

Executive members are: Bernard Shane, international representative of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union; Arthur d'Aoust, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers; Robert Hewitt, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Workmen, and A. G. Hearn, international representative of its Building Service Employees Union.

Trucks Collide 5 People Killed

ST. PETER'S, N.S., Dec. 2. —(CP).—Five persons were killed near this Richmond county village late Wednesday night and three other persons—including a three-year-old child—injured in a collision between two trucks.

The accident occurred about 18 miles from here and few details were available immediate. Coroner A. Binnett of nearby Arichat said, however, that an inquest would be held today.

Unconfirmed reports listed the dead as:

Malcolm McLeod, Inverness N.S.; Margaret McLean, Sydney, N.S.; and three children of Mr. and Mrs. Don Killam. Mr. and Mrs. Killam and another three-year-old son were injured and taken to hospital at Sydney.

It was learned that Hugh MacEachern of Antigonish was driver of the second truck. He was not believed to have been seriously injured.

$32,250 Damages

TORONTO, Dec. 2—(CP).—An Assize Court jury on Wednesday awarded $32,250 damages to Mrs. Marguerite Godard and her two small children, of Toronto, for the traffic accident death of her husband, Harold Godard, on Dec. 23, 1947. Mr. Godard, a stockbroker, was struck by a truck which swerved onto the sidewalk after being hit by a streetcar.

Navy Will Use Cornwallis As Base Again

OTTAWA, Dec. 2 — (CP) — HMCS Cornwallis, former naval training base near Deep Brook, N.S., has been returned to the RCN for use as a new entry training establisnment, Defence Minister Claxton annouced today.

The base was at one time the largest establishment of its kind in the British Empire. It was declared surplus in January, 1946 and since then has been in partial use by the veterans department as a hospital.

Most of the buildings in the $12,000,000 base have been in the hands of War Assets Corporation.

"It is intended," said the announcement, 'to re-open a portion of the Cornwallis as a youth's training establishment for new entry ratings in May, 1949. In the meantime, work and repairs necessary to fit and equip the base for this purpose will be undertaken."

Present maintenance staff of the DVA nospital will be retained and such other civilian personnel as are required will be taken on strength.

Reverts To Barracks

HMCSS Naden, at Esquimalt, B.C., which has served since the war as the navy's new entry training establishment, will revert to its former status as a naval barracks. The supply and secretariat school, at which all the navy's lower-deck secretarial, cook, stores and steward personnel are trained, will remain at Esquimalt, however.

"The purpose in re-opening Cornwallis," the statement said, "is primarily to provide a site which will be devoted entirely to new entry training It has been found that HMCS Naden, which is essentially a barracks, including schools for advanced technical training, does not answer all the requirements in this respect and that new entry training is inclined to interfere with its normal activities and vice versa.

"Likewise, this accommodation would be most useful in the event of the expansion of the navy."

WINDSOR, Dec. 2 — (CP). — A post-mortem was scheduled for to-day in police investigation of the death of Moisey Melnik, 52-year-old automobile factory worker. Mrs. Melnik said her nusoand left his house about 7 p.m. Wednesday to chase some children reported to have broken down a fence. His body was discovered three hours later at the back of a wartime house.

Hears Canada Rejects Air Lift Assistance

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(CP).—The Associated Press in a Paris dispatch Wednesday night says it has learned that Canada turned down an informal British request that Canada take part in the Berlin air lift.

The Associated Press dispatch quotes an official of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations as saying that British authorities in Berlin raised the question informally with L. B. Pearson, Canadian Minister of External Affairs, when Pearson visited Germany last week-end.

In Ottawa, a high source close to the situation denied that Canada had at any time been asked to participate in the Berlin air lift.

Red Army Captures Suchow Exposing Units Of 3 Chiang Army Groups

Chiang, Envoys Decide To Stay In Nanking Planes Dropping Rice To Encircled City See Refugees Clogging Roads To South

NANKING, Dec. 2—(AP).—The Chinese Communists laid claim tonight to Suchow, important Government base 211 miles northwest of Nanking. This exposed the rear of three Government army groups moving slowly southward in an effort to support other Nationalist armies isolated under Communist attacks in the Suhsien and Pengpu areas ranging down to 100 miles from Nanking.

The Communist broadcast heard in Nanking said Suchow fell at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A few minutes before the Communist broadcast, the Government military spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, had said all Government troops in Suchow—estimated at about 250,000—were concentrated for a march southward. He denied, however, that this meant Suchow had been abandoned.

A foreign-office spokesman said French Ambassador Jacques Meyrier, dean of the diplomatic corps, replied that heads of missions have decided to stay in Nanking.

The spokesman added that the government would help remove other members of the diplomatic missions who wish to leave because of Communist armies reported advancing in the area between Suchow and Pengpu. Outnumbered government forces in the area are separated.

Heavy fighting was reported near Pengpu, 100 miles northwest of Nanking and on the rail line between this capital and Suchow.

Claire Chennault's Chinese Air Transport [illegible] rice bags at isolated Suchow. Some of his pilots, returning to Shanghai, reported the Communists were within one mile of the city.

The pilots reported thick columns of refugees streaming westward out of Suchow and fires raging a mile to the north and four miles to the southwest.

Air reconnaissance reports showed, meanwhile, that the 12th army group of more than 100,000 men is compressed by the Communists into a pocket only seven miles in diameter.

Child Badly Burned Playing With Matches

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 2—(CP)—Margaret Ann, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carnahan, who live three miles south of Milford in Prince Edward county was critically burned and was admitted to Picton Hospital late Wednesday evening. She was at home with her 17-year-old brother, Douglas, and in some way obtained some matches and ignited them but the flames were soon extinguished. The child is now in an oxygen tent and reports from the hospital state that the child is still in a "critical" condition.

Communists Try To Smash Rally In Berlin

BERLIN, Dec. 2 (AP).—Divided Berlin braced itself today for new Communist attempts to disrupt Western-sector election plans after Communist hecklers Wednesday night tried to break up a Western political rally.

In Russian-occupied eastern Berlin the new hand-picked Communist government gathered for its first meeting in the former central city hall from which the legally-elected city assembly, which has declared a state of emergency, called another meeting.

Western Allied liaison officers attached to the city government were withdrawn today from the central city hall.

Col. Frank L. Howley, United States commandant in Berlin, said: "We are going with the legal government. We only stayed there yesterday to witness the illegal act of the Communists of [illegible]

Western-sector German police forces were on the watch to break up raids on anti-Communist election campaign rallies, prior to Sunday's elections.

Undaunted by attacks by Communist rowdies, Western Berliners stepped up their campaign to get out a huge vote under the slogan "Berlin answers the Russian blockade."

One such rally resulted in fist fights and police intervention Wednesday night when Communist hecklers tried to break up a Social Democratic gathering in the American sector.

German police arrested nine hecklers, whom they identified as members of the Russian-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) party. One was an editor of the Soviet-licensed "Berliner Zeitung." All were released today after questioning.

CAA Officers Named

TORONTO, Dec. 2.—(CP).—R. A. Stapells of Toronto Wednesday was re-elected president of the Canadian Automobile Association at its annual meeting. W. G. Robertson of Toronto, was returned as secretary-treasurer. Among those named vice-presidents of the national body was A. W. Sandrock of Kitchener.

300 Raiders Attack Plants Order Heavy Police Guard

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2—(AP)—Law enforcement agencies moved in force today in the protection of two struck factories of the Shakespeare companies.

Approximately 75 police and deputies flung a guard around the plants, beset early Wednesday by an organzed band of 300 raiders.

Authorities said they were takin the step as a precaution despite the absence of any threat of renewed trouble. Since Wednesday's dawn raid the scene had been relatively quiet.

The sale of liquor was banned by state order in this city of 60,000 population. Such a move is seldom made except in the case of an emergency.

Investigations of the raid meanwhile were being pressed by state and local authorities and a grand jury was in the offing.

The state police commissioner, Donald S. Leonard, said the raid, carried out in military style, had "a possible Communist tinge."

At the same time police chief Howard blamed "union goons."

The raiders swept on the plants in a 40-car caravan and proceeded to overturn and burn parked automobiles and to smash equipment. Workmen were reported beaten.

One non-striker was arrested after the raid Wednesday for throwing a brick through a factory window. The raiders had departed before police arrived.

The United Steel Workers (CIO) have been on strike since Sept. 7, demanding contract changes bearing on seniority and probationary work periods. The factories make automobile parts and fishing tackle

Find Cheese Order Half That From U.S.

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 2 (CP)—Canada this year has shipped only 31,000,000 pounds of cheese to Britain compared with 64,000,000 pounds Britain bought in the United States, central Ontario cheesemakers were told Wednesday night.

Gordon W. McLean, president of the Montreal Provision Trades Association told delegates to the association's annual convention Britain bought its United States cheese on the open market at prices ranging from 35; cents in October to 47½ cents last July. Contract price for Canadian cheese is 30 cents a pound.

Lack of demand had since forced United States cheese prices down to 33 cents. Storage stocks of United States cheese at Oct. 1 were 181,000,000 pounds, 17,000,000 less than at the same time last year.

The Civic Hospital Bylaw

On Monday, December 6, the ratepayers of the city of Peterborough are being asked to vote $1,500,000 to complete the new Civic Hospital. The Examiner is publishing these questions and answers in support of the by-law.

Ques.—Has every possible effort been made to keep construction and furnishing costs to a minimum?

Ans.—Yes. For instance, the original plans submitted called for a nurses' residence costing $738,000. Without sacrificing essentials the new estimate calls for an expenditure of $479,050 only. All outlays have been subject to similar scrutiny to ensure the building of a good hospital without costly and unnecessary frills.

Ques.—Does the architect's work cease with the drawing of plans?

Ans.—No. The architect is responsible for seeing that the building is put up in all its detail according to the plans. He must pay from his fees for the engaging of consultants and specialists where they are required. His profit on this contract is relatively small after doing so. These architect's fees are set by the Ontario Association of Architects.

Security Council May Delay Israel's Membership Bid

PARIS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Action by the Security Council on Israel's bid for membership in the United Nations may be delayed until her political future is settled.

The security council meets today to consider the application, filed Monday on the first anniversary of the UN adoption of the Palestine Partition Plan.

Signs were that the council would sidestep a judgment.

The general assembly's 58-member political committee is debating a group of resolutions intended to settle Palestine political problems. Decisions are approaching.

The French cabinet decided on Wednesday to press for deferment, though France feels Israel should come in as soon as the political committee has made up its mind. Canada has shared this view.

Britain, Belgium and China probably would abstain if the application came to a vote. But could be expected to press for deferment.

The United States, Russia, the Ukraine, Argentina and Columbia are believed to favor immediate admission to Israel.

Syria, the one Arab state on the council, is against admission.

Britain quelled a minor commonwealth thrust against her ideas for a Palestine settlement in the political committee Wednesday night.

Egypt protested in the political committee today against security council consideration now of Israel's membership application.

L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, and head of the dominion delegation here, told the committee that Canada feels the conciliation commission should comprise three representatives of governments.

Canada Boosts Her Efforts 9 Per Cent In 1948 To Total $2,465,100,000

Currency Problem Forces Dominion Increase Shipments To United States; British Countries In Africa Buy More

OTTAWA, Dec. 2—(CP).—A nine-per-cent increase in the value of Canadian exports in the first 10 months of this year was reported Wednesday by the Bureau of Statistics. Increased exports of wheat, cattle, meats, base metals and ships boosted the value from $2,255,600,000 in the first 10 months of 1947 to $2,465,100,000.

The bureau report reflected the currency problems facing Canada and other countries. In an effort to correct the adverse trade balance with the United States, exports to that country were boosted to $1,189,719,000 from $835,399,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

In October alone, exports to the United States were $148,782,000 compared with $102,443,000 in October of last year.

Dollar-short Britain bought less from Canada in the 10-month period. Value of exports to that country was $581,723,000, compared with $609,403,000. In October the exports amounted to $65,573,000 compared with $66,776,000.

Africa Takes More

Exports to British countries in North America, Asia and Oceana were lower, but shipments to British countries in Africa showed an increase.

Latin-American countries as a group increased their purchases of Canadian merchandise in October but the overall total for the 10 months was slightly lower.

In fact, said the Bureau, October set a new peacetime high figure for the value of exports at $307,000,000. This was $24,000,000 higher than in September—the previous peak—and $56,000,000 higher than October, 1947.

Exports to British countries in America fell from $11,737,000 in October last year to $9,341,000, and in the 10 months from $109,731,000 to $94,318,000. The month's exports to British countries in Africa rose from $7,185,000 to $11,341,000 and in the 10 months from $71,988,000 to $75,753,000.

Sharp Upswing

Mainly reflecting a sharp upswing in wheat and other grain exports, the agricultural group rose from $51,173,000 in October last year to $73,228,000. Wheat exports rose from $15,745,000 to $33,374,000, other grains from $2,969,000 to $7,122,000, and seeds from $889,000 to $3,984,000. Wheat flour exports fell from $17,639,000 to $14,619,000. Group total for the 10 months ending October was lower at $478,376,000 compared with $550,733,000.

Further increases in exports of cattle and meats swelled the total for the animals and animal products groups from $30,318,000 in October last year to $48,140,000. Cattle exports were valued at $14,005,000 compared with $1,285,000, bacon and hams $2,734,000 compared with $1,823,000, and other meats, mainly fresh beef, $8,812,000 compared with $1,088,000.

Two Liberals Named To Senate

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.— (CF). — Canada's 81-year-old Senate today found itself with two new appointees—both Liberals —giving the Government unprecedented representation in the Upper Chamber.

Announcing his first Senate appointments, Prime Minister St Laurent Wednesday night filled two of the 15 vacancies in the Red Chamber. The appointments boosted Liberal representation to 65 out of a total of 96 seats.

Nova Scotia's vacancies were reduced from three to two with the appointment of 74-year-old Joseph Willie Comeau, minister without portfolio in the Nova Scotia government and a member of the province's legislature for 41 years.

Alberta's vacancies also were reduced from three to two with the appointment of 70-year-old George H. Ross, Calgary barrister and member of the Commons for Calgary East from 1940 to 1945.

A Senate official said he could not recall anywhere in Canada's history that a party has had as many members in the Senate as the Liberals have now. Only other party with representation is the Progressive Conservative group with 18.

Say Abdullah Named King Of Palestine

Crisis Grips Syria, Mirrors Unrest Across Arab World

BEYROUTH, Lebanon, Dec. 2— (AP)—A Palestine Arab conference in Jericho was reported here today to have proclaimed King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan as King of Palestine.

The conference was called "the general Palestine congress." It met in Arab-occupied Jericho, the Biblical city north of the Dead Sea, under the presidency of Sheik Moh Ali Gaabary.

Official confirmation of the report was lacking.

However, a dispatch from Amman, Trans-Jordan, which passed through Arab censorship Wednesday night, said Sheik Gaabary had told King Abdullah of proposals by the congress and asked him, in the name of all Palestinians, to take steps for unification of Palestine and Trans-Jordan, neighbor states.

The bearded Abdullah, enthroned as king of Trans-Jordan under an agreement with Britain i 1946, was quoted as replying:

"I have many times said that I and my armies are at the disposal of Palestinians. I will carry on the responsibility you are putting now on my shoulders. I will communicate your congress proposals to my cabinet and other Arab states' cabinets and I am sure all will do their best for your welfare."

Just what the congress proposals were, the Amman dispatch did not say. However, the king's statement suggested all would be subject to official decisions of the whole Arab group—Trans-Jordan, Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and the Yemen.

Riots in Syria

A cabinet crisis in Syria mirrored Arab unrest over Palestine.

Dispatches from Damascus, the Syrian capital, said three persons were killed and 52 injured as troops clashed with mobs which swept through the streets crying for resumption of the war against Israel.

The cabinet, headed by Premier Jamil Mardam Bey, resigned Wednesday. Damascus correspondents said the situation was critical. The Syrians have often expressed anxiety over any moves by Abdullah which would indicate he was attempting to carry out his plan for a greater Syria.

Jewish claims to Jerusalem, meanwhile, were officially renewed.

Creeks Re-stocked With Brown Trout

Brown torut have been planted in suitable streams in Durham and Ontario counties during the past 10 days, A. B. Wheatley, district forester, has announced.

Usually these fish are planted in the spring or early summer, but fall plantings are also considered satisfactory, Mr. Wheatley said. A contributing factor, also, was the surplus of brown trout at the Codrington hatchery.

It is expected that about 60,000 speckled trout and 75,000 brown trout will be distributed from the Codrington hatchery in 1949.

The following streams were restocked: Wilmot creek, Bowmanville creek and Soper creek in Durham county; Lyons creek and Oshawa creek in Ontario county.

Officers, Sgts. Plan Parties For Children

Officers of the 50th Heavy A.A. Regiment, R.C.A., will entertain their children at the annual Christmas party on December 18. The wives of the active officers of the Regiment will assist in this activity. On the same day, for the first time, the Sergeants' Mess will also hold a Christmas party for the children. More than 150 children are expected to attend the two parties. A feature is that many poor children are guests since all members, whether single or married, are to bring a guest to these functions.

On December 31 the Regiment's officers will have their New Year's dance which is to be held on the main floor of the armories. The decoration committe, headed by Capt. P. H. Turner, is well under way with the decortion scheme of the party.

The Sergeants' Mess will have two other outstanding functions. They will entertain their ladies on Friday evening, December 10 and on December 17 they will hold their annual Sergeants Mess stag Christmas party. The Sergeants' Mess will also hold their own New Year's Day reception at the Mess.

Brigadier Jeoffery Walsh, CBE, DSO, Commanding Eastern Ontario area, will pay an official inspectional visit to the 50th Heavy A.A. Regiment, RCA, on Tuesday, December 7. He took over command of the area of Col. M. P. Bogert, MBE, DSO, when Col. Bogert was transferred to Western Command with the rank of Brigadier. Brigadier Walsh will see the regiment training. There has been 50 new recruits taken on so far this season.

Painting of the drill hall has been completed and is a decided improvement.

Still another heavy military truck has been added to the growing string of transports of the Regiment with the arrival of a medium artillery tractor, a gun towing vehicle. The Regiment's impressive string of transports now occupies one-third of the floor space of the armories.

Industry Uneasy About Controls

OTTAWA, Dec. 2 — (CP). — Price controls in their current selective state involve very real difficulties, the Prices Commission was told Wednesday.

The testimony came from two senior officials of the Prices Board which administers a few continuing or re-imposed controls. Kenneth W. Taylor, chairman, and Wishart Spence, chief enforcement officer, represented the board.

They listed as their main troubles lack of public support, restlessness by controlled industries, difficulties in keeping staff for an organization known to be left with a short life and uneasiness among some judges at the continuation of restrictions on private business.

"There is a certain degree of unrest in the controlled industries," Mr. Taylor said. "They feel they have been discriminated against."

Neither official presented the board's general rule against unjust and unreasonable prices as a very effectjve piece of regulation.

People Marvel At Good Weather

People have been wondering how long this phenomenally fine weather is going to last before winter cracks down, takes possession of the countryside and lets loose its snow and cold.

Frank Kelcey quotes a customer prediction that autumn may linger into December, albeit with chilly modification.

"Several weeks ago when we were still about the middle of November this man remarked to me that we would not have any cold weather until after the first new moon in December," Mr. Kelcey, whose shop is south of the Hooper store, north of Hunter St., quoted.

"I didn't pay much attention to him at first. You get a lot of opinions from people. But, the good weather hung on, and I looked up the calendar, and I found that the December new moon is not until Thursday, the 30th. The present new moon is in its first quarter, and will not be at the full until the 16th. This customer is an employee of the Peterborough Canoe Company, and may be he knows weather signs. I don't think I'll mention his name, but we can see how his prediction turns out. Maybe he's got something. It might mean a green Christmas. Still anything can happen."

Munro Gives Up Post

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (CP)— Sir Gordon Munro, financial adviser to the United Kingdom Commissioner in Ottawa from 1941 to 1946, is relinquishing his post as Britain's Treasury representative in the United States. But the genial 53-year-old Londoner will remain on the job in Washington when that resignation takes effect December 31.

THERE IS A VIEW of Pershing Square, Los Angeles, as the giant tree set up for the Christmas season was lighted up for the first time. Los Angeles' Mayor Bowron threw the 28 switches that lighted 1,800 colored lights and the six-foot star that tops the 95-foot tree while an estimated 5,000 persons watched the ceremony in the square.

Conscription Bill Approved By British Gov't

LONDON, Dec. 2. — (CP).— The House of Commons Wednesday night approved in principle the Government's bill to increase the service of future conscripts in Britain's armed forces from 12 to 18 months.

Winston Churchill and the Conservatives supported the bill but not before the Oppositon leader accused the Labor Governmenut of "mis-handling and squandering" Britain's defence resources.

Churchill said that Britain has a "highly organized Communist fifth column, small in numbers but active in all parts of the country—in our trade unions, in our factories, in our camps."

In view of this, "it is inconceivable that the Soviet government should not have a fairly accurate measure of British resources."

He demanded a proper account of defence spending "within the limits of what one is sure a potential enemy knows."

Second reading was given the Government's National Service Act after a threatened revolt of Left-Wing Labor members failed to develop. A Left-Wing Labor amendment to reject the legislation was defeated by a vote of 338 to 51.

The vote showed 38 Labor members—some of them life-long anti-conscriptionists — eight Liberals, three Independents and two Communists among the 51 supporting the amendment. The Liberals voted with the Left-Wingers on the ground that conscription was not the best method of building up Britain's armed forces.

Billing Machine Costs Public Utilities $5,112

Contingent on delivery in 24 months, a Burroughs billing machine is being bought by the Utilities Commission. It costs $5,112. Purchase was authorized at the Commission meeting Tuesday.

"Some industries appear to have a lot of accumulated business still on their books." Mr. G. S. Matthews, chairman, remarked.

The Windsor company wrote that many public utility bodies have been ordering this type of specialized machine, which is custom built, and for that reason they have to accept orders on the condition of delivery within 24 months.

The Civic Hospital By-Law

On Monday the ratepayers will vote on a by-law authorizing the City Council to issue debentures for $1,500,000 to pay for the completion of the new Civic Hospital. They have already voted $600,000 and, through the City Trust and Public Utilities, have indirectly contributed $350,000. Nevertheless, we think that they should vote for the by-law.

* * *

Even the main building now under construction cannot be finished unless more money is available. It is estimated that the 180-bed block with power-house and laundry building will cost more than 2½ million dollars. Money now available from all sources is under two million dollars. That includes an estimated $200,000 from the sale of the present Civic Hospital property, which could not be sold if a new nurses' residence and the 64-bed east wing of the new hospital are not built.

* * *

Could we get along without an east wing and a nurses' residence and thus reduce the total cost of $3,500,000 by at least a million dollars? No—on all counts. The 64 beds and 48 bassinets of the east wing are needed. A new nurses' residence is needed—the present one will not accommodate all the nurses now on the hospital staff. If the east wing and nurses' residence are not built, the old residence and the hospital will almost certainly have to be used. That would mean divided staffs, extra staff, extra heating and operating costs, crippling inconvenience to patients, nurses and doctors. Further, the old hospital site could not be sold. Therefore, if the east wing and new residence are not built, there will be no "saving" of a million dollars, or anything like it. The day would soon come when the situation would be so intolerable that the east wing and the residence would have to be built. Even if building costs should be lower in that day, the extra expense involved in attaching a wing to an existing building would eat up more than the money saved by not building now.

* * *

We are no more enthusiastic than any other ratepayers about the shockingly high cost of the new hospital—twice the original estimate, a grand (distressingly grand) total of nearly four million dollars. Nevertheless, we are convinced that the whole hospital project should be completed as soon as possible, and that next Monday's by-law should be passed. We think that ratepayers who study the matter carefully will regretfully come to the same decision.

* * *

There are some who think that the new hospital will become Peterborough's white elephant on the hill, trumpeting dolefully over the city which it has laid low. It will not. Peterborough is sound enough financially to stand up to the bloated thing. Further, the cost of carrying the additional 1½ million dollars of hospital debentures, amortized over a 20-year period, will add but three mills to the tax rate.

* * *

As we prepare to cast our vote for the by-law, we wonder if there is not room for someone to step up the ladder of local fame as did President Truman who first came into prominence as the Senate's watch-dog of American government expenditures during the war. Does the hospital project need a watch-dog?

Your Responsibility

This is the time of year when requests for money for good works of every kind are many; this is inevitable, for goodwill toward men—which is the very heart of Christmas—must be shown in practical ways. We do not think that there is any cause which has a better claim upon your purse at this time than the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association, which must raise $12,000 in order to carry on its work next year.

Great steps have been taken in the discovery and control of tuberculosis, but the most important part of the work—the preventive work—has still to be done. If the local Association gets the money it asks for, it will conduct a Mass Chest X-Ray Survey in the city next spring; such mass surveys have been extremely successful in other districts in uncovering tuberculosis in its early and readily curable stages. Such a survey will be paid for out of the money which you pay this Christmas for the familiar Christmas seals.

Surveys have been made in Peterborough before; many of the industries have paid to have their employees tested, and all handlers of food in the city have been tested at the public expense. But no mass survey has been made, and it is only by a mass survey that its terrible disease can be brought under the fullest control, and proper protection given to those who may be in contact with infected persons. Such surveys give the best protection at the lowest cost.

This is a cause to which every citizen should make a donation. We must not expect the large industries, or a few of the more prosperous citizens to carry the load. It is everybody's responsibility, and everybody should make some contribution to this very important public health work.

Contributions are received at the Bank of Commerce. In this, as in every good cause, the old proverb holds: "He gives twice who gives quickly".

Potatoes To Rot

Without further explanation, it is announced from Ottawa that the Government will pay $5,000,000 for potatoes which may be dumped in the fields to rot. There must be some economic reason for this, and we should like to know what it is. And, like many Canadians, we feel that the reason had better be a good one.

Is government subsidization of potato-growing so important that it must be upheld by wanton waste of good food? Is there no way in which these roots can be used, since we are paying for them? We are told that potatoes are a troublesome crop to ship, as they sprout, but many householders who manage to keep potatoes in good condition all winter will wonder if these potatoes would not keep firm for the three weeks or so which it would take to send them to Asia where, as we know, many people are desperate for food of any kind. And is it unthinkable that here in Canada, where living costs are so high, potatoes should be allowed to sell cheaply?

The potato growers and the Government will, we are sure, have twenty reasons for this waste of food But most of us still think that there is something very much wrong with an economy in which food must be wasted in order to preserve an economic theory of some sort. It would be a thousand times better to give these potatoes to some nation which w[illegible] to throw them out. But to give anything away in the modern world would, we presume, upset all the economic systems and outrage the theorists.

Self-Examination In Manitoba

We learn with interest that the Legislature of Manitoba has bought a recording machine, and that in future members will be able to have their speeches played back to them, exactly as delivered.

This is an excellent, if somewhat cruel, plan. There are few things so startling, so incredible, so blushful, upon first hearing, as the sound of one's own voice. Even practised speakers, hearing themselves recorded for the first time, have been known to leave the room sobbing, imploring their friends to tell that that it is not so. What, then, will be the effect upon the simple, untutored legislators of Manitoba? Will they, having heard themselves, dare to speak again?

Parliamentary reporters and newspaper reporters are kind to a majority of speakers. Knotted arguments are untangled, fractured grammar is mended, and ruptured quotations are restored to their original forms. Many a speaker claims that the reporters misquote him, and sometimes this is true—but in 75 per cent. of instances he never knows that he has been benevolently misquoted, to save him from shame.

But the recording machine will give the noble tribunes what they have said, exactly as they have said it. This will be strong medicine, and we hope they can take it.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Canada's glue production was increased by 9 per cent. last year. And to that extent we are gummed up worse than before.

The Whig-Standard of Kingston advises: "If you are confronted by a bear, look him straight in the eye and he will run". Yes, but a bear has such small eyes and such big teeth that it isn't easy to focus.

A fish writer on the Toronto Telegram tells of fish which moo like cows. Usually, of course, fish music is confined to scales.

From The Critic's Notebook

THE CRUSADERS by Stefan Heym (McClelland and Stewart). After a sentimental beginning in which a rather tough symbol of American Womanhood is worshipped and confided in by an entire American Army Intelligence Unit, this book develops into a well-integrated story of the American push from Normandy to Germany, and their occupation of the Ruhr. It deals with representative types of men and officers in some detail and explores their impact upon the French and German civilians and upon the D.P.'s with whom they have contact. Not as great in conception as "The Young Lions", another American war novel reviewed in this column recently, it is nevertheless more successful within its limits.

The crusaders, Sgt. Bing, Lt. Yates and Capt. Troy, continually run into blind alleys in their fight to overcome the flagrant injustices which suit the purposes of their colleagues who are involved up to the hilt, from Dondolo the grafting mess Sergeant to Col. Willoughby who is part and parcel of a German-French-American cartel. As pressure increases the basic characteristics of the men emerge more strongly until, in Germany, the final breaking of the racketeering ring on all levels, completes the separation of the idealists from the opportunists. We are shown that the compromisers, although they get away with their skins in a crisis, cannot fall in on the side of the angels at the eleventh hour.

This novel is strong in structure and in characterization, but it lacks variety in the writing. The element of contrast is present only in the differences of personality. Sameness of style through six hundred pages becomes monotonous. The Americanism is not quite as flagrant as in some such stories. This book just ignores the role played by other allies, for instance, at the Battle of the Bulge.

Ironically enough now, the man whom the young hero Yates admires more than any other national he meets is Kavalov, a Russian guerrilla fighter, and it is with the Russians that he celebrates the occupation of Germany. But already the barriers are rising. The author does not step out of context to preach, but he puts these words into the mouth of an old German Marshal, comforting a high Nazi in defeat, "What kind of Europe, what kind of Germany is this going to be—their kind, that's our kind—or the Russians'? They cannot wipe out civilization's outpost against the East without wiping out themselves. Having destroyed us, they'll have to coddle us and build up again, because they need our help. And here's where you come in." Particularly in the latter part of this book, there is food for thought, and it seems to be a reasonably accurate record throughout. H.T.K.

✧ ✧ ✧

CAPTAIN FOR ELIZABETH by Jan Westcott (Ambassador Books) is a rip-roaring yarn of Elizabethan sea-dogs warring with Spanish galleons, charting strange seas and new lands, and stealing fabulous treasure from their foes. Mrs. Westcott based the itinerary of her hero, Cavendish, the sea battles and incidents at sea, upon the actual records of the third sea journey around the world, made by three English ships. Had she left it at that, this would have been a first rate adventure story suitable for older boys. Because she chose to introduce a vulgar Hollywood sexiness, and allows her highborn men and women to carry on badly written dialogues in low English, it is instead just another half-baked novel. While few women write so vividly of fighting, the more original portions of this story lack both taste and style. H.T.K.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUENCH THE MOON by Walter Macken (Macmillan). This story is so Irish it smells of the peat bog. At first it jogs along like a simple country idyll of peasant life in a cut-off corner of Eire. It is a novel of action, but the action is subdued for too long, and we are unprepared for the murderous melodrama of the climax. Walter Macken is a dramatist, and his dialogue is unusually good. The public house discussions about contemporary Irish questions are enjoyable, but that adjective could not be applied to the book as a whole. The chief characters are dramatic, but the artistic reflection of life one has a right to look for in a novel is so distorted that the motive is unequal to the violent outcome of the plot. When fisticuffs develop into murder, we want to be convinced of the reasons, at least emotionally. The hero's sojourn in the city of Galway is more than slightly reminiscent of Joyce.

If you are sufficiently stamped with the shamrock to like Irish dialect and Irish tempers, here's murder and melodrama in Connemara. Light reading, but rough, and not for the too fastidious. H.T.K.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE DOGS DO BARK by Barbara Willard (Macmillan). This is a very unnecessary book. Since all the women are Good and all the men are Bad, I suppose it comes under the heading of woman's magazine fiction. The chief Bad Man supports a household of doting females in a state of comfortable gentility, by means of a complicated fraud. He is impossibly villanous and bears the impossible name of Zeal. A little more zeal in weeding this sort of thing out of the import lists would help to keep the publisher's good name untarnished. Many good things come from England, but surely there is no need to import such trash as this is. H.T.K.

THE LAST WORD

Two adjoining rival butchers were selling sausages at 1s per pound. To gain more customers, one reduced his to 10d per pound, and displayed a large sign saying: "Finest sausages, 10d per pound. Pay more and be cheated."

Angered Butcher No. 2 posted a similar notice in his window, with the wording: "Finest sausages, 1s per pound. Pay less and be poisoned."

Shortly afterwards a foreign king came to stay in the town, and a member of his household bought some sausages from Butcher No. 1, who immediately altered his notice to: "Finest sausages—as supplied to the King."

Not to be beaten, his rival put out a gigantic bill simply inscribed with the words: "God Save the King!"

Bloodhounds Face Extinction

London Times: Two of the finest old English breeds of dog, the bloodhound and the mastiff, are declining in numbers so rapidly that there is a danger of their becoming extinct in this country. Nothing seems likely to save the mastiff. With only a few dogs and bitches left, the breed society is searching for any dogs, perhaps left unregistered during the war, which may be mated before the few remaining bitches are too old.

After the recent Crufts' show the Bloodhound Breeders' Association appointed three members to decide what can be done to save the bloodhound. There are still only about 30 adult bloodhounds in the country. Proved sires are so scarce that the death of two dogs recently has made the mating problem acute.

Bloodhounds are now not much used in police work. There are a few in Devon with a special interest in the Princetown district, and one or two in other counties. Science has not yet produced a detective more efficient than the bloodhound to track criminals who have escaped without leaving a clue.

"Gluttons For Punishment"

Le Canada, Montreal: If you have had several accidents, even if they are not serious, at short intervals you may perhaps belong to the category of those whom psychologists class as habitual accident victims. Although this group is not numerous, they are none the less victims of 80 per cent. of all accidents. An enquiry conducted by the Council of Industrial Security in Detroit reveals that 67 per cent. of industrial accidents are shared among 29 per cent. of the workers. Certain people seem to run toward accidents. There are those who cross busy streets without looking at the lights, climb up rickety ladders or dash off into the middle of a lake in a canoe without being able to swim. Accidents happen to some people by sheer autosuggestion. Those who have seen a black cat or broken a mirror and tremble at the thought of the bad luck that is going to happen to them are on the road to finding it.

What Freedom Did

Le Clairon, St. Hyacinthe: There were not many Athenians. But in about three hundred years they gave to humanity Socrates, Plato, Phidias and Praxiteles, Epicurus, Zenon, Themistocles and Thucydides. This little people produced immortal philosophers and incomparable artists whose writings and chef d'oeuvres serve as inspiration to all thinkers and to all artists. And their language is still studied after two thousand years by all the humanists. That is what liberty of opinion did. The little people which produced the Venus de Milo and the Victory of Samothrace will live eternally. So the French Canadians not only to survive but to shine throughout the world, should open their windows and enlarge their perspectives. It is not in being swallowed up in the ruts of the old crossroads that French Canada can pursue its path and accomplish its destiny. That way it will leave for posterity a poor heritage indeed.

A Buyers' Market Coming

St. Thomas Times-Journal: Henry Ford, who keeps an educated and experienced ear to the business ground, told a gathering of executives in the automobile industry a few days ago that a buyers' market was coming in from six to eighteen months, and he warned them that the automobile business had not adjusted itself properly to the three increases in wages, with a fourth one in the offing.

What he meant was that the manufacturers could not continue to pass on increased costs to automobile buyers; that they would have to do some more of the absorbing themselves, or of finding more economical or efficient operation, because the people who want cars simply won't pay the prices demanded.

All This Is Ours

Ottawa Journal: In Maclean's Magazine there is a piece about Ungava's fabulous iron ore reserves which, in these days of gloom, makes good reading. Nor is what it tells just a dream; a sort of happy prospect. On the contrary, the Jules Timmins people of Hollinger have spent $5,000,000 to prove it, and, backed by the powerful Hanna Company of Cleveland are putting up $200,000,000 more to build a railway to it. Further, the experts say there are 300 million tons of high grade ore on the premises, which is a lot of ore by any man's reckoning. A lot, especially, when the U.S. Mesabi ore range is known to be running out.

And this news of new ore riches comes when all the West is agog with excitement over oil spurting up from the Leduc wells, plus others believed still richer. And no dream here, either. For the Imperial Oil Company, no fly-by-night outfit, have (with some others) staked something like $200,000,000 on it, withdrawing from South America to do the staking. What a country, our Canada!

The King And The Lions

UK Information Office: Recently the London County Council announced their intention of demolishing the Red Lion Brewery, in the Lambeth district of London. This was part of the south bank of the Thames Development Scheme.

Among the millions of Londoners who read the news was the King. He asked his secretary to phone the London County Council to ask what was going to happen to the Red Lion which stood at the top of the brewery. He was also under the impression that there were, in fact, two lions.

This surprised the council who investigated and found the King was right. The lions are to be preserved because of their sentimental interest and intrinsic value.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. (Matt. 4: 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying, Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. (Matt. 5: 1, 2, 17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother. (Luke 7: 11-15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

I will bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth....

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together. (Ps. 34: 1, 3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The king shall joy in thy strength, O Lord; and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice....

He asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever. His glory is great in thy salvation: honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

For thou hast made him most blessed for ever. (Ps. 21: 1, 4-6.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Two old confirmed bachelors sat talking. Their talk drifted from politics and finally got around to cooking. Said one:

"I got one of them cookery books once, but I never could do nothing with it."

"Too much fancy work in it, eh?"

"You've said it. Every one o' them recipes began the same way—'Take a clean dish'—and that settled me."

✧ ✧ ✧

The play had been long and uninteresting. One member of the audience kept mumbling a few words until a woman in an adjoining seat could restrain her curiosity no longer.

"Do you mind if I ask you what you're saying?" she said.

"Not at all. It's merely 'I envy my feet'," replied the mumbling one.

"But why?"

"They're asleep!"

✧ ✧ ✧

After getting married to his secretary, the business man remarked: "Well, my dear, I suppose I must get someone to take your place in the office."

"I've been thinking of that," replied the bride; "my cousin is just leaving school."

"What's her name?"

"John Henry Briggs," said the bride sweetly.
